SUIT TO SET ASIDE SALE.—When an application under this rule is dismissed no suit under R. 92 will lie. 5 R. 606=105 I.C. 706. When a person seeks to set aside a sale by reason of a title adverse to that of the judgment-debtor at the date of attachment his proper remedy is a regular suit. 16 M. 476. A sale after proclamation notifying a decree giving prior charge, can be set aside only by a regular suit, if the decree giving prior charge was set aside subsequent to sale. 1925 Mad. 325. The rule does not apply when the fraud alleged is that a minor defendant was represented as major. A regular suit three years after his majority is the only remedy. 38 Mad. 1076=28 M.L.J. 525. When fraud is alleged, this rule applies before confirmation of sale. After confirmation a suit is the only remedy. 51 I.C. 447. See also A.I.R. 1926 Oudh 45. But see 44 Mad. 351=40 M.L.J. 55 See also 70 I.C. 675=1922 Pat. 422. In a suit to set aside sale, fraud need not be specifically alleged; an inference of suggestion is sufficient. 63 I.C. 425=19 A. L. J. 530. A member of a family not bound by a decree against some other members can file a separate suit to set aside the sale of the family properties and need not apply under this rule. 2 Pat. 386; also 6 Pat. L. T. 742=85 I.C. 1014. A suit lies in a Civil Court to declare that a sale held by a Collector is valid, and that an order passed by him under this rule setting aside the sale is inoperative. 25 A. 355.

[Allahabad.] Substitute the following for the original proviso in Order XXI, Rule 90 :—

“ Provided that—

(a) no sale.....or fraud ;

(b) no such application shall be entertained upon any ground which could have been taken by the applicant on or before the date on which the sale proclamation was drawn up.”

[Oudh.] Add the following as a proviso to Rule 90, Order XXI :—

“ Provided also that no such application for setting aside the sale shall be entertained upon any ground which could have been, but was not, put forward by the applicant before the commencement of the sale.”

Application by purchaser to set aside sale on ground of judgment-debtor having no saleable interest.

91. [S. 313.] The purchaser at any such sale in execution of a decree may apply to the Court to set aside the sale, on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property sold.

[Bombay.] The following rule shall be added as rule 91-A :—

“ 91-A. Where the execution of a decree has been transferred to the Collector and the sale has been conducted by the Collector or by an officer subordinate to the Collector, an application under rules 89, 90 or 91, and in the case of an application under rule 89, the deposit required by that rule if made to the Collector or the officer to whom the decree is referred for execution in DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT.—O. 9, R. 9 applies to an order of dismissal for default of an application under this rule. 59 I.C. 575=23 O.C. 349. See also 26 A. L. J. 382. But see 83 I.C. 749. See also 45 C.L.J. 60.

APPEAL.—An appeal lies from an order refusing to set aside a dismissal for default of an application under this rule. 33 I.C. 531=20 C.W.N. 1203. See also 38 Cal. 622=15 C. W. N. 875. When appeal lies from an order under this rule. 40 Cal. 635=40 I. A. 140=17 C. W. N. 637=25 M. L. J. 140 (P.C.). But see 16 I.C. 690=22 C.L.J. 266 ; 4 P.L.T. 735=74 I.C. 594. See also 46 C.L.J. 172=104 I.C. 825=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 833. An appeal from an order dismissing an application under this rule cannot be the subject-matter of a second appeal. 18 C. 422 (F.B.) ; 21 C. 799 ; 27 C. 414. See also 11 M. 319 ; 40 All. 122=43 I.C. 522 ; 15 I.C. 679=16 C. W. N. 1015 ; 9 I. C. 135 ; 2 Pat. 916=4 Pat. L.T. 721 ; 56 I.C. 646=1 P. L. T. 267 ; 39 I.C. 374=11 Bur. L. T. 26 ; 62 I. C. 986 ; 94 I.C. 521=A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 624. No second appeal from an order under this rule. 87 I.C. 555 ; 30 C.W.N. 586=66 I.C. 669=A.I.R. 1926 Cal. 790 ; A.I.R. 1926 Cal. 229. An appeal lies from an order of dismissal on the ground that the application was time-barred. There is no second appeal even when the purchaser is the decree-holder and the applicant, the judgment-debtor. 6 Lah. 250=1925 Lah. 624. But want of notice of sale proclamation and undervaluation are objections under S. 47 and therefore a second appeal lies. 87 I.C. 413=1925 Mad. 1142.

REVISION.—See 9 M. 145. Revision by High Court is not generally possible because revision of a dismissal order will be confirmation, and, as such, that will be open to appeal under R. 92. 41 C.L.J. 286=1925 Cal. 510 ; but see 48 All. 286.

O. 21, R. 91.—This rule is the only exception to the doctrine of caveat emptor. 6 Lah. 283=1925 Lah. 467. The rule applies to the purchaser and its scope is limited to the case of a person whose property is purported to be sold, and who had no saleable interest therein. 20 C. 8 (P.C.) ; 27 A. 537 ; 9 C. 626 ; 3 A. 527. See 1 A. 568 (F.B.) ; 9 C. 217. Where the decree-holder purchased after entering satisfaction discovered defect in judgment-debtor's title, the only remedy of the purchaser was to set aside the sale under this rule within limitation time under Art. 166, Lim. Act. He cannot take further execution of his decree. =104 I.C. 614=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 835=53 M. L. J. 255. The rights conferred by the rule are not exhaustive. The dispossessed purchaser can sue for recovery of his money. 4 Lah. 354=1924 Lah. 115. But see 61 I.C. 805=13 Bur. L.T. 152. To set aside a sale under this rule the real owner is not a necessary party. The proper course is to proceed against him by suit. 24 I.C. 44=1 L.W. 412. A suit for recovery of purchase money does not lie. 1925 Lah. 199. Knowledge of want of title in the judgment-debtor will bar an application by the purchaser under this rule. 23 I. C. 383=7 Bur. L.T. 18. When a decree has been transferred to the Collector for execution a purchaser at a sale held by him can apply 9 A. 43. A decree-holder is not entitled to set aside sale on the ground of any adjustment between the parties after sale. 88 I. C. 537=1925 Pat. 702.

SALEABLE INTEREST.—Complete absence of any amount of saleable interest alone and not the fact of smallness of interest that this rule contemplates. 21 I. C. 774=19 C.W.N. 1291 ; also 46 I. Where a whole piece of land is sold, the Court is precluded from severing a parcel of land on the ground that the judgment-debtor has a saleable interest in one lot. 15 I.C. 109=23 M.L.J. 108. Where the same property has been sold twice over, the purchaser can sue for refund of purchase money from the creditors to whom it was paid. 40 All. 411=44 I.C. 697. But see contra in 28 C.W.N. 20=1924 Cal. 172 ; also 68 I. C. 126=25 C. W. N. 756. When the purchaser was the executor of the judgment-debtor in his personal capacity, he will not be debarred from applying to set aside the sale. 28 I. C. 898=19 C. W. N. 152. See also 2 Pat. 829.

O. 21, R. 92.—Issue of certificate cures irregularities. 97 I. C. 757 (2). This rule does not apply where the property concerned was not sold at all, but was wrongly taken by the auction-purchaser. 6 P.L.T. 473=1925 Pat 376. Settlement between decree-holder and judgment-debtor before confirmation. No order of confirmation can be passed. 100 I. C. 565. This rule does not oust the inherent power of the Court to cancel a sale of its own motion. 46 Mad 583=44 M.L.J. 680. As to applicability to proceedings under the Madras Estates Land Act, see 22 L. W. 794. An order under this rule decides a question of title to the land in dispute between the parties. 16 C.L.J. 542=17 C.W.N. 84.

CONFIRMING SALE.—Absence of formal order of confirmation where in substance and effect the Court did confirm the sale is immaterial. 104 I. C. 384=A.I.R. 1927 Cal. 881. It is the actual sale which the Court confirms and not any transactions which by inadvertence, fraud or collusion may have been described in any reference to the sale made in a document subsequent thereto. 27 B. 341. A confirmation in entirety cannot be made when the sale has been set aside as regards one of the judgment-debtors 61 I. C. 571. If satisfaction is reported before confirmation, a sale cannot be confirmed. 18 N. L. R. 134=1922 Nag. 248. The auction-purchaser has no absolute right for confirmation if there is any irregularity, though it may not be his. 38 Mad. 387=25 M. L. J. 198. When a wrong property has been attached and sold, the confirmation in respect of properties not attached is invalid. 41 Cal. 590=41 I. A. 38=18 C. W. N. 313=26 M. L. J. 89 (P. C.). The Court may refuse confirmation when the decree-debt was paid to the decree-holder after sale. 27 I. C. 601. Destruction of property after sale by act of God is no ground for refusing to confirm sale. 88 I. C. 693; A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 17. Sale can be set aside as regards a portion of the properties sold. 24 I. C. 64=18 C. W. N. 947.

SHALL BECOME ABSOLUTE.—See 7 M. 512; 17 C. 719; 21 B. 434. Also 12 M. L. T. 311=17 I. C. 242. Certificate cures irregularities. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 82. A sale is final on confirmation. Its finality, in the absence of confirmation may also be inferred by conduct of the executing Court. 81 P. R. 1915=31 I. C. 254. Order dismissing application to set aside sale merely on default of appearance of parties cannot be regarded a confirmation of sale. 53 Cal. 679=96 I. C. 705=30 C. W. N. 570=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 773. See also 29 O. C. 86=A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 622. An order against a pre-emptor in confirmation, as he did not appear before Collector, in a sale held by him, is final. 45 A. 203=21 A. L. J. 53 (F. B.). The legal effect of a sale depends on the decree-holder's status at the commencement of proceedings and not at the time of sale. 45 Cal. 294=21 C. W. N. 847.

The title of purchaser dates only from confirmation and not from sale. 9 I. C. 25=8 A. L. J. 32. But where the delay in confirmation is due to quarrel between rival bidders, interest should be paid up to confirmation on the sale amount, 22 I. C. 946=19 C. L. J. 358.

SUB-RULE (2).—The provisions of this rule are mandatory. The deposit should be made within 30 days from the date of sale. 33 I. C. 998=3 L. W. 271. Proceedings under sub-rule (2) are not final and a third party is not bound by it. 24 I. C. 44=1 L. W. 412.

PROVISO.—NOTICE.—Where the judgment-debtor is dead notice must issue to his representative. 7 B. 424. See contra 98 I. C. 69=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 23. Formal notice is not necessary if there is actual notice otherwise. 1925 Cal 157; A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 267=107 I. C. 476. Notice itself need not be served within 30 days. 37 Bom. 387=19 I. But any order passed behind the back of persons who had obtained orders for rateable distribution will not bind them as they are affected by the application to set aside the sale. 35 M. L. J. 604=48 I. C. 38. Notice to purchaser before setting aside sale is necessary. 10 I. C. 148=15 C. W. N. 685; 104 I. C. 148=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 681. Otherwise the order is one without jurisdiction. 32 I. C. 891. Auction-purchaser is not a necessary party in the sense that in the application he should be described as one of the parties, 104 I. C. 148=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 681.

LIMITATION.—The 30 days under sub-rule (2) is to be computed from the date of deposit under R. 84. 50 I. C. 914.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—As to the effect on a sale by the death of the judgment-debtor after the sale is held and before it is confirmed, see 3 A. 765 (F.B.); 9 A. 411; 10 A. 83; 29 B. 435. Where an objection to confirmation is raised before the Collector who held the sale he must refer it to a Civil Court. If he confirms the sale, a suit will lie to declare the sale void. 44 Bom. 551=22 Bom. L. R. 759. Where there is no sale within the meaning of the Code, as to whether suit lies, see 16 C. 794 (708). The rejection of an application under this rule is no bar to a regular suit for the same purpose. 11 M. 269; 5 Lah. L. J. 9=1923 Lah. 224; 104 P. L. R. 1916=36 I. C. 212. But see 3 Bom. L. R. 463. Sub-Rule (3).—A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 165.

O. 21, R. 93. SCOPE OF RULE.—The rule clearly implies that the purchase-money may be paid to the decree-holder before the date of the confirmation of sale, 12 C. 255; 8 M. 101; 1 A. 568 (F.B.); 6 W. R. 147; also 28 O. C. 136=1925 Oudh 404; 3 Pat. 947=88 I. C. 219. Under the old Code a suit will lie for the refund of purchase money when the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property. Under the present Code, the only remedy is under this rule. See 42 I. C. 453; also 65 I. C. 230; 37 I. C. 763; (1920) M. W. N. 736=60 I. C. 66. But see A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 297; 53 Cal. 758=96 I. C. 64=43 C. L. J. 418=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 971. Compare 41 I. C. 924; 36 All. 529=26 I. C. 59 with 43 All. 60=58 I. C. 105; see also 27 C. W. N. 183=50 C. 115; 23 M. L. J. 487=17 I. C. 437; 64 I. C. 628; 46 I. C. 783=22 C. W. N. 760; 39 Mad. 803=29 M. L. J. 467. To such a suit Art. 120 of the Lim. Act. will apply. 35 All. 419=19 I. C. 986. See also 30 C. W. N. 79=91 I. C. 768=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 297. Where the Court sale is not vitiated by fraud, the only extent to which the purchaser can claim relief is that indicated by this rule, 17 M. 231. As to whether the purchaser is entitled to a refund only when he is unable to obtain possession or is dispossessed, see 8 M. 99; also 46 I. C. 103=16 A. L. J. 511; 52 I. C. 818=15 N. L. R. 140. But see 22 O. C. 42=51 I. C. 95; 41 I. C. 200. The money is returnable only on the sale being set aside, 39 All. 114=37 I. C. 9. There is no implied warranty of title in Court sales, 46 I. FARTIES.—The judgment-debtor is a necessary party to an application under this rule, 6 M. 197. See also 7 B. 424. When the sale is set aside it is doubtful whether the judgment-debtor or the decree-holder has to pay the poundage which a third party purchaser had to pay, 33 I. C. 235=3 L. W. 105. But see 39 Mad. 803=29 M. L. J. 467. No more than 6 per cent. interest should be allowed on the money to be returned, 45 I. C. 109=40 Mad. 1009. An order for refund can be executed as if it were a decree, 47 I. C. 630=23 M. L. T. 355.

SUIT.—After the purchase-money has been returned by order of Court, a separate suit lies for interest on the purchase money and the expenses of sale, 5 A. 364. The judgment-debtor is a necessary party to the suit, 10 C. W. N. 274. If the purchaser was misled by the carelessness of the Court in permitting a mistake in sale proclamation, he can either sue for refund of proportionate part of purchase-money or can set aside the sale, 9 Bur. L. T. 169=33 I. C. 1003. The purchaser can sue the judgment-debtor in cases of fraud, 46 Bom. 833=1922 Bom. 205. If the sale is not set aside, the purchaser who finds that the judgment-debtor had no title to a portion of the property cannot sue to recover a proportionate part of the purchase-money, 51 I. C. 595=52 P. R. 1919. But see 79 P. L. K. 1913=18 I. C. 795.

LIMITATION.—See 16 M. 361; 11 A. 372. See also 30 C. W. N. 79=91 I. C. 768=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 297.

APPEAL.—No appeal lies from an order refusing a refund, 12 A. 397; 14 A. 201. But see 16 C. 535.

REVISION.—See 9 M. 437 and 17 M. 228.

and the name of the person who at the time of sale is declared to be the purchaser. Such certificate shall bear date the day on which the sale became absolute.

[Bangoon.] In O. XXI, the following shall be inserted as Rr. 94-A and 94-B :—

94-A. A copy of every sale certificate issued under Rule 94 shall be sent forthwith to the Sub-Registrar within whose sub-district the land sold or any part thereof is situate.

94-B. If in execution of a decree any interest in land is sold, the names and addresses of the purchaser or purchasers and the interest thereby acquired shall be certified to the Superintendent of Land Records as soon as the sale has been confirmed under Rule 92 (1).

O. 21, R. 94. SCOPE OF SECTION.—See 4 M. 172. The grant of certificate is ministerial, not judicial. 4 Pat. 760=90 I. C. 501. The rule imperatively requires the Court to grant a certificate and does not impose on the purchaser the duty of making an application, as a condition precedent. 4 M. 172. Also 1 P. L. J. 446=38 I. C. 576. A sale certificate is not a title-deed. It is merely evidence of title. 24 C. W. N. 1011=47 C. 1108.

TO WHOM CERTIFICATE IS GRANTED.—The certificate is to be issued in the name of the actual purchaser. 54 I. C. 726=24 C. W. N. 27. If the purchaser is dead, the certificate may be granted to his legal representative. 24 B. 120; 11 C. W. N. 158. The purchaser so long as he is not in possession of the property will be open to objections as to his title to the property. 45 Bom. 1186=23 Bom. L. R. 514. The purchaser gets only the rights of the vendor. 21 C. W. N. 854=41 I. C. 511. Also 29 I. C. 17; 12 I. C. 831=4 Bur. L. T. 135. The vendee even in the absence of a deed has a good title. 41 I. The proper procedure is to commence execution proceedings over again. 41 Cal. 590=41 I. A. 38=26 M. L. J. 89 (P. C.). If certain items in the joint family property of a co-parcener are sold and if subsequently at a partition other items are allotted to the co-parcener, the purchaser cannot ask for a substitution of the properties. 37 M. CONTENTS AND EFFECT OF SALE CERTIFICATE.—See 18 B. 175; 21 W. R. 93; 27 B. 339; 28 B. 162. See 27 M. 142 (P. C.). The certificate completes the title of the purchaser. 12 I. C. 360=7 N. L. R. 134. Sale passes what is contained in the proclamation and what is attached. Certificate is not conclusive as to what is sold by its recital. 4 Pat. 760=99 I. C. 501; 7 Pat. L. T. 280=A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 615. Entries in sale certificates are not binding on strangers. 20 I. C. 753. Parties to sale cannot question title of the purchaser. 50 I. C. 157=21 O. C. 400. When the certificate recites that the right of redemption is sold, the right to redeem of any other co-parcener of the defendant is also barred. 41 Bom. 357=19 Bom. L. R. 75.

CONSTRUCTION OF.—Mere inaccuracy of language or misdescription will not vitiate a sale certificate. 7 W. R. 245; 15 W. R. 490. In certificates, boundaries prevail over areas, mentioned therein. 22 I. C. 26=18 C. L. J. 541. But area as detailed by survey and paimash numbers prevail over a sweeping general boundary. 11 M. L. T. 15. A purchaser is not bound by a wrong description regarding situation of land. 52 I. C. 739. Also 11 I. C. 395=13 C. L. J. 660. Extraneous evidence might be received to identify the property comprised in the sale certificate. 25 W. R. 401. Evidence to counteract terms of a certificate is inadmissible. 22 I. C. 280=19 C. L. J. 182. Evidence cannot be adduced to prove that more than what the certificate actually gives was purchased. 26 W. R. 104.

AMENDMENT OF.—A certificate granted by the Court can be amended on an application for review under S. 114. 26 C. 530. The amendment cannot be made ex parte. 23 W. R. 301. See also 23 I. C. 811=19 C. L. J. 209; 20 I. C. 588. An amendment showing a larger purchase is without jurisdiction. 18 I. C. 725. Notice to judgment-debtor is necessary. When an amendment is asked for, without notice, it is an irregularity. 16. L. W. 760=1922 Mad. 63.

CANCELLATION OF CERTIFICATE.—When certificate issued on a rent sale is cancelled, the decree for rent remains unaffected. 35 I. C. 339=20 C. W. N. 819. The auction-purchaser derives his title from the Court's act. Where the Court's act is induced by mistake it may be set aside. 38 Mad. 387=26 M. L. J. 198. The onus of proving fraud is on the judgment-debtor when the certificate is sought to be cancelled. 34 I. C. 911.

REGISTRATION.—A sale certificate requires registration. 4 B. 155; 3 M. 37. See 7 M. 248; 7 M. 418; 11 B. 588.

GRANT OF FRESH CERTIFICATE. See 9 B. 526.

DATE OF CERTIFICATE.—S. A. 84. When the mortgagee decree-holder is the purchaser the title relates back to the date of the mortgage. 9 I. C. 840. A certificate issued during pendency of a maintenance suit begun after sale is not affected by lis pendens and is complete. (1915) M. W. N. 15=28 M. L. J. 666.

LIMITATION.—The provisions of the Limitation Act relating to applications do not extend to applications to obtain a sale certificate. 4 M. 172. See also 6 B. 586.

O. 21, R. 95. SCOPE.—A purchaser of Nankar rights need not apply for possession. 36 I. C. 768=3 O. L. J. 436. In execution delivery must be either under this or the next rule 55 I. C. 946. Any person claiming under the "purchaser" can also apply. See S. 146. See 28 M. 89, also 38 I. C. 338. A decree-holder entitled to possession cannot forcibly remove the judgment debtor from possession. 5 Bom. L. R. 977. "POSSESSION".—Means such possession as the nature of the property is capable of. 5 O. W. N. 372=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 251 (F. B.). As to different effects as to limitation and adverse possession created by formal and actual delivery, see 27 C. W. N. 24=1923 C. 138; also 23 I. C. 811=19 C. L. J. 209; 43 All. 520=19 A. L. A purchase of right, title and interest of a co-sharer, passes title to what was in exclusive possession of the co-sharer. 38 I. C. 338. When an application under Rule 97 is dismissed, it does not bar a fresh application under this rule. 16 I. C. 432=(1913) M. W. N. 179. See also 25 L. W. 108.

AFTER GRANT OF SALE CERTIFICATE.—It is not incumbent on the Court to put a purchaser into possession until he has obtained a sale certificate. 5 B. 206. The right of a purchaser to apply for possession accrues when the certificate has been granted, that is to say, when it has been issued to him. 17 B. 228.

LIMITATION.—An order under this rule on an application by the decree-holder auction-purchaser is an order under S. 47 and is governed by Art. 182 of the Lim. Act. 103 I. C. 335=A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 294.

SUIT.—An auction-purchaser may sue for possession without proceeding under this rule and R. 96. 9 C. 602; 14 C. 644; 10 M. 55; also 89 I. C. 134. A suit will lie when an attempt by the auction-purchaser to obtain possession in execution proceedings has proved unsuccessful. 12 C. 169. Also when possession given under the rule has been infructuous. 10 C. 402. He can also file a suit when his application under this rule is rejected as being beyond time. 29 A. 463; 19 A. 499; 7 C. 418; 4 A. 184; 8 M. L. J. 193; 18 A. 36. But see 90 I. C. 952=1925 Mad. 1198. Subsequent ouster gives rise to a fresh cause of action. 5 B. 387, and a fresh start for computation of limitation. 43 All. 520=19 A. L. J. 469.

APPEAL.—No appeal lies from an order allowing auction-purchaser's application. 29 A. 207. See 18 A. 36; 6 C. L. J. 749; 40 All. 216=16 A. L. J. 150; 20 C. W. N. 829=1 Pat. L. J. 232. (F. B.). Resistance or obstruction by judgment debtor.

O. 21, R. 97. SCOPE OF RULE.—Proceedings under this rule whether execution proceedings. See A.I.R. 1926 Mad. 412 = 23 L. W. 227 = (1926) M. W. N. 245 = 92 I. C. 533 = 50 M. L. J. 200. Person obstructing need not be physically present. 23 L. W. 157 = (1926) M. W. N. 163 = 92 I. C. 61 = A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 359. A decree-holder is not bound to pursue his remedies under this rule. 8 B. 602 ; 10 M. 53. This rule is solely for the benefit of a purchaser at a sale in execution. 13 M. 506. But see 26 A. 365. Also A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 353. The enquiry into objections is not confined to cases where the order is for possession only but also where the order is for demolition as well. 4 Bur. L. J. 178 = 1925 Rang. 374. When the decree is silent regarding the building the executing Court cannot order its demolition. 5 Bur. L. J. 201 = 100 I. C. 301 (1) = A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 82. See also 92 I. C. 667 (1) = A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 374.

DECREE FOR POSSESSION OF PROPERTY.—A decree for partition is a decree for possession of property. 16 M. 127. The rule applies to a decree for possession under S. 2 of the Sp. Rel. Act. 23 L. W. 157 = (1926) M. W. N. 163 = 92 I. C. 61 = A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 353. A sub-tenant cannot resist. He is not in possession on his own account. 23 Bom. L. R. 1316 = 1922 Bom. 449 (2). Neither can a sub-lessee of a sub-tenant of the judgment-debtor. 23 Bom. L. R. 1251 = 46 Bom. 526. As to when symbolical delivery is effective, see 1925 Mad. 1140 = 49 M. L. J. 303.

FRESH APPLICATION.—When an application by an auction-purchaser not being the decree-holder is rendered infructuous on account of obstruction, he need not apply under this rule but can put in another application if within time fixed by Art. 167 of the Lim. Act. 4 P. L. J. 94 = 49 I. C. 150 (F. B.). When once a delivery has been complete, a second application is not maintainable. 43 M. L. J. 179 = 1923 Mad. 25. After resistance a fresh application for possession can be made under R. 95. 13 M. 504. But see 26 A. 365. Obstruction to decree-holder getting possession.—Application taking objection not filed.—Subsequent obstruction.—Fresh application lies. (1928) M. W. N. 236 (24 I. C. 512, F.). When once delivery is given, any subsequent act of resistance cannot be the subject of a complaint under this rule. 13 W. R. 418.

LIMITATION.—A minor is to apply within a month after coming of age. 11 B. 173. See 13 M. 504. As to effect of order upholding claim of sons of judgment-debtor in their own right, see 83 I. C. 923 = 1924 All. 495.

SUIT.—In execution of a decree for possession against lessee in favour of lessor, if the sub-lessee obstructs, the remedy is by suit. 60 I. C. 969 = 47 Cal. 907. When the obstruction is by members of an undivided family to whom the property belonged but who were not parties to the suit, the remedy is by suit only. 14 I. C. 282. A suit by auction-purchaser for possession is maintainable even if the express words are absent in the decree. 57 I. C. 177. When an application under this rule is rejected, the applicant can file a regular suit. 8 B. 481. When an application by mortgagee decree-holder under this rule is dismissed, the remedy is by suit and not an appeal against the order of dismissal. 53 I. C. 923. A purchaser of immoveable property sold for arrears of Abkari revenue is entitled to be put in possession by the Civil Court by removal of obstruction if any. 1 M. L. J. 594 ; 13 W. R. 467.

O. 21, R. 98. SCOPE.—The rule applies only to obstruction by judgment-debtor or some other person at his instigation. 31 I. C. 799. A purchaser pendente lite comes within the definition of a judgment-debtor. 85 I. C. 1004 = 1925 Cal. 1243. Auction-purchaser is a representative of the judgment-debtor and proceedings can be taken against him under S. 146. 12 L. W. 350 = 59 I. C. 894. Provincial Small Cause Court can order ejectment where the obstruction is offered by the judgment-debtor. 45 M. L. J. 66 = 1924 M. 74. The words "at the instance of the applicant" have been inserted to give effect to the ruling in 26 M. 494. In case possession is ordered, it should be given in one of the ways prescribed by the Code. 8 W. R. 79. Acquiescence in the obstruction in a prior attempt for possession does not prevent another application to remove second obstruction. 66 I. C. 722 = (1921) M. W. N. 698. [Allahabad and Oudh.] In Order 21 Rule 98 after the words "or by some other person at his instigation" add "or on his behalf"; after "or any person acting at his instigation" add "or on his behalf"; after "for a term which may extend to thirty days" add "and may order the person or persons whom it holds responsible for such resistance or obstructions to pay jointly or severally in addition to costs, reasonable compensation to the decree-holder for the delay and expense caused to him in obtaining possession. The order made thereon shall have the same force and be subject to the same conditions as to appeal or otherwise as if it were a decree".

99. [S. 331.] Where the Court is satisfied that the resistance or obstruction was occasioned by any person (other than the judgment-debtor) claiming in good faith to be in possession of the property on his own account or on account of some person other than the judgment-debtor, the Court shall make an order dismissing the application.

100. [Cf. Ss. 332 and 335.] (1) Where any person other than the judgment-debtor is dispossessed of immovable property by the holder of a decree for the possession of such property or, where such property has been sold in execution of a decree,

O. 21, R. 99.—The decision under this rule is final so far as possession is concerned subject to a suit under R. 103. 51 I. C. 787 = 51 P. W. R. 1919. See also 99 I. C. 219 = 2 Luck. 269 = 3 O. W. N. 778 = A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 610.

"POSSESSION" is not limited to actual physical possession, but includes also constructive possession. 25 B. 478. The Court should satisfy itself as to whether the person obstructing was in possession of the property in question on his own account. 27 Bom. 302. The investigation of claims under this rule is not limited to the fact of possession. Any question of title in connection with the right to possession may be determined. 14 B. 627. A member of a joint Hindu family cannot say that he is in possession of any particular portion of the joint property on his own account. 17 B. at p. 721. Possession by enjoyment and receipt of rent is enough. 15 W. R. 70. But see 33 C. 487.

LIMITATION.—An order dismissing a claim must be challenged within one year. 45 M.L.J. 690=47 Mad. 160.

REVISION.—An order under this rule cannot be rectified in revision as a remedy lies under Rule 103. 129 P.L.R. 1911=10 I.C. 183.

O. 21, R. 102.—See 42 I.C. 523=6 L.W. 568; A.I.R. 1926 Mad. 963=51 M.L.J. 256.

O. 21, R. 103.—This rule applies only where an order under Rule 98, 99 or 101 has been passed. 69 I.C. 557=1923 Lah. 145. The orders referred to do not refer to those passed without investigation and not on the merits. 23 N.L.R. 94=97 I.C. 178=A.I.R. 1926 Nag. 423. The rule is confined to suits for possession by purchaser under his purchase. It does not bar suits based on other causes of action. 30 C.W.N. 163=42 C.L.J. 578. This rule applies where strangers are involved, and Sec. 47 where the parties in the suit are involved. 41 M.L.J. 54=63 I.C. 730. See also 39 M.L.T. 281. The word "party" means party to the petition and to the execution. 43 Mad. 696=39 M.L.J. 456. See also 102 I.C. 446=8 Pat.L.T. 654. Symbolical delivery does not amount to dispossession. 1 L.W. 31=24 I.C. 771. A transfer by vendee from the defendant is valid in the absence of an order preventing the vendee from disposing of the property pending the suit. 89 I.C. 990=1925 Bom. 413.

SUIT.—In a suit under this rule the plaintiff's title alone and not the mode in which or the point of time at which the ouster took place is material. 16 I.C. 741=18 C.W.N. 473. Where a claim was not treated as a suit, but the question was treated as an interlocutory proceeding an order will not operate as res judicata in any subsequent proceeding. 44 M.L.J. 443=72 I.C. 582=1923 Mad. 514. Where the decree-holder sells his own property by mistake, his only remedy is by suit. 15 L.W. 272=1922 Mad. 63.

FORUM.—The suit can be instituted only in the Court within whose jurisdiction the property lies. 6 Bom.L.R. 301. The proof required in the suit is not that of actual present possession merely, but includes a right to present possession as well. 44 Mad. 227=39 M.L.J. 626.

LIMITATION.—The suit must be filed within one year from the date of the order. Art. 11, Lim. Act, applies. See 9 M.L.J. 131; 9 M.L.J. 175; 34 C. 491; 27 M. 25; also 103 P.L.R. 1916=36 I.C. 211. Not only is a suit barred, but defence will also be barred after the prescribed time. 38 I.C. 216. But if an order for delivery was not enforced, the defence can be raised at any time to such a suit. 45 I.C. 24=23 M.L.T. 213. A mortgagee whose claim has been rejected can sue after the lapse of one year. 29 C. 25. Dismissal for default of an application under R. 101 is not an order on merits and so limitation for suit does not start from the date of the dismissal. 45 I.C. 102=14 N.L.R. 66. As to appeal, see 90 I.C. 952=1925 Mad. 1198.

[Allahabad.] Add the following Rules to O. 21.

" 104. When the certificate prescribed by section 41 is received by the Court which sent the decree for execution, it shall cause the necessary details as to the results of execution to be entered in its register of Civil Suits before the papers are transmitted to the record room.

105. Every attachment of moveable property under S. 43 of Negotiable Instruments under rule 51, and of immoveable property under rule 54, shall be made through a Civil Court Amin, or Bailiff, unless special reasons render it necessary that any other agency should be employed; in which case those reasons shall be stated in the hand-writing of the presiding Judge himself in the order for attachment.

106. When the property which it is sought to bring to sale is immoveable property within the definition of the same contained in the law for the time being in force relating to the registration of documents, and the decree is not sent to the Collector for execution under Section 68, the Court, before ordering a sale, shall call upon the sub-registrar within whose sub-district such property is situate to search his registers and report as to what incumbrances, if any, it appears from the registers to be liable.

107. Where an application is made for the sale of land or of any interest in land, the Court shall, before ordering sale thereof, call upon the parties to state whether such land is or is not ancestral land within the meaning of Notification No. 1807-1—238-10, dated 7th October, 1911, of the Local Government, and shall fix a date for determining the said question. On the day so fixed, or on any date to which the enquiry may have been adjourned, the Court may take such evidence, by affidavit or otherwise, as it may deem necessary; and may also call for a report from the Collector of the District as to whether such land or any portion thereof is ancestral land. After considering the evidence and the report, if any, the Court shall determine whether such land, or any, and what part of it, is ancestral land. The result of the enquiry shall be noted in an order made for the purpose by the presiding Judge in his own handwriting.

108. When the property which it is sought to bring to sale is revenue paying or revenue free land or any interest in such land, and the decree is not sent to the Collector for execution under section 68, the Court, before ordering a sale, shall also call upon the Collector in whose district such property is situate to report whether the property is subject to any (and, if so, to what) outstanding claims on the part of Government.

109. The reports of the sub-registrar and Collector shall be open to the inspection of the parties or their pleaders, free of charge, between the time of the receipt, by the Court and the declaration of the result of the enquiry. No fees are payable in respect of search and report by the sub-registrar and Collector.

110. The result of the enquiry under rule 66 shall be noted in an order made for the purpose by the presiding Judge in his own handwriting. The Court may in its discretion adjourn the inquiry, provided that the reasons for the adjournment are stated in writing, and that no more adjournments are made than are necessary for the purposes of the enquiry.

111. If after proclamation of the intended sale has been made any matter is brought to the notice of the Court which it considers material for purchasers to know, the Court shall cause the same to be notified to intending purchasers, when the property is put up for sale.

112. The costs of the proceedings under rules 66, 106 and 108 shall be paid in the first instance by the decree-holder; but they shall be charged as part of the costs of the execution unless the Court, for reasons to be specified in writing, shall consider that they shall either wholly or in part be omitted therefrom.

113. (Cancelled.)

114. Whenever any Civil Court has sold, in execution of a decree or other order, any house or other building situated within the limits of a Military cantonment or station, it shall, as soon as the sale has been confirmed, forward to the Commanding Office of such cantonment or station for his information and for record in the brigade or other proper office, a written notice that such sale has taken place, and such notice shall contain full particulars of the property sold and of the name and address of the purchaser.

115. Whenever guns or other arms in respect of which licences have to be taken by purchasers under the Indian Arms Act (XI of 1878) are sold by public auction in execution of decrees by order of a Civil Court, the Court directing the sale shall give due notice to the Magistrate of the district of the names and addresses of the purchasers, and of the time and place of the intended delivery to the purchasers of such arms, so that proper steps may be taken by the police to enforce the requirements of the Indian Arms Act.

116. When an application is made for the attachment of livestock or other moveable property, the decree-holder shall pay into Court in cash such sum as will cover the costs of the maintenance and custody of the property for fifteen days. If within three clear days before the expiry of any such period or fifteen days the amount of such costs for such further period as the Court may direct be not paid into Court, the Court, on receiving a report thereof from the proper officer, may issue an order for the withdrawal of the attachment and direct by whom the costs of the attachment are to be paid.

117. Livestock which has been attached in execution of a decree shall ordinarily be left at the place where the attachment is made either in custody of the judgment-debtor on his furnishing security, or in that some land-holder or other respectable person willing to undertake the responsibility of its custody and to produce it when required by the Court.

118. If the custody of live-stock cannot be provided for in the manner described in the last preceding rule, the animals attached shall be removed to the nearest pound established under the Cattle Trespass Act, 1871, and committed to the custody of the pound-keeper, who shall enter in a register—(a) the number and description of the animals; (b) the day and hour on and at which they were committed to his custody; (c) the name of the attaching officer or his subordinate by whom they were committed to his custody and shall give such attaching officer or subordinate a copy of the entry.

119. For every animal committed to the custody of the pound-keeper as aforesaid, a charge shall be levied as rent for the use of the pound for each fifteen or part of fifteen days during which such custody continues according to the scale prescribed under Section 12 of Act (I of 1871). And the sums so levied shall be sent to the Treasury for credit to the Municipal or District Board, as the case may be, under whose jurisdiction the pound is. All such sums shall be applied in the same manner as fines levied under Section 12 of the said Cattle Trespass Act.

120. The pound-keeper shall take charge of, feed and water animals attached and committed as aforesaid until they are withdrawn from his custody as hereinafter provided and he shall be entitled to be paid for their maintenance at such rates as may be, from time to time, prescribed under proper authority. Such rates shall, for animals specified in the section mentioned in the last preceding rule, not exceed the rates for the time being fixed under Section 5 of the same Act. In any case for special reasons to be recorded in writing the Court may require payment to be made for maintenance at higher rates than those prescribed.

121. The charges herein authorized for the maintenance of live-stock shall be paid to the pound-keeper by the attaching officer for the first fifteen days at the time the animals are committed to his custody, and thereafter for such further period as the Court may direct, at the commencement of such period. Payments for such maintenance so made in excess of the sum due for the number of days during which the animals may be in the custody of the pound-keeper shall be refunded by him to the attaching officer.

122. Animals attached and committed as aforesaid shall not be released from custody by the pound-keeper except on the written order of the Court, or of the attaching officer, or of the officer appointed to conduct the sale; the person receiving the animals, on their being so released, shall sign a receipt for them in the register mentioned in rule 118.

123. For the safe custody of movable property other than live stock while under attachment, the attaching officer shall, subject to approval by the Court, make such arrangements as may be most convenient and economical.

124. With the permission of the Court the attaching officer may place one or more persons in special charge of such property.

125. The fee for the services of each such persons shall be payable in the manner prescribed in rule 116. It shall not be less than two annas, and shall ordinarily not be more than three and a half-annas per diem. The Court may at its discretion allow a higher fee; but if it do so, it shall state in writing its reasons for allowing an exceptional rate.

126. When the services of such person are no longer required the attaching officer shall give him a certificate on a counterfoil form of the number of days he has served and of the amount due to him and on the presentation of such certificate to the Court which ordered the attachment, the amount shall be paid to him in the presence of the presiding Judge; Provided that, where the amount does not exceed Rs. 5, it may be paid to the Sahna by money order on requisition by the Amin, and the presentation of the certificate may be dispensed with.

127. When in consequence of an order of attachment being withdrawn or of some other reason, the person has not been employed or has remained in charge of the property for a shorter time than that for which payment has been made in respect of his services, the fee paid shall be refunded in whole or in part, as the case may be.

128. Fees paid into Court under the foregoing rules shall be entered in the Register of Petty Receipts and Re-payments.

129. When any sum levied under rule 119 is remitted to the Treasury, it shall be accompanied by an order in triplicate (in the form given as Form 9 of the Municipal Account Code), of which one part will be forwarded by the Treasury Officials to the District or Municipal Board, as the case may be. A note that the same has been paid into the Treasury as rent for the use of the pound, will be recorded on the extract from the pass book.

130. The cost of repairing attached property for sale, or of conveying it to the place where it is to be kept or sold, shall be payable by the decree holder to the attaching officer. In the event of the decree-holder failing to provide the necessary funds, the attaching officer shall report his default to the Court, and the Court may thereupon issue an order for the withdrawal of the attachment and direct by whom the costs of the attachment are to be paid.

131. Nothing in these rules shall be deemed to prevent the Court from issuing and serving on the judgment-debtor simultaneously the notices required by Order 21, rules 22, 66 and 107.

132. For the purpose of all proceedings under this order service on any party shall be deemed to be sufficient if effected at the address for service referred to in Order VIII, rule 11, subject to the provisions of Order VII, rule 24.

133. If the garnishee disputes his liability the court, instead of making such order, may order that any issue or question necessary for determining his liability be tried as though it were an issue in a suit; and upon the determination of such issue shall pass such order upon the notice as shall be just.

134. Whenever in any proceedings under these rules it is alleged, or appears to the court to be probable that the debt or property attached or sought to be attached belongs to some third person or that any third person has a lien or charge upon, or interest in it, the court may order such third person to appear and state the nature of his claim, if any, upon such debt or property and prove the same, if necessary.

135. After hearing such third person, and any other person who may subsequently be ordered to appear, or in the case of such third or other person not appearing when ordered, the court may pass such order as is hereinbefore provided or make such other order as it shall think fit, upon such terms in all cases with respect to the lien, charge or interest, if any, of such third or other person as to such court shall seem just and reasonable.

136. Payment or delivery made by the garnishee whether in execution of an order under these rules or otherwise shall be a valid discharge to him as against the judgment-debtor, or any other person ordered to appear as aforesaid, for the amount paid, delivered or realized although such order or the judgment may be set aside or reversed.

137. Debts owing from a firm carrying on business within the jurisdiction of the court may be attached under these rules, although one or more members of such firm may be resident out of the jurisdiction. Provided that any person having the control or management of the partnership business or any member of the firm within the jurisdiction is served with the garnishee order. An appearance by any member pursuant to an order shall be a sufficient appearance by the firm.

138. The costs of any application under these rules and of any proceedings arising therefrom or incidental thereto, or any order made thereon, shall be in the discretion of the court.

139. (1) Where the liability of any garnishee has been tried and determined under these rules, the order shall have the same force and be subject to the same conditions as to appeal or otherwise as if it were a decree.

(2) Orders not covered by clause (1) shall be appealable as orders made in execution.

Illustration.—An application for a garnishee order is dismissed either on the ground that the debt is secured by charge or that there is no prima facie evidence of debt due. This order is appealable as an order in execution.

140. All the rules in this Code relating to service upon either plaintiffs or defendants at the address filed or subsequently altered under Order VII or Order VIII shall apply to all proceedings taken under Order XXI or Section 47.

The following form shall be used under the provisions of rule 131 of Order XXI :—

[Rangoon.] To O. 21 add the following as Rule 104 :—

"104. If, in execution of a decree, any interest in land which has been surveyed is sold, the names and addresses of the purchaser or purchasers, and the interest thereby acquired, shall be certified to the Superintendent of Land Records as soon as the sale has been confined under rule 92 (1)."

[Oudh.] Added by Oudh Chief Court. O. XXI, Rr. 104—114.

104. The Court may, in the case of any debt due to the judgment-debtor (other than a debt secured by a mortgage or a charge or a negotiable instrument, or a debt recoverable only in a revenue court), or any moveable property not in the possession of the judgment-debtor, issue a notice to any person (hereinafter called the garnishee) liable to pay such debt, or to deliver or account for such movable property, calling upon him to appear before the Court and show cause why he should not pay or deliver into the Court the debt due from or the property deliverable by him to such judgment-debtor, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the decree and the cost of execution.

105. If the garnishee does not forthwith or within such time as the Court may allow, pay or deliver into Court the amount due from or the property deliverable by him to the judgment-debtor, or so much as may be sufficient to satisfy the decree and the cost of execution and does not dispute his liability to pay such debt or deliver such moveable property, or if he does not appear in answer to the notice, then the Court may order the garnishee to comply with the terms of such notice, and on such order execution may issue as though such order were a decree against him.

106. 107. Whenever in any proceedings under these rules it is alleged or appears to the Court to be probable, that the debt or property attached or sought to be attached belongs to some third person or that any third person has a lien or charge upon, or an interest in it, the Court may order such third person to appear and state the nature of his claim, if any, upon such debt or property and prove the same, if necessary.

108. After hearing such third person, and any other person who may subsequently be ordered to appear, or in the case of such third or other person not appearing when ordered, the Court may pass such order as is hereinbefore provided or make such other order as it shall think fit, upon such terms in all cases with respect to the lien, charge or interest, if any, of such third or other person as to such Court shall seem just and reasonable.

109. Payment or delivery made by the garnishee whether in execution or an order under these rules or otherwise shall be a valid discharge to him as against the judgment-debtor, or any other person ordered to appear as aforesaid, for the amount paid, delivered or realised although such order or the judgment may be set aside or reversed.

110. Debts owing from a firm carrying on business within the jurisdiction of the Court may be attached under these rules, although one or more members of such firm may be resident out of the jurisdiction :

Provided that any person having the control or management of the partnership business or any member of the firm within the jurisdiction is served with the garnishee order. An appearance by any member pursuant to an order shall be sufficient appearance by the firm.

111. The costs of any application under these rules and of any proceedings arising therefrom or incidental thereto, or any order made thereon, shall be in the discretion of the Court.

112 (1) Where the liability of any garnishee has been tried and determined under these rules, the order shall have the same force and be subject to the same conditions as to appeal or otherwise as if it were a decree.

(2) Orders not covered by sub-rule (1) shall be appealable as orders made in execution.

Illustration.—An application for a garnishee order is dismissed either on the ground that the debt is secured by a charge or that there is no prima facie evidence of debt due. This order is appealable as an order in execution.

113. All the rules in this Code relating to service on either plaintiffs or defendants at the address filed or subsequently altered under Order VII or Order VIII shall apply to all proceedings taken under Order XXI or section 47.

ORDER XXII.

DEATH, MARRIAGE AND INSOLVENCY OF PARTIES.

1. [S. 361.] The death of a plaintiff or defendant shall not cause the suit to abate if the right to sue survives.

O. 22, R. 1. SCOPE OF RULE.—In order to work abatement of a suit or appeal it is not necessary for the Court to pass any order. 48 A. 334=93 I. C. 313=1926 All. 217. Rules 1 to 10 do not contemplate the representatives of the judgment-debtor being placed on the record after the appellate decree has been passed. 18 B. 224. The language of the rule seems to indicate that the cause of action of the original and revived suit must be the same, and that no fresh cause of action can be imported into the revised suit. 22 Cal. 92 (97). Substitution of the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff or defendant at one stage of a suit, as for instance on an appeal from an interlocutory order in the suit, is effective for all future stages of the suit. 45 Cal. 94=33 M.L.J. 486=42 I.C. 43=44 I.A. 218 (P. C.).

RIGHT TO SUE.—This is based upon facts which go to make up what is called "the cause of action". 22 C. 92. It includes a "right to appeal", and "a right to prosecute by law or to obtain relief by names of legal procedure" 26 B. 597 at p. 599 and 607; 33 I. C. 45=38 Mad. 1064; 9 Bur. L. T. 28=34 I. C. 249; see also 74 I. C. 14; 50 C. 650. The words "if the right to sue survives" mean, if the cause of action survive or continue. 26 B. at p. 599. See also 2 Luck. 464=4 O. W. N. 235=101 I. C. 174=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 156; 104 I. C. 308=A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 343.

BURDEN OF PROOF.—As to survival of right to sue is on the person desiring to prosecute the suit or appeal. 48 All. 630=24 A.L.J. 796=A. I. R. 1926 All. 610.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—When the cause of action against the deceased defendant is based on a tort or a breach of contract of personal service, and the deceased has not left any personal assets, the right to sue does not survive. 8 M. L. J. 180. See also 9 Bur. L. T. 38=34 I. C. 249 (action for slander); 62 P. R. 1915=28 I. C. 455 (action for personal injuries). See also 43 All. 630. Personal right does not abate after decree. 59 I. C. 939. Decree is property capable of inheritance. (Ibid.) Actions which are not personal to the plaintiff survive after the death of minor plaintiff (as, suit by minor repudiating will of father). 27 I. C. 396=27 M. L. J. 674. Right to sue in forma pauperis is a personal right and does not survive to the heirs of the pauper. 64 I. C. 63; as also suit for damages for breach of contract of marriage. 44 Bom. 446=55 I. C. 624. The cause of action in a suit by a father for the possession of his minor children, who are in the possession of the defendant does not survive against the widow of the deceased defendant. 25 B. 574. When a submission to arbitration has been made a rule of Court, and the right is one which is not personal the proceedings do not abate by reason of the death of a party. In such cases the procedure laid down in R. 5 should be followed. 13, M. L. J. 311. When a defendant in a suit for damages for wrongful arrest and malicious prosecution dies pending suit, the suit abates. 13 B. 677; 65 I. C. 66=4 P. L. J. 676=52 I. C. 348; 38 I. C. 823=31 M. L. J. 772. See also 22 L. W. 858=50 M. L. J. 34. Suit to enforce right to a pala or worship does not abate on the death of the paladar as the cause of action is not merely of a personal nature. 53 Cal. 132=30 C. W. N. 389=94 I. C. 212=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 490; 34 I. C. 4 (suit by manager of joint Hindu family—No survival to other members). Suit under S. 92, C. P. C.—Death of one of the plaintiffs obtaining sanction. Neither the suit nor an appeal therefrom abates. 47 M. L. J. 745=1925 Mad. 244. If in a defamation suit plaintiff gets a decree, and the defendant appeals but dies before the hearing of the appeal, the appeal does not abate and his son can be placed on the record. 26 B. 597. See also 26 M. 499 and 9 A. 131 F. B.; 31 C. 99; 34 I. C. 249=9 Bur. L. J. 38. As to second appeal see 62 P. R. 1915=28 I. C. 455. As to suits by Hindu reversioners—Declaratory suit by one survives to next reversioners. See 38 Mad. 406=42 I.A. 125 (P.C.). The following are not good law. 22 M. L. J. 375=15 I. C. 213; 16 I. C. 865=12 M. L. T. 664; 12 M. L. T. 199=15 I. C. 461=23 M. L. J. 719; 27 Mad. 588. See now the Full Bench case, 41 Mad. 659=35 M.L.J. 57 (F.B.). See further 18 I. C. 329=65 P.R. 1913. In joint Hindu family, surviving members represent the deceased member. 33 I.C. 123=14 A.L.J. 255. Malabar Tarwad—Suit by Karnavan and some other members complaining of mis-management by Anandravan. In Karnavan dying and defendant becoming Karnavan—Other plaintiffs can continue suit. See 22 L. W. 205=A.I.R. 1925 Mad. 894. Application for letters of administration by residuary legatee does not survive to his heirs. 51 I. C. 76=45 Cal. 862. Right to be appointed guardian of reversioner—if survives to his son. See 116 P. L. R. 1917=42 I. C. 410. In a suit for a declaration that defendant is not lawful wife of plaintiff, the cause of action does not survive. 52 I. C. 545=87 P. R. 1919. Where there is only an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis, and the applicant dies before leave is granted, the right to sue as a pauper being a personal right, cannot survive. 33 C. 1163; see also 64 I. An appellant died on the day fixed for the hearing of the appeal but before the hearing. Held, his legal representatives were not bound by the decree and the appeal must be reheard, 55 I. C. 498. Where one of the appellants to His Majesty-in-Council died before the passing of the Privy Council decree, and no substitution was made, the Privy Council decree could not be held void by the Courts in India. 1920 Pat. 266. (1 P.L.T. 325, Foll.) Failure to substitute would have rendered the decree void only in so far as it was in favour of the deceased appellant. 58 I.C. 212 = 5 Pat. L.J. 314 ; 56 I.C. 322 = 1920 Pat. 266.

O. 22, R. 8. SCOPE AND APPLICATION OF RULE.—The rule applies only to a case where there is an actual bankruptcy or insolvency in which there is an assignee or receiver appointed. It does not apply to a case where there has been a mere application, 27 C. 219. Where plaintiff was adjudicated insolvent subsequent to suit—Notice to Official Receiver should be given. 12 L.W. 551 = 61 I.C. 300 = (1920) M.W.N. 704. The Official Assignee must be given an opportunity to prosecute the suit. 12 B. 257. For form of order see 16 B. 404. Where pending an appeal the appellant becomes insolvent the appeal can be continued only by the Receiver in insolvency. 18 I. C. 922. No limitation for Official Assignee to apply for substitution. 43 All. 621 = 19 A.L.J. 685. Where a plaintiff after instituting a suit in forma pauperis is adjudicated an insolvent the Receiver in insolvency can continue the suit in the same way as the insolvent. 47 I.C. 577 = 16 A.L.J. 440. As to what constitutes costs for which the Official Assignee is to give security, see 28 Bom. L.R. 1074 = 97 I.C. 797 = A.I.R. 1926 Bom. 533. the costs which he has incurred in defending the same to be proved as a debt against the plaintiff's estate.

9. [S. 371.] (1) Where a suit abates or is dismissed under this Order, no fresh suit shall be brought on the same cause of action.

Effect of abatement or dismissal.

(2) The plaintiff or the person claiming to be the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff or the assignee or the receiver in the case of an insolvent plaintiff may apply for an order to set aside the abatement or dismissal; and if it is proved that he was prevented by any sufficient cause from continuing the suit, the Court shall set aside the abatement or dismissal upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit.

[S. 372-A.] (3) The provisions of section 5 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877¹ shall apply to applications under sub-rule (2).

10. [S. 372.] (1) In other cases of an assignment, creation or devolution of any interest during the pendency of a suit, the suit may, by leave of the Court, be continued by or against the person to or upon whom such interest has come or devolved.

Procedure in case of assignment before final order in suit.

O. 22, R. 9. SCOPE OF RULE.—The rule does not apply to a case in which the defendant or respondent dies. 7 M. 195; see also 8 C. at p. 842. The rule applies only to orders passed under Rr. 4 and 8. 9 C. 163. No fresh cause of action can be imported into a revived suit. 22 C. 97. See 9 A. 229 under R. 10. The abatement of a suit under this rule has not the force of res judicata. 6 Bom. L. R. 638. The mere fact that the representative of a deceased person happens to be already a party on the record in his own right does not dispense with an application for setting aside the abatement and substitution. 29 I. C. 470. Application to implead legal representative, giving no reason for delay, cannot be treated as one under this rule for setting aside the abatement. 94 I. C. 300 = A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 474. Abatement—Effect of. 39 I. C. 277 = 23 P. R. 1917; 38 M. L. J. 266 = 54 I. C. 565.

SCOPE AND APPLICATION OF SUB-CL. (2).—O. 22, R. 9 (2) is not controlled by cl. (3) and the "sufficient cause" mentioned in cl. (2) is not confined to the circumstances given in S. 5 of the Lim. Act. 42 All. 540 = 59 I. C. 903 = 18 A. L. J. 688; 36 All. 235; 51 I. C. 534; 21 L.W. 220 = 1925 Mad. 494. O. 22, R. 9 (2) contemplates that a formal order declaring that a suit or appeal has abated should be made before an application under the rule is made. (36 A. 235, Foll.; 42 A. 542, Not Foll.); 44 All. 459 = 66 I. C. 554 = 1922 All. 209.

SUFFICIENT CAUSE TO EXCUSE DELAY.—Before an abatement is set aside, the Court has to be satisfied that there was sufficient cause for not applying in time. 49 Cal. 62 = 1922 Cal. 335; 36 All. 235 = 12 A. L. J. 299; 1923 Lah. 470. As to what is sufficient cause, see also 50 I. C. 422 = 20 P. R. 1919; 90 I. C. 811 = A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 175; 97 I. C. 142 (1) = 8 Lah. L. J. 331. Under this rule it must be shown that the appellant was prevented by sufficient cause from going on with the suit within the time limited by law; if he so proves he is entitled, as a matter of right, to have the abatement set aside. 28 I. C. 803. The appellant must prove, to get extension of time for bringing the representative of the deceased respondents on record, that he was not aware of death in time. 3 P. R. 1916 = 32 I. C. 829; 15 I. C. 708 = 204 P. L. R. 1912. Ignorance of death, standing by itself, may be sufficient cause; but if it is accompanied by great delay and dilatoriness it would be otherwise. 49 Cal. 62 = 1922 Cal. 335; 4 Lah. L. J. 171 = 1922 Lah. 61; 1925 Oudh 306 (2); 24 I. C. 275; 49 I. C. 531; 22 P. W. R. 1919; 46 P. W. R. 1918; 44 I. C. 9 = 24 P. L. R. 1918; 31 I. C. 697 = 12 P. W. R. 1916; see also 91 I. C. 560; A.I.R. 1926 Lah. 137. Delay in applying to bring the legal representative on record, caused by a slip on the part of the party's vakil should be excused if the party himself is not at fault. 41 M. L. J. 65 = 62 I. C. 795. Fraud of agent would be sufficient cause. 53 I. C. 585. Bona fide mistake is sufficient cause. As well as bona fide mistake of law. 1923 Lah. 475; 55 I. C. 883 = 1 Lah. 481; 8 P. R. 1916 = 32 I. C. 829; 67 I. C. 306 = 2 Lah. L. J. 44. Quarrel among legal representatives is no sufficient cause to excuse delay in applying to be brought on record as legal representative under O. 22, R. 9. 31 I. C. 38. That succession certificate was obtained after the expiry of time fixed for addition of legal representatives is sufficient reason to excuse the delay. 73 I. C. 215 = 26 O. C. 244. Appellant's carelessness and the culpable means adopted by him to conceal it, is sufficient to reject his application to set aside order of abatement. 30 I. C. 717 = 155 P. L. R. 1915.

LIMITATION.—The period of limitation is that prescribed by Art. 177 of the Lim. Act. 2 P. 168; 84 I. C. 1001. See 5 C. 139 where the suit was revived after the expiry of 3 years. See also 8 C. 837; 30 C. 609; 8 C. 420; 51 I. C. 534.

REVIEW.—An order setting aside abatement by a Division Bench cannot be re-opened at a subsequent stage of the case by a different Bench even though the order was made ex parte. The proper remedy is by a review. 29 M. L. J. 574 = 30 I. C. 669.

O. 22, R. 10. SCOPE AND APPLICATION OF RULE.—R. 10 applies only to cases which do not fall under the preceding rules of the same order. 45 M. 872=42 M. L. J. 301; 91 I. C. 166=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 181. See also 22 L.W. 860=49 M. L. J. 704. By consent of parties and the leave of the Court a suit may be amended to cover an increased claim. 9 A. 229. The rule does not apply to cases of assignment of interest which is the subject-matter of litigation between the date of decision of the first Court and the filing of appeal. 38 I. C. 511=20 O. C. 31; 1 P. L. J. 596=38 I. C. 237. The first four rules of O. 22 cannot apply to a case in which the death of the defendant occurs between the passing of preliminary and final decrees in a suit, as there is then no right to sue surviving. 64 I. C. 307=17 N.L.R. 81. The Rules in this Order deal with the devolution of interest by the operation of law and not by act of parties. 53 M. L. J. 142=26 L.W. 171=102 I. C. 444=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 693. A creditor of a decree-holder who has attached the decree pending an appeal against it is not entitled to be made a party respondent to the appeal, under this Rule. 20 A. 38. On this Rule, see also 5 A. 212; 9 A. 229; 20 A. 38; 23 A. at p. 335; 5 C. 726; 30 C. 609; 10 A. 97. The words "other cases" means cases other than those specifically mentioned in the previous rules. 9 C. W. N. 171. As to effect of order see 43 Mad. 37=37 M. L. J. 449. The position of the party substituted is exactly the same as that of the original person. 16 I. C. 567=17 C. W. N. 862. A deed of compromise filed during the pendency of a suit cannot be regarded as an "assignment". 5 A. 209 (212). As to Court's power to decide dispute as to assignment. See 94 I. C. 926=A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 574.

PENDENCY OF SUIT.—Whether the expression 'the pendency of the suit' in R. 10 covers the period between the original and an amended decree. See 43 M. L. J. 559=69 I. C. 977=1923 Mad. 57. Rule applies to cases of devolution of interest pending suit and not to cases of persons acquiring interest after decree. 40 I. C. 846= (1917) M. W. N. 306; 64 I. C. 307=17 N. L. R. 81; 43 M. L. "INTEREST".—The interest must be the interest in the property, which is the subject-matter in the suit. 30 C. 961. The "Interest" contemplated is any interest which will be vitally affected by the suit. 43 I. C. 811. Compromise of suit—Decree not passed—Application by purchaser to be added as a party may be allowed in the discretion of the Court. 27 C. W. N. 755=1924 Cal. 188. Proceedings after a preliminary decree for sale or redemption till the final decree is passed, are proceedings in the suit, and the private purchaser of the property after such a decree acquires an interest which entitled him to be made a party to the suit. 37 All. 226=27 I. C. 771; 25 Bom. L. R. 308=75 I. C. 743=1923 Bom. 303; 27 C. W. N. 710=75 I. C. 255=1924 Cal. 90; 51 I. C. 233=29 C.L.J. 362.

DEVOLUTION OF INTEREST.—These words do not mean devolution by death. 28 C. at p. 175. See also 27 I. C. 704=20 C. L. J. 107. The devolution spoken of in R. 10 is not confined to devolution in ways other than by death. 64 I. C. 307=17 N. L. R. 81. They include devolution of an interest by reason of an adjudication in insolvency and a vesting order thereunder. 25 M. at p. 413. See 30 B. 257. Where a trustee dies or retires, the estate devolves on the new trustee who can be added under the rule. 92 I. C. 520=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 540. The insolvency of the defendant in a money suit does not affect the devolution of any interest on the Official Receiver. 29 I. C. 30=8 S. L. R. 325; 53 M.L. J. 142=26 L. W. 171=102 I. C. 144=A. I. R. 1926 Nag 303. An application for substitution by an assignee decree-holder is within R. 10 even though the assignment was obtained not directly but only derivatively from a party to the suit. 26 I. C. 410=20 C. L. J. 107; 20 I. C. 685=18 C. W. N. 450. Where a plaint is returned for presentation to the proper court, any devolution of interest which took place while the proceedings were pending in the first Court must be taken to be a devolution in the course of the suit. 8 L.W. 21=48 I. PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE.—An order for substitution may be made ex parte without notice and such an order made ex parte can be recalled upon objection of parties interested. 16 I. C. 557=17 C. W. N. 862. But see also next case. A judicial order which may possibly affect or prejudice any party cannot be finally made unless the party affected has had an opportunity of being heard. It is based on the plainest principles of justice. 16 I. C. 567=17 C. W. N. 862. No order for substitution should be made upon an application which is not supported by affidavit or is not verified. (Ibid). A person may under this rule, be added or substituted as a party either on his own application or on the application of one of the parties already on the record. 18 A. 285. The assignees of a right to recover mesne profits given by a decree in a suit ought to apply for continuance of the suit under O. 22, R. 10. 1 P. L. J. 427=37 I. C. 998.

O. 22, R. 11.—The principle recognised in O. 22, R. 11 applies not only to suits but to revision proceedings as well. 21 I. C. 407=18 C. L. J. 141. A rule issued at the instance of a party who is dead at the time is a nullity. 21 I. C. 407=18 C. L. J. 141. [N. B.—See also under R. 10.]

O. 23, R. 1. APPLICABILITY OF RULE.—This rule does not apply to suit before the Revenue authorities under Act X of 1859. 21 C. 428. See also 21 C. 514. It applies to rent suits in the N. W. P. 5 A. 406. Also to ejectment suits filed under the Agra Tenancy Act, L. R. 6 A. 65 Rev. O. 23 applies to S. 92, 1925 Cal. 187. As to whether such an order could be made in a suit

ABANDONMENT OF PART OF CLAIM.—A suit can be withdrawn in part with liberty to sue again in respect of it. But the whole suit cannot be withdrawn with liberty to sue again in respect of part only. When only part of a suit is withdrawn the remaining part must be proceeded with and if not, it must be dismissed as to it. 5 Bom. L. R. 223; 15 M. L. J. R. 462. Where

Where it is apparent from the pleadings and the proceedings in the Lower Court that the plaintiff has no clear conception of his rights leave to withdraw with liberty to file a fresh suit will be granted. 17 I. C. 396 = (1912) M. W. N. 1003. Leave was granted when it was not possible for the plaintiff to adduce evidence within the time fixed by the Court. 16 W. R. 100. See also 15 Bom. 160. But failure to produce evidence in time is no ground for permitting withdrawal. 7 Lah. L. J. 290 = 1925 Lah. 497. See also 22 L. W. 535 = 1925 M. 1268; 21 L. W. 282 = 1925 M. 617.

SUBJECT-MATTER.—This means clearly "the subject of legal action, consideration, complaint or defence, or the fact or facts constituting the whole or a part of a ground of action or defence"—21 M. at p. 37; 21 C. 265.

CAUSE OF ACTION DIFFERENT.—O. 23, R. 1 (3) does not bar a suit on a different cause of action. 36 Mad. 325 = 23 M. L. J. 658. See also 9 Bom. 346 (different title). "Shall" in the rule is not mandatory and is merely directory. 2 O. W. N. 901 = 1925 Oudh 699. Withdrawal without leave—Subsequent suit on different ground not barred. 59 I. C. 84. The words "subject-matter" used in O. 23, R. 1 (3) are not to be identified with the "property" in the suit. 74 I. C. 56 = 1924 Oudh 180. They mean the cause of action for a claim. (Ibid.) See also 92 I. C. 385 = A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 490. The withdrawal of a suit in which a right of ownership is asserted does not preclude the plaintiff from suing again upon a claim based upon an easement. 2 A. L. J. 59.

EFFECT OF WITHDRAWAL.—The withdrawal of suit bars only the plaintiff and his privies from bringing a fresh suit but not a person who has purchased the plaintiff's interest at a sale in execution under an attachment prior to the withdrawal. 39 I. C. 275 = 1917 Pat. 141. Where the Court allows some plaintiffs to withdraw with liberty to file a fresh suit without the consent of the others, the Court acts without jurisdiction and a fresh suit is barred. 1 P. 228. Withdrawal by unnecessary plaintiffs from a suit does not necessitate the dismissal of the suit. 60 I. C. 592; 1 P. 228.

NEXT FRIEND.—A next friend can withdraw a suit on behalf of a minor, and any withdrawal by him would have precisely the same effect as the withdrawal of a suit by a person of full age. 10 C. 357. But a withdrawal by him without the leave of the Court is voidable at the instance of the minor. 27 M. 377. As to the courses open to minor when his next friend has fraudulently withdrawn a suit without leave to file a fresh suit, see 10 C. 357.

PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE.—Where leave to withdraw is granted without express liberty to sue again a fresh suit on the same cause of action is barred. 58 I. C. 271 = 129 P. R. 1919; 40 M. L. J. 126 = 62 I. C. 833; 46 I. C. 913.

FORM OF ORDER.—The suit cannot be dismissed with liberty to file a fresh suit. 9 A. 690; and the fact that such an order has not been appealed against will not give it any effect. 11 A. 187 (F. B.). An order cannot be passed directing the plaintiff to institute a new suit. 9 A. 191 (P. C.). The dismissal of a suit "in the form in which it is brought" does not amount to permission to sue again. 5 A. 595. Application for permission to withdraw a suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit—Court giving permission to withdraw but not giving in terms liberty to bring a fresh suit, held the order to be read along with petition and construed as granting permission to file a fresh suit. 5 Pat. 23 = 93 I. C. 1001 (1) = A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 259. The Court cannot pass an order returning the plaint. 7 B. 487. Suit withdrawn to be regarded as never brought. 41 C. L. J. 450 = 29 C. W. N. 755 (F. B.).

NOTICE.—Notice should issue to the opposite party before passing any order under this rule. 6 A. 211.

COSTS.—When leave to withdraw the suit with liberty is granted, costs must follow the event. See 25 Bom. L. R. 242 = 47 B. 559 = 72 I. C. 324; 40 All. 612 = 46 I. C. 71; 14 I. C. 97 = 9 A. L. J. 358. See also 15 Bom. 160; 1 M. H. C. R. 247. But see 2 O. W. N. 901 = 1925 Oudh 699. The Court can extend the time to pay costs when it is absolutely impossible for the party to pay such costs on or before the day so fixed. 29 M. 370. When a suit is withdrawn with liberty to sue again "on payment of costs, and a subsequent suit is filed without payment of costs," subsequent payment cures the irregularity. The Court can refuse to proceed with the suit till the costs are paid. 31 C. 965 (968). On this point, see also 5 Pat. 306 = 96 I. C. 942 = A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 409; 95 I. C. 875 = A. I. R. 1926 P. 472.

POWER OF APPELLATE COURT.—A Court of Appeal has power to grant permission to withdraw a suit with liberty to file a fresh suit. 74 I. C. 894 = 1924 All. 260; 41 C. L. J. 186 = 1925 Cal. 711; 45 I. C. 913; 45 M. L. J. 212 = 46 Mad. 811 = 1924 Mad. 79; 40 Mad. 259; 37 I. C. 414 = 32 M. L. J. 477 (F. B.). Before doing so, it must set aside the decree of the first Court. 95 I. C. 424 (2) = A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 444. The

(a) that a suit must fail by reason of some formal defect, or
 (b) that there are other sufficient grounds for allowing the plaintiff to institute a fresh suit for the subject-matter of a suit or part of a claim, it may, on such terms as it thinks fit, grant the plaintiff permission to withdraw from such suit or abandon such part of a claim with liberty to institute a fresh suit in respect of the subject-matter of such suit or such part of a claim.

(3) Where the plaintiff withdraws from a suit, or abandons part of a claim, without the permission referred to in sub-rule (2), he shall be liable for such costs as the Court may award and shall be precluded from instituting any fresh suit in respect of such subject-matter or such part of the claim.

(4) Nothing in this rule shall be deemed to authorize the Court to permit one of several plaintiffs to withdraw without the consent of the others.

2. [S. 374.] In any fresh suit instituted on permission granted under the last preceding rule, the plaintiff shall be bound by the law of limitation in the same manner as if the first suit had not been instituted.

Limitation law not affected by first suit.

3. [S. 375.] Where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court that a suit has been adjusted wholly or in part by any lawful agreement or compromise, or where the defendant satisfies the plain-

Compromise of suit.

Court must be very cautious in granting permission. 24 A. L. J. 721=96 I. C. 480=A. I. R. 1926 All. 548. An appellant is not entitled to withdraw his suit in the Appeal Court under O. 23, R. 1 (1) as a matter of course. 61 I. C. 584=A. I. R. 1923 Oudh 252. O. 23, R. 1 does not allow a plaintiff who has appealed to get rid of the decree that has been made by the simple process of withdrawing the suit. 47 I. C. 817=12 S. L. R. 14; see also 11 M. 322; 41 C. L. J. 186. In proper cases High Court on appeal can take action under O. 23, R. 1. 40 All. 7=42 I. C. 856=15 A. L. J. 809.

APPEAL.—An order made by an Appellate Court giving permission to withdraw a suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit, is not a decree, and is not appealable. 18 C. 322; 88 I. C. 1029 (1)=A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 185 (1). If such an order is passed by a Court of first instance, and the District Court on appeal sets aside the order and dismisses the suit, the order of the District Court is a decree and is appealable. 27 C. 362. An order permitting the withdrawal of an appeal is not a decree. 15 B. 370 (373).

REVISION.—An order granting leave to withdraw without considering or recording any grounds for allowing withdrawal is a wrong exercise of jurisdiction and a revision would lie. 20 A. L. J. 90=64 I. C. 948=1922 All. 185. See also 25 Bom. L. R. 242=47 Bom. 559; 40 All. 612=16 A. L. J. 493; 14 I. C. 97=9 A. L. J. 358; 15 All. 160; 11 Mad. 322. See also 85 I. C. 548=1925 All. 272; 87 I. C. 175=1925 All. 466. Where there was proper exercise of jurisdiction by the lower Court no revision lies. 19 A. L. J. 47=60 I. C. 899. The High Court has power to revise the order granting withdrawal of suit with liberty to bring a fresh one without any formal defect. 41 I. C. 934; 40 I. C. 77; 44 Cal. 454=39 I. C. 969=25 C. L. J. 455; 35 I. C. 843; 34 I. C. 934; 10 I. C. 346; 27 M. L. J. 480=26 I. C. 57; 3 P. L. J. 460=46 I. C. 179. See also 7 Lah. L. J. 290=1925 Lah. 497.

REVIEW.—An order permitting the withdrawal of an appeal can be reviewed. 15 B. 370.

O. 23, R. 2.—The effect of this rule is that limitation is to apply to the second suit as if it was the first. 29 B. 219. Limitation for fresh suit. 25 I. C. 188=12 A. L. J. 989. The fact that a suit is withdrawn does not entitle the plaintiff in a fresh suit, to any deduction of time during which the former suit had been pending. (11 W. R. 5 (P. C.), Dist.; 9 Cal. 255 (P. C.), Ref. to); 20 I. C. 205. See also 23 I. C. 458=163 P. L. R. 1914. Adjustment—Award—Supersession of—Subsequent reference through Court—Effect of. See 24 Bom. L. R. 361=46 Bom. 854.

O. 23, R. 3. APPLICABILITY OF RULE.—The rule applies to cases referred to arbitration. 1925 M. 50.

MEANING OF WORDS.—"Adjustment," meaning of. 45 M. L. J. 763=28 C. W. N. 930=1923 P. C. 178 (P. C.). "Award is no adjustment". See 47 All. 637=23 A. L. J. 561 (F. B.). "Proved to the satisfaction of the Court", meaning of. See 24 C. 908 (F. B.). "Suit" in R. 3 includes the appellate stages and execution proceedings following the decree. 62 I. C. 608=6 P. L. J. 253.

LAWFUL AGREEMENT, ADJUSTMENT OR COMPROMISE.—"To determine whether a compromise is lawful" it is necessary to consider the facts of the litigation, the terms of the compromise, and the circumstances under which it is entered into. "Where a compromise by a trustee involves a breach of trust, it is not lawful". 12 M. L. J. 360. Mere offer not enough to constitute adjustment. 9 I. C. 426. An agreement between the parties to a suit to abide by the decision which may be made in another proceeding amounts to an adjustment. 8 L. W. 470=51 I. C. 540; 37 Mad. 408=22 M. L. J. 447. Agreement to abide by the sums fixed by the other side may be good agreement. 25 I. C. 935=8 S. L. R. 91. An agreement by the parties to a suit to abide by the sum to be named by their pleaders is not a lawful adjustment. 19 I. C. 450=6 S. L. R. 166.

EFFECT OF COMPROMISE AND DECREE.—Intention of parties to have a formal document drawn up will not affect settled compromise. 56 I. C. 26=11 L. W. 179. A compromise is a tiff in respect of the whole or any part of the subject-matter of the suit, the Court binding agreement between the parties and none the less so binding, because followed by a decree. 21 I. C. 538=18 C. L. J. 187. A consent order is only an order of the Court, carrying out the agreement between the parties. 29 I. C. 156=19 C. W. N. 565. The provisions of this rule, whenever they are applicable, must be given effect to even in cases which are governed by the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act. 24 Bom. L. R. 88=46 Bom. 560. See also 57 I. C. 751. Effect of decree on rights of absent respondents. 19 I. C. 915. A decree passed under O. 23, R. 3 in terms of a compromise arrived at between parties to suit becomes final and conclusive if not appealed against. 29 I. C. 156=19 C. W. N. 565; 21 I. C. 538=18 C. L. J. 187; 19 I. C. 915; 40 Mad. 177=30 M. L. J. 274; 31 I. C. 21. A defendant who is a party to the suit, but not a party to the compromise is bound by the decree if it is not appealed against. 24 I. C. 491 following 31 M. 474. Effect of decree on compromise, when there has been a misapprehension as to right. See 24 I. C. 491. A contract of a compromise which has passed into a decree is governed by the same principles as are applicable to the construction of contracts. 10 M. L. T. 326=12 I. C. 334=35 Mad. 75=21 M. L. J. 709.

POWERS AND DUTY OF COURT.—Under R. 1 the Court has to deal with plaintiff alone, but under R. 3 the Court has to deal with plaintiff and defendant and has to find out if there is any agreement between them for compromise. 37 I. C. 421. The terms of settlement must be examined with care and caution. 16 I. C. 611. If the compromise is fraudulent, Court may refuse to pass a decree thereon. 52 I. C. 105. The Court must be satisfied that the agreement is lawful and it can pass a decree in accordance therewith only in so far as it relates to the suit. 25 C. W. N. 806=34 C. L. J. 96. A Court making a decree by consent is performing a judicial and not a ministerial act. (Ibid.) Also 50 I. C. 363. The Court must satisfy itself by the evidence taken that the agreement or compromise is a lawful one. 23 M. 101. See also 17 A. at p. 532; 91 I. C. 790 (2)=24 A. L. J. 210=A. I. R. 1926 All. 278. Beyond that the Court cannot examine the terms of the compromise. 91 I. C. 790=A. I. R. 1926 All. 278. The Court is not bound to record compromise or adjustment not assented to by all the parties. 86 I. C. 351=1925 Lah. 280. The Court has jurisdiction to pass a right as well as a wrong decree and if it decides wrongly the wronged party can only take the course prescribed by the law for setting matters right. 51 I. C. 439 (32 M. L. J. 434, Foll.). A consent decree wrongly passed owing to some legal or technical defect is not a nullity. (Ibid.) Where a compromise effected by the parties is conveyed to the Court by pleaders on both sides, the parties cannot object on the ground that the pleaders had no such authority. 60 I. C. 22=12 L. W. 562. The Court has power to frame an additional issue to decide whether a lawful compromise has been effected between the parties. 20 B. 304; 19 M. 419. See also 8 M. 482; 9 M. 103; 7 B. 304. A consent decree cannot be challenged on the ground that it is erroneous in law, nor on the grounds on which a contract can be impeached.

(29 Cal. 854, Foll.); 35 Mad. 75=21 M. L. J. 709. The Court can decide the fact of settlement out of Court and grant a decree in accordance therewith, if it is established. 36 I. C. 375=21 C. W. N. 366. Arrangement prior to decree to treat it as inexecutable will not be given effect to. 43 Mad. 725=39 M. L. J. 222.

LEGALITY OF COMPROMISE.—O. 23, R. 3 does not always compel the Court to pass a decree in accordance with a compromise. 4 P. L. J. 580=53 I. C. 833. The Court must see that the compromise is a lawful agreement and will look into the merits when necessary to determine its bona fides. (Ibid.) Where the claim is beyond the jurisdiction of the Trial Court, it is not competent to the Court to pass a compromise decree. Its duty is to return the plaint under O. 7, R. 10, C. P. Code. 66 I. C. 837=16 L. W. 155. The compromise may be regarded as an abandonment of the claim so far as it was beyond the jurisdiction of the Court and the decree on the compromise may be valid. (Per Coutts Trotter.) (Ibid.) Compromise is not unlawful merely because the parties do not get the shares to which they would be legally entitled. 55 I. C. 716. An agreement which carries a penal clause such as may be caused by S. 74 of the Contract Act is not "unlawful". 91 I. C. 790 (2)=24 A. L. J. 210=A. I. R. 1926 All. 278. The Court in recording a consent decree is bound to consider whether the compromise is a lawful one. 35 Mad. 75=21 M. L. J. 709; 26 M. L. J. 315=23 I. C. 72; (1922) M. W. N. 83=66 I. C. 837; 55 I. C. 716; 38 C. L. J. 272=1924 Cal. 159. No compromise can prevent the law of limitation from taking effect. 13 O. L. J. 138=92 I. C. 732=A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 311. All terms in a contract which are opposed to public policy are invalid and will not be enforced by the Courts. 26 M. at p. 33. Compromise in fraud of some of the parties—Not allowed. 1923 Oudh 252. A Court will not recognise any compromise of an action with the facts of which it is entirely unacquainted or if one of the terms of the compromise is a clear violation of a statutory rule. 55 I. C. 504; 47 I. C. 817=12 S. L. R. 14; 50 I. C. 577=37 M. L. J. 65; 37 I. C. 764; 4 P. L. J. 580=53 I. C. 833. S. 6, cl. (a) of T. P. Act renders certain transfers unlawful on grounds of public policy, and the Court cannot allow them to be effected by means of a consent decree. 26 M. 31. Any agreement or compromise as regards the genuineness or execution of a will, if its effect is to exclude evidence in proof of the will, is not lawful. 31 C. 357. The principles of compromise under the Divorce Act are considered in 10 A. 559. See also 22 M. 214.

MATTERS OUTSIDE THE SUIT.—The only compromise which a Court is bound to enforce is which adjusts the suit wholly or in part, not one which goes beyond the suit. 13 C. 170.

SO FAR AS IT RELATES TO THE SUIT.—These words must be restricted to relief which the Court could have given in the suit, and will not include reliefs which could only have been given in a suit based upon a different cause of action. 18 M. 410 (414); 5 M. L. J. 145. See also 5 C. W. N. 485; 22 M. 214. See 9 A. 229; 30 M. 478; 3 P. L. J. 43=43 I. C. 282. Where there is a shall order such agreement, compromise or satisfaction to be recorded, and shall pass a decree in accordance therewith so far as it relates to the suit.

compromise beyond the scope of a suit and the compromise has not been registered but the parties have acted on it there is an equitable estoppel and the parties cannot resile from the compromise. 42 Cal. 801=42 I. A. 1=28 M. L. J. 548=28 I. C. 980 (P. C.). A compromise decree constitutes an estoppel though it relates to matters outside the suit. 42 I. C. 223=33 M. L. J. 615. Where a compromise goes beyond the subject-matter of the suit, the proper procedure for the Court is to recite the compromise in the decree but to make part of the decree only so much of the compromise as relates to the subject-matter of the suit. 65 I. C. 47 (47 Cal. 485 (P. C.), Ref.). See also 25 C. W. N. 990=48 Cal. 1059; 38 C. L. J. 72; 59 I. C. 344=22 Bom. L. R. 1286; 51 I. C. 273=31 P. R. 1919; 29 O. C. 276=92 I. C. 722=13 O. L. J. 320. Where a petition includes matters not in suit the Court should pass a decree with regard to matters in suit only and not to reject the petition entirely. 78 P. R. 1917=40 I. C. 675. An objection to the inclusion of a term in a compromise decree, on the ground that it goes beyond the subject-matter, ought to be taken by way of appeal and cannot be urged when execution is sought. 38 Mad. 959=26 M. L. J. 331=23 I. C. 581 (36 Cal. 193, not Foll.); 30 I. C. 263=2 L. W. 608; 53 I. C. 354=(1919) M. W. N. 376; 1925 M. 1101=49 M. L. J. 490; 29 O. C. 276. A Court should record the entire compromise filed by the parties and draw up a decree giving the parties the right to execute the decree in respect of the matters which properly fall within the scope of the rule. 3 P. L. J. 255 (F. B.); 52 I. C. 20=4 P. L. J. 667; 38 Mad. 959=26 M. L. J. 331.

PARTIAL COMPROMISE.—Partial compromise to which some of the parties only agree is good as to them. 34 I. C. 518. Others can object to it on showing good grounds. 85 I. C. 678=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 193. Partial compromise is not binding on persons not parties to the compromise. 45 I. C. 33.

ORAL COMPROMISE.—The mere fact of an oral compromise having been come to cannot supersede a mortgage unless the Court accepts it and passes a decree in accordance with it. 24 I. C. 93=12 A. L. J. 672. S. 92, Evidence Act, does not prevent oral evidence of the terms of the compromise being given. 29 I. C. 860.

COUNSEL'S AUTHORITY TO COMPROMISE.—Express authority is not needed for a counsel to enter into a compromise within the scope of the suit; and where there is limitation of authority and that limitation is communicated to the other side, consent by counsel outside the limits of his authority would be of no effect. 1 P. 480=67 I. C. 96; 4 Pat. 766=92 I. C. 179=A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 73. See also 19 A. L. J. 63=60 I. C. 912; 60 I. C. 22=12 L. W. 562; 41 C. L. J. 213=29 C. W. N. 597. Compromise by Counsel out of Court, without consent of party is not valid. 52 Cal. 386=29 C. W. N. 566. The implied authority of agents extends only so long as the litigation proceeds in the ordinary way, but they cannot consent to a decree on compromise without special authority. 36 I. C. 375=21 C. W. N. 82.

ARBITRATION.—Where the parties to a suit for partition compromise it by agreeing to refer the matter to arbitration there is an end of the suit, and the Court cannot supersede the decree and proceed with the suit, if arbitration fails. 33 All. 743=38 I. A. 181=21 M. L. J. 1151 (P. C.). See also 25 Bom. L. R. 452=1923 Bom. 401. Where in a suit, a reference to arbitration is made by the parties without the intervention of the Court and an award is made thereon, it can be recorded as an adjustment and a decree can be passed in terms of the award. 45 Bom. 245=22 Bom. L. R. 1043. See also 40 Bom. 386=18 Bom. L. R. 559; 38 Bom. 687=16 Bom. L. R. 653; 37 Bom. 639=19 I. C. 786; 49 Cal. 608=1922 Cal. 404; 97 I. C. 465=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 1211. A mere agreement to refer to arbitration, is not an adjustment. 38 Bom. 687=16 Bom. L. R. 653. When an award made on a reference to arbitration in a pending suit without the intervention of the Court is disputed by a party the Court should inquire whether the award which is alleged to be an adjustment or compromise was justly, legally and properly arrived at. 37 Bom. 639=15 Bom. L. R. 340. An informal reference to arbitration in a pending suit cannot be given effect to. 49 Cal. 608=69 I. C. 808=1922 Cal. 404. See also 25 C. W. N. 127=47 Cal. 6; 34 I. C. 220; 23 C. L. J. 482; 3 Lab. I. J. 162; 24 P. R. 1914=25 I. C. 710. Proceedings under R. 17, Sch. II can be compromised and a decree passed thereon. 23 I. C. 591=69 P. L. R. 1914. Arbitration—Partial award—Decree on—Power of Court to pass. 45 M. L. J. 76=74 I. C. 603=1923 Mad. 576. A private reference to arbitration in a pending suit followed by a lawful award is a lawful agreement amounting to an adjustment. (26 Bom. 76; 24 Cal. 908; 24 Mad. 326, Foll.; 33 Bom. 69, Diss.); 23 M. L. J. 290=16 I. C. 478; 36 Mad. 353=21 M. L. J. 990; 49 I. C. 746; 46 I. C. 902; 25 O. C. 213=1922 Oudh 189; 5 Bur. L. T. 125=15 I. C. 959.

COMMISSIONER.—After a suit has been referred to a Commissioner to take accounts, a decree can be passed under this rule. 26 B. 76.

EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS.—O. 23, R. 3 is inapplicable to execution proceedings. 44 I. C. 164; 1925 Oudh 136. But see 97 I. C. 768. Once a compromise decree has been passed with reference to the rights of the parties to a suit, their further remedy is by way of execution and not by a suit. 52 I. C. 188=151 P. R. 1919. Execution cannot be issued upon a Razinama unless the terms are embodied in the decree of the Court. 2 M. H. C. 303.

GUARDIANSHIP PROCEEDINGS.—A guardian appointed by the Court cannot be removed by a compromise. 47 I. C. 817=12 S. L. R. 14. Compromises affecting minors. 20 M. 104. Record of compromise by guardian—Decree of court necessary. 62 I. C. 688.

PROBATE PROCEEDINGS.—A compromise in probate case is binding only upon the parties to it. 33 I. C. 273=23 C. L. J. 82; 20 C. W. N. 986=1 Pat. L. J. 377. A compromise in a probate case only makes the case non-contentious, but does not take away the Court's duty to grant or refuse probate. 20 C. W. N. 986=1 Pat. L. J. 377.

[Rangoon] To Rule 3 of O. XXIII, the following proviso shall be added :—

" Provided that before recording and passing a decree in accordance with an agreement, compromise or satisfaction in a suit instituted under the provisions of S 92, Civil Procedure Code, the Court shall direct notice returnable within a reasonable time to be given to the Government Advocate, Burma, or the officer with whose consent the suit was instituted of the agreement, compromise or satisfaction proposed to be recorded. The Government Advocate or such officer as aforesaid may thereupon appear before the Court and be heard in the matter of such agreement, compromise or satisfaction.

Proceedings in execution of decrees not affected.

4. [S. 375-A.] Nothing in this Order shall apply to any proceedings in execution of a decree or order.

PAYMENT INTO COURT.

Deposit by defendant of amount in satisfaction of claim.

1. [S. 376.] The defendant in any suit to recover a debt or damages may, at any stage of the suit, deposit in Court such sum of money as he considers a satisfaction in full of the claim.

TRUST PROPERTIES.—A bona fide compromise by the trustee of a public trust relating to trust properties is a lawful compromise. 60 I.C. 22 = 12 L.W. 562.

PRELIMINARY DECREE.—If the preliminary decree is satisfied in part out of Court, the Court at the final taking of accounts will permit such payment towards the satisfaction of the decree. 40 I.C. 138 = 2 Pat. L.J. 533. See also 58 I.C. 299 = 2 P.L.T. 38 ; 43 I.C. 399. In a suit for taking partnership accounts if an appeal is preferred from the preliminary decree the jurisdiction of the Original Court to record a compromise under O. 23, R. 3 is not ousted by reason of the appeal. 52 I.C. 899 = 13 S.L.R. 135. Until a decree for redemption is passed under O. 34, R. 7 the suit can be adjusted under this rule. 25 M. at P. 317 (F.B.).

PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE.—The Court should first pass an order directing the compromise to be recorded and then pass a decree in accordance therewith. 24 I.C. 630 = 96 P.R. 1914 ; 33 I.C. 759 = 43 Cal. 85. If the compromise that is filed is a valid and lawful one, the court is bound to pass a decree in terms thereof and cannot add a new party afterwards. 50 M.L.J. 59 = 92 I.C. 311 = A.I.R. 1926 Mad. 341.

RECORD OF COMPROMISE.—What is. 29 I.C. 860.

SIGNATURE.—A party who is present in Court at the time of compromise and who does not object to it, is bound by it though he has not signed it especially if he gets some benefit under it. 242 P.L.R. 1914 = 25 I.C. 874.

REVENUE PROCEEDINGS.—R. 3 of O. 23 applies to civil as well as revenue proceedings. 39 I.C. 545 = 21 O.C. 346.

APPEAL.—An appeal lies against the decree on compromise on the ground that it embodies matters not relating to the suit. 5 M.I. J. 145. An appeal lies from the order recording the compromise at the instance of a party who denies the truth of the compromise. 1925 M. 606 = 48 M.L.J. 249. The question as to the validity of consent decree cannot be gone into in appeal against that decree. (5 C. W. N. 877, Foll.) ; 9 I.C. 210 = 13 C.L.J. 16 ; 33 I.C. 769 = 43 Cal. 85 ; 78 P.R. 1917 = 40 I.C. 675. Order holding that no compromise is proved is not open to appeal. 73 I.C. 177 = 1924 Lah. 248. A decree dismissing the suit on the ground that a plea in bar of the suit on the basis of an alleged compromise is established cannot properly be said to be one made under O. 23, R. 3. 46 I.C. 775. See also 62 I.C. 608.

MISCELLANEOUS.—As to the power of a Court to grant relief against a forfeiture clause inserted in a compromise decree, see 31 B. 15 (F.B.). Even when only a money decree was prayed in the plaint there is nothing in the rule to prevent the Court from making the sum decreed a charge on immoveable property. 16 M.L.J. 354 = 30 M. 478. See also 17 M.L.J. 255. The decree is conclusive only so far as it relates to so much of the subject-matter of the suit as is dealt with by the compromise. 18 M. 410 (414) ; 30 M. 421 ; see 31 B. 15 (F.B.). A compromise can be set aside in a regular suit on the ground of fraud. 5 C. 27. Even when the party may have been under a mistaken belief and may have failed to exercise due care and caution. 17 M.L.J. 82. Or by review of judgment. 10 C. 612. See also 15 B. 594. A suit will also lie to set aside a compromise decree upon grounds other than that of fraud, i.e., on the ground that the pleader engaged by the guardian of a minor, compromised the suit against the express wishes of the guardian. 34 C. 83. Also on the ground that the Court sanctioned the compromise under a misapprehension of material facts. 6 C. 687. The rule cannot be extended by analogy to proceedings held under S. 83, T. P. Act. 13 M. 316. A judgment by consent operates as a waiver of any defect or irregularities provided it does not go to the jurisdiction. 35 Mad. 75 = 21 M.L.J. 709.

O. 23, R. 4.—O. 23, R. 4 is explicit in its terms and declares O. 23 to be inapplicable to proceedings in execution of a decree or order and an arrangement entered into after decree for payment of the sum decreed in instalments is not binding, and limitation for execution of the decree runs nevertheless 72 I.C. 477 = 1924 Lah. 342 ; 12 A.L.J. 235 = 22 I.C. 961 ; 18 I.C. 81. See also 18 Cal. 515 ; 15 Mad. 240 ; 10 Bom. 62. O. 23, R. 4 does not affect the rule of estoppel. 13 I.C. 81.

O. 24, B. 1. Payment into a Government treasury is equivalent to payment into Court. 7 M. 211. The deposit must be made unconditionally. 14 M. 49 ; 97 I.C. 475 = A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 72.

2. [S. 377.] Notice of the deposit shall be given through the Court by the defendant to the plaintiff, and the amount of the deposit shall (unless the Court otherwise directs) be paid to the plaintiff on his application.

Notice of deposit.

3. [S. 378.] No interest shall be allowed to the plaintiff on any sum deposited by the defendant from the date of the receipt of such notice, whether the sum deposited is in full of the claim or falls short thereof.

Interest on deposit not allowed by plaintiff after notice.

4. [S. 379.] (1) Where the plaintiff accepts such amount as satisfaction in part only of his claim, he may prosecute his suit for the balance ; and, if the Court decides that the deposit by the defendant was a full satisfaction of the plaintiff's claim, the plaintiff shall pay the costs of the suit incurred after the deposit and the costs incurred previous thereto, so far as they were caused by excess in the plaintiff's claim.

(2) Where the plaintiff accepts such amount as satisfaction in full of his claim, he shall present to the Court a statement to that effect, and such statement shall be filed and the Court shall pronounce judgment accordingly ; and, in directing by whom the costs of each party are to be paid, the Court shall consider which of the parties is most to blame for the litigation.

Procedure where he accepts it as satisfaction in full.

Illustrations.

(a) A owes B Rs. 100. B sues A for the amount, having made no demand for payment and having no reason to believe that the delay caused by making a demand would place him at a disadvantage. On the plaint being filed, A pays the money into Court. B accepts it in full satisfaction of his claim, but the Court should not allow him any costs, the litigation being presumably groundless on his part.

(b) B sues A under the circumstances mentioned in illustration (a). On the plaint being filed, B disputes the claim. Afterwards A pays the money into Court. B accepts it in full satisfaction of his claim. The Court should also give B his costs of suit, A's conduct having shown that the litigation was necessary.

(c) A owes B Rs. 100, and is willing to pay him that sum without suit. B claims Rs. 150 and sues A for that amount. On the plaint being filed A pays Rs. 100 into Court and disputes only his liability to pay the remaining Rs. 50. B accepts the Rs. 100 in full satisfaction of his claim. The Court should order him to pay A's costs.

ORDER XXV.

SECURITY FOR COSTS.

1. [S. 380.] (1) Where, at any stage of a suit, it appears to the Court that a sole plaintiff is, or (when there are more plaintiffs than one) that all the plaintiffs are, residing out of British India, and that such plaintiff does not, or that no one of such plaintiffs does, possess any sufficient immoveable property within British India

When security for costs may be required from plaintiff.

Money sought to be attached before judgment paid by debtor into court—Attachment is irregular—Such payment should be considered as deposit under O. 24, R. 1. See A.I.R. 1927 Rang. 278. O. 24, Rr. 1 to 3 do not apply to execution proceedings. 97 I.C. 479.

O. 24, R. 2.—The Court has a discretion to refuse to allow money to be paid out, but that discretion is to be exercised reasonably. 26 C. 766 (769). What tender causes cessation of interest. 34 M.L.J. 439=45 I.C. 638. Where the amount for the recovery of which the suit has been instituted has been deposited in Court, the Court has got a discretion as to the disposal of costs. 13 I.C. 200=(1911) 2 M. W.N. 568 ; 13 I.C. 188=(1912) M. W.N. 38. Where the defendant pays money into Court, Court should record a finding as to whether a demand was made or not, so as to determine by whom the costs should be paid. 13 I.C. 188=(1912) M. W.N. 38. Where the amount deposited in Court in execution might have been immediately on deposit paid out to the decree-holder in part discharge of his claim, the judgment-debtors may be relieved from paying interest. 40 All. 125=16 A.L.J. 15.

O. 24, R. 3.—It is doubtful whether this rule applies to cases where the tender is made direct to the creditor. 3 C. 468.

O. 24, R. 4.—In cases not being suits to recover a debt or damages, where money is paid into Court, the principle underlying this rule ought to regulate the discretion of the Court in directing the payment of costs. 21 B. 502.

"DEBT OR DAMAGES".—What are. 21 B. 502.

O. 25, R. 1. SCOPE OF RULE.—The rule applies to cases where the plaintiff brought a suit for partition of property in which he was entitled other than the property in suit, the Court may, either of its own motion or on the application of any defendant, order the plaintiff or plaintiffs, within a time fixed by it, to give security for the payment of all costs incurred and likely to be incurred by any defendant.

[Allahabad] In Order XXV, Rule 1, Sub-rule (1) after the words "other than property in suit," add "or that the plaintiff is being financed by a person not a party to the suit."

(2) [S. 382.] Whoever leaves British India under such circumstances as to afford reasonable probability that he will not be forthcoming whenever he may be called upon to pay costs shall be deemed to be residing out of British India within the meaning of sub-rule (1).

(3) [S. 380.] On the application of any defendant in a suit for the payment of money, in which the plaintiff is a woman, the Court may at any stage of the suit make a like order if it is satisfied that such plaintiff does not possess any sufficient immoveable property within British India.

[Oudh] Order XXV, Rule 1, Sub-rule (4).—Add the following as sub-clauses (4) and (5):—

(4) Where the plaintiff has, for the purpose of being financed in the suit, transferred or agreed to transfer any share or interest in the property in suit to a person who is not already a party to the suit, the Court may order such person to be made a plaintiff to the suit if he consents, and may either of its own motion or on the application of any defendant order such person within a time to be fixed by the Court to give security for the payment of all costs likely to be incurred by any defendant. In case of his default, the Court may dismiss the suit so far as his right to, or interest in, the property in suit is concerned or may declare that he shall be debarred from claiming any right to, or interest in, the property in suit.

(5) If such person declines to be made a plaintiff, the Court may implead him as a defendant and may order him, within a time to be fixed by the Court to give security for the payment of costs likely to be incurred by other defendant. In case of his default, the Court may declare that he shall be debarred from claiming any right to, or in rest in, the property in suit.

to a share, the extent of the share alone being in dispute. 10 B. L. R. at p. 25. The power given under this rule is discretionary. 21 C. at p. 836. See also 17 C. 610. The rule should not be so applied as to drive away all poor plaintiffs. The Court should see whether at first sight the suit appears bona fide and whether the defence is such as is likely to succeed. 6 Bom. L. R. 1072. Liability of person standing surety for security for costs. See 92 I. C. 546 = A. I. R. 1026 All. 657.

PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE.—A Court has power to demand security for costs where it finds that the plaintiff is not the real litigant but a puppet in the hands of others. 32 I. C. 786 = 18 C. W. N. 119; 20 I. C. 703 = 19 C. L. J. 59 = 2 Bur. L. J. 78 = 1923 Rang. 244. If an insolvent sues as nominal plaintiff for the benefit of somebody else, which somebody is a female minor who is also a party to the suit, he must give security. 27 B. 100. Where the plaintiff has got a substantial interest in the suit the order for security should not be made nor should it be made merely because the plaintiff is a poor man and cannot pay the costs if he loses. (2 Cal. 233; 14 Cal. 533. Rel. on); 18 C. W. N. 119 = 19 C. L. J. 59; 75 I. C. 309 = 1923 Rang. 244; 36 I. C. 320; 10 Bur. L. T. 105; 13 Bom. L. R. 955 = 36 Bom. 415. Except in exceptional cases security for costs ought not to be required from an infant female plaintiff, nor from her next friend. 23 B. 100. Security for costs of appeal, when to be demanded. 32 I. C. 786; 46 Cal. 156 = 22 C. W. N. 1018. Security for the defendant's costs cannot be ordered if there are grounds tending to prove that the defence is true. 18 I. C. 217. No order should be made before the written statement is filed. 18 I. C. 217. Suit by undischarged bankrupts for after-acquired property if security for costs can be demanded. 46 Cal. 156 = 22 C. W. N. 1018. As to how security given is to be realized, see S. 145. Also 16 C. 323.

SUIT FOR PAYMENT OF MONEY.—A suit for dissolution of partnership on account and for the recovery of the stridhanam property belonging to a female plaintiff is not a suit for payment of money within O. 25, R. 1 (3). 68 I. C. 607 = 1923 Cal. 316 (2). So also a suit for administration of an estate consisting largely of immoveable property. 3 Rang. 211 = 1925 Bang. 300. Suit for declaration of title to moveables or their value if suit for money. See 14 I. C. 290 = 16 C. W. N. 763.

PAUPER PLAINTIFF.—A woman allowed to bring a pauper suit cannot be required to furnish security for costs, as an order of security would mean a refusal of permission to sue as a pauper. 36 I. C. 320 = 10 Bur. L. T. 105; 13 Bom. L. R. 955 = 36 Bom. 415. See also 27 Bom. 100. Mere poverty is no ground for requiring a plaintiff to give security for costs. 14 C. 533. See also 4 B. 244; 3 M. 66 and 7 A. 542.

"RESIDING".—The residence intended by this rule is residence under such circumstances as well afford a reasonable probability that the plaintiff will be forthcoming when the suit is decided. 3 B. 227. See 14 B. 541. Temporary residence in British India for purposes of suit is not residence within the rule. 46 Bom. 589 = 64 I. C. 703.

APPEAL.—An order passed on the original side of the High Court requiring the plaintiff to give security for costs is a judgment within the meaning of S. 15 of the Letters Patent, and is appealable. 26 M. 502.

2. [S. 381, first three paras.] (1) In the event of such security not being furnished within the time fixed, the Court shall make an order dismissing the suit unless the plaintiff or plaintiff's order dismissing the suit unless the plaintiff or plaintiff's are permitted to withdraw therefrom.

Effect of failure to furnish security.

(2) Where a suit is dismissed under this rule, the plaintiff may apply for an order to set the dismissal aside, and, if it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court that he was prevented by any sufficient cause from furnishing the security within the time allowed, the Court shall set aside the dismissal upon such terms as to security, costs or otherwise as it thinks fit, and shall appoint a day for proceeding with the suit.

(3) The dismissal shall not be set aside unless notice of such application has been served on the defendant.

ORDER XXVI.

COMMISSIONS.

Commissions to Examine Witnesses.

1. [S. 383.] Any Court may in any suit issue a commission for the examination on interrogatories or otherwise of any person resident within the local limits of its jurisdiction who is exempted under this Code from attending the Court or who is from sickness or infirmity unable to attend it.

Cases in which Court may issue commission to examine witness.

O. 25, R. 2.—Next friend of minor plaintiff unable to give security for costs—Suit should not be stopped. 13 Bom. L. R. 480=35 Bom. 329. The dismissal of a suit under this rule is no bar to a fresh suit. 26 B. 637. Appeal. See 8 A. 108 (F. B.).

O. 26, R. 1. SCOPE OF RULE.—O. 26 amplifies and explains S. 75. 3 Lah. 209=1922 Lah. 47. Examination of witnesses on commission is in the discretion of the Court. 46 Mad. 574=44 M. L. J. 202. See also 32 C. W. N. 128. The Court should not allow witnesses to be examined on commission without adequate reason, and the grounds on which a commission can issue are ordinarily those specified in R. 1, O. 26. 42 Bom. 136=43 I. C. 729. As to the obligation of a Court to issue a commission, see 8 B. L. R. at p. 16. A commission to examine witnesses may issue when a case is referred to arbitration. 7 Bom. L. R. 560; see also 8 Bom. L. R. at p. 16; 18 W. K. 230; 15 C. 775.

MEANING OF TERMS.—The word "may" means "is given authority to". 46 Mad. 574=44 M. L. J. 202.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—In the case of a witness not under the control of the party who resides beyond the limits fixed commission should issue as a matter of right, unless the Court is satisfied that the party is merely abusing the Court's power. 46 Mad. 574=44 M. L. J. 202=1923 Mad. 321. The Court ought to issue commissions for the examination of witness at the instance of a party if all the conditions requisite therefor are fulfilled, irrespective of whether that party will be ultimately benefited thereby. 12 I. C. 74=21 M. L. J. 889; 46 Mad. 574=44 M. L. J. 202. If a parda lady can be examined in Court in her palki, no commission need be issued. 18 W. R. 230. See also 15 C. 775. But see contra 86 I. C. 513=1925 M. 905. A purdanashin woman cannot claim to be examined on commission as a witness at a place of her own choice. 48 C. 448. The mere fact that a woman lost her husband a few months ago does not justify the issue of a commission. 14 B. 584. Issue of commission to Hindu lady recently widowed.—Witnesses being old as a ground for examination on commission—Principles applicable—Erroneous order—Interference in revision. See (1927) M. W. N. 218=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 524 (31 Mad. 60; 39 C. L. J. 98; 42 Bom. 136 Rel. on; (1922) M. W. N. 524 Dist.). In the case of an old man of feeble health the Court can order an examination on commission at his own house. 85 I. C. 619=1925 Cal. 1118. A commission should issue to examine the head of a Mutt who is an ascetic. 28 M. 28, as to a religious preceptor see 42 B. 136. A commission will not issue for the examination of an infant of tender years. 23 B. 626. A commission will not be issued for the examination of a plaintiff, on his application except under very strong circumstances. 1 Ind. Jur. N. S. 357; 57 I. C. 955=13 Bur. L. T. 33. But the case is different when the application is made by a defendant. 57 I. C. 955. In the case of a defendant outside jurisdiction the Court will not regard the case with the same strictness as the case of the plaintiff who has instituted his suit in a forum of his choice though he resides beyond the jurisdiction of such Court. (Ross v. Woodford, (1894) 1 Ch. 38 and New v. Burns 64 L. J. Q. B. 104, Ref.); 35 C. L. J. 78=68 I. C. 9=1922 Cal. 42; 73 I. C. 923=1924 Lah. 475. See also 46 M. L. J. 131. Where the witness is the servant of the party applying, it is not reasonable to issue a commission. 20 W. R. 253.

PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE.—Mere inconvenience or great distance from the Court to the plaintiff's place of residence, is not a sufficient ground. 57 I. C. 955=13 Bur. L. T. 33. Where commission is issued to examine a specific witness and a witness not named is examined, court would ignore such evidence. 59 I. C. 539=47 Cal. 583. There is nothing prohibiting the granting of copies of cross interrogatories to the opposite party before a commission is issued for the examination of a witness and it is reasonable that each side should know the questions the other desires to put. 39 I. C. 944=10 S. L. R. 210. Commissioner's report—Objection to, should

2. [S. 384.] An order for the issue of a commission for the examination of a witness may be made by the Court either of its own motion or on the application, supported by affidavit or otherwise, of any party to the suit or of the witness to be examined.

3. [S. 385.] A commission for the examination of a person who resides within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court issuing the same may be issued to any person whom the Court thinks fit to execute it.

Where witness resides within Court's jurisdiction.
Persons for whose examination commission may issue.

4. [S. 386.] (1) Any Court may in any suit issue a commission for the examination of—

(a) any person resident beyond the local limits of its jurisdiction ;
(b) any person who is about to leave such limits before the date on which he is required to be examined in Court ; and

(c) any civil or military officer of the Government who cannot, in the opinion of the Court, attend without detriment to the public service.

(2) Such commission may be issued to any Court, not being a High Court, within the local limits of whose jurisdiction such person resides, or to any pleader or other person whom the Court issuing the commission may appoint.

(3) The Court on issuing any commission under this rule shall direct whether the commission shall be returned to itself or to any subordinate Court.

5. [S. 387.] Where any Court to which application is made for the issue of a commission for the examination of a person residing at any place not within British India is satisfied that the evidence of such person is necessary, the Court may issue such commission or a letter of request.

Commission or request to examine witness not within British India.

be heard by the Court. 14 L. W. 620=68 I. C. 469.

APPEAL.—An order refusing to issue a commission to examine a witness whose personal attendance cannot be enforced is a judgment within the meaning of S. 15 of the Letters Patent, and is appealable, 30 C. 143. But see contra 35 M. 1; 3 Rang. 293=1925 Rang. 290.

REVISION.—An order refusing a commission cannot be the subject of revision, 9 M. 256. Interlocutory order appointing Commissioner is not open to Revision. 74 I.C. 812=1923 Mad. 43.

O. 26, R. 2.—Rule 2 does not say that the application for commission must be supported by the affidavit of the party or of the witness, but only says that the application of a party or of a witness, is to be supported by affidavit or otherwise. 103 I. C. 141=A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 175.

O. 26, R. 4. SCOPE OF RULE.—This rule is exhaustive and provides for all cases in which the Legislature intends that a commission should issue, 28 M. 28. The issue of a commission to examine a witness is a matter of judicial discretion and will not be granted unless the application is made bona fide. 19 I. C. 643; 103 I. C. 141=A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 175. In cases under O. 26, R. 4, a distinction has been observed between an application by a plaintiff asking for a commission to examine himself and an application by a defendant asking for a commission to examine himself. 35 C. L. J. 78=1922 Cal. 42. See also 3 Pat. 863=84 I. C. 993=1925 Pat.

Where the defendant is his own sole witness and applied for a commission to have himself examined as he was living more than 200 miles away in a Native State, the application should be allowed. 73 I.C. 923=1924 Lah. 475; 16 I.C. 750. "It is a very unusual thing to grant a second commission and it ought never to be allowed except upon substantial grounds". 7 Times Rep. 653. A de bene esse examination of a witness about to leave the jurisdiction of the Court must be taken by the Court, unless the parties consent to the evidence being taken on commission. 5 B.L. R. 252. A commissioner for the examination of witness is entitled to note his observation as to the demeanour of the witnesses examined by him. 48 I. C. 561=28 C. L. J. 306. O. 26, R. 5.—The costs of a commission to England should be taxed on the same scale and principle as would be adopted in England, 15 B. 209.

O. 26, R. 6.—A party who has not joined in a commission is entitled to cross-examine the witnesses who are examined under it, 14 W. R. O. C. 17.

7. [S. 389.] Where a commission has been duly executed, it shall be returned, together with the evidence taken under it, to the Court from which it was issued, unless the order for issuing the commission has otherwise directed, in which case the commission shall be returned in terms of such order; and the commission and the return thereto and the evidence taken under it shall (subject to the provisions of the next following rule) form part of the record of the suit.

When depositions may be read in evidence.

8. [S. 390.] Evidence taken under a commission shall not be read as evidence in the suit without the consent of the party against whom the same is offered, unless—

(a) the person who gave the evidence is beyond the jurisdiction of the Court, or dead or unable from sickness or infirmity to attend to be personally examined, or exempted from personal appearance in Court, or is a civil or military officer of the Government who cannot, in the opinion of the Court, attend without detriment to the public service, or

Commissions to make local investigations.

O. 26, R. 8.—When a defendant examines a witness on commission and the commission is returned to the Court, the plaintiff in opening his case is entitled to treat the evidence as part of the record, without treating it as his own evidence, 26 C. 591. That the evidence was given in the absence of the other side is not enough to make the deposition of a witness taken on commission inadmissible, 10 W. R. 236. A Court may refuse to hear read in evidence the deposition of a defendant taken on commission, where, there is no evidence to prove that the defendant was unable to attend personally at the time of the trial, 22 W. R. 331. Evidence taken on commission, until tendered and admitted as evidence in the suit, cannot be made use of by either party, 30 Cal. 999 (1903); 9 C. W. N. 794. On this point see also A. I. O. 26, R. 9. APPLICATION OF RULE.—The rule applies to proceedings under S. 158 of the Ben. Ten. Act, 17 C. 277. There is no error of law when a Judge does not direct a local investigation of his own motion, in a case where he is not moved to do so by the parties. B. L. R. Sup. Vol. 358. It is within the discretion of the Court to order or refuse a local inquiry, 12 W. C. 76. Application for local investigation by Court on the day set down for trial would not be granted 13 I. C. 194. The local investigation presupposes the existence on record of independent evidence which requires to be elucidated, 16 M. 350. The rule does not authorize the Court to delegate to a Commissioner the trial of any material issue which it is bound to try, 16 M. 350. The object of local investigation is to obtain evidence which from its peculiar nature can only be obtained on the spot, 2 N. W. P. 196. A commission for local investigation cannot be issued after the evidence is closed and the case is ready for judgment, 51 I. C. 399. Where a party to a local investigation goes on with the trial he cannot at the last moment ask for giving fresh evidence against report of such investigation, 16 I. C. 39.

WHO CAN BE APPOINTED.—A Judge from whose decision an appeal is pending, is a most unsuitable person to make a local investigation, 17 W. R. 300. A Judge may make a local inspection in person at his discretion. Under the present Code, a Judge may issue a commission in any case where he deems it fit to do so, irrespective of his own convenience. [39 Mad. 501 Cons.; 31 Bom. 38 (P. C.) Expl.] 44 Mad. 640=40 M. OBJECTIONS TO REPORT.—Parties are entitled to object to the Commissioner's report and prove their objection by examining the Commissioner or other witness, 42 I. C. 221=164 P. W. R. 1917; 38 I. C. 491; 19 C. L. J. 87=18 C. W. N. 697; 72 P. L. R. 1914=22 I. C. 526. It is within the discretion of a Judge to accept the report of a Commissioner, 47 I. C. 650=28 C. L. J. 203. A defendant who does not appear before a Commissioner cannot ordinarily object to his report, 60 I. C. 434. Court has a discretion to permit or refuse a party to examine the Commissioner, 47 I. C. 650=28 C. L. J. 203. Objections to the report of a Commissioner cannot be raised for the first time in Second Appeal, 27 I. C. 595=70 P. L. R. 1915.

SUPERSEDING COMMISSIONER.—A Local Commissioner appointed by consent of parties cannot be superseded simply on the ground that

(2) The report of the Commissioner and the evidence taken by him (but not the evidence without the report) shall be evidence in the suit and shall form part of the record ; but the Court or, with the permission of the Court, any of the parties to the suit may examine the Commissioner personally in open Court touching any of the matters referred to him or mentioned in his report, or as to his report, or as to the manner in which he has made the investigation.

Where the result of a local investigation is unsatisfactory the Court is not bound to order another inquiry. It can decide the case on the evidence. 50 I. C. 301 (23 C. L. J. 600, dist.). (2) The Commissioner shall then prepare and sign a report or the Commissioners (where the commission was issued to more than one person and they cannot agree) shall prepare and sign separate reports appointing the share of each party and distinguishing each share (if so directed by the said order) by metes and bounds. Such report or reports shall be annexed to the commission and transmitted to the Court; and the Court, after hearing any objections which the parties may make to the report or reports, shall confirm, vary or set aside the same.

as the Court may direct ; and such service shall be deemed good service upon the firm so sued, whether all or any of the partners are within or without British India :

Provided that, in the case of a partnership which has been dissolved to the knowledge of the plaintiff before the institution of the suit, summons shall be served upon every person within British India whom it is sought to make liable.

appear individually in their own names, but all subsequent proceedings shall, nevertheless, continue in the name of

O. 30, R. 4.—O. 30, R. 4 applies only to a case where the suit is brought in the name of the firm 48 I. C. 309=28 C. L. J. 268 ; 21 I. C. 509=17 C. L. J. 648. See also 91 I. C. 573=A. I. R. 1926 Sind 81 ; 205 L. R. 238. R. 4 applies only to such firms as are owned by two or more persons, but where a sole proprietor dies and the firm ceases to exist, in such a case it is necessary to bring on the record the legal representatives of the deceased sole proprietor under the provisions of O. 22, R. 3. 103 I. C. 142=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 556 (2). Defect in title of the suit cannot affect the substance of the suit. 77 I. C. 476=1923 Bom. 368 ; 44 I. C. 283=155 P. L. R. 1917. Defect of parties, effect of. 48 I. C. 309=28 C. L. J. 268. In a suit by or against a firm trading in different name if one of the partners be dead, it is not necessary to join the representatives of the deceased as a party. O. 30, R. 4, contains a modification of S. 45 of the Contract Act. 21 I. C. 509=17 C. L. J. 648. A person who sues some of the partners in their individual capacity cannot change his front and sue for a relief against them as partners. 76 P. R. 1915=31 I. C. 209. The legal representative of a deceased partner is not a necessary party in suits by the surviving partner for recovery of the debts due to the firm, but they may apply to Court to be joined as parties. 7 Bur. L. T. 261=24 I. C. 268. Suit against firm liability of partners. A. I. R. 1926 Sind 75.

LEGAL REPRESENTATIVE.—The whole scheme of O. 30, C. P. C., is against the theory that a suit against a firm is a suit against the legal representatives of a deceased partner. R. 4 of O. 30 must not be carried any further than what it expressly states. If it is sought to fix liability on the private estate of the deceased partner, apart from his interest in the partnership assets, then his legal representatives must be added. In such a case the legal representatives of the deceased partner are served with the summons though not added as parties, leave cannot be obtained to issue execution against them under O. 21, R. 50 (2) of the Code. See 29 Bom. L. R. 1926=105 I. C. 305=A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 581.

O. 30, R. 5.—The concluding words in O. 30, R. 5 lay down a definite rule of law that service on a person without notice is equivalent to service as a partner. 19 C. L. J. 581=19 C. W. N. 1008.

O. 30, R. 6.—O. 30, R. 6 entitles a plaintiff suing a firm to know who the persons are who constitute that firm and the information cannot be withheld. 78 P. R. 1918=47 I. C. 422. The word "Individually" in O. 30, R. 6 is not synonymous with "in person". Ibid. No partner can be forced to appear in person, but in his absence, after service of summons, he will be dealt with ex parte. Ibid.

7. Where a summons is served in the manner provided by rule 3 upon a person having the control or management of the partnership business, no appearance by him shall be necessary unless he is a partner of the firm sued.

No appearance except by partners.

8. Any person served with summons as a partner under rule 3 may appear, under protest, denying that he is a partner, but such appearance shall not preclude the plaintiff from otherwise serving a summons on the firm and obtaining a decree against the firm in default of appearance where no partner has appeared.

Appearance under protest.

9. This Order shall apply to suit between a firm and one or more of the partners therein and to suits between firms having one or more partners in common; but no execution shall be issued in such suits except by leave of the Court, and, on an application for leave to issue such execution, all such accounts and inquiries may be directed to be taken and made and directions given as may be just.

Suits between co-partners.

Suit against person carrying on business in name other than his own.

10. Any person carrying on business in a name or style other than his own name may be sued in such name or style as if it were a firm name; and so far as the nature of the case will permit, all rules under this Order shall apply.

O. 30, R. 9.—The scope of O. 30, R. 9 is not to lay down when and under what circumstances suits can be laid as between partners. It only lays down the possibility of such suits and the procedure to be followed therein. (34 Mad. 112=28 Mad. 344, dist.) 45 I.C. 36=34 M.L.J. 408. Each of the parties to a partnership suit is really in turn plaintiff and defendant and in both capacities comes before the Court. (7 Bom. 167, rel. on.) 42 I.C. 436. TRUSTEE.—Under R. 1 a beneficiary is not a necessary party to a suit as he can be represented by his trustee. 18 I.C. 959=17 C.L.J. 233. Where the interest of the trustees is adverse to that of the beneficiaries, the beneficiaries must be added as parties. 13 M. 197—See 12 M.L.J. 355.

BENEFICIARIES.—In suits between beneficiaries of property vested in trustees of executors and third persons, the beneficiaries must be represented by trustees or executors. 50 I.C. 509=11 Bur. 3. [S. 439.] Unless the Court directs otherwise, the husband of a married trustee, administratrix or executrix shall not as such be a party to a suit by or against her

SUITS BY OR AGAINST MINORS AND PERSONS OF UNSOUND MIND.

1. [S. 440, Para. 1.] Every suit by a minor shall be instituted in his name by a person who in such suit shall be called the next friend of the minor.

Minor to sue by next friend.

[Punjab.] To Order XXXII, Rule 1, the following paragraph shall be added :—

"Such person may be ordered to pay any costs in the suit as if he were the plaintiff."

Where suit is instituted without next friend, plaint to be taken off the file.

2. [S. 442.] (1) Where a suit is instituted by or on behalf of a minor without a next friend, the defendant may apply to have the plaint taken off the file with costs to be paid by the pleader or other person by whom it was presented.

ADMINISTRATOR.—One of co-administrators of an estate can sue to recover rent with the consent of the other administrators who are impleaded as pro forma defendants. 53 I. C. 478 (1).

O. 32, R. 1. APPLICATION OF RULE.—O. 32 does not directly apply to proceedings in execution. 64 I. C. 25 = 35 C. L. J. 9. See also 104 I. C. 357.

SCOPE OF RULE.—This order lays down the form in which a minor should appear as a party and this form should be strictly followed. 5 C. 450. Where the plaintiff is really a minor, the case could not be proceeded with until a next friend comes on the record. 3 Rang. 239 = 1925 Rang. 325. Suit by minor in forma pauperis—Next friend need not be a pauper. 37 C. L. J. 394 = 1923 Cal. 656. The general rule is that although a minor may appear by an attorney or pleader, he can only plead or conduct the suit by his guardian. 16 M. 344. The consent of a minor to the institution of a suit by the next friend is immaterial. 3 M. 34.

EVIDENCE.—Question whether a person is a minor or not should be decided by positive evidence, and not by his appearance. W. R. 1864, 304. A certificate of guardianship is not evidence of minority. Nor a horoscope. 17 C. 849.

COSTS.—Court may direct costs to be paid by next friend personally in proper cases. See A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 1023.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—Where a Court appointed a person other than a certificated guardian the next friend of the minor, defective service of notice upon the guardian under O. 32, R. 4 (2) is only an irregularity and the minor is properly represented. 13 I. C. 594. When a plaintiff although a minor sues in her own name, and the defendants take no objection till the suit has been disposed of by the appellate Court, they cannot raise any objection in second appeal, and after the plaintiff has become a major. 19 M. 127. Where a minor files a plaint and before it is put up before the Court, attains majority, and applies to be allowed to proceed with it, the plaint must be deemed to have been properly presented on the day of the application to proceed with the plaint. 46 I. C. 747 = 16 A. L. J. 737. An appeal by an infant not represented by a guardian ad litem is not entertainable. 52 I. C. 985 = 29 C. L. J. 419. It is no doubt open to the minor on attaining majority to drop the suit as not properly instituted but he is not bound to do so; he could affirm the previous proceeding and continue the suit. 44 M. L. J. 515 = 1923 Mad. 553. The procedure to reject the plaint filed by a minor without a next friend is improper. The court has to grant time for next friend to come in. 4 Lah. 390 = 75 I. C. 1028. A decree against a property represented minor is binding upon him, but if he has not been properly represented, the decree is a nullity. 15 I. C. 903 = 9 A. L. J. 653. The certificated guardian of a minor must be appointed guardian ad litem unless for special reasons the Court thinks that some one else should be appointed in the interests of the minor. 22 I. C. 240. A decree obtained on behalf of a minor cannot be set aside merely on the ground of non-compliance with O. 32, R. 3 (1) and (2). 49 I. C. 954 = 39 P. W. R. 1919. Minor attaining majority during pendency of suit. Decree based on compromise passed with guardian ad litem as party—Minor can set aside the same. (1927) M. W. N. 890.

O. 32, R. 2.—When a suit is brought by a minor as a major and it is found that plaintiff is a minor, the Court can allow a next friend to come in and proceed with the suit. 16 M.L.J. 13; see also 13 B. at p. 11. See 3 Rang. 239=1925 Rang. 325. Minor cannot be next friend of other minors. 1925 Oudh 178. As to how the question whether a person is a minor or major is to be decided, see under R. 1. As to when objection is to be taken, see 19 M. 127 and 13 C. 189.

O. 32, R. 3. MEANING OF WORDS.—"On being satisfied": meaning of. 16 M. 344; see 14 C. 204 (209). Also 17 C. 849. under R. 1. "Proper person":—24 A. 386. The words "any guardian of the minor appointed or declared by an authority competent in that behalf" in sub-R. (4) apply to a guardian appointed under a will of a Hindu father. 31 B. 413; 14 C. 212.

SCOPE OF RULE.—The provisions of this rule are imperative, and if not substantially complied with, any decree passed against the minor is a nullity. 28 A. 137; 30 C. 1021 (P.C.); 28 A. 328; 29 A. 290; 28 A. 416; 11 C. at p. 405; 24 C. 25; 30 C. 613. O. 32 does not purport to be exhaustive, and in a proper case the Court has jurisdiction to dismiss a suit if it is not in the interest of the minor. 25 I.C. 738=1 L.W. 875. Before it is competent for the Court to appoint a guardian, there must be a suit in which the minor is a defendant in existence. 11 C. at p. 405. A guardian must be appointed by the Court, even in cases, when a guardian has been appointed under the Guardian and Wards Act. 24 C. 25. The rule contemplates a case where the guardian appointed under the Guardian and Wards Act sues to have it declared that the minor was not adopted by her husband. 30 C. 613. The provisions of O. 32, relating to "suits by or against minors" are not directly applicable to proceeding in execution. 64 I.C. 25=35 C. L.J. 9. See also 104 I.C. 357. O. 32, R. 4 and other rules as to the appointment of guardian must be read with R. 3. 36 I.C. 794=4 L.W. 362. O. 32 is not exhaustive and the Court can dismiss a suit filed by a next friend, if it is not in the interests of the minor. 25 I.C. 738=1 L.W. 875. Rule 3 does not apply to commutation proceedings under the Bengal Tenancy Act. 100 I.C. 146=A.I.R. 1927 Cal. 374.

OBJECT OF RULE.—The object of Rr. 3 and 4 is that the minor in suit should be represented by fit person so that his interests will be properly guarded. 7 O.L.J. 219=56 I.C. 313. It is obligatory on the Court under O. 32, R. 3 (1) of the Code to appoint a proper person to be guardian of a minor defendant for the suit. 34 C.L.J. 293=26 C. W.N. 781. The appointment of a guardian by a Court of First Instance enures not only for the term of the proceeding in that Court, but also for purposes of appeal. 22 M. 187; 39 C. L.J. 590. Absence of formal order and "Omission to pass a formal order under" does not vitiate proceedings. 15 I.C. 903=9 A. L.J. 653; 22 I.C. 240; 61 P. R. 1915=31 I. C. 45. Defective appointment—Representation of minor in suit—No order appointing guardian—

Compromise by person professing to act as guardian—Invalid. 35 All. 487=40 I. A. 12=25 M. L.J. 492=21 I. C. 288 (P.C.); 31 I. C. 805=14 A. L.J. 589; 26 O. C. 113=74 I. C. 409. Where a father acted as the guardian ad litem of his minor son, the fact that there was no formal order of Court appointing him will not vitiate the proceedings, if the minor was in no way prejudiced thereby. 74 I. C. 821=1924 Oudh 178; 26 O. C. 113; 74 I. C. 409=1923 Oudh 206; 4 Pat. L.J. 213=48 I. C. 245; 35 I. C. 868; 1917 Pat. 21; 33 I. C. 941. Absence of formal order of appointment of guardian does not vitiate the proceedings. 100 I. C. 468=9 L. L. J. 206=28 Punj. L. R. 627; 92 I. C. 241=A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 267. Absence of formal order—Reference to arbitration—Minor substantially represented in proceedings by guardian—Award not a nullity. 71 I. C. 7. A decree based on the award was held to be not binding on the minor if he was not properly represented as required by O. 32, R. 3 and the irregularity cannot be condoned. 44 Bom. 202=22 Bom. L. R. 266. The mere fact that leave of the Court has not been obtained for a reference to arbitration on behalf of a minor will not vitiate the reference and the award where the interests of the minor have in no way been prejudiced. 71 I. C. 7. The appointment of father as guardian ad litem without his consent and who does not appear and passing decree ex parte even against the minor is illegal. 52 I.C. 636; 38 All. 315=35 I.C. 707=14 A.L.J. 353; 25 I.C. 620. A father should not be appointed guardian of his minor son where there is a clear conflict of interest between them. 15 C. L.J. 446=17 C.W.N. 219.

The fact that a respondent decree holder was not properly represented at the instance of the appellant judgment-debtor does not make a decree passed in the appeal in favour of that respondent void and incapable of execution. 37 All. 179=13 A. L.J. 179; 34 All. 321=9 A.L.J. 290. Defective appointment—Omission to consult minor's wishes is not a defect. 7 O.L.J. 219=56 I. C. 313; 2 Pat. 273=4 Pat. L. T. 329. Defective appointment—Ex parte decree—Suit to set aside. 4 Pat. L. T. 147=2 Pat. 335. No person can be appointed guardian without his consent. Where the Court has given sanction and approval for the appearance of a person as guardian, the absence of formal order of appointment is not always fatal to the proceedings. 3 Pat.L.T. 451=66 I. C. 137. A mere irregularity in the appointment of a guardian ad litem will not render the decree passed against the minor null and void, unless it is proved that the minor's interest has suffered thereby. (Ibid.) Where no notice or summons is served on the guardian of the minor, and no order was made appointing guardian and there was no appearance by the so-called guardian at any stage of the proceedings a decree passed against the minor is not binding on him. (26 C.L.J. 258; 37 A. 179; 20 C.L.J.

[S. 456.] (2) An order for the appointment of a guardian for the suit may be obtained upon application in the name and on behalf of the minor or by the plaintiff.

469; 2 P. L. T. 617, relied on.) 3 Pat. L. T. 451 = 66 I. C. 137. For determining whether a minor was sufficiently represented in the execution proceedings, Courts can look at the substance of the transaction. 64 I. C. 25 = 35 C. L. J. 9. An execution sale held of a minor's property without appointing a guardian ad litem is materially irregular and the guardian of the minor can set it aside. 29 I. C. 211. A duly appointed guardian for a suit is fully entitled to represent the minor in all proceedings which take place in execution of the decree. 48 I. C. 39 = 5 O. L. J. 551. A decree against a minor without a guardian ad litem at the time is void, as also all further proceedings. Subsequent appointment of a guardian in execution proceedings will not validate the decree nor other proceedings in its execution. 35 I. C. 154 = 31 M. L. J. 39; 18 C. L. J. 18 = 17 C. W. N. 549. The Court has no jurisdiction to sell the minor's interests even though they were safeguarded by other defendants having a common defence 35 I. C. 154 = 31 M. L. J. 39. If notice of appointment of guardian ad litem is not given to the minors concerned or their mother, they are not bound by the decree passed against the guardian ad litem who was a Court Nazir and who had no funds or instructions to defend the suit 41 All. 235 = 17 A. L. J. 249.

PROCEDURE.—Defendant alleged to be minor—Issue to be framed and decided—Court's opinion about defendant's appearance is not sufficient. 96 I. C. 273 = A. I. R. 1926 P. 489.

NOTICE.—O. 32, R. 3 (4) imperatively requires service of notice upon the minors. 43 I. C. 728. Failure to comply is only an irregularity and where the minor is not prejudiced the proceedings are not vitiated. 88 I. C. 294 = 1925 All. 548. In the absence of proof of fraud or collusion, the mere fact that notice of appointment of a guardian ad litem was not issued to the minor, does not entitle him to treat the proceedings as a nullity. (Case Law reviewed.) 75 I. C. 440 = 5 Lah. 38 = 1923 Lah. 575; 43 I. C. 728. But the appointment of a guardian ad litem is not always vitiated by the absence of notice to a minor. 42 I. C. 421 = 6 L. W. 272. There is nothing in the Code requiring the plaintiff to issue a fresh summons, to a minor defendant after he attains majority. (Ibid.) When the appointment of a guardian ad litem is proposed, notice must always be sent to the natural guardian of the minor or the person with whom he lives. 36 I. C. 794 = 4 L. W. 362. A Court can appoint an officer of Court as guardian only when there is no other guardian available. (Ibid.) An order appointing a guardian ad litem of a minor defendant without notice to the minor is without jurisdiction. 2 Pat. L. T. 116 = 6 Pat. L. J. 82; 32 I. C. 380. In appointing a guardian ad litem the wishes of the minor defendant, should if possible, be considered. 2 Pat. L. T. 116 = 6 Pat. L. J. 82. The natural father of a minor is his proper guardian to assert his right as adopted heir against rival claimants. 43 M. 288; 22 L. W. 560 = 49 M. L. J. 549. A mother or in her absence a grandmother may be appointed, and the fact that she is a pardanashin lady is not a disqualification. 2 Pat. L. T. 116 = 6 Pat. L. J. 82. Notice under O. 32,

R. 3 (4) for the appointment of a guardian ad litem must be served upon the natural guardian 45 I. C. 253 = 4 Pat. L. W. 373. If a guardian ad litem is guilty of negligence and makes no attempt to protect the minor's interests the decree will not be binding on the minor. (Ibid.) Where an officer of Court is appointed as guardian ad litem due notice of such appointment should be given to that officer and the suit should not be dismissed on the mere ground that process fees are not paid for the issue of summons to him. 35 P. R. 1912 = 11 I. C. 317.

OFFICER OF COURT AS GUARDIAN.—Omission to adduce evidence when amounts to negligence. 44 M. L. J. 299 = 1923 Mad. 465. In the absence of proof that the guardian ad litem could have adduced any useful evidence or was aware of such evidence in the prior suit it did not constitute negligence or fraud. (Ibid.) Officer of Court, guardian—Guardian's address and whereabouts known—Procedure illegal—Decree—Setting aside—Inherent power of Court. (1922) Mad. 485. When a suit is filed against a minor in respect of whom a proper guardian has already been appointed but whose identity or appointment is not known to the plaintiff the Court is competent to appoint an officer of the Court as guardian ad litem. 33 I. C. 481. Guardian ad litem—Mother acting as such—Failure to defend suits—Right of minor to set aside decree. 29 I. C. 220 = 13 A. L. J. 437. Guardian ad litem does not continue in his office after decree. 84 I. C. 68 = 1925 Cal. 23. Procedure to appoint guardian for a lunatic. 62 I. C. 770. Where the proposed guardian does not appear the Court must be moved to appoint one of the officers as guardian ad litem. Otherwise the decree will be null and void (15 C. L. J. 3, foll.) 17 I. C. 263 = 16 C. L. J. 318. The object of O. 32, Rr. 3 and 14, C. P. C., is to provide that the minor's interest should not suffer and that he should be properly represented in a suit filed against him. The object of giving notice to the minor is that the person may not be a minor at all and the plaintiff may have by mistake sued him as a minor. Notice to guardian and other persons interested is given for the reason that a person who is a guardian or who has the custody of the minor is the person best fitted to represent the minor. It is obligatory on the Court that no order should be made appointing a guardian ad litem unless and until the necessary notice is given under R. 3 of O. 32, C. P. C. 29 Bom. L. R. 1357 = 105 I. MISREPRESENTATION.—Major described as minor—Decree not binding. 49 I. C. 627. Suit by minor—Bona fide mistake—Amendment 1924 Lah. 157. A compromise not expressly sanctioned by the Court, though beneficial to the minors is not binding on the minors. 3 Pat. L. J. 255 = 46 I. C. 358 (F.B.). Reference to arbitration by next friend or guardian ad litem without leave of Court. 33 I. C. 941 = 9 Bar. L. T. 158. The period of limitation counts from the date of the plaint, and not from the appointment of the guardian. 4 A. 37.

(3) Such application shall be supported by an affidavit verifying the fact that the proposed guardian has no interest in the matters in controversy in the suit adverse to that of the minor and that he is a fit person to be so appointed.

(4) No order shall be made on any application under this rule except upon notice to the minor and to any guardian of the minor appointed or declared by an authority competent in that behalf, or, where there is no such guardian, upon notice to the father or other natural guardian of the minor, or, where there is no father or other natural guardian, to the person in whose care the minor is, and after hearing any objection which may be urged on behalf of any person served with notice under this sub-rule.

[Bombay.] The words "to the minor and" in line 2 of sub-rule (4) of rule 3 of Order 32 shall be deleted.

[Madras.] For O. XXXII, R. 3 substitute the following rule :—

"3. (1) Where the defendant is a minor, the Court, on being satisfied of the fact of his minority, shall appoint a proper person to be guardian for the suit for the minor.

(2) An order for the appointment of a guardian for the suit may be obtained upon application in the name and on behalf of the minor or by the plaintiff.

(3) The application shall be supported by an affidavit verifying the fact that the proposed guardian has no interest in the matters in controversy in the suit adverse to that of the minor and that he is a fit person to be so appointed. The affidavit shall further state the name of the person or persons on whom notice has to be served under the provisions of sub-rule (5).

(4) An application for the appointment of a guardian for the suit of a minor shall not be combined with an application for bringing on record the legal representatives of a deceased plaintiff or defendant. The application shall be by separate petitions.

(5) No order shall be made on any application under this rule except upon notice to any guardian of the minor appointed or declared by an authority competent in that behalf or, where there is no guardian, upon notice to the father or other natural guardian of the minor or, where there is no father or other natural guardian, to the person in whose care the minor is, and after hearing any objection which may be urged on behalf of any person served with notice under this sub rule. The notice required by this sub-rule shall be served six clear days before the day named in the notice for the hearing of the application and may be in form No. 11 set forth in appendix H hereto.

[Punjab.] Omit the words "to the minor and" in the last paragraph of Rule 3 and add the following as a proviso :

Provided that the Court may, if it sees fit, issue notice to the minor also.

Who may act as next friend or be appointed guardian for the suit.

4. [Ss. 445, 457.] (1) Any person who is of sound mind and has attained majority may act as next friend of a minor or as his guardian for the suit :

O. 32, R. 4.—SCOPE AND APPLICATION.—O. 32, R. 4 of the C. P. Code does not apply to a non-contentious proceeding in probate. 59 I. C. 435 = 24 C. W. N. 538. Irregularities in the appointment of guardian ad litem does not vitiate the proceedings in the suit. 93 I. C. 848 = A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 435. If the personal interest of the next friend conflicts with his duty towards the minor, then unless these be uberrima fides, he cannot act as the minor's next friend. In such a case the minor is not, properly represented and the decree in the suit would not bind him. (22 W. R. 290, foll.) 56 I. C. 97.

WHO CAN ACT AS NEXT FRIEND.—Next friend should be a person residing in British India. A guardian who cannot be served is useless, and where a guardian has left the country a fresh guardian should be appointed. 17 M. L. J. 179. (2) Where a minor has a guardian appointed or declared by competent authority, no person other than such guardian shall act as the next friend of the minor or be appointed his guardian for the suit unless the Court considers, for reasons to be recorded, that it is for the minor's welfare that another person be permitted to act or be appointed, as the case may be.

(3) No person shall without his consent be appointed guardian for the suit.

[Allahabad and Oudh.] Add as a proviso to O. XXXII, R. 3 (4).—"Provided that if the minor is under ten years of age no such notice shall be issued to him."

[S. 456.] (4) Where there is no other person fit and willing to act as guardian for the suit, the Court may appoint any of its officers to be such guardian, and may direct that the costs to be incurred by such officer in the performance of his duties as such guardian shall be borne either by the parties or by any one or more of the parties to the suit, or out of any fund in Court in which the minor is interested, and may give directions for the repayment or allowance of such costs as justice and the circumstances of the case may require.

SCOPE OF.—O. 32, R. 4 (3) is mandatory and a Court has no jurisdiction to appoint a guardian ad litem on behalf of a minor, without his consent. [16 C. L. J. 318 = 20 I. [Madras.] For O. XXXII, R. 4, substitute the following rule :—

4. (1) Any person who is of sound mind and has attained majority may act as next friend of a minor or as his guardian for the suit :

Provided that the interest of that person is not adverse to that of the minor and that he is not, in the case of a next friend, a defendant, or, in the case of a guardian for the suit, a plaintiff.

(2) Where a minor has a guardian appointed or declared by competent authority, no person other than the guardian shall act as the next friend of the minor or be appointed his guardian for the suit unless the Court considers, for reasons to be recorded, that it is for the minor's welfare that another person be permitted to act or be appointed, as the case may be.

(3) No person shall without his consent be appointed guardian for the suit. Whenever an application is made proposing the name of a person as guardian for the suit, a notice in form No. 11-A set forth in Appendix H hereto shall be served on the proposed guardian, unless the applicant himself be the proposed guardian or the proposed guardian consents.

(4) Where there is no other person fit and willing to act as guardian for the suit, the Court may appoint any of its officers to be the guardian, and may direct that the costs to be incurred by that officer in the performance of his duties as guardian shall be borne either by the parties or by any one or more of the parties to the suit, or out of any fund in Court in which the minor is interested, and may give directions for the repayment or allowance of the costs as justice and the circumstances of the case may require.

(5) When a guardian for the suit of a minor defendant is appointed, and it is made to appear to the Court that the guardian is not in possession of any, or sufficient funds for the conduct of the suit on behalf of the defendant, and that the defendant will be prejudiced in his defence thereby, the Court may from time to time order the plaintiff to advance moneys to the guardian for the purpose of his defence and all moneys so advanced shall form part of the costs of the plaintiff in the suit. The order shall direct that the guardian, as and when directed, shall file in Court an account of the moneys so received by him.

[Allahabad and Oudh.] Substitute for Original Rule No. 4 of Order XXXII.—

(1) Where a minor has a guardian appointed or declared by competent authority, no person other than such guardian shall act as next friend, except by leave of the Court.

(2) Subject to the provisions of sub-rule (1) any person who is of sound mind and has attained majority may act as next friend of a minor, unless the interest of such person is adverse to that of the minor, or he is a defendant, or the court for other reasons to be recorded considers him unfit to act.

(3) Every next friend shall, except as otherwise provided by clause (In Oudh read 'sub-rule' for 'clause'.) (5) of this rule be entitled to be reimbursed from the estate of the minor any expenses incurred by him while acting for the minor.

(4) The court may in its discretion, for reasons to be recorded, award costs of the suit, or compensation under S. 35-A or S. 95 against this next friend personally as if he were a plaintiff.

(5) Costs or compensation awarded under clause (In Oudh read 'sub-rule') (4) shall not be recoverable by the guardian from the estate of the minor, unless the decree expressly directs that they shall be so recoverable.

[Allahabad and Oudh.] Added by Allahabad and Oudh. 4-A (1) Where a minor has a guardian appointed by competent authority, no person other than such guardian shall be appointed his guardian for the suit unless the court considers for reasons to be recorded that it is for the minor's welfare that another person be appointed.

(2) Where there is no such guardian, or where the Court considers that such guardian should not be appointed, it shall appoint as guardian for the suit the natural guardian of the minor if, qualified, or where there is no such guardian the person in whose case the minor is, or any other suitable person who has notified the Court of his willingness to act, or failing any such person, an officer of the Court.

Explanation.—An officer of the Court shall for the purposes of this sub-rule include a legal practitioner on the roll of the Court.

(3) No person shall without his consent be appointed guardian for the suit; provided that in all cases the consent of such person shall be presumed, unless within fifteen days of receipt of notice from the Court, he notifies to the Court his refusal to accept appointment as such guardian. Refusal to accept notice shall be presumed to be refusal to act.

(4) Where an officer of the Court is appointed guardian for the suit under sub rule (2) the Court may direct that the costs to be incurred by such officer the performance of his duties as such guardian shall be borne either by the parties or by any one or more of the parties to the suit, or out of any fund in Court in which the minor is interested and may give directions for the repayments or allowance of such costs as justice and the circumstances of the case may require.

5. [S. 441.] (1) Every application to the Court on behalf of a minor, other than an application under rule 10, sub-rule (2), shall be made by his next friend or by his guardian for the suit.

Representation of minor by next friend or guardian for the suit.

O. 32, R. 5. ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—When a guardian ad litem has been once appointed by the Court for a minor defendant his appointment continues until revoked and an appeal against a

[S. 444.] (2) Every order made in a suit or on any application, before the Court in or by which a minor is in any way concerned or affected, without such minor being represented by a next friend or guardian for the suit, as the case may be, may be discharged, and, where the pleader of the party at whose instance such order was obtained knew, or might reasonably have known, the fact of such minority, with costs to be paid by such pleader.

[6. S. 461.] (1) A next friend or guardian for the suit shall not, without the leave of the Court, receive any money or other movable property on behalf of a minor either—

(a) by way of compromise before decree or order, or

(b) under a decree or order in favour of the minor.

(2) Where the next friend or guardian for the suit has not been appointed or declared by competent authority to be guardian of the property of the minor, or, having been so appointed or declared, is under any disability known to the Court to receive the money or other movable property, the Court shall, if it grants him leave to receive the property, require such security and give such directions as will, in its opinion, sufficiently protect the property from waste and ensure its proper application.

[7. S. 462.] (1) No next friend or guardian for the suit shall, without the leave of the Court, expressly recorded in the proceedings, enter into any agreement or compromise on behalf of a minor with reference to the suit in which he acts as next friend or guardian.

O. 32, R. 7. SCOPE AND APPLICATION.—A compromise of suit made on behalf of a minor without strict compliance with the provisions of R. 7 is not enforceable against the minor. The provision of law making it necessary to obtain the leave of the Court is of great importance to protect the interests of minors and in the absence of such leave, a compromise cannot be supported. 39 M. 115=29 M. L. J. 856 (P. C.). In absence of an order granting permission the presumption is that no permission was granted. 50 I. C. 752=17 A. L. J. 789. (2) Any such agreement or compromise entered into without the leave of the Court so recorded shall be voidable against all parties other than the minor.

399; 50 I. C. 752 = 17 A.L.J. 789. When suit is compromised by the Court of Wards on behalf of a minor ward, the compromise does not require the leave of the Court in order that it may be binding. 37 I. C. 971 = 44 Cal. 829. A Court should be very jealous of the interest of minors and should not allow a suit or part of a suit to be withdrawn without being satisfied that it is for their benefit. (27 Mad. 377; 29 Cal. 735, Rel.); 47 I. C. 508 = 59 P. R. 1919. A suit lies at the instance of a minor to set aside such a compromise effected by his guardian ad litem. (2 P. R. 1912, Ref.); 47 I. SCOPE OF SUB-RULE (2).—41 C. I. J. 213 = 29 C. W. N. 597. Under R. 7, Cl. (2) an agreement or compromise entered into by the guardian of a minor without the sanction of the Court is voidable. 47 I. EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS.—The rule applies to a compromise of execution proceedings. 26 B. 109; and contemplates the existence of a guardian and a pending litigation. 26 B. 298. See also 27 B. at p. 291; 29 M. 309. An agreement varying terms of a decree between parties some of whom are minors is not enforceable unless sanctioned by Court. 40 I. C. 820 = (1917) M.W. N. 327. SHALL BE VOIDABLE.—A compromise not properly sanctioned can be annulled before a minor attains majority, 26 B. 109. See 23 B. 62 and 13 B. 137. See also 30 C. 613. POWERS OF NATURAL GUARDIAN.—After appointment of a guardian ad litem the powers of natural guardian to deal with the minor's interest so far as they are involved in the suit are suspended. 22 Bom. L. R. 725 = 57 I. C. 417 = 44 Bom. 574. A compromise even by a father and managing member as guardian ad litem requires leave of Court. 36 Mad. 295 = 40 I. A. 132 = 25 M. L. J. 150 (P. C.). The natural guardian can on behalf of a minor enter into an arbitration so as to be binding on the minor if it is proper, reasonable and for benefit of minor. 44 Bom 202 = 22 Bom. L. R. 266.

PROOF OF SANCTION.—There ought to be evidence that the attention of the Court was directly called to the fact that the minor was a party to the compromise, and it ought to be shown, by an order on petition (or in some way not open to doubt) that the leave of the Court was obtained. 35 All. 487 = 40 I. O. 32, R. 7 does not compel the judge to reduce this matter to writing, though it is exceedingly desirable he should do so. (29 Mad. 104; 17 All. 531; 8 C. L. J. 31, Ref.); 39 I. C. 53 = 36 P. Even if the leave of the Court is not expressly recorded that would not make the decree a nullity. It would only make the decree voidable at the option of the minor. 2 Pat. 538 = 4 Pat. L. T. 311. A decree or order for the compromise of a suit, appeal or matter, to which a minor or other person under disability is a party, shall recite the sanction of the Court thereto and shall set out the terms of the compromise as in Form No. 24 in Appendix D to this Schedule."

8. [S. 447.] (1) Unless otherwise ordered by the Court, a next friend shall not retire without first procuring a fit person to be put in his place and giving security for the costs already incurred.

(2) The application for the appointment of a new next friend shall be supported by an affidavit showing the fitness of the person proposed, and also that he has no interest adverse to that of the minor's.

9. [S. 446.] (1) Where the interest of the next friend of a minor is adverse to that of the minor or where he is so connected with a defendant whose interest is adverse to that of the minor as to make it unlikely that the minor's interest will be properly protected by him, or where he does not do his duty, or, during the pendency of the suit, ceases to reside within British India, or for any other sufficient cause, application may be made on behalf of the minor or by a defendant for his removal; and the Court, if satisfied of the sufficiency of the cause assigned, may order the next friend to be removed accordingly, and make such other order as to costs as it thinks fit.

Stay of proceedings on removal, etc., of next friend.

10. [S. 448.] (1) On the retirement, removal or death of the next friend of a minor, further proceedings shall be stayed until the appointment of a next friend in his place.

(2) [S. 449.] Where the pleader of such minor omits, within a reasonable time to take steps to get a new next friend appointed, any person interested in the minor or in the matter in issue may apply to the Court for the appointment of one, and the Court may appoint such person as it thinks fit.

11. [S. 458.] (1) Where the guardian for the suit desires to retire or does not do his duty, or where other sufficient ground is made to appear, the Court may permit such guardian to retire or may remove him, and may make such order as to costs as it thinks fit.

Retirement, removal or death of guardian for the suit.

(2) [S. 459.] Where the guardian for the suit retires, dies or is removed by the Court during the pendency of the suit, the Court shall appoint a new guardian in his place.

Course to be followed by minor plaintiff or applicant on attaining majority.

12. [S. 450.] (1) A minor plaintiff or a minor not a party to a suit on whose behalf an application is pending shall, on attaining majority, elect whether he will proceed with the suit or application.

(2) [S. 451.] Where he elects to proceed with the suit or application, he shall apply for an order discharging the next friend and for leave to proceed in his own name.

(3) The title of the suit or application shall in such case be corrected so as to read henceforth thus :—

“A.B., late a minor, by C.D., his next friend, but now having attained majority.”

(4) [S. 452.] Where he elects to abandon the suit or application, he shall, if a sole plaintiff or sole applicant, apply for an order to dismiss the suit or application on repayment of the costs incurred by the defendant or opposite party or which may have been paid by his next friend.

(5) [S. 453.] Any application under this rule may be made ex parte but no order discharging a next friend and permitting a minor plaintiff to proceed in his own name shall be made without notice to the next friend.

O. 32, R. 11.—Guardians are not bound to contest all claims whether well or ill-founded. When a plaintiff fails or refuses to place an officer of the Court appointed as guardian in possession of funds, the Court can remove the officer appointed under this rule. 12 B. 553. The power of the Court under O. 32, R. 11 to remove the guardian for the suit of a minor defendant and appoint a new guardian instead, may be exercised at any time during the pendency of the suit and same is not taken away by the fact that an order to try the suit ex parte has previously been passed. (1920) M. W. N. 241 = 55 I. C. 945. Inability on the part of the guardian ad litem to provide funds is sufficient cause. 9 I.C. 435 = 9 M. L. T. 333.

COSTS.—Costs cannot be decreed against the guardian of a defendant except in the case referred to in this rule. 3 M. 263. Costs cannot be decreed against a guardian who has not been appointed without his previous consent. 5 B. 306.

O. 32, R. 12.—The title of the suit or application should only be corrected when the suit or application is pending. 13. [S. 454.] (1) Where a minor co-plaintiff on attaining majority desires to repudiate the suit, he shall apply to have his name struck out as co-plaintiff and the Court, if it finds that he is not a necessary party, shall dismiss him from the suit on such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit.

Where minor co-plaintiff attaining majority desires to repudiate suit.

(2) Notice of the application shall be served on the next friend, on any co-plaintiff and on the defendant.

(3) The costs of all parties of such application, and of all or any proceedings theretofore had in the suit, shall be paid by such persons as the Court directs.

(4) Where the applicant is a necessary party to the suit, the Court may direct him to be made a defendant.

14. [S. 455.] (1) A minor on attaining majority may, if a sole plaintiff, apply that a suit instituted in his name by his next friend be dismissed on the ground that it was unreasonable or improper.

Unreasonable or improper suit.

(2) Notice of the application shall be served on all the parties concerned; and the Court, upon being satisfied of such unreasonableness or impropriety, may grant the application and order the next friend to pay the costs of all parties in respect of the application and of anything done in the suit, or make such other order as it thinks fit.

[Madras] In O. 32 after R. 14 add the following as rule 14-A :—

"14-A. The appointment or discharge of a next friend or guardian for the suit of a minor in a matter pending before the High Court in its appellate jurisdiction, except in cases under appeal to the King-in-Council, shall be deemed to be a quasi-judicial act within the meaning of section 128 (2) (1) of the Code of Civil Procedure and may be performed by the Registrar, provided that contested applications and applications presented out of time shall be posted before a judge for disposal."

15. [S. 463.] The provisions contained in rules 1 to 14, so far as they are applicable, shall extend to persons adjudged to be of unsound mind and to persons who though not so adjudged are found by the Court on inquiry, by reason of unsoundness of mind or mental infirmity, to be incapable of protecting their interests when suing or being sued.

Application of rules to persons of unsound mind.

O. 32, R. 14.—The next friend of a minor plaintiff died during the pendency of the suit. The suit was subsequently dismissed, owing to the indifference of the plaintiff's relations, with costs to be paid out of the estate of the deceased next friend. Held, that the order as to costs was made without jurisdiction. 20 O.C. 300 = 43 I. C. 257 = 5 O. L. J. 106.

O. 32, R. 15. SCOPE AND APPLICATION.—The Court must be satisfied of the title of the next friend to intervene and it ought to be satisfied that the person is of unsound mind and that he stands in need of protection. 23 B. 658. The rule applies to execution proceedings. 19 M. 219 (226). A sale in execution of a decree obtained against a lunatic who was not properly represented is of no effect at all and is not merely voidable. (33 Cal. 1094; 32 Cal. 296, Rel.); 18 C. W. N. 1329 = 20 C. L. J. 291. The fact that a person of high position had renounced the world and become a sanyasi, devoting himself wholly to spiritual things and entirely neglecting his worldly affairs, would not of itself, however unusual such conduct might be in a man of high position of a zamindar possessing considerable landed property justify the Court in holding that by reason of unsoundness of mind or mental infirmity he was incapable of protecting his interests, when suing or being sued within R. 15. But a persistent delusion of being haunted by demons, of persecution by imaginary voices attributed to gases issuing from various parts of his body and the religious megalomania which led him to regard himself as destined, to be in some sort a saviour of the world are symptoms which would justify the conclusion that the person is suffering from systematic delusional insanity and incapable of managing his own affairs. (1927) M. W. N. 456 = 26 L. W. 94 = 31 C. W. N. 1087 = 39 M. L. T. 155 = 101 I. C. 363 (2) = A. I. R. 1927 P. C. 123 (P. C.).

THE POSITION OF LUNATIC AND MINOR IS THE SAME.—A sale of a lunatic's property in execution of a decree against him in a suit in which he was not represented by a guardian ad litem is a nullity and the lunatic can resist an action for possession without setting aside the sale [32 Cal. 296 = 32 I. A. 23, (P. C.); 38 Mad. 1076, Dist.]; 34 I. C. 551 = 4 L. W. 228. Where a decree is obtained against a lunatic on the refusal of the Court to appoint a guardian ad litem for him, the representatives of the lunatic cannot after his death raise an objection in execution that the decree was null and void. 45 I. C. 219 = 5 O. L. J. 90. The provisions of this rule are not exhaustive and lunatic can sue through his next friend though not adjudged a lunatic under any law. 33 C. 1094; 24 M. 504; 23 B. 658; see also 13 B. 656. Omission to appoint a guardian ad litem for a man of unsound mind does not render the whole suit invalid ab initio.

16. [S. 464.] Nothing in this Order shall apply to a Sovereign Prince or Ruling

Chiefs.

Chief suing or being sued in the name of his State, or being sued by direction of the Governor-General in Council or a Local Government in the name of an agent or in any other name, or shall be construed to affect or in any way derogate from the provisions of any local law for the time being in force relating to suits by or against minors or by or against lunatics or other persons of unsound mind.

[Madras] Add as Rule 17 of Order 32:—

"17. In suits relating to the person or property of a minor or other person under the superintendence of the Court of Wards the Court in fixing the day for the defendant to appear and answer shall allow not less than two months' time between the date of summons and the date for appearance."

ORDER XXXIII.

SUITS BY PAUPERS.

Suit may be instituted in forma pauperis.

1. [S. 401.] Subject to the following provisions, any suit may be instituted by a pauper.

22 I. C. 673. Rule applies whether the lunatic is adjudged or not. 3 L. W. 301=34 I. C. 428; 16 I. C. 885; 29 I. C. 595=13 A. L. J. 562; 34 I. C. 551=4 L. W. 228 (7 Cal. 242; 13 Bom. 656; 24 Mad. 504, Foll.). Defendant alleged to be of unsound mind by one party denied by the opposite party—Judicial inquiry, is necessary 1922 Cal. 86. There is no established rule of practice requiring that suits relating to a lunatic's property should be brought by the lunatic's manager and not by himself. On the contrary the C. P. Code contemplates suits by persons of unsound mind whether so adjudged or not. Though it is true that a person so incapacitated has to sue by a next friend, yet next friend is not a party and the absence of a next friend is immaterial. 27 I. C. 459=19 C. W. N. 45. Person of weak mind can sue through a next friend. 83 I. C. 253=1925 Nag. 245. Notice of unsoundness—Duty to appoint guardian—Decree. 50 I. C. 109=17 A. L. J. 257.

O. 33, R. 1. SCOPE OF RULE.—An applicant to be disqualified to sue as pauper must be possessed of means sufficient to pay Court fees, and not merely entitled to property. 105 I. C. 30. A suit instituted in the ordinary way may be continued as a pauper suit. 20 C. 319; 8 B. 615. In 5 C. 819 it was held that the Court had power to allow a defendant to defend in forma pauperis. English law is different from Indian law. 2 Pat. 879=4 Pat. L. T. 538. No court-fee is payable upon a bill or plaint in England and only the costs of conducting the litigation such as payment of fees to lawyers, etc., has to be incurred. (Ibid.)

WHO CAN SUE AS A PAUPER.—A person who has obtained leave to sue under S. 18 of the Religious Endowments Act can be permitted to sue in forma pauperis. 24 M. 419. A minor can sue as a pauper although his next friend has substantial means. 3 M. at p. 4. The representative of a pauper cannot continue the suit in forma pauperis if not a pauper himself. 24 L. W. 550=1925 M. 819. Minor can sue in forma pauperis—Status of next friend immaterial. 37 C. L. J. 394=1923 Cal. 656. A next friend who is a pauper can sue in forma pauperis. 11 B. L. R. 373. An administrator of an estate can also sue as a pauper. 7 M. 390. An executor may be allowed to petition for, and, if entitled thereto, to obtain probate in forma pauperis. 18 B. 237. A shebait suing his co-shebait and an alienee for recovery of endowed property may be allowed to sue in forma pauperis, the fact that his co-shebait is possessed of means is perfectly immaterial. 11 I. C. 892. O. 33 applies to suits by companies. The terms "persons" in the order includes companies also. 41 Mad. 624=34 M. L. J. 421.

EXPLANATION.—See 30 B. 593; 10 B. 207; 10 A. 467. A person who applies for leave to sue as a pauper is not bound to try and raise funds by mortgaging his claim. 3 M. 249. Suit to redeem—Equity of redemption—Should be excluded in calculating means. 19 N. L. R. 165=1924 Nag. 44. Occupancy tenancy is not property. 90 I. C. 949=A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 438. Suit in forma pauperis—Admission of part of the claim by defendant cannot dispauper plaintiff. 47 Bom. 523=25 Bom. L. R. 199. Meaning of the words "other than his necessary wearing apparel and subject-matter of suit." See A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 273. "Is not possessed of sufficient means" in the explanation. See 45 C. L. J. 68=100 I. C. 264=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 309. Ordinary ornaments of woman are wearing apparel and ought to be excluded. (Ibid.) So also dower debt not reduced to possession. (Ibid.) The mere fact that applicant's husband has property is not sufficient reason for disallowing her application for leave to sue in forma pauperis. 44 I. C. 723=3 Pat. L. J. 178. A woman who has been permitted to sue as pauper cannot be asked to furnish security for costs under O. 25, R. 1. 36 I. C. 320=10 Bur. L. T. 105. An order for security for costs passed in an ordinary suit ceases to operate as regards the antecedent costs if leave is given to continue the suit as a pauper before the period for furnishing the security has expired. 13 Bom. L. R. 955=36 Bom. 415. The privilege of maintaining a pauper suit, is personal, granted to people who have no means of carrying on litigation and the representative of a pauper cannot continue the suit with the same privilege unless he himself is a pauper. (3 W. R. 20, Not Foll.; 3 Mad. 3, Dist.; 18 Bom. 237, Rel.), 36 Bom. 279=11 I. C. 724=13 Bom. L. R. 577; see also 25 All. 137; 33 Cal. 1163; 1 O. L. J. 709=26 I. C. 714; 18 O. C. 64; 64 I. C. 63.

Explanation.—A person is a “pauper” when he is not possessed of sufficient means to enable him to pay the fee prescribed by law for the plaint in such suit, or, where no such fee is prescribed, when he is not entitled to property worth one hundred rupees other than his necessary wearing apparel and the subject-matter of the suit.

[Bombay] The following sentence shall be added to the Explanation to Rule 1 of Order 33, Civil Procedure Code, namely:—

In determining whether he is possessed of sufficient means the subject-matter of the suit shall be excluded.

2. [S. 403.] Every application for permission to sue as a pauper shall contain the particulars required in regard to plaints in suits: a

Contents of application. schedule of any movable or immovable property belonging to the applicant, with the estimated value thereof, shall be annexed thereto; and it shall be signed and verified in the manner prescribed for the signing and verification of pleadings.

4. [S. 406.] (1) Where the application is in proper form and duly presented, the Court may, if it thinks fit, examine the applicant, or

Examination of applicant. his agent when the applicant is allowed to appear by agent, regarding the merits of the claim and the property of the applicant.

(2) Where the application is presented by an agent the Court may, if it thinks fit, order that the applicant be examined by a commission in the manner in which the examination of an absent witness may be taken.

APPEAL.—Where money has been deposited into Court under the decree of the lower Court drawn by her sufficient for payment of Court-fee on appeal, she cannot be allowed to institute the appeal in forma pauperis. 23 L.W. 427=94 I. C. 337=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 567=50 M. L. J. 114.

PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE.—A Court should not allow plaintiff to sue in forma pauperis without affording the defendant an opportunity to prove that the plaintiff is not a pauper (10 Bom. 207; 30 Bom. 593, Rel. upon) 23 I. C. 974. Report of Tahsilidhar as to possession of means, when good or otherwise. 28 I. C. 87=39 P.L.R. 1915. Where pauper application is dismissed, the Court can extend time for payment of Court-fee. 18 L. W. 451=46 M. L. J. 254. Where subsequent to an application to sue as a pauper, the applicant receives a sum of money, sufficient to defray the suit expenses the Court has no jurisdiction to grant leave to sue as a pauper. 61 I. C. 958=13 L. W. 76.

BURDEN OF PROOF.—As to pauperism is on the applicant himself see A.I.R. 1926 Nag. 273.

LIMITATION.—An application for leave to sue as a pauper presented five years after attaining majority is barred, and cannot be allowed. 26 I. C. 90=1 L. W. 668.

O. 33, R. 2.—A petition to sue in forma pauperis which fails to comply with the provisions of O. 33, R. 2 ought to be rejected. 6 Bur. L. T. 141=20 I. C. 640. When allegations in plaint show prima facie cause of action the application to sue as a pauper should not be dismissed except on merits. 30 I. C. 689. Where a pauper applicant omits to mention his immovable property and also fails to submit a list of such property when required, the application is not in proper form. 1923 Oudh 118. But see also 8 Pat. L. T. 794=104 I. C. 364.

O. 33, R. 3.—Form of petition—Separate affidavit instead of verification is sufficient. 1923 Lah. 684. An authorized agent in R. 3 does not include a recognized agent or a pleader as such. 80 P. L. R. 1915=28 I. C. 448. Leave to sue in forma pauperis ought not to be refused on insufficient ground. If the Court does so, the High Court will interfere in revision. 26 M.L.J. 343=23 I. C. 82. Presentation through the Nazir is sufficient and proper. 58 I. C. 961=17 N.L.R. 22. See also 47 M. L. J. 522.

O. 33, R. 4.—Where the applicant who seeks for permission to sue as pauper, is examined under R. 4, the opposite party has a right to cross-examine. 60 I. C. 738. A Court can enter into the merits of a case under R. 4 of O. 33, C. P. Code and for that purpose the judge can examine the plaintiff who applies for permission to sue as a pauper. 3 Pat. 275=A.I.R. 1925 Patna 30. In an inquiry under O. 33 the Court cannot take evidence except the evidence of the applicant himself on the merits of the claim. 52 I. C. 610=46 Cal. 651. But the Court cannot examine the witness for deciding the question of limitation or any other question than the pauperism of the applicant. 52 I. C. 610=46 Cal. 651. But see 50 I. C. 676 contra.

Rejection of application.

5. [S. 407.] The Court shall reject an application for permission to sue as a pauper—

- (a) [S. 405.] where it is not framed and presented in the manner prescribed by rules 2 and 3, or
- (b) where the applicant is not a pauper, or
- (c) where he has, within two months next before the presentation of the application, disposed of any property fraudulently or in order to be able to apply for permission to sue as a pauper, or
- (d) where his allegations do not show a cause of action, or
- (e) where he has entered into any agreement with reference to the subject-matter of the proposed suit under which any other person has obtained an interest in such subject-matter.

Rules for rejecting a plaint differ from those for rejecting an application to sue as a pauper. 5 Bur. L. T. 123=16 I. C. 83. 6. [S. 408.] Where the Court sees no reason to reject the application on any of the grounds stated in rule 5, it shall fix a day (of which at least ten days' clear notice shall be given to the opposite party and the Government pleader) for receiving such evidence as the applicant may adduce in proof of his pauperism, and for hearing any evidence which may be adduced in disproof thereof.

Notice of day for receiving evidence of applicant's pauperism.

7. [S. 409.] (1) On the day so fixed or as soon thereafter as may be convenient, the Court shall examine the witnesses (if any) produced by either party, and may examine the applicant or his agent, and shall make a memorandum of the substance of their evidence.

Procedure at hearing.

(2) The Court shall also hear any argument which the parties may desire to offer on the question whether, on the face of the application and of the evidence (if any) taken by the Court as herein provided, the applicant is or is not subject to any of the prohibitions specified in rule 5.

(3) The Court shall then either allow or refuse to allow the applicant to sue as a pauper.

8. [S. 410.] Where the application is granted, it shall be numbered and registered, and shall be deemed the plaint in the suit, and the suit shall proceed in all other respects as a suit instituted in the ordinary manner, except that the plaintiff shall not be liable to pay any court-fee (other than fees payable for service of process) in respect of any petition, appointment of a pleader or other proceeding connected with the suit.

Procedure if application admitted.

9. [S. 411.] The Court may, on the application of the defendant, or of the Government pleader, of which seven days' clear notice in writing has been given to the plaintiff, order the plaintiff to be dispaupered—

Dispaupering.

(a) if he is guilty of vexatious or improper conduct in the course of the suit ;

(b) if it appears that his means are such that he ought not to continue to sue as a pauper ; or

(c) if he has entered into any agreement with reference to the subject-matter of the suit under which any other person has obtained an interest in such subject-matter.

10. [S. 414.] Where the plaintiff succeeds in the suit, the Court shall calculate the amount of court-fees which would have been paid by the plaintiff if he had not been permitted to sue as a pauper; such amount shall be recoverable by the Government from any party ordered by the decree to pay the same, and shall be a first charge on the subject-matter of the suit.

Costs where pauper succeeds.

11. [S. 412.] Where the plaintiff fails in the suit or is dispaupered, or where the suit is withdrawn or dismissed,—

(a) because the summons for the defendant to appear and answer has not been served upon him in consequence of the failure of the plaintiff to pay the court-fee or postal charges (if any) chargeable for such service, or

(b) because the plaintiff does not appear when the suit is called on for hearing the Court shall order the plaintiff, or any person added as a co-plaintiff to the suit, to pay the court-fees which would have been paid by the plaintiff if he had not been permitted to sue as a pauper.

Government may apply for payment of court-fees.

12. The Government shall have the right at any time to apply to the Court to make an order for the payment of court-fees under rule 10 or rule 11.

13. All matters arising between the Government and any party to the suit under rule 10, rule 11 or rule 12 shall be deemed to be questions arising between the parties to the suit within the meaning of section 47.

Government to be deemed a party.

Copy of decree to be sent to Collector.

14. Where an order is made under rule 10, rule 11 or rule 12, the Court shall forthwith cause a copy of the decree to be forwarded to the Collector.

15. [S. 413.] An order refusing to allow the applicant to sue as a pauper shall be a bar to any subsequent application of the like nature by him in respect of the same right to sue; but the applicant shall be at liberty to institute a suit in the ordinary manner in respect of such right, provided that he first pays the costs (if any) incurred by the Government and by the opposite party in opposing his application for leave to sue as a pauper.

Refusal to allow applicant to sue as pauper to bar subsequent application of like nature.

Costs.

16 [S. 415.] The costs of an application for permission to sue as pauper and of an inquiry into pauperism shall be costs in the suit.

O. 33, R. 10.—O. 33, R. 10 creates two distinct and separate rights in the Crown, one right in rem against the property and the other right in personam against the pauper. 50 I. C. 315=4 P. L. ORDER XXXIV.

SUITS RELATING TO MORTGAGES OF IMMOVABLE PROPERTY.

1. Subject to the provisions of this Code, all persons having an interest either in the mortgage-security or in the right of redemption shall be joined as parties to any suit relating to the mortgage.

Parties to suits for foreclosure, sale and redemption.

(24 Cal. 889, F.); 14 I. C. 297=16 C. W. N. 641. R. 15 makes it a condition precedent for a petitioner, whose application to sue in forma pauperis has been rejected, to pay the costs of government in opposing the application before a regular suit can be entertained; there should be a demand for it. Where there has been no such demand suit should not be dismissed. (Ibid.) Where an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis is dismissed as not pressed, it bars a fresh application in respect of the same right. (20 Bom. 86, Foll.); 1924 Lah. 312. But see 56 I. C. 207=1 Lah. 151. Fresh application can be made if the application to sue in forma pauperis is dismissed for default. 2 Bur. L. J. 217=1924 Rang. 161; 56 I. Explanation.—A puisne mortgagee may sue for foreclosure or for sale without redemption who have not been made parties, no decree can be passed without a provision for what may be due to the defendants under the mortgage. 29 I.C. 742. When the purchaser is obstructed from taking possession in execution of a mortgage decree, by an alleged purchaser from the mortgagor, his only remedy is a suit for possession against him, giving him an opportunity to redeem. A mortgage suit will as well lie if he is in time. 11 I. C. 74=16 C. L. J. 33. Also 1923 All. 232. Where owner of the equity of redemption was not a party to the mortgage suit, his subsequent dispossession in execution is wrongful. 36 I.C. 744. JOINT FAMILY.—The new Code does not affect the rule regarding the indivisibility of a mortgage nor the Mitakshara rule that no coparcener has a definite share till partition is made. 24 I. C. 831=10 N.L.R. 72. All the members of a joint family are necessary parties to a suit on a mortgage of the joint family properties and their non-joinder is fatal to the suit. 24 I. Where some refuse to join as plaintiffs they can be added as defendants. 14 I. C. 35=9 A. L. J. 410. The decree will be binding even on the minor members in the absence of fraud, where they have been represented by major members of the family. 21 I. C. 192. No question of non-joinder of sons can arise when the mortgage by father is not operative as against the sons. 42 Cal. 1068=19 C. W. N. 849 (F. B.). The essential point in suits by or against managers is not the distinct description of him as manager, but that he is sued or sues in respect of a family debt. 34 All. 549=9 A. L. J. 819 (F.B.). No legal proceeding not filed expressly as manager, short of actual redemption will deprive his coparceners of their right to redeem. 40 Bom. 248=18 Bom. L. R. 33. But see 2 Pat. L. The rule that in a mortgage suit persons claiming under a paramount title are not proper parties is not inflexible. An adopted son is a necessary party in a suit on a mortgage by the executrix of the estate of his deceased adoptive father. 11 I.C. 826 = 14 C.L. J. 108. Where the leaving undetermined the title of persons claiming paramount title leads to inconvenience or hardship, it must be tried in the suit itself. 45 I.C. 691 = 4 Pat. L. W. 417. Where such a person is made a party and his title gone into, he cannot ask for a reversal of the decree on the ground of his title not being triable in the suit. 10 O. L. J. 263 = 9 O. & A.L. PRIOR MORTGAGEE.—A prior mortgagee need not be added in a suit by a puisne mortgagee. 13 I.C. 182 = (1912) M.W.N. 41; 2 Pat. L. J. 118 = 1 Pat. L. W. 653 = (1917) Pat. 194. Nor the purchaser of the prior mortgagor's rights. 88 I.C. 803. PUISNE MORTGAGEE.—A puisne mortgagee must be joined as a party to a redemption suit. 28 A. at p. 162; 28 A. 174 (F.B.). A puisne mortgagee is a necessary party to a suit by the prior mortgagee. 81 P. 2. In a suit for foreclosure, if the plaintiff succeeds, the Court shall pass a decree—

(a) ordering that an account be taken of what will be due to the plaintiff for principal and interest on the mortgage, and for his costs of the suit (if any) awarded to him on the day next hereinafter referred to, or

(b) declaring the amount so due at the date of such decree, and directing—

Where a prior mortgagee gets a money decree on his mortgage without impleading a puisne mortgagee and purchaser of the property in execution, he could not claim the property free of the puisne mortgage. 29 I. In a subsequent suit for redemption by a puisne mortgagee while in the prior suit he was not made a party by a prior mortgagee, the decree should direct a redemption upon payment of what was found due on such prior mortgage up-to-date of sale. 36 All. 123=22 I. Where a person is made a party and he claims priority as the assignee of a prior mortgagee, it is not necessary to decide his priority. 9 I. C. 643=9 M. L. T. 410. Where a puisne mortgagee was a party to the suit but not to a compromise decree passed therein, and execution was taken on the compromise decree, the puisne mortgagee's rights are not affected, and the proceedings in execution are a nullity. 41 M. A suit for sale of property on a subsequent simple mortgage can be maintained subject to the prior usufructuary mortgage, though the mortgagee in both cases is the same. 50 I. C. 40. See also 69 I. C. 897=10 L. B. R. 360. Neither this rule nor any other provision of law requires the holder of a first mortgage to disclose his second over the same property. There is nothing to prevent him from obtaining a decree for sale on each of them in a separate suit. 12 A. L. J. 127=85 I. C. 748=1925 Oudh 379 (2). But see also 53 I. C. 753=6 O. L. J. 482. There is nothing in law to prevent the prior mortgagee from bringing a suit without impleading a second mortgagee. Where the same person holds two mortgages, there is some risk of curtailment of some rights of the mortgagee when he chooses to sue separately on his mortgages. He may not be allowed to sell the properties in a subsequent decree when they were already sold in a prior decree. 4 Pat. L. T. 546=2 Pat. 874=(1923) Pat. 293=A. I. R. 1924 P. 77. RECEIVER.—In a foreclosure suit instituted while the mortgagor was alive and he died and his representatives are declared insolvent, the receiver is not a necessary party. 41 C. L. J. 290=29 C. W. N. 771=86 I. C. 1042=1925 Cal 785.

SIMULTANEOUS MORTGAGES.—In a suit for sale by one of two simultaneous mortgagees without impleading the other, the whole property is liable to be sold and the other has only a right of redemption. 10 I. C. 422. In a suit by a sub-mortgagee the defendant's mortgagor is not a necessary party. 27 A 511. In a redemption suit against the sub-mortgagee, the original mortgagor is not a necessary party. 24 Bom. L. R. 911=1922 Bom. 424; also 9 I. C. 765=13 Bom. L. R. 90.

O. 34, R. 2.—The words "derived title" will apply to a sub-mortgage which is derivative mortgage. 20 All. at p. 401. This rule and rule 4 do not contemplate two successive suits on one and the same mortgage. 39 All. 506=41 I. C. 233. In executing a mortgage decree the Court can sell the items in a particular order to adjust the equities of the parties before it. 29 M. 217.

ACCOUNTS.—The relationship as mortgagor and mortgagee does not cease with the decree. 28 I. C. 571=21 C. L. J. 284. A mortgagee who pays arrears of revenue to save the property from sale, after the preliminary decree, has a charge for the amount over the property. 43 I. C. 190=12 Bur. L. T. 36. Accounts should be taken before final decree. Provision for taking accounts in execution is not in accordance with law. 15 I. C. 362=(1912) M. W. N. 400. See also 23 M. L. T. 158=7 L. W. 269; 5 Pat. COSTS.—Costs in the suit form part of the entire amount to be realised from the property. 41 C. L. J. 607=1925 Cal. 1135. In the absence of express provision to recover costs personally, the mortgagee can add the costs of appeal to the mortgage security. 45 A. 630=21 A. L. J. 617; 41 All. 473=17 A. L. J. 582. The Court can order costs to be recovered personally if there is

(c) that if the defendant pays into Court the amount so due on a day within six months from the date of declaring in Court the amount so due to be fixed by the Court, the plaintiff shall deliver up to the defendant, or to such person as he appoints, all documents in his possession or power relating to the mortgaged property, and shall, if so required, re-transfer the property to the defendant free from the mortgage and from all incumbrances created by the plaintiff or any person claiming under him, or, where the plaintiff claims by derived title, by those under whom he claims, and shall also, if necessary, put the defendant in possession of the property, but a condition to that effect in the mortgage deed, and an appeal lies from such an order. 47 I. C. 542. When a final decree for foreclosure is passed, it is in lieu of principal and interest as well as the costs of suit. 88 I. C. 203=1925 Oudh 351.

DATE OF PAYMENT.—The effect of fixing a time for payment in a compromise mortgage decree in a foreclosure suit ownership passes to the mortgagee when the payment was not made in time. 2 Lah. 53=3 Lah. L. J. 68. See also 58 P. L. R. 1919. It is not an absolute rule of law that less than six months cannot be allowed for redemption. 31 C.W.N. 804=1927 P. C. 17=100 I. C. 91=52 M. L. J. 407 (P. C.).

EXTENSION OF TIME.—Where a preliminary consent decree for payment in instalments is passed, the decree-holder must apply for final decree before proceeding to execute, and the Court can extend time. 1922 Nag. 182. But see 9 I. C. 771=4 Bur. L. T. 43; see also 10 I. C. 536=14 C. L. J. 648.

FINAL DECREE.—After final decree an appeal on the preliminary decree is not open. It may be amended as an appeal on the final decree. 33 C. L. J. 414=61 I. C. 923=25 C. W. N. 776.

FORM OF DECREE.—In a suit by one co-owner for redemption of the whole mortgage, the Court can ascertain the plaintiff's share and pass a decree both for partition and redemption. 32 M. L. J. 489=39 I. C. 46.

INTEREST.—The question as to rate of interest in mortgages is to be determined under Order 34 and not S. 34. A.I.R. 1927 P. C. 1=99 I. C. 686=54 C. 161=54 I. A. 1=52 M. L. J. 373 (P.C.). Interest after date of suit when not provided for in judgment, must be deemed to have been refused. 37 Bom. 326=40 I. A. 68=17 C. W. N. 573=25 M. L. J. 101 (P. C.). The Court has power to award interest in the final decree when by inadvertence it is not provided for in the preliminary decree. 42 I. C. 625=2 Pat. L.W. 208. The mortgagee can get a decree for interest on the amount decreed from the date of suit to date of realisation. 37 P. W. R. 1911=10 I. C. 846. The mortgagee is ordinarily entitled to interest at the rate stipulated in bond till the date fixed for payment. From that date to date of realisation he is entitled to reasonable interest. 31 C. 138. Also 36 All. 220=12 A. L. J. 283; 18 I. C. 965=17 C. L. J. 221; 17 C. W. N. 457=17 C. L. J. 120; 20 I. The Court must award interest at contract rate even after the date fixed for redemption though the mortgage deed is silent as regards the same. 28 I. C. 195=2 L. W. 236. Interest subsequent to date fixed for redemption is calculated on the aggregate of principal, interest and costs declared to be found payable on the date fixed for redemption. 42 Mad. 465=36 M. L. J. 288; also 31 I. C. 320. The Court can relieve penal interest or reduce it when the transaction is substantially unfair. 29 C. W. N. 118=85 I. C. 218=1925 Cal. 268 (2); 34 I. C. 745=19 O. C. 166. In a preliminary decree payment of interest till realisation means interest up to the days of grace. 2 Pat. L. T. 78=5 P. L. J. 598. If the mortgagor wishes to redeem earlier than the date fixed for payment, he must pay interest up to the day so fixed, and not only up to the date of his payment. 49 I. C. 160=12 S. L. R. 59. Interest at the contract rate need not necessarily be given after date fixed for redemption. 29 A. 322. Also 6 Pat. L. T. 459=88 I. C. 323=1925 Pat. 455. After date fixed for payment in the decree, interest must be allowed at Court rate and not at contract rate. 10 I. C. 695=7 N. L. R. 14. The period for payment fixed in the preliminary decree cannot be extended by an unsuccessful appeal either by the mortgagor or mortgagee, so as to secure interest at contract rate. 17 C. W. N. 457=17 C. L. J. 120. Though in a previous decree which has become inoperative no future interest was allowed, it does not bar the allowing of interest in a subsequent fresh suit. 58 P. R. 1915=30 I. C. 104.

NOTICE.—Notice to mortgagor between preliminary and final decrees not necessary. 24 A. L. J. 914=1926 A. 757=97 I. C. 277 (27 M. 40; 29 C. 644, Rel. on).

PAYMENT INTO COURT.—The payment must be in Court. No other settlement can be recognised. 12 P. R. 1913=16 I. C. 987; also 42 Mad. 61=35 M. L. J. 579. But see contra in 25 C. L. J. 553=21 C. W. No uncertified adjustment can be recognised, even though the adjustment was agreed upon even before the passing of the preliminary decree. 54 I. C. 137=37 M. L. J. 356.

MODE OF CALCULATION.—The period of six months fixed in the preliminary decree runs from the date of that decree and not from the date of dismissal of an appeal from that decree, in the absence of enlargement of time by the Appellate Court. 25 C. W. N. 440=36 C. L. J. 159. Also 37 I. C. 779; 104 I. C. 730=1927 Pat. 345=8 P. I. T. 597. When accounts are directed to be taken, the date of payment should be fixed within six months from the date of declaring in Court the amount due on taking accounts. 27 I. C. 813=21 C. L. J. 75.

In a suit for foreclosure if the plaintiff succeeds the Court shall either—

(1) pass a preliminary decree declaring the amount which will be due to the plaintiff on the mortgage for principal and interest (at the mortgage rate) six months from the date of the decree and for his costs of the suit (if any) awarded to him directing—

(a) that if the defendant within the said period pays into Court the said amount the plaintiff shall deliver up to the defendant or to such person as he appoints, all documents in his possession or power relating to the mortgaged property, and shall, if so required by the defendant, re-transfer to him, free from the mortgage and from all incumbrances created by the plaintiff or any person claiming under him, or, where the plaintiff claims by derived title, by those under whom he claims and shall also if necessary put the defendant in possession of the property, but

(b) that if such payment is not made within the said period the defendant shall be debarred from all right to redeem the property, or

(2) order that an account be taken of the amount due on the mortgage for principal and interest; and after the taking of the said account pass a preliminary decree as above.

[Bombay] Substitute for clause (d) of Rule 2 of Order XXXIV, the following :—

(d) that, if such payment is not made on or before the day to be fixed by the court the plaintiff shall be entitled to apply for a final decree for foreclosure under rule 3.

3. (1) Where, on or before the day fixed, the defendant pays into Court the amount declared due as aforesaid, together with such subsequent costs as are mentioned in rule 10, the Court shall pass a decree—

Final decree in foreclosure suit.

(a) ordering the plaintiff to deliver up the document which under the terms of the preliminary decree he is bound to deliver up, and, if so required—

(b) ordering him to re-transfer the mortgaged property as directed in the said decree and, also, if necessary—

(c) ordering him to put the defendant in possession of the property.

(2) Where such payment is not so made, the Court shall, on application made in that behalf by the plaintiff, pass a decree that the defendant and all persons claiming through or under him be debarred from all right to redeem the mortgaged property and also, if necessary, ordering the defendant to put the plaintiff in possession of the property :

Provided that the Court may, upon good cause shown and upon such terms (if any) as it thinks fit, from time to time, postpone the day fixed for such payment.

Power to enlarge time.

O. 34, B. 3.—Proceedings under rule 3 are proceedings in execution of a decree passed under R. 2. 27 M. 40. But see 42 I. C. 750=20 O. C. 268; also 39 Mad. 488=28 M. L. J. 491; 56 I. C. 583.

CONSENT DECREE.—A consent decree for instalment payment is not under Sec. 88 of the Transfer of Property Act and therefore execution can proceed even without a final decree. 10 I. C. 536=14 C. L. J. 648. But see contra 1922 Nag. 182.

EXTENSION OF TIME.—Payment after final decree cannot be accepted. 37 I. C. 779. The words "good cause" must be literally interpreted and is not to be assumed from non payment or delayed payment. 26 I. C. 701=10 N. L. R. 150. Extension is not a matter of right but is discretionary. 39 Mad. 882=31 I. C. 200. In foreclosure suits discretion must be exercised liberally. 90 I. C. 936. Where the appellate Court confirms the lower Court's decree, the time fixed in the preliminary decree runs from the date of the preliminary decree 16 I. C. 799=14 M. L. T. 194. See also 63 I. C. 799. The appellate Court can extend time for payment and fix a date itself independently of the lower Court's date. 66 I. C. 673=8 O. L. J. 407. The mortgagor has no absolute right to pay after day fixed even though no final decree has been made till such payment. 51 foreclosure absolute in proper form is made, the mortgagor can, upon a proper application, redeem the mortgage. 27 C. 705. And the mere fact that the mortgagee has been put in possession does not matter. 25 A. 231. See also 23 M. 133. The Court can extend time when an application for final decree is filed and no further separate application is necessary. 21 N. L. R. 47=1925 Nag. 291.

FINAL DECREE.—An application for final decree is expressly required and necessary. 1 Pat. L. J. 364=38 I. C. 38; also 51 I. C. 881=4 Pat. L. J. 347. No notice need be given to the judgment-debtor before the order absolute for foreclosure is made. 29 C. 644; see also 27 M. 40. But see 42 I. C. 750=20 O. C. 268. But an ex parte order can be set aside. 32 C. 253 (F. B.) The right to redeem revives even after foreclosure, if the mortgagee pursues his remedy on the personal covenant. 10 I. C. 748=13 Bom. L. LIMITATION.—When the mortgage decree is passed before the new C. P. Code an application for order absolute was governed by Art. 182 of the Limitation Act. 36 All. 350=27 M. L. J. 17=23 I. C. 649 (P. C.). Art. 181 of the Limitation Act

(3) On the passing of a decree under sub-rule (2) the debt secured by the mortgage shall be deemed to be discharged.

Discharge of debt.

[Bangoon] The following shall be substituted for sub-rule (1) of Rule 3 :—

"(1) Where the defendant pays into Court the amount declared due as aforesaid, within the said period together with such subsequent costs as are mentioned in Rule 10, the Court shall pass a decree—

(a) ordering the plaintiff to deliver up the documents which under the terms of the preliminary decree he is bound to deliver up, and, if so required—

(b) ordering him to re transfer the mortgaged property as directed in the said decree and, also, if necessary—

(c) ordering him to put the defendant in possession of the property"

4. (1) In a suit for sale, if the plaintiff succeeds, the Court shall pass a decree to the effect mentioned in clauses (a), (b) and (c), of rule 2 and also directing that, in default of the defendant paying as therein mentioned, the mortgaged property or a sufficient part thereof be sold and that the proceeds of the sale (after defraying thereout the expenses of the sale) be paid into Court and applied in payment of what is declared foreclosure. 3 Pat. L.T. 565=1 Pat. 415. But see contra 30 I.C. 719=42 Cal. 294. The passing of final decree is not a process in execution for the purpose of limitation. 39 Mad. 488=28 M. L. J. 491. There is no limitation for an application to pay money into Court as it is a continuing right till final decree. 25 I.C. 752=17 O.C. 347.

MERGER.—The mortgage debt merges in the final decree. 42 All. 364=47 I. A. 71=38 M. L. J. 419 (P. C.); 40 All. 407=45 I. A. 130=35 M. L. J. 1 (P.C.). See also 35 All. 250=18 I.C. 923. For the same reason no interest can be demanded on the mortgage amount after the mortgagee has purchased the properties in execution and been put in possession. 21 I. C. 593. On account of this merger no payment after the final decree can be taken to be a payment by way of redemption. 23 O.C. 334=60 I.C. 213. The merger does not affect the security though the security becomes merged in the decree. 27 I. C. 780=21 C. L. J. 104. The view that the prior mortgage subsists even after passing of the final decree is no longer law. Such a view was expressed in 44 I.C. 753=7 L.W. 420.

RIGHT OF REDEMPTION.—The right of redemption exists even after the preliminary decree till passing of final decree, even though the six months allowed has passed. 70 I. C. 152=26 C. W. N. 532; also 18 I.C. 357. The right of a puisne mortgagee to redeem survives even after a final decree in a suit by a prior mortgagor to which he was not a party. 49 Cal. 626=1922 Cal. 23. As to rights of a purchaser at a sale by prior mortgagee, when the decree in favour of the puisne mortgagee is allowed to be barred. See 83 I. C. 1033=1925 All. 6.

O. 34, R. 4.—Even in the case of anomalous mortgages a decree for sale and foreclosure can be passed. 18 I.C. 24. A decree under this rule is only a decree nisi and not a final decree, and the suit in which such a decree is passed does not terminate until an order absolute is made under R. 5. 23 A. 331; 29 A. 76. A combined decree cannot be passed under this rule and under R. 6. 31 C. 792. But see 25 A. 541; 29 A. 12. A decree under this rule must not order defendants personally to pay costs. 30 M. 464. Property comprised in the mortgage, which is subject to a charge for maintenance, can be sold. 29 A. 205. As to

R. 5 applies to a decree prepared under this rule when the decree directs the payment of the full amount due thereunder on a fixed date. 49 A. 297=1927 A. 167=100 I.C. 57. R. 4 has no application to compromise decrees providing for instalment payment. 49 A. 297. A compromise decree is enforceable according to its own terms. Under R. 5, payments out of Court can be investigated. 1 Pat. L. T. 416=57 I.C. 473=5 P. L. J. 672. A decree passed in accordance with a compromise is a final one and capable of execution. 55 I. C. 816=5 I.L.J. 67. Similarly a decree based on an award is itself executable. 4 Pat. L.T. 604=3 Pat. 221.

COMPOSITE DECREE.—When a decree is in the nature of a composite decree (a money decree with a lien on the property hypothecated, fixing a time for payment and in default ordering sale of property) no final decree is necessary. 7 Lah. L.J. 397=1925 Lah. 640. Preliminary decree is not executable—Personal liability of mortgagor arises only when proceeds of sale are insufficient—Decree under R. 6 necessary. 1926 Mad. 415=(1926) M.W.N. 143=50 M.L.J. 39=93 I.C. 99.

FINAL DECREE.—When passing a final decree the Court can recognise a payment made out of Court even though it has not been certified. 20 A.L.J. 602=44 All. 668. At the time of final decree the Court can set right any patent error or omission which is discovered in the preliminary decree. 38 All. 398=14 A.L.J. 502. [Bangoon] The following shall be substituted for sub-rule (1) of Rule 4 of O. XXXIV :—

In a suit for sale, if the plaintiff succeeds, the Court shall act as prescribed in Rule 2, except that instead of the direction contained in clause (b) thereof, there shall be the following direction.—

That if such payment is not made within the said period, the mortgaged property or a sufficient part thereof be sold and the proceeds of the sale (after defraying thereout the expenses of the sale) be paid into Court and applied in payment of what is due to the plaintiff as aforesaid together with subsequent interest on the said amount at the rate of six per cent. per annum from the last day of the said period up to the actual date of realization by the plaintiff and subsequent costs, and that the balance (if any) be paid to the defendant or other persons entitled to receive the same.

FORM OF DECREE.—Where sale is impossible, the Court can give directions for the disposal of the fund which represents the property. 20 C.L.J. 469=19 C. W. N. 537. This rule should not be overlooked in framing mortgage decrees. 20 P. L. R. 1915=26 I. C. 913. See also 103 I. C. 437=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 445. Preliminary decree made final by endorsement on preliminary decree—Absence of a formal decree is only a mere irregularity. 94 I.C. 58=1926 Lah. 364. Where in a mortgage suit interest is calculated at the contract rate up to the date of the dis datu the decree is subject to the rule of damdupat up to that date. 59 I.C. 121. LIMITATION.—Art. 181 of the Lim. Act applies to an application for the passing of the final decree. 48 I.C. 934=15 N. L. R. 36. There is no period of limitation for deposit of money directed by the preliminary decree. It can be paid at any time before the passing of the final decree. 9 O. L. J. 14=1922 Oudh 33. NATURE OF PROCEEDINGS.—Till passing of final decree the suit is considered pending. The suit will abate if the legal representatives of a deceased plaintiff are not brought on record. 40 All. 203=16 A.L.J. 85; also 33 I. C. 496=12 N. L.K. 50. A final decree against a mortgagor dead at the time is void and incapable of execution. 4 Pat. L. J. 240=50 I. C. 529=(1919) Pat. 105 (F.B.). An application for a final decree is not one in execution. A second application therefore cannot be regarded as revival of an application which has been disposed of. 43 I.C. 518=16 A.L.J. 143; see also 39 I.C. 849=13 N. L. R. 69. Where an ex parte mortgage decree is set aside, the suit would be considered pending during the period when the proceedings to set aside the ex parte decree were pending. 65 I.C. 709. The rule does not expressly provide for the issue of notice before passing of final decree; yet an ex parte decree in such a case is liable to be set aside. 1922 Nag. 175.

PAYMENT INTO COURT.—Where payment of a prior mortgage is directed before sale of mortgaged property, but does not specify the date of payment, the payment must be made within six months of the date of the decree. 41 All. 320=19 A.L.J. 83. If a mortgagor pays into Court the amount determined to be due, it is a good tender though it may be finally adjudged that a larger sum is due from him. 16 I.C. 374. The Court should take into account payments by the judgment-debtor out of Court for the purpose of determining the amount to be entered in the final decree. 1 P.L.T. 416=5 Pat. L. J. 672. CONSTRUCTION OF RULE.—See 29 M. 37; 28 A. 778.

CONSENT DECREE.—There is nothing in law which prohibits the payment for a compromise decree out of Court. 20 A.L.J. 602=44 All. 668. Strictly speaking this rule has no application to a compromise decree—Compromise decree—No final decree made.—Decree is executable 106 I. C. 395=A.I.R. 1928 Mad. 38. A mortgage of an impartible estate contrary to S. 4 of the Madras Act II of 1904 cannot be validated by the device of a consent decree. The mortgagor can resist an application for a final decree on the ground the mortgage was not binding. 50 I. C. 577=37 M.L.J. 65.

EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS.—A prior mortgagee getting a decree without impleading a puisne mortgagee can execute his decree for sale. 43 All. 204=61 I. C. 942 (F. B.). Execution proceedings do not terminate with sale. If sale proceeds are insufficient the holder may take further steps to recover the balance. 35 Bom. 452=18 Bom. L. R. 661. FINAL DECREE.—The Court-fee for an appeal against an order rejecting an application for a final decree is an ad valorem fee on the amount claimed. 57 I.C. 67; also 35 All. 476=11 A.L.J. 801. LIMITATION.—Art. 181 of the Lim. When prior to 1909 an application for an order absolute was barred under Art. 178 of the Lim. Act the present rule does not entitle the decree holder to apply for a final decree. 22 I.C. 40. When the time fixed for payment expired after the passing of the Code but the preliminary decree was passed prior thereto, Art. 182 applies. 48 I. C. 32=5 O. L. J. 572. But see contra 41 I. C. 858=20 O. C. 205. A final decree in a mortgage suit can be pending after disposal of the appeal. A. I. R. 1926 All. 291=92 I.C. 608. When after the limitation period has run against the plaintiff, one of the defendants applies to set aside the preliminary decree, this fact does not revive the plaintiff's right to apply for final decree. 87 I.C. 746=1925 Cal. 1030.

ORDER ABSOLUTE.—On the passing of an order absolute for sale, the mortgage right is extinguished and only the right under the decree subsists. 40 All. 407=45 I. A. 130=35 M. L. J. 1=28 C. L. SECOND ORDER.—A second order absolute for sale can be obtained for the amount for which the first order was obtained, including the interest since accrued due. 25 A. 264. Also for selling portion of mortgaged property not sold under the first order. 25 A. 212.

POWERS OF COURT.—This rule says nothing about the specification of the mortgaged property. All it says is that the mortgaged property which the plaintiff is entitled to sell shall be sold. 38 All. 398 = 34 I. C. 79. The Court may direct that the interest of the mortgagor shall be put up for sale in the first instance, and if insufficient, then his son's, if the son also promised to pay the amount. 36 Bom. 68 = 13 Bom. Properties belonging to a stranger vendee from the mortgagor need not be sold prior to selling those of the judgment-debtor.

22 M. L. J. 125 = 12 I. C. 429. Applications for passing final decree could be dismissed on the ground that list of mortgage property was not given and because of mistake calculating interest. 49 A. 592 = 1927 A. 439 = 101 I. C. 676 = 25 A. L. J. 437.

RIGHT OF REDEMPTION.—Till actual sale the right of redemption subsists. 18 A. L. J. 622 = 42 A. 517 ; also 9 I. C. 158. But see contra 43 I. C. 399. A final decree for sale if not executed within the period of time allowed by law will not bar a subsequent suit by mortgagor to redeem. 86 I. C. 527 = 1925 Mad. 1191. The right of a subsequent mortgagee who is a party to a suit on a prior mortgage, to redeem the prior mortgage continues only up to the date of the confirmation of the sale in execution of the decree obtained in that suit. 1 P. APPEAL.—See 25 M. 244 (F.B.).

O. 34, R. 6.—The object of the present rule is to benefit the mortgagor and if he waives his right by consenting to a money decree he cannot subsequently object to the mortgage property being sold in execution of such decree. 9 I. C. 939 = 9 M. L. T. 261.

SCOPE OF.—This rule does not apply where the mortgaged property has been sold under a decree held by some other persons. 22 A. 404. The Court which can pass a decree under this rule is the Court which passed the decree under R. 4. 27 C. 272. Decrees passed under this rule are supplemental decrees, separate and distinct from the original decree. 21 C. 26. Where a mortgage decree merely declared a charge on the properties, defendant otherwise than out of the property sold, the Court may pass a decree for such amount.

it is to be construed as a decree for sale and the present rule is applicable thereto. 30 I.C. 280 = 2 L. W. 689. The words "such sale" refer to the sale under K. 5. 33 C. 890; 28 A. 674. The words "the amount due" include costs. 30 M. 464.

APPLICATION.—An application under this rule does not in any way resemble an application for attachment of property. 24 I.C. 35 = 18 C.W.N. 492. An application under this rule is an application in the suit. 33 C. at p. 873. But see 25 M. 244 and 21 A. 453. When a combined decree has been passed, an application under this rule is unnecessary. 33 M. L. J. 543 = 42 I.C. 282; also 25 I. C. 50 = (1914) M. W. N. 497; 27 I. C. 72 = 18 O.C. 55; 25 I. C. 121 = 17 O.C. 153. When a right to proceed under this rule has not been determined in the suit, an application under this rule can be objected to on the ground that part of the decree amount was barred at the time of suit. 46 I. C. 892. The question of personal liability can be decided at the time the suit is decided, and the matter so decided is res judicata when an application under this rule is made. 28 A. 365.

FORUM.—The supplemental decree can be passed only by the Court in which the original suit was instituted. 33 M. L. J. 382 = 42 I. C. 953.

COMBINED DECREE.—The decree for sale can also provide that if the proceeds of sale are insufficient, the balance can be collected personally. 47 Cal. 370 = 36 M.L.J. 215 = 46 I.A. 294 (P.C.); also 43 Mad. 421 = 38 M.L.J. 203. In a combined decree it is not proper to direct that in default of payment, the plaintiff can recover the decree amount by sale of the properties. 24 Bom.L.R. 843 = 1923 Bom. 32. Where a preliminary decree provided also for personal decree for any 'legally' realisable balance, and the final decree omitted it, held, it is not a combined decree, the question whether any legally realisable balance exists, being yet to be determined. 53 I.C. 904 = 23 C. W.N. 924. When once such a decree is passed it cannot be questioned in execution proceedings. 24 I. C. 195 = 27 M. L. J. 25. When the decree provides for a personal remedy, the executing Court cannot enquire into defendant's personal liability. 32 I. C. 820. When a combined decree is passed the personal remedy may be availed of even before sale of the properties. 22 I.C. 293; 10 I. C. 975; 26 M.L.J. 83 = 21 I. C. 782.

COSTS.—A mortgagee decree-holder can realise his decree for costs otherwise than by proceeding under S. 90, T. P. Act. if the Court has passed a personal decree for costs. 15 I. C. 23 = 16 C.W. N. 731. Where the mortgaged property has been sold and found insufficient, a personal decree for costs is available. 12 M.L.T. 312 = 17 I.C. 244. Unless the decree otherwise provides, the costs may be recovered from the sale proceeds of the mortgaged property. 38 I. C. 241 = 2 P. I. J. 51.

LIMITATION.—A personal decree under this rule can be passed within six years from the date provided in the mortgage bond for payment. 17 A. L. J. 647 = 50 I. C. 640. An application for a personal decree may be made even after six years from the date of the bond provided the suit has been filed within 6 years from the date of the bond. 27 I. C. 770 = 2 L. W. 66. Art. 181 does not apply to an application under this rule. 30 I. C. 719 = 42 Cal. 294. But see contra in 21 I. C. 530 = (1913) M. W. N. 867; also 39 I. C. 854 = 13 N. L. R. 76; 10 I. C. 21. Sale in pursuance of mortgage decree subsequently held void—Application for personal decree three years after that is barred. 1927 M. 941 = 97 I.C. 502 = 24 L. W. 285 = (1926) M. W. N. 574.

NOTICE.—Before making a decree under this rule, it is right to issue notice to the judgment-debtor to show cause, except possibly in cases where decree has made him personally liable. 35 I. C. 288 = 9 Bur. L. T. 245. Where the Court has to decide whether the execution of the decree should proceed without a supplemental decree under this rule an order without notice to the judgment-debtor directing execution to issue cannot be supported. 56 I.C. 801 = 31 C. L. J. 382; also 17 I. C. 927 = 16 C. L. J. 394; 30 I. C. 188 = 29 M. L. J. 120.

PERSONAL LIABILITY.—A personal decree cannot be obtained against a purchaser of the equity of redemption. 34 All. 63 = 39 I. A. 7 = 21 M. L. J. 1158 (P. C.); also 38 All. 209 = 14 A.L. J. 151; 17 C. W. N. 457 = 17 C. L. J. 120; 95 I. C. 970 (2) = 1923 P. C. 54. The secured creditor of a Hindu widow, on the security proving insufficient to satisfy his decree thereon, is entitled to proceed against the other properties. 85 I. C. 963 = 1925 All. 352. A minor mortgagee cannot get a decree under this rule against a puisne mortgagee for the costs due. 23 A. 439; 29 A. 12; see also 31 B. 244; 29 A. 260; 26 A. 93; 26 A. 25. An ex parte decree for personal liability against a person other than the mortgagor can be set aside. 60 I. C. 368 = 2 Pat. L. T. 251. An unsuccessful mortgagor-appellant must personally pay the costs of appeal but the mortgagee can also add it to the security. 41 All. 473 = 17 A. L. J. 582. The personal liability of a mortgagor when arises, see 50 Cal. 718 = 1924 Cal. 209. A personal decree can be made against the mortgagor at the appellate stage. 26 C. W. N. 318 = 1922 Cal. 52 (47 Cal. 370, follow). A decree under O. 34, R. 6 can only be made against defendants in the original suit. 1927 All. 691 = 103 I. C. 264 (1). A Court cannot direct that no property other than those mortgaged be sold. Whether the other properties can be proceeded against is to be determined under an application under this rule. 23 I.C. 389. When the mortgage decree directs that the defendants 'do pay' they are personally liable. (1918) M. W. N. 146 = 43 I. C. 871 = 7 L. W. 36. When in a compromise decree there is no provision taking away the personal liability, the mortgagor was personally liable, if sale proceeds were found insufficient. 88 I. C. 507. Personal liability is ordinarily presumed to exist in the absence of a contract to the contrary. The right to proceed against the person must be specifically reversed by the decree itself. 42 I. C. 288 = 6 L. W. 692; 26 M.L.J. 375 = 23 I. C. 544; (1927) M.W.N. 330. But see A.L.R. 1927 M. 779 = 53 M.L.J. 489 = 103 I.C. 528 = 39 M.L.T. 22. A personal relief against a defendant includes a relief against any property in his possession. 27 I. C. 72 = 18 O. C.

Preliminary decree in redemption suit.

7. In a suit for redemption, if the plaintiff succeeds, the Court shall pass a decree—

(a) ordering that an account be taken of what will be due to the defendant for principal and interest on the mortgage, and for his costs of the suit (if any) awarded to him on the day next hereinafter referred to, or

(b) declaring the amount so due at the date of such decree, and directing—

(c) that, if the plaintiff pays into Court the amount so due on a day within six months from the date of declaring in Court the amount so due, to be fixed by the Court, the defendant shall deliver up to the plaintiff, or to such person as he appoints, all documents in his possession or power relating to the mortgaged property, and shall, if so required, re-transfer the property to the plaintiff free from the mortgage and from all incumbrances created by the defendant or any person claiming under him, or, where the defendant claims by derived title, by those under whom he claims, and shall, if necessary, put the plaintiff in possession of the property, but

55. A formal decree under this rule is necessary even where the original compromise decree declared the other properties too as being liable. 48 I. C. 608=3 Pat. L.J. 649. Consent decree providing for further execution in case proceeds of sale of certain properties were found insufficient—No need for applying for further decree under O. 34, R. 6. 5 O. W. N. 135.

RIGHT TO PERSONAL DECREE.—Right to personal decree accrues when final decree is made though personal decree can be made only after exhausting property by sale. 54 I. A. 129=54 Cal. 500=101 I. C. 24=1927 P. C. 73=52 M. L. J. 565 (P. C.). See also 25 A. L. J. 1042=A. I. R. 1928 All. 71. If a person entitled to bring the properties to sale under a decree neglects and allows a third person having no such rights to sell a portion of the property, he cannot afterwards be allowed to have a relief under this rule. 20 I. C. 320. The Court has a discretion in refusing a personal remedy when the mortgagee wilfully omits to sell the hypotheca. 48 I. C. 322=45 Cal. 702; also 38 M. L. J. 93=51 I. C. 34. A personal decree cannot be granted where the mortgagor is found to have no rights in the properties mortgaged even before sale. 14 I. C. 591=9 A. L. J. 569. But see contra 38 Mad. 677=23 I. O. 34, R. 7.—Scope of the rule, see 23 Bom. L. R. 1176=46 Bom. 348; 84 I. C. 67=1925 Lah. 71. This rule applies only to a mortgagee and has no application to the case of a co-mortgagor who has redeemed the entire mortgage. 1923 Lah. 122. As to distinction between deposits under this rule and under Sec. 83, T. P. Act, see 2 O. W. N. 826. Under O. 34, R. 7 (c) the money should be paid into Court. As to validity of payment made outside court see 102 I. C. 428=1927 Oudh 275. When deposit is made to discharge a valid mortgage a final decree itself may be passed without being preceded by a preliminary decree. 1922 All. 479. A mortgagor decree-holder who fails to pay within date fixed but pays it before the decree is made absolute, is entitled to redeem. 29 I. C. 438.

(d) that, if such payment is not made on or before the day to be fixed by the Court, the plaintiff shall (unless the mortgage is simple or usufructuary) be debarred from all right to redeem or (unless the mortgage is by conditional sale) that the mortgaged property be sold.

[Bombay.] For clause (d) of rule 7 of Order 34, substitute “(d) that, if such payment is not made on or before the day fixed by the Court, the defendant shall be entitled to apply for a final decree for sale or foreclosure under Rule 8.”

[Rangoon.] The following shall be substituted for R. 7 of O. 34 :—

In a suit for redemption, if the plaintiff succeeds, the Court shall either—

(j) pass a preliminary decree declaring the amount which will be due to the defendant on the mortgage for principal and interest at the mortgage rate six months from the date of the decree and for his costs of the suit (if any) awarded to him and directing,—

(a) that if the plaintiff within the said period pays into Court the said amount, the defendant shall deliver up to the plaintiff or to such person as he appoints all documents in his possession or power relating to the mortgaged property, and shall, if so required, re-transfer the property to the plaintiff free from the mortgage and from all incumbrances created by the defendant or any person claiming under him, or, where the defendant claims by derived title, by those under whom he claims and shall, if necessary, put the plaintiff in possession of the property, but

(b) that if such payment is not made within the said period the plaintiff shall (unless the mortgage is simple or usufructuary) be debarred from all right to redeem, or (unless the mortgage is by conditional sale) that the mortgaged property be sold, or

(2) order that an account be taken of the amount due to the defendant on the mortgage for principal and interest and after the taking of the said account, pass a preliminary decree as above.

8. (1) Where, on or before the day fixed, the plaintiff pays into Court the amount declared due as aforesaid, together with such subsequent costs as are mentioned in, rule 10, the Court shall pass a decree—

Final decree in redemption suit.

(a) ordering the defendant to deliver up the documents which under the terms of the preliminary decree he is bound to deliver up, and, if so required,—

(b) ordering him to re-transfer the mortgaged property as directed in the said decree, and also, if necessary,—

(c) ordering him to put the plaintiff in possession of the property.

[Rangoon.] The following shall be substituted for sub-rule (1) of Rule 8 of O. 34 :—

Where the plaintiff pays into Court the amount due as aforesaid within the said period together with such subsequent costs as are mentioned in Rule 10 the Court shall pass a decree—

(a) ordering the defendant to deliver up the document which under the terms of the preliminary decree he is bound to deliver up,— and, if so required,—

(b) ordering him to re-transfer the mortgage property as directed in the said decree, and also, if necessary,—

(c) ordering him to put the plaintiff in possession of the property.

SUIT.—A separate suit for mesne profits after date of payment fixed in the preliminary decree would lie. 2 O. W. N. 826.

ACCOUNTS.—Only an interlocutory order and not a decree for accounts can be passed prior to preliminary decree. 23 A. L. J. 691=47 A. 803. An interlocutory order should be followed by specification of consequence of payment or non-payment of the ascertained amount on a day fixed. to make it a preliminary decree. 10 O. L. J. 374=1924 Oudh 140. When a preliminary decree fixes the amount due instead of directing an account to be taken, it does not become a final decree. 22 C. W. N. 374=44 Cal. 448. Cf. 10 O. L. J. 374=1924 Oudh 140; see 87 I.C. 585=1925 All. 402.

LIMITATION.—Suit for recovery of over-payment or surplus profits from usufructuary mortgagee is governed by Art. 148 of the Lim. Act. 26 C. W. N. 123=1922 Cal. 189. As to form of decree where a sub-mortgagee is a party see 4 O. L. J. 475=42 I. C. 66.

O. 34, R. 8. SCOPE.—This rule applies to redemption suits only. 18 A. L. J. 771=43 A. 25. Cf. 35 All. 116=11 A. L. J. 62. The proviso applies only to cl. (4) and not to cl. (1). When the mortgagee has taken no action himself the proviso would not apply if the mortgagor makes payment of the money due under the decree. 28 O. C. 261=90 I. C. 418. Sub-rule (4) authorises a decree for sale only on application by the mortgagee. 146 P. W. R. 1913=19 I. C. 856; also 28 O. C. 46=1925 Oudh 255. A final decree could be passed under O. 34, R. 8 (1) both at the instance of mortgagor as well as mortgagee. A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 32=28 Bom. L. R. 1325=50 Bom. 730=98 I. C. 943. The mortgagor himself can apply for sale in a redemption suit. If he does not pay the amount, the suit need not be dismissed. 36 Mad. 32=21 M. L. J. 941. Condi-

(2) Where such payment is not so made, and the mortgage is not simple or usufructuary, the Court shall, on application made in that behalf by the defendant, pass a decree that the plaintiff and all persons claiming through or under him be debarred from all right to redeem the mortgaged property and also, if necessary, ordering the plaintiff to put the defendant in possession of the property.

(3) On the passing of a decree under sub-rule (2) the debt secured by the mortgage shall be deemed to be discharged.

(4) Where such payment is not so made, and the mortgage is not by conditional sale, the Court shall, on application made in that behalf by the defendant, pass a decree that the mortgaged property or a sufficient part thereof be sold and that the proceeds of the sale (after defraying thereout the expenses of the sale) be paid into Court and applied in payment of what is found due to the defendant, and that the balance (if any) be paid to the plaintiff or other persons entitled to receive the same :

Power to enlarge time. Provided that the Court may, upon good cause shown and upon such terms (if any) as it thinks fit, from time to time postpone the day fixed for payment.

9. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, if it appears, upon taking the account referred to in rule 7, that nothing is due to the defendant or that he has been overpaid, the Court shall pass a decree directing the defendant, if so required, to re-transfer the property and to pay to the plaintiff the amount which may be found due to him : and the plaintiff shall, if necessary, be put in possession of the mortgaged property.

Decree where nothing is found due or where mortgagee has been overpaid.

shall pass a decree directing the defendant, if so required, to re-transfer the property and to pay to the plaintiff the amount which may be found due to him : and the plaintiff shall, if necessary, be put in possession of the mortgaged property.

tional decree in redemption suit—Condition not fulfilled—Provisions of R. 8 not complied with by decree holder—No final decree—A second suit for redemption is maintainable. 1927 Lah. 9=7 Lah. 420=27 Punj. L. R. 659 (5 L. 371=1923 Lah. 680, Foll.)

N.B.—The words "and the mortgage is not simple or usufructuary" in sub-rule (2) follow the ruling in 29 A. 481.

FORUM.—The application under sub-rule (4) must be made to the Court of First Instance even when the decree under R. 7 has been made by the appellate Court. 23 A. 88 ; 23 M. 521 ; also 39 All. 396=39 I. C. 630 ; 39 Mad. 876=29 M. L. J. 708.

EXTENSION OF TIME.—According to the T. P. Act prior to passing of the new C.P. Code payment may be made before an order absolute, but according to the Code an extension of time has to be obtained. 9 I.C. 337=14 O.C. 10. The time allowed for payment can be enlarged ; and this can be done even after the time originally given has expired. 28 B. 102 ; 26 B. at p. 126. Delayed payment may be accepted if no loss is caused to the mortgagee. 50 I.C. 201=6 O.L.J. 94 ; 101 I. C. 734=130 L.J. 828. Time cannot be enlarged merely because an appeal is preferred against the decree which is afterwards dismissed or withdrawn. 17 C.W.N. 457 ; 17 C.L.J. 120 ; also 41 I.C. 268=32 M.L.J. 455. But a party who is not bound to perform anything under the decree and who appeals to enlarge his interests under the decree is entitled to reckon the period in his favour from date of appellate decree. 41 I.C. 268=32 M. L. J. 455. A separate application for enlargement is not needed. 26 B. 126. Where in a partition suit an alienation was impeached as not binding and the alienee was made a party and the court directed possession from alienee, on payment of a certain amount and he defaulted, time can be extended for payment. 37 M.L.J. 695=43 Mad. 357. The Court cannot extend time when the decree was a compromise decree by which possession was to be delivered if payment was made on a particular date and in default possession of the mortgagee was to continue. 28 I.C. 862=18 O.C. 58. When time for payment is extended interest at contract rate ought to be paid for the time extended. 9 O.L.J. 439=1922 Oudh 268. Laches on the part of mortgagee—Extension of time allowed. 100 I. C. 1039=1927 Bom. 175=29 Bom. L. R. 228.

LIMITATION.—There is no period of limitation for passing a final decree in a redemption suit. 22 I.C. 253. For an application under cl (4), Art. 181 of the Lim. Act would apply. 28 O. C. 46=1925 Oudh 255. The mortgagor could execute the decree at any time within limitation. If he failed, he would have the right to sue again for redemption so long as his right to redeem remained alive. 146 P.W.R. 1913=19 I.C. 856. So long as no final decree for sale or foreclosure is passed the mortgagor had the right to pay the amount due under the preliminary decree even beyond 12 years from the date fixed for payment under the consent preliminary decree. 28 O. C. 26=40 I. C. 418. No notice need be given to kanamdar after decree for redemption and before delivery of possession to the mortgagor. 45 M. L. J. 687=1924 M. 102.

ACCOUNTS.—In a decree for redemption, accounts must be carried forward up to the date when possession is given. 16 I.C. 184. The relationship of mortgagor and mortgagee subsists even after preliminary decree and the mortgagee should account for rents and profits. 42 I.C. 230. After the decree for redemption the Court should see that all the rights acquired by the mortgagee are transferred to the mortgagor. 57 I. C. 763. Final decree should be for mortgage amount minus excess profits. 103 I. C. 290=1927 Nag. 302.

APPEAL.—An order granting time is appealable. 35 All. 116=18 I. C. 14. But no second appeal lies. 47 Bom. 956=25 Bom. L. R. 920.

10. In finally adjusting the amount to be paid to a mortgagee in case of a foreclosure or sale or redemption, the Court shall, unless the conduct of the mortgagee has been such as to disentitle him to costs, add to the mortgage-money such costs of suit as have been properly incurred by him since the decree for foreclosure or sale or redemption up to the time of actual payment.

11. Where property is mortgaged for successive debts to successive mortgagees, any mesne mortgagee may institute a suit to redeem the interests of the prior mortgagees and to foreclose the rights of those that are posterior to himself and of the mortgagor.

12. Where any property the sale of which is directed under this Order is subject to a prior mortgage, the Court may, with the consent of the prior mortgagee, direct that the property be sold free from the same, giving to such prior mortgagee the same interest in the proceeds of the sale as he had in the property sold.

13. (1) Such proceeds shall be brought into Court and applied as follows :—

Application of proceeds. first, in payment of all expenses incident to the sale or properly incurred in any attempted sale ;

secondly, in payment of whatever is due to the prior mortgagee on account of the prior mortgage, and of costs, properly incurred in connection therewith ;

thirdly, in payment of all interest due on account of the mortgage in consequence whereof the sale was directed, and of the costs of the suit in which the decree directing the sale was made ;

fourthly, in payment of the principal money due on account of that mortgage ; and lastly, the residue (if any) shall be paid to the person proving himself to be interested in the property sold, or if there are more such persons than one, then to such persons according to their respective interests therein or upon their joint receipt.

O. 34, R. 10. Costs which should have been included in the final decree and not so included are not claimable in execution. 44 A. 350=20 A. L. J. 170. Costs allowed in decree form part of the mortgage debt. 24 I. C. 63=12 A. L. J. 645. See 88 I. C. 329=1925 All. 68. O. 34, R. 10, C. P. C., has nothing to do with the costs awarded execution proceedings. 48 A. 682=1926 All. 722 (1)=97 I. C. 592.

COSTS IN APPEAL.—The decree for costs in appeal if personal. 19 I. C. 384. But see contra in 48 I. C. 329. Where an appeal was dismissed with costs and meanwhile the final decree was passed by the lower Court, the appellant would be personally liable for the costs. 24 I. C. 873. But see 93 I. C. 223=1926 All. 343 contra. Where only one of the defendants appealed, costs awarded are against him personally. 19 I. C. 729. Where an application is made for a final decree after an appellate decree for costs is passed against one defendant alone, the decree-holder cannot ask for the costs of appeal to be included with the amount finally held due. 20 I. C. 42=11 A. L. J. 975.

O. 34, R. 11.—A second mortgagee is entitled to the same rights as the first mortgagee with reference to his security having regard to the nature of his mortgage. 21 M. L. J. 513=9 I. C. 513. A puisne mortgagee is not bound to redeem.

If he does not elect to do so the prior mortgagees' right to sell the property is paramount as against him. 9 I. C. 403=14 O. C. 217.

O. 34, R. 12.—The provisions of this rule apply to usufructuary mortgages. 30 M. 438. The rights of a prior mortgagee though ex parte, can be determined in a suit by the puisne mortgagee. 27 I. C. 164. A sale without reference to a prior mortgagee and without his consent free of his mortgage is irregular. 19 I. C. 2=6 Bur. L. T. 72. A puisne mortgagee has no power to sell free of the prior mortgage without the consent of the prior mortgagee who therefore can subsequently sue on his own mortgage. 47 Cal. 662=47 I. A. 11=38 M. L. J. 424 (P. C.). It is not necessary that the decree should reserve rights admitted by the parties and order the sale to be subject to them. As to how a decree which omits to reserve such rights is to be construed, see 29 M. 84. A sale cannot be held subject to a puisne mortgage, whether the same is in favour of a third party or the decree-holder. 25 M. at p. 114.

O. 34, R. 13.—Rule applies to sales held free of prior mortgages and the principle of the rule applies also to the appropriation of sale proceeds held subject to a mortgage. 28 I. C. 691=25 M. L. J. 552. A puisne mortgagee who is not a party to the suit can claim the surplus sale proceeds. 90 I. C. 410.

(2) Nothing in this rule or in rule 12 shall be deemed to affect the powers conferred by section 57 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882.

14. (1) Where a mortgagee has obtained a decree for the payment of money in satisfaction of a claim arising under the mortgage, he shall not be entitled to bring the mortgaged property to sale otherwise than by instituting a suit for sale in enforcement of the mortgage, and he may institute such suit notwithstanding anything contained in Order 2, Rule 2.

(2) Nothing in sub-rule (1) shall apply to any territories to which the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, has not been extended.

O. 34, R. 14. SCOPE.—Difference between the provisions of this rule and Sec. 99, T.P. Act, is that by the repeal of Sec. 99, a mortgagee can sell the mortgaged property on a claim unconnected with the mortgage. See (1925) M.W.N. 907=49 M.L.J. 643; 33 M.L.J. 601=6 L.W. 701; also 35 Bom. 248=13 Bom. L.R. 245. This rule is an exception to O. 2, R. 2. The personal remedy under a personal covenant in a mortgage-deed, cannot be had by sale of the property mortgaged. 63 I.C. 303. Also 2 P.L.J. 55=38 I.C. 791. The rule applies to enforcement of a charge for rent payable in money to the landlord by tenant. 39 M.L.J. 30=43 Mad. 786. See contra 48 I.C. 694=42 Mad. 114; 1927 Cal. 884=104 I.C. 353 (1)=55 Cal. 104. The rule does not apply to the case of a mortgage which did not or which could not come into operation. 55 I.C. 417. An order directing security to pay does not amount to a decree for the payment of money within this rule. 38 I.C. 130. A sale in contravention of S. 99 is merely irregular and is valid unless set aside before confirmation. 97 I.C. 256 (37 A. 165; 35 C. 61; 47 Cal 377, Foll.).

MEANING OF TERMS.—'Mortgagee' in this rule means the holder of a subsisting and effective mortgage. 39 All. 86=14 A. L. J. 902. The words "bringing the property to sale" include not only all the steps preliminary to sale but the sale itself. 41 I.C. 71=45 Cal. 530. Only sale should not be held, attachment in execution of money decree is not prohibited. 18 I.C. 201=4 O. L. J. 571.

CHARGE.—Rule applies only where the charge was created prior to decree. 46 I.C. 169. Also (1925) M.W.N. 907=49 M.L.J. 643. Where the mortgagee pays Government revenue to protect his mortgage lien, his remedy is by suit under this order. 5 P.L.J. 248=1 P.L. T. 225. A charge created by will not compulsorily registrable, whose terms the auction purchaser could not be cognizant of, cannot be enforced against the latter. 23 I.C. 867=1 O. L. J. 43.

CLAIM UNDER MORTGAGE.—A mortgagee granting lease of the property to the mortgagor cannot bring to sale the property, under a rent decree based on the lease. To escape this rule, the claim should be unconnected with the mortgage transaction. 1 P.L. T. 694=57 I.C. 384. Also 41 All. 399=17 A. L. J. 481; 1925 Mad. 127=47 M. L. J. 798; 44 Bom. 366=22 Bom. L. R. 131. See contra 47 Cal. 377=24 C. W. N. 229 (F.B.). A decree for costs in a suit for possession by mortgagee against mortgagor can be executed by sale of the equity of redemption. It is not a claim arising under the mortgage. 35 All. 518=11 A. L. J. 841. Also 20 I.C. 898=16 O.C. 350. A decree-holder seeking to execute his decree for costs of the Privy Council against the property offered as security must proceed by suit as it is a claim arising under the mortgage. 27 I.C. 365=19 C.W.N. 178. A decree-holder getting a money decree on a mortgage bond with a declaration of lien on the property cannot bring the property to sale but must sue on the basis of the declared lien. 40 I.C. 230=25 C.L.J. 354. A security bond for due performance of appellate decree can be enforced in execution. 18 I.C. 900=17 C.L.J. 267 (F.B.) Also (1925) M. W. N. 907=49 M. L. J. 643. A mortgagee can very well purchase the equity of redemption sold in execution of a money decree by a stranger. 43 I.C. 212=27 C. L. J. 431. A mortgagee can sell the mortgaged property in execution, in a claim unconnected with the mortgage. 30 I. C. 988=42 Cal. 780; 18 P. R. 1916=33 I. C. 802; 20 I. C. 523=7 S. L. R. 11; 27 W.N. 38=37 C.L.J. 265.

MONEY-DECREES.—Where in a suit for sale only a money decree was passed, the mortgage having been held to be unenforceable, this rule does not bar sale in execution of the money decree. 18 A. L. J. 677=42 All. 566. Also 41 M. L. J. 160=14 L. W. 331; 19 A. L. J. 728=43 A. 677. A sale in execution of a money decree for the mortgage debt in favour of the mortgagee can be set aside in a redemption suit by the mortgagor even after confirmation of sale. 46 I. C. 493=28 C. L. J. 151; also 36 All. 516=12 A. L. J. 855. But see contra 37 All. 165=13 A.L.J. 138 (F.B.). Also 41 Bom. 357=19 Bom. L.R. 75; 47 Cal. 377=24 C. W. N. 229 (F.B.); 18 P.R. 1916=33 I. C. 802; 15 I. C. 589. The mortgagee purchaser in contravention of this rule is not a trustee for the mortgagor. 50 I. C. 472=(1919) Pat. 92. Also see 47 Cal. 377=24 C. W. N. 229 (F.B.). But when in a consent decree a charge was created, the decree can directly be executed and no separate suit to enforce the charge is necessary. 35 C. L. J. 61=1922 Cal. 35. Also 2 Pat. 787; 103 I. C. 449 contra in 22 Bom. L. R. 650=44 Bom. 981. It can have no application where the charge is created by the decree itself. 43 Bom. 631=21 Bom. L. R. 698. The rule does not apply to a case where a money decree is given under a different mortgage. 49 Bom. 208=27 Bom. L. R. 202. A maintenance decree-holder can proceed in execution against the property charged under the maintenance decree. 47 I. C. 670=23 M. L. T. 355. Also 6 Pat. L. T. 802=4 Pat. 693. Under this rule property given as security in a compromise decree

Charges.

[Ordh] In Order 34, Rule 15 read Rule 15 as Rule 15 (1) and add the following as Rule 15 (2) :—

“(2) Where a decree orders payment of money and charges it on immoveable property on default of payment, the amount can be realised by sale of that property in execution of that very decree.”

ORDER XXXV.

INTERPLEADER.

Plaint in interpleader-suits.

1. [S. 471.] In every suit of interpleader the plaintiff shall, in addition to the other statements necessary for complaints, state—

(a) that the plaintiff claims no interest in the subject-matter in dispute other than for charges or costs ;

(b) the claims made by defendants severally ; and

(c) that there is no collusion between the plaintiff and any of the defendants.

Payment of thing claimed into Court

2. [S. 472.] Where the thing claimed is capable of being paid into Court or placed in the custody of the Court, the plaintiff may be required to so pay or place it before he can be entitled to any order in the suit.

Procedure where defendant is suing plaintiff.

3. [S. 476.] Where any of the defendants in an interpleader-suit is actually suing the plaintiff in respect of the subject-matter of such suit the Court in which the suit against the plaintiff is pending shall, on being informed by the Court in which the interpleader-suit has been instituted, stay the proceedings as against him ; and his costs in the suit so stayed may be provided for in such suit ; but if, and in so far as, they are not provided for in that suit they may be added to his costs incurred in the interpleader-suit.

Procedure at first hearing.

4. [S. 473.] (1) At the first hearing the Court may—

(a) declare that the plaintiff is discharged from all liability to the defendants in respect of the thing claimed, award him his costs, and dismiss him from the suit ; or could not be subject to sale in execution of the decree. 1 P. L. W. 69 = 37 I. C. 397. The rule does not prevent sale of the mortgaged property of a surety under a compromise decree where the suit was for money. 38 All. 327 = 14 A.L.J. 385. Where security is given to a Court itself, a fresh suit upon the security is not necessary. The security can be realised in execution. 30 C. W. N. 683 = 95 I. C. 908 = 1926 Cal. 889. An arrangement for the maintenance payable by a zamindar and his heirs to the junior members creates a charge on the assets of the zamindary. 42 Mad. 581 = 36 M. L. J. 164 = 23 C. W. N. 549 (P. C.). The limitation period to set aside sale in contravention of this rule is 3 years. 1920 Pat. 259. Cf. 41 I. C. 533 = 2 Pat. L. J. 587. Where a person hypothecates his properties as security for mesne profits that might be awarded by an Appellate Court and executes a bond without naming the obligee, a suit to enforce the obligation against the surety is not maintainable. The remedy is by application in the original suit itself to make the surety a party and pass a decree against him for mesne profits. 42 All. 158 = 46 I. A. 228 = 33 M. L. J. 302 = 22 Bom. L. R. 521 (P. C.).

O. 34, R. 15.—The rule applies to enforcement of a charge payable in money. 39 M. L. J. 30 = 43 M. 786. Because the words of Sec. 100 of the T. P. Act are very wide the provisions of S. 68 as to the liability of a mortgagor apply to a person creating a mere charge also. 33 I. C. 321 = 27 M. L. J. 494.

O. 35, R. 1.—Interpleader-suit—Interest sufficient to disentitle plaintiff from suing—Applicability of English Law. See 4 R. 465. Where a mortgagee does not deny an assignment by him of his rights under the bond but contends that it is void, the mortgagor is not bound to bring an interpleader-suit making the mortgagee and his assignee to interplead as between them. (33 Mad. 123, Dist. ; 1 L. W. 419 = 15 M.L.T. 331 ; 23 I.C. 607 = 27 M. L. J. 134.

O. 35, R. 2.—Investment of money deposited in Court pending decision with a party is objectionable as the successful party is entitled to the money from the Court without further proceeding. 24 M.L.J. 404 = 19 I. C. 219.

O. 35, R. 4.—Interpleader suit—Non-appearance of Claimants—Procedure. 53 I.C. 365 = 21 Bom. L. R. 948.

(b) if it thinks that justice or convenience so require, retain all parties until the final disposal of the suit.

(2) Where the Court finds that the admissions of the parties or other evidence enable it to do so, it may adjudicate the title to the thing claimed.

(3) Where the admissions of the parties do not enable the Court so to adjudicate, it may direct—

(a) that an issue or issues between the parties be framed and tried, and

(b) that any claimant be made a plaintiff in lieu of or in addition to the original plaintiff, and shall proceed to try the suit in the ordinary manner.

5. [S. 474.] Nothing in this Order shall be deemed to enable agents to sue their principals, or tenants to sue their landlords, for the purpose of compelling them to interplead with any persons other than persons making claim through such principals or landlords.

Agents and tenants may not institute interpleader suits.

Illustrations.

(a) A deposits a box of jewels with B as his agent. C alleges that the jewels were wrongfully obtained from him by A, and claims them from B. B cannot institute an interpleader suit against A and C.

(b) A deposits a box of jewels with B as his agent. He then writes to C for the purpose of making the jewels a security for debt due from himself to C. A afterwards alleges that C's debt is satisfied, and C alleges the contrary. Both claim the jewels from B. B may institute an interpleader-suit against A and C.

6. [S. 475.] Where the suit is properly instituted the Court may provide for the costs of the original plaintiff by giving him a charge on the thing claimed or in some other effectual way.

Charge for plaintiff's costs.

ORDER XXXVI.

SPECIAL CASE.

1. [S. 527.] (1) Parties claiming to be interested in the decision of any question of fact or law may enter into an agreement in writing stating such question in the form of a case for the opinion of the Court, and providing that, upon the finding of the Court with respect to such question,—

(a) a sum of money fixed by the parties or to be determined by the Court shall be paid by one of the parties to the other of them ; or

(b) some property, moveable or immovable, specified in the agreement, shall be delivered by one of the parties to the other of them ; or

(c) one or more of the parties shall do, or refrain from doing, some other particular act specified in the agreement.

(2) Every case stated under this rule shall be divided into consecutively numbered paragraphs, and shall concisely state such facts and specify such documents as may be necessary to enable the Court to decide the question raised thereby.

2. [S. 528.] Where the agreement is for the delivery of any property, or for the doing, or the refraining from doing, any particular act, the estimated value of the property to be delivered, or to which the act specified has reference, shall be stated in the agreement.

Where value of subject-matter must be stated.

3. [S. 529.] (1) The agreement, if framed in accordance with the rules herein-before contained, may be filed in the Court which would have jurisdiction to entertain a suit, the amount or value of the subject-matter of which is the same as the amount or value of the subject-matter of the agreement.

Agreement to be filed and registered as suit.

O. 35, R. 5.—A Railway Company by accepting goods for carriage does not become the agent of the consignor within the meaning of the rule. The Company may file an interpleader suit. 28 I.C. 948 = 17 Bom. L. R. 348. A tenant has no right to bring a suit to determine which of the two defendants, both of whom claim rent from him is his landlord. 48 I.C. 733 ; 13 I.C. 40 = 15 C.L.J. 653.

O. 36, R. 1.—Where a special case is stated by consent it can only be re-opened by mutual consent. 43 Bom. 281 = 20 Bom.L.R. 839.

(2) The agreement, when so filed, shall be numbered and registered as a suit between one or more of the parties claiming to be interested as plaintiff or plaintiffs, and the other or the others of them as defendant or defendants; and notice shall be given to all the parties to the agreement, other than the party or parties by whom it was presented.

Parties to be subject to Court's jurisdiction. 4. [S. 530.] Where the agreement has been filed, the parties to it shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the Court and shall be bound by the statements contained therein.

Hearing and disposal of case. 5. [S. 531.] (1) The case shall be set down for hearing as a suit instituted in the ordinary manner, and the provisions of this Code shall apply to such suit so far as the same are applicable.

(2) Where the Court is satisfied, after examination of the parties, or after taking such evidence as it thinks fit,—

(a) that the agreement was duly executed by them,

(b) that they have a bona fide interest in the question stated therein, and

(c) that the same is fit to be decided, it shall proceed to pronounce judgment thereon, in the same way as in an ordinary suit, and upon the judgment so pronounced a decree shall follow.

Power to order bill, etc. to be deposited with officer of Court.

6. [S. 536.] The holder of every dishonoured bill of exchange or promissory note shall have the same remedies for the recovery of the expenses incurred in noting the same for non-acceptance or non-payment or otherwise, by reason of such dishonour, as he has under this Order for the recovery of the amount of such bill or note.

Recovery of cost of noting non-acceptance of dishonoured bill or note.

7. [S. 537.] Save as provided by this Order, the procedure in suits hereunder shall be the same as the procedure in suits instituted in the ordinary manner.

Procedure in suits.

ORDER XXXVIII.

ARREST AND ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENT.

Arrest before Judgment.

Where defendant may be called upon to furnish security for appearance.

1. [Ss. 477 and 478.] Where at any stage of a suit, other than a suit of the nature referred to in section 16, clauses (a) to (d), the Court is satisfied, by affidavit or otherwise,—

(a) that the defendant, with intent to delay the plaintiff, or to avoid any process of the Court or to obstruct or delay the execution of any decree that may be passed against him,—

(i) has absconded or left the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, or

(ii) is about to abscond or leave the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court or

(iii) has disposed of or removed from the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court his property or any part thereof, or

(b) that the defendant is about to leave British India under circumstances affording reasonable probability that the plaintiff will or may thereby be obstructed or delayed in the execution of any decree that may be passed against the defendant in the suit, the Court may issue a warrant to arrest the defendant and bring him before the Court to show cause why he should not furnish security for his appearance :

setting aside of a decree under the rule, the decretal amount is a charge on the deposit if final judgment is passed against the defendant. The Court is not competent to enquire into the ownership of the money deposited. 38 I. C. 481=32 M. L. J. 503. An order charging the property of an insolvent debtor for the re-payment of plaintiff's claim on condition of granting permission to defend his suit is a permanent charge till re-payment of claim. 58 I. C. 10=24 C. W. N. 401.

APPEAL.—An appeal lies from an order refusing to set aside an ex parte decree. 2 B. 644. See 42 C. 735.

O. 38, R. 1.—An application in writing to enforce an award under para. 20 of the second schedule C. P. C. becomes a suit for the purposes of O. 38 dealing with attachment before judgment. A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 259=29 Bom. L. R. 342=101 I. C. 430. Arrest before judgment—Security for appearance—Order when to be passed—Principles guiding in passing orders. See 50 Mad. 27. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 584=50 M. L. J. 348.

SCOPE AND OBJECT OF.—The object of the surety bond given under O. 38, R. 1 is to secure the rights of the judgment-creditor. The Government are not interested in the proceedings in any way. 28 I. C. 92=8 S. L. R. 270. Small Cause Court cannot attach immoveable property. 28 C. W. N. 16=1924 Cal. 193. Rulings to the contrary are not now good law. See now Act I of 1926. The mere fact that an appeal is pending against a decree is no reason for not enforcing execution by arrest when the execution has not been stayed. 1924 Lah. 360.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—Where the master of a vessel is sued for repairs done to the vessel, and he is about to leave the jurisdiction of the Court with the vessel, he can be arrested under this rule. 14 C. 695. An officer proceeding from Burma to England on leave, and who resides for a few days at Madras, can also be arrested. 8 M. 205. Minor defendant without guardian—Conditional order of attachment of property is valid. 106 I. C. 142=1928 Mad. 1.

Provided that the defendant shall not be arrested if he pays to the officer entrusted with the execution of the warrant any sum specified in the warrant as sufficient to satisfy the plaintiff's claim ; and such sum shall be held in deposit by the Court until the suit is disposed of or until the further order of the Court.

2. [S. 479.] (1) Where the defendant fails to show such cause the Court shall order him either to deposit in Court money or other property sufficient to answer the claim against him, or to furnish security for his appearance at any time when called upon while the suit is pending and until satisfaction of any decree that may be passed against him in the suit, or make such order as it thinks fit in regard to the sum which may have been paid by the defendant under the proviso to the last preceding rule.

(2) Every surety for the appearance of a defendant shall bind himself, in default of such appearance, to pay any sum of money which the defendant may be ordered to pay in the suit.

3. [S. 480.] (1) A surety for the appearance of a defendant may at any time apply to the Court in which he became such surety to be discharged from his obligation.

(2) On such application being made, the Court shall summon the defendant to appear or, if it thinks fit, may issue a warrant for his arrest in the first instance.

(3) On the appearance of the defendant in pursuance of the summons or warrant, or on his voluntary surrender, the Court shall direct the surety to be discharged from his obligation, and shall call upon the defendant to find fresh security.

4. [S. 481.] Where the defendant fails to comply with any order under rule 2 or rule 3, the Court may commit him to the civil prison until the decision of the suit or, where a decree is passed against the defendant, until the decree has been satisfied :

Procedure where defendant fails to furnish security or find fresh security.

Provided that no person shall be detained in prison under this rule in any case for a longer period than six months, nor for a longer period than six weeks when the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit does not exceed fifty rupees :

Provided also that no person shall be detained in prison under this rule after he has complied with such order.

5. [S. 483.] (1) Where, at any stage of a suit, the Court is satisfied, by affidavit or otherwise, that the defendant, with intent to obstruct or delay the execution of any decree that may be passed against him,—

Where defendant may be called upon to furnish security for production of property.

O. 38, R. 2.—Money paid into Court by a defendant arrested before judgment sufficient to answer the plaintiff's claim, is ear-marked for the suit and is subject to the lien of the plaintiff for his decree amount in case he succeeds. 41 Mad. 1053 = 36 M. L. J. 355. Decree-holder's lien on the deposit subsists even when the claim of the decree-holder is disallowed but subsequently upheld in appeal. (1926) M. W. N. 683 = 97 I. C. 1020 = 51 M. L. J. 436 = 1926 Mad. 1104. The insolvency of the defendant before decree does not vest the money in the Official Receiver. (Ibid.) The case is different if security is given for the appearance of defendant. (39 Mad. 903 ; 29 Bom. 405, Dist.) (Ibid.) O. 21, R. 63 requires a claimant whose objection to an attachment before judgment has been disallowed to bring a suit on his title within the period prescribed by Art. 11. (41 Mad. 23, overruled.) 41 Mad. 849 = 35 M. L. J. 231 (F.B.)

O. 38, R. 3.—S. 135 of the Contract Act has no application to the case of a surety under O. 38, R. 3 and his obligation continues even though the parties to the suit entered into a compromise on the strength of which a decree was passed by the Court. 37 M. L. J. 435 = 43 Mad. 272.

O. 38, R. 4.—Imprisonment under this rule becomes, after decree, imprisonment in execution of a decree. 7 B. 431. Where in execution of a money decree, the share of a Hindu coparcener in the family property was attached during his lifetime and brought to sale after his death his interest passes to the auction-purchaser and precludes the title arising from survivorship. (4 Mad. 302, (Foll.) ; 5 Cal. 48 (P.C.) ; 25 Cal. 179 (P.C.) Ref.). 24 I. C. 667 = (1914) M. W. N. 733.

O. 38, R. 5 SCOPE OF RULE AND ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—Attachment before judgment confers no right on the party who obtains the order of attachment. 37 All. 578 = 13 A. L. J. 732. Attachment before judgment does not give any interest in the attached property. 30 I. C. 38 = 21 C. L. J. 614. The property may be moveable or immoveable, and it is immaterial whether it is in the actual possession of the the Court may direct the defendant, within a time to be fixed by it, either to furnish security, in such sum as may be specified in the order, to produce and place at the disposal of the Court, when required, the said property or the value of the same or such portion thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the decree, or to appear and show cause why he should not furnish security.

[S. 483, last para.] (2) The plaintiff shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, specify the property required to be attached and the estimated value thereof.

[S. 484, last para.] (3) The Court may also in the order direct the conditional attachment of the whole or any portion of the property so specified.

defendant or of some other person on his behalf. 17 A. 82; 9 Bom. L. R. 540. An order of attachment before judgment can only be made after defendant fails to show cause to the contrary or to furnish security. 23 I. C. 107. The power should be exercised only on clear proof of the existence of the mischief aimed at. 5 Pat. L.T. 124=A. I. R. 1924 P. 312. If the Court accepts the view that defendant has no intention of alienating the property, there is no power to order attachment. (Ibid.) It is not sufficient to make only general allegations. 44 I. C. 240. Intent to obstruct or to delay the execution within the terms of the rule must be clearly proved. Vague allegations will not suffice. 23 Bom. L. R. 1228=46 Bom. 431. See also 41 I. C. 89 (Trustee failing to produce accounts). Defendant attempting to dispose of property during pendency of suit is not enough. 45 Bom. 1256=23 Bom. L. R. 550. Allegation that defendant is running into debts is not sufficient. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 354=101 I. C. 9=31 C. W. N. 432. See also 94 I. C. 880=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 855. The Court ought to withdraw attachment before judgment on the dismissal of a suit. Attachment is not however revived by reversal of the dismissal on appeal. 9 I. C. 918=13 C. L. J. 243. An attachment applied for before judgment but actually effected after decree has still the force of the attachment before judgment. 42 Mad. 1=35 M. L. J. 387. Dismissal of the subsequent execution application will not put an end to the attachment. (Ibid.) An attachment before judgment ceases to be operative on the dismissal of the first application for execution. (17 N. L. R. 121, Foll.) 1922 Nag. 81. Where property is attached before judgment a decree in plaintiff's favour does not determine the attachment, which continues in force. 1919 Pat. 465. An attachment followed by a decree prevents the accrual of the title by survivorship where the judgment-debtor dies after attachment of decree but before the order for sale. 24 I. C. 320=26 M. L. J. 517. An attachment before judgment becomes one in execution on an application for execution and R. 57 of O. 21 will apply to it equally with the other rules of O. 21. 63 I. C. 712=17 N. L. R. 121. A Civil Court has no power to issue a warrant of attachment before judgment on property situated without its jurisdiction. 25 I. C. 771. See also 8 M. 20; 5 B. H.C. R. 570; 24 C. L. J. 533=22 C. W. N. 160. But see 1926 Lah. 330=93 I. C. 361. Property outside the jurisdiction of High Court—Mode of attachment. See 94 I. C. 116=1926 Bom. 278=28 Bom. L. R. 380. It is not open to a Small Cause Court to attach immoveable property before judgment. 49 Cal. 994; 28 C. W. N. 1926 (F. B.); 48 M. L. J. 406 (is not good law). See now Act I of 1926. There is no suit before the Court until the application to sue in forma pauperis has been granted. Consequently the Court has no jurisdiction to attach defendant's property before judgment before application is filed as a suit. 25 C. L. J. 159=21 C.W.N. 870. A mortgagee may, after preliminary decree, attach other properties of the mortgagor, if the hypothecation is insufficient and the mortgagor intends to dispose of his other properties fraudulently. 46 Cal. 245; 37 All. 423=13 A.I.J. 565. Attachment before judgment—Money deposited by sureties for release of attachment—Assets held by Court—Rateable distribution. 26 C. W. N. 169=1922 C. 19. A surety's liability ceases as soon as the first Court dismisses the suit. His liability is not revived by the appellate Court subsequently decreeing the plaintiff's claim. 29 I. C. 271=147 P.L.R. 1915; 47 M. L. J. 523; 12 B. 71; 5 R. 492. See also 12 Bur. L. T. 89=52 I. C. 930. Surety entering into agreement before trial court is bound by decree passed in appeal. 51 Bom. 31=1927 Bom. 84=99 I. C. 820=28 Bom. L. R. 1516. But see 5 R. 492. Where a surety bond has been given for the property attached before judgment the decree in the suit can be executed against the surety also. 45 I. C. 429=11 S. L. R. 122. The liability of the surety is the same whether the judgment has been arrived at by the Courts after a regular trial or the Court pronounces judgment on an award passed by the arbitrator appointed in the suit. Arbitration is an ordinary incident of the suit. (Ibid.) An order of discharge of a surety without notice to the parties is rescindable at the instance of any party 37 I. C. 919. furnish security, or fails to furnish the security required, within the time fixed by the Court, the Court may order that the property specified, or such portion thereof as appears sufficient to satisfy any decree which may be passed in the suit, be attached.

(2) Where the defendant shows such cause or furnishes the required security, and the property specified or any portion of it has been attached, the Court shall order the attachment to be withdrawn, or make such other order as it thinks fit.

hereinbefore provided for the investigation of claims to property attached in execution of a decree for the payment of money.

Court shall order the attachment to be withdrawn when the defendant furnishes the security required, together with security for the costs of the attachment or when the suit is dismissed.

affect the rights, existing prior to the attachment, of persons not parties to the suit, nor bar any person holding a decree against the defendant from applying for the sale of the property under attachment in execution of such decree.

MEANING OF WORDS.—The words "to produce and place at the disposal of the Court" refer only to such property as is capable of being produced in Court. 17 A. 82. "Is satisfied" meaning of. 13 C. L. R. 356; 16 A. at p. 188.

APPEAL.—C. P. C., does not contemplate an appeal from an order directing the defendant to furnish security. 50 Cal. 215=1923 Cal. 639. An appeal lies from an order of attachment made under R. 6, 50 Cal. 215=1923 Cal. 639. Where an application for attachment before judgment is dismissed by the Court of first instance after hearing the defendants no appeal lies against that order. 33 I. C. 689=23 C. L. J. 392.

O. 38, R. 6.—As to scope of R. 6, see 107 I. C. 276 (1). Order conditional under R. 6 cannot be passed unless the defendant has failed to furnish security, or fails to show cause. 57 I. C. 907. See also 1927 Cal. 354=101 I. C. 9. Application for attachment—Court ordering petition closed on respondent undertaking not to alienate properties—Appeal lies against order. (1928) M. W. N. 125 (50 C. 215, Ref.)

O. 38, R. 8.—This rule which prescribes the manner of investigation, is silent as to the result. O. 21, R. 60 does not apply to claims to property attached before judgment. 20 B. at p. 407. See also 41 Mad. 23=39 I. C. 863.

O. 38, R. 9.—On the dismissal of a suit, an attachment before judgment ipso facto comes to an end and does not revive when an appeal is lodged. 45 Cal. 780=22 C. W. N. 927. Suit in O. 38, R. 9 does not include proceedings in appeal.

5 R. 492=105 I. C. 540=1927 Rang. 310. But see 51 Bom. 31. Surety for removal of attachment—Liability ceases on dismissal of suit. 5 R. 492=105 I. C. 540=1927 Rang. 310. But see 51 Bom. 31.

O. 38, R. 10.—O. 38, R. 10 is not limited to rights in rem. 23 C. L. J. 115=21 C. W. N. 158. The attachment has no effect against the Official Assignee. 26 M. 673. See 21 B. 273; 17 M. 144. See S. 53. The effect of an attachment before or after judgment is the same, provided that in the former case a decree is made for the plaintiff at whose instance the attachment takes place. 26 C. 531. When a person attaches property he also attaches the profits thereof. 12 W. R. 391. A re-attachment of property after decree does not imply an abandonment of an attachment obtained before decree. 6 C. 129 (P. C.); 16 I. C. 387. Where the attached decree is sold in execution of another decree the attachment ceases, and no further proceedings can be taken against the property on the basis of that attachment. 2 P. L. T. 240=61 I. C. 922. Attachment before judgment—Property sold—Decree—Proceeds recovered by previous decree-holder—Suit to recover share. 45 Bom. 360=22 Bom. L. R. 1407. Attachment before judgment—Money decree-holder—Right to proceed against property—Priorities. 91 I. C. 93 (2)=1926 Rang. 85. An agreement for sale entered into before an attachment before judgment is perfectly valid and can be enforced. 106 I. C. 356.

11. [S. 490.] Where property is under attachment by virtue of the provisions of this Order and a decree is subsequently passed in favour of the plaintiff, it shall not be necessary upon an application for execution of such decree to apply for a re-attachment of the property.

Property attached before judgment not to be re-attached in execution of decree.

12. Nothing in this order shall be deemed to authorize the plaintiff to apply for the attachment of any agricultural produce in the possession of an agriculturist, or to empower the Court to order the attachment or production of such produce.

Agricultural produce not attachable before judgment.

ORDER XXXIX.

TEMPORARY INJUNCTIONS AND INTERLOCUTORY ORDERS.

Temporary Injunctions.

Cases in which temporary injunction may be granted.

1. [S. 492.] Where in any suit it is proved by affidavit or otherwise,—

O. 38, R. 11.—Where there is an order in execution for sale of a property attached before judgment under Art. 11, Limitation Act, the period of limitation is one year to set aside the order. 44 Mad. 902=41 M. L. J. 252. But see also 41 Mad. 23. This rule gives the same effect to an attachment before judgment after a decree is passed as an attachment after judgment. 2 P. L. T. 719=6 P. L. J. 332. An attachment before judgment continues in force even after the decree is passed. 16 I. C. 387 (1). Re-attachment after judgment being superfluous is not proof of abandonment of original attachment. 16 I. C. 387 (1). See also 6 Cal. 129 (P.C.). Attachment before judgment—Decree passed in favour of attaching creditor—Subsequent attachment and sale of the same by a third party—Sale not confirmed—Original attachment is revived. 99 I. C. 895=44 C.L.J. 553=1927 Cal. 240.

O. 38, R. 13.—¹ This rule was added by Act I of 1926.

O. 39. APPLICABILITY.—Order 39 is applicable to proceedings in liquidation of company. A.I.R. 1926 Lah. 525.

O. 39, R. 1. PRINCIPLE OF TEMPORARY INJUNCTION.—The granting of a temporary injunction is a matter of discretion. 26 M. 168 (174). There is no general rule to guide the discretion of Courts. 29 I.C. 855=21 C.L.J. 459. If the Court finds that there is a substantial question to be investigated and that matters should be preserved in status quo till final disposal of that question it is sufficient ground for granting the injunction. (Ibid.); 103 I.C. 167. The real point is not how the question should be decided at the hearing of the case, but whether there is a substantial question to be investigated. 1922 Lah. 356. Court must first see that there is a bona fide contention between the parties and then on which side in the event of success the balance of inconvenience will lie if the injunction does not issue. 1922 Lah. 356; 5 Lah. L.J. 262=1923 Lah. 227; 1926 Cal. 837=95 I.C. 667=43 C.L.J. 405; A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 318=96 I.C. 623. In granting a temporary injunction the Court has to see balance of convenience and inconvenience of both sides. 66 I.C. 599; 46 C. 1001=23 C.W.N. 677. There must be a probability of the plaintiff succeeding. 18 I. C.

394=17 C. W. N. 964; 24 L. W. 839=1927 Mad. 188=99 I.C. 383. The Court will have to be satisfied that the applicant has a prima facie case and further that the protection of his interest requires that an injunction should issue temporarily. 17 I.C. 219=23 M.L.J. 316; 1927 M. 188=99 I.C. 383; 29 Punj. L.R. 50; 103 I.C. 372. Where a plaintiff out of possession claims possession, the Court will not grant an injunction against a defendant in possession under a claim or right unless the threatened injury would be irreparable. 46 Cal. 1001=23 C.W.N. 677. The word "injury" means an act which is contrary to law. 55 I.C. 403=2 Lah.L.J. 283. Party to prove irreparable loss would accrue if injunction is not granted. 93 I.C. 348=1926 Lah. 435. In a suit for permanent injunction a temporary injunction ought not to be refused where the refusal would defeat the object of the suit. 43 I. C. 24. As regards the proper course when applications for mandatory injunctions are made, see 16 Bom. L. R. 288=38 Bom. 381. Under colour of temporary injunction a plaintiff cannot seek a relief, which forms the cause of action in the suit. 27 I. C. 617; 29 I. C. 855=21 C. L. J. 469; 18 I. C. 394=17 C. W. N. 964. Suit for declaration only—Another suit necessary to seek relief, injury to which is sought to be prevented by injunction—Temporary injunction cannot be granted. 96 I. C. 439=1926 Lah. 504=8 L. L. J. 289. But see 92 I. C. 723=1926 Lah. 523. A plaintiff making a considerable delay is not to be assisted at the expense of the defendant. 29 I. C. 855=21 C. L. J. 469. In granting temporary injunction the Court should exercise wise discretion and see that the machinery of Court is not abused for fraudulent purposes. 9 I.C. 277. The order must not create a totally new state of things. 67 I.C. 742; 66 I.C. 599. Defendant residing outside jurisdiction—Acts within jurisdiction—Interference with acts of religion. 4 P.L.T. 48. The onus is upon the petitioner to show that his inconvenience exceeds that of the other side. 70 I.C. 864=15 S.L.R. 5. A Court has no jurisdiction to grant an injunction under its inherent powers. 1927 Mad. 687=102 I.C. 700=26 L.W. 899 (43 M. 94; 25 L.W. 85, R.). A Court has no jurisdiction to issue temporary injunction against a person not a party to suit. 96 I.C. 540=1927 Lah. 284.

(a) that any property in dispute in a suit is in danger of being wasted, damaged or alienated by any party to the suit, or wrongfully sold in execution of a decree, or PRINCIPLES.—Injunction "pending disposal of the suit" period for which it is in force. 43 All. 383=19 A.L.J. 174. The offending of religious prejudices is no ground for granting an injunction. 1 C. W. N. 429. "Suit" in O. 39 includes proceedings. 1926 L.Ah. 525=26 Punj L.R. 803.

TEMPORARY AND PERPETUAL INJUNCTIONS.—The rule refers only to temporary injunctions, leaving perpetual injunctions to be governed by the provisions of the Specific Relief Act. 6 B. 266 (279). The issue of temporary injunction is not governed by the same principles as the granting of a permanent injunction. 26 M. 168 (174). O. 39, R. 1 does not authorise the Court to grant a temporary mandatory injunction. 24 L.W. 830=1927 Mad. 188=99 I.C. 383. But see 94 I.C. 840=1926 Sindh 201.

INJUNCTION OR RECEIVER.—Distinction between a case in which a temporary injunction may be granted, and a case in which a receiver may be appointed. See 22 C. 459 (465); 1 A.L.J. 527. Proof of waste is a ground for appointing a receiver. 53 I.C. 760=10 L.W. 551; 105 I.C. 131. The digging of a well is not waste. W.R. (1864) 275.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION.—Notice, however short, should, if possible, be given before an injunction is granted. 27 B. at p. 451. See R. 3. The other side must be given an opportunity to show cause. 7 A. 550; and when an ex parte order is made liberty to apply to have it varied or set aside must be implied. 9 A. 36 (42).

JURISDICTION.—The High Court can grant an injunction under its general equity jurisdiction independently of the Code. 34 C. 97; 34 C. 101. The injunction should be issued to the party and not the court. 2 A. L. J. 601. Only the Court in which the suit is filed, and not the Court to which a decree is sent for execution, can grant an injunction. 12 C. 515. An inferior court can issue an injunction to stop a sale in execution of a decree by a superior Court. 23 C. 351. But see 31 C. 480 (486). A District Court cannot issue an injunction to stay waste in respect of property in dispute in a suit pending in a subordinate Court. In case it wants to do so it should withdraw the case to its own file. 2 Bom. H. C. R. 103. The mere fact that a person resides outside the jurisdiction of the Court is not per se sufficient to prevent the Court from granting an injunction. 2 C. W. N. 521. An application to restrain a suit in a Small Cause Court does not come within the provision of this rule. 27 B. 357. As to power of subordinate Court to stay foreign suit, see 27 L. W. 418.

PRACTICE.—Before granting a temporary injunction it is usual to put the applicant upon terms to abide by such order as the Court shall think fit to make by way of damages resulting from the passing of the order. 1 A. L. J. 527. An application for an injunction restraining the defendant in a pending suit, from prosecuting an action in a foreign Court must be made at a very early stage of the proceedings. 59 I.C. 218=24 C. W. N. 735. A party is presumed to have knowledge of a prohibitory order "not to alienate his property, when it is made in the open Court, in the presence of the parties appearing before the Court." 42 All. 98=17 A.L.J. 1127. An interlocutory injunction in a suit for perpetual injunction is dissolved ipso facto by a decree granting a perpetual injunction. 42 Cal. 550=18 C.W.N. 1189.

APPEAL.—An order of injunction is purely discretionary and a party appealing against it should prove that the Court against whose judgment the appeal is preferred acted wrongly in the exercise of its jurisdiction. 22 I. C. 710=19 C. L.J. 325. See also 12 M. 186. Order refusing grant of a temporary injunction is appealable. 18 C.L.J. 39=17 C.W.N. 996. But an order granting temporary injunction cannot be the subject of an appeal but is subject to the revisional jurisdiction of the High Court. 1927 Mad. 687=102 I.C. 700=26 L.W. 899.

(4) EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS AND SALE.—A plaintiff, who after being defeated under O. 21, R. 99, brings a suit under R. 103 of the same order, is not entitled to get a temporary injunction restraining the defendant from taking possession of the property. 27 I. C. 56=16 Bom. L. R. 676. A prohibitory order by way of injunction can be issued so long as the property in dispute is in danger of being wrongfully sold in execution of a decree but once it is sold no such order can be passed. 54 I. C. 928. A sale held in ignorance of an order by way of an injunction staying the sale is an irregularity, but the sale will not be set aside unless the judgment-debtor has sustained substantial injury by reason of such irregularity. 54 I. C. 928. Where it is fairly established that there is a danger of a wrongful sale in execution, an injunction can properly be granted. (12 Cal. 515, foll.) 25 I. C. 9. But see also 1 Pat. L. R. 462=75 I. C. 381. A Court has jurisdiction to issue an injunction upon a person residing outside its territorial limits if he has property within the jurisdiction. 75 I. C. 381=1 Pat. L. R. 462. In a case in which the defendants have submitted to the jurisdiction of a Court by entering appearance, the Court has jurisdiction to grant an injunction restraining the defendants from executing in another Court a decree which they had obtained against plaintiff. (b) that the defendant threatens, or intends, to remove or dispose of his property with a view to defraud his creditors, the Court may by order grant a temporary injunction to restrain such act, or make such other order for the purpose of staying and preventing the wasting, damaging, alienation, sale, removal or disposition of the property as the Court thinks fit, until the disposal of the suit or until further orders.

"Provided that, if it appears to the Court that the property in suit is in danger of being wrongfully sold in execution of a decree, the Court may also by order grant a temporary injunction restraining the Court executing the decree from confirming the sale held in execution of the decree until the disposal of the suit or until further orders."

As to whether a Court can of its own motion punish for disobedience, see 26 M. 494. The Civil Procedure Code is not exhaustive and the Court has inherent jurisdiction to act ex debito justitiæ in order to do that real and substantial justice for the administration of which alone it exists. Appointment of receivers.

O. 40, R. 1. SCOPE OF RULE.—The rule clearly intends to give the power of appointing a receiver only to the Court in which the suit is brought or by which the property has been attached. 23 C. 517 (519). See also 24 B. 38 (42). O. 40 if applies to mortgage decrees. 100 I. C. 735 (1)=1927 A. 419. A receiver can be appointed even after a decree is passed. 8 M. 229 (233). The court can order that the receiver should continue permanently after decree when such continuance is necessary. 19 M. 120 (P.C.). A receiver can be appointed in respect of immovable property notwithstanding the fact that a Magistrate has passed an order under S. 145 of the Cr. Pro. Code. 22 A. 214. The discretion given by this rule is one that should be used with the greatest care and caution. 5 A. 556. The power conferred by the rule should be exercised with sound discretion. 15 C. 818 (822); 23 C. L. J. 567; 16 C. W. N. 997. Remedy is derived from English practice and is an exceptional remedy 100 I. C. 735 (1)=1927 A. 419.

GROUND FOR APPOINTMENT—AND WHO CAN BE APPOINTED.—Grounds for appointment of receiver. See 11 I. C. 703; 1925 Sind 83; 105 I. C. 167. An appointment of a receiver can be made only on proof of strong grounds of necessity. 11 I. C. 403. The first essential condition is that the applicant must have "an interest" in the property to be affected by the order. 61 I. C. 849=6 P. L. J. 366. A receiver should not be appointed where no risk of loss is shown. 12 I. C. 198=4 Bur. L. T. 241. The appointment of a receiver is a matter of judicial discretion and Courts should proceed cautiously viewing all the circumstances of the case. 28 C. W. N. 86=1924 Cal. 456. Public nature of the matter has got to be taken into account in the appointment of receiver. 96 I. C. 30=1926 Cal. 1092. It would be very improper to take property out of the hands of ladies of culture and well capable of managing the property and examining accounts. 11 I. C. 703. A receiver should be an impartial person and wholly disinterested in the subject-matter of the suit. 18 I. C. 398=17 C. W. N. 581; 28 C. W. N. 86=1924 Cal. 456. But it is competent to the Court upon the consent of parties and in a proper case, without such consent, to appoint a person mixed up in the subject-matter of the litigation, if it will be beneficial to the estate. 28 C. W. N. 86=1924 Cal. 456. Order on an application under O. 40, R. 1 should not express an opinion on the merits of the case. (Ibid.) The appointment of an interim Receiver pending the final appointment of a common manager can be made only on evidence of necessity for such appointment. 34 I. C. 83. O. 40, R. 1 does not lay down notice to the opposite party. (22 C. 459; 21 M. L. J. 821; 107 P. R. 1908; 36 P. R. 1910, Dist.); 1923 Lah. 239 (2). Where there are a large number of outstandings due to the estate of the deceased person, some of which are liable to be lost owing to the efflux of time, and the heir of the deceased is a lady and there is a bona fide dispute between the parties the Court is justified in appointing a receiver to recover the outstandings and to bring the proceeds into Court. 1923 Lah. 239 (2). Court has got power to appoint a receiver in a declaratory suit and an appellate court should not interfere with the discretion exercised by the Lower Court. 94 I. C. 39=27 Punj L. R. 138. Poverty of the defendant trustee is no ground for the appointment of a receiver unless there be in addition some danger to the estate. 29 M. L. J. 209=29 I. C. 485. The late production of accounts and documents by the manager is not sufficient to warrant the appointment of a receiver. 17 I. C. 261=(1912) M. W. N. 904. The mere fact that a Muhammadan widow is entitled to a lien for dower on her husband's estate is no ground for refusing the appointment of a receiver summarily without enquiry. 1923 Nag. 21. That a receiver has not been appointed at a prior stage of the suit is no ground for refusing the application at a later stage, when fresh grounds are made out. 1923 Nag. 21. A Court has no jurisdiction to appoint a receiver at the instance of a simple money-creditor unless he establishes a special equity in his favour. 61 I. C. 849=6 P. L. J. 366. A prior incumbrancer desiring to take possession is entitled to have the receiver obtained by a puisne incumbrancer, discharged, and a receiver of his own substituted. (Ibid.) The insolvency of an administrator is a good reason for appointing a receiver. 48 I. C. 152=11 Bur. L. T. 127.

SELECTION OF RECEIVER.—Ordinarily a party to a litigation should not be appointed a receiver unless very exceptional circumstances are established to justify such an appointment. 18 C. L. J. 638=18 C. W. N. 533. One of the parties to suit will not be appointed without the consent of the other. 19 I. C. 873=17 C. W. N. 974; 25 I. C. 602. When a non-resident is appointed receiver there must be adequate guarantee that he will be subject to the effective control of the Court. 19 I. C. 873=17 C. W. N. 974. That the receiver resides at a great distance from the property to be managed, is not an absolute disqualification, but is an important circumstance to be taken into consideration. 19 I. C. 873=17 C. REMUNERATION.—The Court has a discretion if it thinks fit to allow him remuneration at a fixed rate. 1923 Cal. 516=76 I. C. 583. The receiver's remuneration must come out of the estate of the insolvent and the legal representatives of the insolvent cannot be made personally liable for the same. (Ibid.) The appointment should be made for the protection of property or the prevention of injury according to legal principles. The words do not confer an arbitrary and non-regulated discretion on the Court. 34 I. C. 693=23 C. L. J. 567 ; 9 I. C. 285=13 C. L. J. 495 ; 5 Lah. L. J. 583=1923 Lah. 623. Discretion of Court in declaratory suit in respect of agricultural lands. 5 Lah. L. J. 583=1923 Lah. 623.

WASTE, WHAT IS.—A mere intention to transfer by a life tenant does not constitute danger to the reversionary interests and to protect them the Court may appoint a receiver. 44 Bom. 727=57 I. C. 553. Where it is clearly proved that an estate is so grossly mismanaged that the whole estate will be jeopardised, it is a clear case for the appointment of receiver. 25 I. C. 406=18 C. W. N. 537 ; 21 M. L. J. 821=11 I. C. 870.

EFFECT OF APPOINTMENT.—Property in the possession of a receiver is in the custody of the law and cannot be seized under a writ of attachment or execution. 47 Mad. 47=43 M. L. J. 211. The refusal to make the receiver party to the execution proceedings is a material irregularity justifying the interference of the High Court under S. 115. (Ibid.) Where a receiver is appointed, property vests in him only when the orders under O. 40, R. 1 (b), (c) and (d) are made. (Ibid.) ; 1923 Nag. 6. Effect of appointment does not bar execution. 6 Pat. L. J. 208=62 I. C. 469.

RIGHTS OF THIRD PARTIES.—See 17 L. W. 64=1923 M. 304. The rule that the possession of receiver may not be disturbed without leave, does not apply, so far as third persons are concerned until a receiver has been actually appointed, and is in possession. 23 C. W. N. 952=29 C. L. J. 424.

CONTEMPT BY RECEIVER.—22 C. 648 ; see also 30 C. 696.

CONTEMPT OF COURT.—Where a receiver is appointed to take possession of property the person in possession of property cannot interfere with the receiver, but should apply to the Court for redress. 18 C. W. N. 289=22 I. C. 417.

DISCHARGE OF RECEIVER.—23 C. L. J. 217=20 C. W. N. 789. A receiver appointed in a suit or proceedings by consent of parties, may be discharged, even before the termination of the suit or proceeding. 13 L.W. 367=61 I. C. 562. Neither the termination of the suit in decree nor the pendency of the appeal against that decree will put an end to the authority of the receiver appointed to collect rents. 33 I.C. 69 ; 5 Pat. L. J. 513=1 Pat. L. T. 643.

HIGH COURT, POWERS OF.—A High Court has no jurisdiction to examine the accounts in order to ascertain the liability of a receiver appointed by a Subordinate Court, he not being an officer of the High Court. 4 P.L.J. 636=54 I.

C. 207. The High Court has power to appoint a receiver in a testamentary suit. 17 B. 388.

SUIT AGAINST RECEIVER.—The omission to get leave of the Court to institute a suit against a receiver can be made good during the pendency of the proceedings. 61 I. C. 888 ; 63 I. C. 843. Where the receiver dies, further proceedings can be continued against his successor and no one else. 61 I. C. 888. Permission to conduct a suit implies permission to institute a suit. 63 I. C. 343. A permission granted by a Court to sue a receiver relates back to the time of the institution of the suit. (Ibid.) A receiver is an officer of Court—Suit against. 62 I. C. 768=26 C. W. N. 992. The necessity to obtain the sanction before the institution of a suit against the receiver is imposed by the Common Law, merely to enforce due respect towards Courts of Justice, and omission to do so does not affect the jurisdiction of the Courts. Per Sadasiva Aiyar, J., in 70 I. C. 759=42 M. L. J. 339 ; 43 Mad. 793=59 I. C. 568. It is illegality which can be cured by obtaining it during the course of litigation. 43 Mad. 793=59 I. C. 568. It is clear law that as a Receiver is an officer of the Court he cannot be sued for acts done in his official capacity by a third party except with the leave of the Court. 1 R. 138=1923 Rang. 208 ; 102 I. C. 797=1927 Pat. 297=8 Pat. L. T. 629.

LEAVE OF COURT.—Proceedings cannot be instituted against a receiver without the permission of the Court and if so instituted they constitute a contempt of the Court. 19 C. L. J. 191=18 C. W. N. 546. To charge a receiver for the breach of the ordinary criminal law of the country sanction is not necessary. 15 I. C. 491=13 Cr. L. J. 491. It is not a general rule of law that sanction of Court appointing a receiver is not necessary in the case of criminal proceedings against him arising out of his office. 15 I. C. 489=13 Cr. L. J. 489. Leave of Court is necessary both for execution of a decree against the receiver of the property of the judgment-debtor as well as for prosecuting an application for rateable distribution against the receiver. 14 C. L. J. 55=15 C. W. N. 925. Such leave may be obtained at a subsequent stage of the proceedings. 14 C. L. J. 55=15 C. W. N. 925. A prohibitory order against the receiver is not equivalent to the grant of leave to execute the decree. (Ibid.)

LEAVE TO SUE.—A receiver appointed under the Code of Civil Procedure merely holds the estate on behalf of the Court. The estate does not vest in him, nor does he in any way represent it. Leave of the Court is necessary in order that by impleading him the estate may be bound. A receiver under the Insolvency Act holds a different capacity altogether. He is more than a mere officer of the Court ; the insolvent's estate vests in him. He alone, and no one else, represents the estate. No leave is accordingly necessary for suing him. 21 A. L. J. 737=46 All. 16. Grant of subsequent leave will cure the defect. 46 Cal. 352=23 C. W. N. 496 ; 56 I. C. 424=22 Bom. L. R. 319. A suit against a receiver without leave of Court should be dismissed and not remanded to lower Court for obtaining the necessary leave. 24 I. C. 622. In every case a receiver as such need not be sued but remedy can be obtained by party, by application to Court. 10 I. C. 673 = 9 M. L. T. 300. There is no statutory provision which requires a party to obtain the leave of a Court to sue a receiver. The rule is based on public policy. 4 P. L. J. 20 = 47 I. C. 719 ; 51 I. C. 706. A Court should not refuse leave to sue ordinarily. 4 P. L. J. 20. A decree against a receiver without permission must be set aside. 17 I. C. 916 = 3 Bur. L. T. 163.

POWERS OF RECEIVER.—Where the receiver was given power to collect outstandings and do all things necessary for the realisation and preservation of the assets of firm, held the receiver had no authority to mortgage the property of the firm. 44 M. L. J. 602 = 50 Cal. 338 = 28 C. W. N. 1 = 1 Rang. 66 = 50 I. A. 77 (P. C.). A receiver in possession of the estate is entitled to require payment of rent. 58 I. C. 301. In a partition suit in which a receiver is authorised to sell properties there can be no difficulty in directing him to convey the properties. 43 Cal. 124 = 19 C. W. N. 817. Court may confer on a receiver all such powers for the realization of properties and the execution of the documents as the owner has. (Ibid.) Court can confer upon a receiver all such powers as to bringing and defending suits, as the owner himself has. 27 I. C. 459 = 19 C. W. N. 45. Plaintiff appointed receiver by Court cannot appropriate partnership moneys to his own use. 1025 P. C. 257 = 92 I. C. 274 = 23 L. W. 628 (P. C.). On the appointment of a receiver the estate vests in him and thereafter the receiver is the only person competent to prosecute suits and obtain decrees. 11 I. C. 102 = 15 C. L. J. 339. The general powers of the receiver who can sue and defend a suit with the express permission of the Court do not necessarily contain a power to sue and liability to be sued. 66 P. R. 1913 = 17 I. C. 751. A receiver appointed in execution can prosecute a cause of action outside the jurisdiction of the Court by which he was appointed receiver. (1921) M. W. N. 106 = 61 I. C. 753. A receiver appointed to collect outstandings can file suits in that behalf even though the suit in which he was appointed has terminated in a decree or an appeal is pending from that decree. 33 I. C. 69. Receiver's powers are entirely conditioned by terms of his appointment, subject to any subsequent change by the Court under which he holds the appointment. 32 I. C. 207 = 30 M. L. J. 456. Suit by receiver to recover property sold prior to his appointment. 35 Mad. 578. A receiver appointed by a Court can oust a mortgagee decree-holder put in possession of the lands subsequent to his mortgage decree. 6 P. L. J. 37 = 61 I. C. 67. O. 40, R. 1 does not permit of the appointment of a receiver in respect of properties not comprised in suit. 17 I. C. 16. Receiver can collect only such assets as become due to the estate after his appointment. Rents falling due prior to his appointment are not such assets. 42 I. C. 785 = 1917 Pat. 311.

DUTIES OF RECEIVER.—19 B. 660. Delegation of powers to receiver. See 65 I. C. 837 = 34 C. L. J. 123.

COSTS DUE TO RECEIVER.—19 B. 660 ; 30 C. 696.

REMEDY AGAINST RECEIVER.—26 M. 492. As to personal liability of receiver, see 1925

Pat. 602.

REMOVAL OF RECEIVER.—19 W. R. 66 ; 13 M. 330. When a receiver appointed under this rule is replaced by another receiver, the new receiver should be made a party to the proceedings. 28 M. 157. An order removing a receiver is one falling under O. 40, R. 1 (a) as the power of appointment includes also the power of removal and is appealable. 92 I. C. 940 = 53 Cal. 319 = 1926 Cal. 593.

APPEAL.—An order refusing to appoint a receiver is open to appeal. 30 I. C. 545 = 17 Bom. L. R. 680. See also 17 Cal. 680 ; 10 Mad. 179 (F.B.). In such an appeal it is in expedient to go into the merits of the case pending in the lower court. 32 C. 741. An order refusing an application for removal of a receiver cannot be appealed from. 23 C. L. J. 217 = 20 C. W. N. 789 ; 24 I. C. 862. See also 40 Cal. 862. A Civil Court cannot appoint a receiver in respect of properties for which a Criminal Court has already appointed a receiver under S. 136, Cr. P. C., unless the Magistrate withdraws the attachment. 40 Cal. 862 = 17 C. W. N. 1070. A court of appeal will not, except in an extreme case, disturb an order as to the appointment of a receiver by a Court below. 5 Lah. L. J. 533 = 1923 Lah. 623 ; 1927 Lah. 65. If appointment of receiver is not made on sound judicial lines Appellate Court should interfere. 96 I. C. 30 = 1926 Cal. 1092. The pronouncement by a Court that a receiver should be appointed without naming a specific person is appealable. 40 Mad. 18 = 32 M. L. J. 304 ; 1 P. 625 = (1922) Pat. 250 ; 1 Pat. L. R. 161 = 4 P. L. T. 210. An order dismissing an objection to the appointment of a receiver of property of which the objector is in possession is appealable. 48 I. C. 133 = 3 Pat. L. J. 573.

APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL.—R. 13 of O. 45 applies where an application for appointing a receiver is made after leave to appeal to P. C. is granted but the principle for appointing a receiver shall be the same as laid down in O. 40, R. 1. 12 I. C. 198 = 4 Bur. L. T. 241.

REVIEW.—An ex parte order passed under this rule is capable of being reviewed. 21 B. 328. Order appointing receiver is discretionary with the trial Court—Court of review is free to exercise its own discretion. 27 L. W. 333 = 1928 P. C. 49 (P. C.).

EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS.—O. 40, R. 1 is a general provision relating to appointment of receivers and receiver can be appointed in execution proceedings. 100 I. C. 298 = 1927 Lah. 190. A creditor is not generally debarred from proceeding to execution by appointment of receiver. 23 C. W. N. 952 = 29 C. L. J. 424. The fact that a judgment-debtor will be reduced to poverty if his properties are allowed to be sold is no ground for the appointment of a receiver. 28 I. C. 505. Right of a person to receive allowance charged on property is attachable but a receiver cannot be appointed to receive money month by month. 16 C. L. J. 354 = 17 C. W. N. 662. In execution of a decree against a Ghatwal though the Ghatwali property could not be attached a receiver of the rents and profits cannot be appointed so as to apply them in satisfaction of the decree. 39 Cal. 1010 = 16 C. W. N. 802.

(c) commit the same to the possession, custody or management of the receiver; and

Payment of Chowkidars, Sardars and Government dues in a Ghatwali estate do not belong to the Ghatwal, while the rents and profits belong to the Ghatwal. 5 P. L. T. 34 = 3 Pat. 339. If a decree is to be executed against him, these can be collected by a receiver appointed therefor. (Ibid.) A mere right to maintenance not being liable to attachment and sale, a court has no power to appoint a receiver to receive such maintenance and apply it in satisfaction of the decree. 40 Mad. 302 = 30 M. L. J. 361. When appointment of a receiver is the only way to recover the decretal amount and when the interest of both parties can be safeguarded, the appointment is neither unjust nor inconvenient. 13 I. C. 285 = 11 N. L. R. 113. A receiver can be appointed to receive rents and profits of non-attachable property. (Ibid.) Mere convenience on the part of the decree-holder would not justify the appointment of a receiver. 21 I. C. 283 = 16 O. C. 238.

MISCELLANEOUS PROCEEDINGS.—O. 40, R. 1 does not restrict the appointment of a receiver only in the case of suits. S. 141 extends the procedure to all proceedings. 43 C. 986 = 20 C. W. N. 1009.

SPECIAL CASES.—Receivers in partition suits. 36 All. 19 = 11 A. L. J. 973. Practice as to appointment of receiver in a partition suit relating to joint family property. 55 I. C. 827 = 22 Bom. L. R. 217; 1923 Lah. 48; 18 C. L. J. 638 = 22 I. C. 601 = 18 C. W. N. 533.

IN PARTNERSHIP SUIT.—The application of a receiver to take charge of the partnership assets does not transfer the ownership therein from the partners to the receiver. 36 I. C. 980 = 91 P. R. 1917; 12 C. L. J. 368 = 7 I. C. 75. Where a dissolution is inevitable and the partners are on bad terms the usual way of guarding their interests is by appointing a receiver and ordering the goodwill of the business and the stock-in-trade to be sold, the partners being at liberty to bid at the sale. 8 Bur. IN MORTGAGE SUIT.—While the appeal from the preliminary decree is pending, the Court cannot appoint a receiver in a suit on simple mortgage. 43 I. C. 533. Whether the mortgagee is or is not entitled to possession, he may ask for a receiver, if the demands of justice require that the mortgagor should be deprived of possession. 31 C. L. W. N. 997. The appointment of a receiver at the instance of a mortgagee will be made as a matter of course if interest payable under the security is in arrears. 17 I. C. 202 = 16 C. W. N. 997. Receiver can be appointed in a mortgage suit for sale, although a receiver has been appointed in a prior partition suit. 16 C. W. N. 126 = 14 C. L. J. 526; 102 I. C. 353 = 1927 Sindh 230 = 29 M. L. J. 457; 14 Bom. 431; 47 Cal. 418. A receiver need not be appointed if the mortgagee has obtained a decree for foreclosure, and cannot recover even the costs of the litigation from the mortgagors personally. 16 C. W. N. 126 = 12 I. C. 165 = 14 C. L. J. 526. Receiver may be appointed even after sale of the mortgaged properties. 13 C. L. J. 487 = 15 C. W. N. 672; 95 I. C. 632 = 1926 Cal. 1006. Though ordinarily a receiver is not appointed when mortgagee is in possession yet when he is in possession through one of the mortgagors who became insolvent then the Court can appoint a receiver. 32 I. C. 691 = (1915) M. W. N. 864. A mortgagee decree-holder prevented from executing the decree is entitled to have a receiver appointed if the security is not sufficient to discharge the debt and the interest has not been paid. (6 M. L. T. 238, Foll.) Per Oldfield, J., in 26 I. C. 986 = 29 M. L. J. 457; 102 I. C. 353 = 1927 Sindh 230. An order appointing a receiver in execution of a mortgage decree is not binding on a person not a party to the suit, and claiming to be in possession in his right as prior mortgagee. 4 P. L. W. 414 = 45 I. C. 177. Execution of mortgage decree.—Receiver cannot be appointed for other properties not connected in suit. 96 I. C. 194 = 23 L. W. 650 = 1926 Mad. 797.

PRIVATE RECEIVER.—A private receiver deriving his power from the appointment of a mortgagee is almost unknown to the Indian people. 40 I. C. 865.

POSSESSORY SUITS.—A bona fide possessor of property should not be superseded by a receiver except on equitable grounds. 21 M. L. J. 821 = 11 I. C. 870. The provisions of O. 40, R. 1 refer to the case of the removal of a person other than a party to the suit and the Court is not debarred from removing one of the parties from possession of the property. (18 C. W. N. 537; 24 M. L. J. 658, foll.) 1922 Lah. 444; 61 I. C. 605 = 12 L. W. 254. The words "any person" in O. 40, R. 1 (2) are not confined to persons who are not parties to the suit. A tenant could not be ousted to be replaced by a receiver in an interlocutory order. 61 I. C. 605 = 12 L. W. 254. The possession of the receiver although in a sense the possession of the Court is also the possession of all the parties to the suit according to their title. 49 I. C. 89 = 8 L. W. 551. Property in possession of persons with paramount title—Their rights not affected by appointment of receiver. 1927 Pat. 397 = 104 I. C. 295 = 8 Pat. L. T. 717. During the continuance of the receivership it is incompetent for the receiver to set up a title in himself adverse to that of the parties. (Ibid.) Even if the receiver is discharged he would still hold the property on behalf of the rightful owner. (Ibid.) The possession of the Court through its receiver does not suspend the operation of adverse possession, if the successful party is holding it by adverse possession. 21 M. L. T. 62 = 5 L. W. 690 = 40 I. C. 50 = 32 M. L. J. 85. A property not forming part of the pending litigation cannot be made over to a receiver appointed by the Court without jurisdiction. 5 P. L. J. 513 = 1 P. L. T. 653 = 58 I. C. 405 = 1920 Pat. 231. Where a person refuses to deliver possession to a receiver appointed by the Court appeal lies under O. 43, R. 1. 48 I. C. 779.

(d) confer upon the receiver all such powers, as to bringing and defending suits and for the realization, management, protection, preservation and improvement of the property, the collection of the rents and profits thereof, the application and disposal of such rents and profits, and the execution of documents as the owner himself has, or such of those powers as the Court thinks fit.

(2) Nothing in this rule shall authorize the Court to remove from the possession or custody of property any person whom any party to the suit has not a present right so to remove.

2. [Cf. S. 503, cl. (d).] The Court may by general or special order fix the amount to be paid as remuneration for the services of the receiver.

3. [S. 503, para. 2.] Every receiver so appointed shall—

(a) furnish such security (if any) as the Court thinks fit, duly to account for what he shall receive in respect of the property ;

(b) submit his accounts at such periods and in such form as the Court directs ;

(c) pay the amount due from him as the Court directs ; and

(d) be responsible for any loss occasioned to the property by his wilful default or gross negligence.

Enforcement of receiver's duties.

SCHEME SUIT.—O. 40, R. 1 (2) is intended to protect third persons and not parties to the suit and does not debar the Court from appointing a receiver in a scheme suit. 20 I. C. 767=24 M. L. J. 658 ; 41 M.L.J. 545=(1923) M.W.N. 75=16 L. W. 927=1923 Mad. 224.

TRUST PROPERTY.—As a trust property cannot be sold in execution of a decree against the trustee, the only method by which a judgment-debtor may be compelled to satisfy the claim of the execution creditor is by the appointment of a receiver. 57 I. C. 70=30 C. L. J. 231.

PROCEEDINGS UNDER TRUST ACT.—Receiver cannot be appointed in proceedings under S. 74 of the Trust Act. 1927 Sindh 237=103 I. C. 816 ; where the income of the mutt was not sufficient both to meet the expenses and to pay off debts contracted by its head, or receiver was directed to be appointed. 54 I. O. 40, R. 2.—An order increasing remuneration to be paid to a receiver, is an order made under O. 40, R. 2 and not under cl. (d) of R. 1 and is not appealable, 22 I.C. 352. Remuneration must not exceed the income of the estate realised by receiver. 91 I. C. 54=1925 Nag. 462.

O. 40, R. 3.—Security not furnished by plaintiff receiver.—Suit if may be dismissed on that ground. 46 Cal. 70=22 C. W. N. 520. The liability of a surety for a receiver. 28 I. C. 31=20 C. L. J. 123. The surety is liable for the payment of interest on balances improperly retained by him as also costs of proceedings. (Ibid.) When the surety satisfies the claim of the plaintiff he will be entitled to stand in place of the receiver to the extent of the payment made by him and to reimburse himself from the sums to be paid to the receiver without derogation of his right to sue him. (Ibid.)

advanced to an infant more than the amount sanctioned and it was not shown that it was applied for his benefit. Held, that a receipt by the infant for the amount was no valid discharge to the receiver. 28 I. C. 25=20 C. L. J. 113. A bribe to the Police officer to release the minor is unauthorised and the receiver cannot claim the amount against the payee. (Ibid.) The receiver is bound to furnish details of litigation expenses and he is not entitled to the salary of officers appointed without leave of Court. (Ibid.) A succeeding receiver cannot sue a former receiver for recovering funds which he should have realized and accounted for. 24 I. C. 768=41 Cal. 92. The receiver must keep his accounts and vouchers ready for examination at any time. At the time of adjustment of accounts the receiver and other interested parties have a right to be heard. 12 I. C. 780=14 C. L. J. 445. A receiver will not be permitted without Court's sanction to incur expenditure seriously diminishing the funds entrusted to him. If a receiver proves that a transaction made by him is beneficial to the parties interested, he must be allowed credit for such transaction. (Ibid.) A receiver should be allowed fees for legal assistance though not previously sanctioned by the Court. (Ibid.) The fees will not be allowed where no legal skill is required. (Ibid.) Receiver's account filed and vouched before an examiner can be re-opened on the discovery of errors though a Judge's certificate is attached, and the receiver may be surcharged though he has been discharged. (Ibid.) Accounts—Meine profits—Expenses of litigation when allowed. 22 M. L. J. 253=14 I. C. 396. If the receiver had failed to realize rents by taking proper proceedings he will not be exempt from liability. (Ibid.) Mistaken proceedings though taken in good faith will not absolve the receiver from liability for rent. (Ibid.) Court which has to pass receiver's accounts. 4 P. L. J. 636=54 I. C. 207.

O. 40, R. 4.—An order passing a receiver's account is one under O. 40, R. 4 and is appealable. 45 Bom. 99=22 Bom. L. R. 1126. Appeal from

(b) fails to pay the amount due from him as the Court directs, or

(c) occasions loss to the property by his wilful default or gross negligence, the Court may direct his property to be attached and may sell such property and may apply the proceeds to make good any amount found to be due from him or any loss occasioned by him, and shall pay the balance (if any) to the receiver.

5. [S. 504.] Where the property is land paying revenue to the Government, or land of which the revenue has been assigned or redeemed,

When Collector may be appointed receiver, and the Court considers that the interests of those concerned will be promoted by the management of the Collector, the Court may, with the consent of the Collector, appoint him to be receiver of such property.

ORDER XLI.

"The copy of the judgment shall be a printed copy in every case in which the High Court has prescribed that the judgment shall be printed when a copy is applied for the purpose of appeal."

(2) Add the following as a proviso to sub-rule (1) of R. 1 of O. 41 :—

"Provided that in appeals from decrees or orders under any special or local Act to which the provisions of Parts II and III of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) do not apply and in which certified copies of such decrees or orders have not been granted within the time prescribed for preferring an appeal, the Appellate Court may admit the Memorandum of Appeal subject to the production of the copy of the decree or order appealed from within such time as may be fixed by the court"

[Madras] (1) Add the following sentence to sub-rule (2) of R. 1 of O. 41 :—

"The memorandum shall also contain a statement of the valuation of the appeal for the purposes of the Court-fees Act."

(2) Add the following as sub-rule (3) of R. 1 of O. 41 :—

"(3) When an appeal is presented after the period of limitation prescribed therefor, it shall be accompanied by a petition supported by affidavit setting forth the facts on which the appellant relies to satisfy the Court that he had sufficient cause for not preferring the appeal within such period, and the Court shall not proceed to deal with the appeal in any way (otherwise than by decree even when there is no decree in existence. 69 I. C. 895=1922 Lah. 170. When after filing an appeal a decree is amended and the amended copy is permitted to be attached to the appeal, the appeal becomes an appeal on the amended decree. 43 I. C. 772. An appeal from an amended decree must be accompanied by a copy of that decree and not the original decree. 11 I. C. 8. The non-filing of an award which is both judgment and decree along with a memorandum of appeal is fatal to the appeal. 7 Lah. 539=1927 Lah. 49=97 I. C. 187. Appeal from award under Land Acquisition Act—Copy of the award to be filed 94 I. C. 145=1925 Lah. 4183. Copy of decree in cross appeal not necessary. 95 I. C. 256=1926 Lah. 540=27 Punj. L. R. 745.

WHEN ORDER NOT DRAWN UP.—Copies of both order and judgment are to be filed unless the formal order had not been drawn up, in which case a copy of the judgment alone will do. 1924 All. 162; 17 I. C. 119=16 C. L. J. 133; 14 I. C. 1006=15 C. L. J. 498. But see contra in 1924 Lah. 352. The proper course is to adjourn the appeal till a copy of decree is obtained. 1924 Lah. 352; 49 I. C. 573=19 P. R. 1919. In a miscellaneous appeal a copy of the decree cannot be dispensed with. 40 All. 12=15 A. L. J. 801. Failure to file copy of order, which was a precise copy of the operative part of the judgment, matters little and will not affect the appeal. 21 A. L. J. 452=1923 All. 579. Copy of interim order on preliminary issues need not be filed. 103 I. C. 224=1927 Lah. 629. Filing a vernacular translation of the decree is invalid. 4 Lah. L. J. 381; 2 Lah. L. J. 728. A copy of the judgment too is necessary. If its filing after limitation is not duly explained, the appeal may be dismissed. 67 I. C. 670=3 Lah. L. J. 255; 63 I. C. 30=2 Lah. 227; 67 P. R. 1917=41 I. C. 918; 25 I. C. 28. Though an appeal is filed without a copy of the judgment, when notice is issued, it amounts to dispensing with the necessity of filing the same. 90 I. C. 135. Where several persons appeal from the same judgment, a copy of judgment should be filed with each memo.; but where one appellant files more than one appeal, he may file a copy with one of the many memos. of appeal. 1 P. 670=4 P. L. T.

290; 6 Lah. 218. Two judgments one on preliminary issue and the other on other issues, both must be filed. 9 L. L. J. 502. Defective memo. admitted—Objection to memo. at a later stage is barred. 1927 Lah. 451; see also 104 I. C. 545=1927 Lah. 449.

SECOND APPEALS.—Memorandum of appeal must be accompanied by a copy of the decree appealed against even in second appeals. 15 A. 123 (127). The provisions of this rule are imperative and presentation of memo. of second appeal without a copy of decree appealed against is invalid. But delay can be excused. An ex parte order excusing delay can be attacked by respondent. 44 M. L. J. 279=17 L. W. 352. When two decrees are passed in two appeals from the same decree, both of them should be filed in the second appeal. 3 Lah. 215=1922 Lah. 390. See also 33 I. C. 742=84 P. R. 1916. Memo. of appeal not accompanied by copies of judgments of lower courts such copies being on record of another appeal by opposite party is no good reason for dispensing with such copies. 104 I. C. 290 (1). A second appeal filed with a copy of the decree of the lower appellate court but not with the grounds of appeal in first court is a valid presentment. 80 P. R. 1918=48 I. C. 102. In a second appeal, a copy of the trial court's judgment need not be filed. 74 I. C. 330=(1923) Pat. 19. Omission to file judgment of first court with memorandum of appeal is fatal. 97 I. C. 80 (2)=1926 Lah. 638 (1)=8 Lah. L. J. 361; see also 1927 Lah. 423 (2)=101 I. C. 776. Presentation of appeal with unattested copy of judgment—Proper when attested copy is not available. 94 I. C. 2=1926 Lah. 404. Non-filing copy of interlocutory order of the Court below referred to in the judgment when filing second appeal, does not affect validity of presentation. 4 Lah. L. J. 20=1922 Lah. 93.

GROUND OF APPEAL.—In every appeal, the appellant must show some reason why the judgment should be disturbed. 17 N. L. R. 72=63 I. C. 808=25 C. W. N. 866 (P. C.).

RESTORATION.—The court has inherent power to restore to file an appeal dismissed for default, even though pleader could not adduce sufficient cause for default. 15 C. L. J. 334=39 C. 34.

dismissing it either under rule 11 of this order or on the ground that it is not satisfied as to the sufficiency of the reasons for extending the period of limitation) until notice has been given to the respondent and his objections, if any, to the Court acting under the provisions of section 5 of Act IX of 1908 have been heard."

[Bangoon] To O. 41, R. 1. the following shall be added as sub-rule (3) :—

"(3) The appellant shall present along with the petition of appeal, as many copies on plain paper of the grounds of appeal as there are respondents."

2. [S. 542.] The appellant shall not, except by leave of the Court, urge or be heard in support of any ground of objection not set forth in the memorandum of appeal; but the Appellate Court, in deciding the appeal, shall not be confined to the grounds of objection set forth in the memorandum of appeal or taken by leave of the Court under this rule :

Provided that the Court shall not rest its decision on any other ground unless the party who may be affected thereby has had a sufficient opportunity of contesting the case on that ground.

3. [S. 543.] (1) Where the memorandum of appeal is not drawn up in the manner hereinbefore prescribed, it may be rejected, or be returned to the appellant for the purpose of being amended within a time to be fixed by the Court or be amended then and there.

Rejection or amendment of memorandum.

"3. (1) Where the memorandum of appeal is not drawn up in the manner hereinbefore prescribed or accompanied by the copies mentioned in rule 1 (1), it may be rejected, or where the memorandum of appeal is not drawn up, in the manner prescribed, it may be returned to the appellant for the purposes of being amended within a time to be fixed by the Court or be amended then and there.

(2) Where the Court rejects any memorandum, it shall record the reasons for such rejection.

(3) Where a memorandum of appeal is amended, the Judge, or such officer as he appoints in this behalf, shall sign or initial the amendment.

[Bombay] After rule 3 of O. 41, the following rule shall be inserted, namely :—

"3-A. Where an appellant applies for delay to be excused, notice to show cause shall at once be issued to the respondent and the matter shall be finally decided before notice is issued to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred under rule 13.

In sub-rule (2) of rule 3 of Order 41, after the words "to show cause why the said certificate should not be granted" the following words shall be inserted, namely :—"unless it thinks fit to refuse the certificate."

O. 41, R. 2. TIME AND PLACE OF RECEIPT.—Appeal can be received by judge at his residence and out of court hours. 34 All. 482 = 9 A. L. J. 743. Plea not raised in trial court cannot be raised in appeal. 19 I. C. 48 = 6 Bur. L. T. 53; 68 I. C. 227 = 3 Lah. L. J. 392. A new case cannot be raised. 167 P. W. R. 1912 = 17 I. C. 247 = 190 P. L. R. 1912. Grounds not raised in memo. of appeal cannot be urged. 54 I. C. 531; 70 I. C. 653 = (1922) M. W. N. 481 = 1923 Mad. 11; especially, long after the period of limitation for filing appeal. 30 I. C. 22 = 7 P. R. 1916. Ground of attack raised in plaint and not in the memo. of appeal will not be allowed to be raised, being deemed to have been abandoned. 17 I. C. 247 = 217 P. L. R. 1912. In appeal new grounds can be traversed with permission of court, though not specified in the grounds of appeal. 57 P. L. R. 1916 = 20 I. C. 817. As to when courts will prevent it, see 57 I. C. 800 = 11 L. W. 611.

FILING OF ADDITIONAL GROUNDS.—Additional grounds should not be allowed to be filed at a late stage. 49 P. R. 1914 = 25 I. C. 443. Where alternative grounds of appeal are raised an appellate Court is not debarred from going into questions which are admitted for the purpose of an alternative argument. 84 I. C. 1039; 5 Lah. L. J. 117. Plea of res judicata can be raised for first time in second appeal at its hearing though not in the memo. of appeal. 22 I. C. 12. A plaintiff accepting decision and not appealing cannot question in second appeal by means of cross-objections. 61 I. C. 48 = 19 A. L. J. 155.

O. 41, R. 3.—No duty on court to add proper parties when the appellant neglects. 18 I. C. 37 = 59 P. R. 1913. Wrong naming of respondent due to clerical error can be rectified and the mistake is not fatal. 21 C. W. N. 774 = 27 C. L. J. 129. Where an appeal is preferred against a dead person legal representatives cannot be added after limitation period. 21 I. C. 306. Rejection on account of limitation does not come under this rule but under R. 11. It amounts to a dismissal and is appealable. 60 I. C. 493.

4. [S. 544.] Where there are more plaintiffs or more defendants than one in a suit, and the decree appealed from proceeds on any ground common to all the plaintiffs or to all the defendants, any one of the plaintiffs or of the defendants may appeal from the whole decree, and thereupon the Appellate Court may reverse or vary the decree in favour of all the plaintiffs or defendants, as the case may be.

Stay of proceedings and of execution.

5. [S. 545.] (1) An appeal shall not operate as a stay of proceedings under a decree or order appealed from except so far as the Appellate Court may order, nor shall execution of a decree be Stay by appellate Court.

O. 41, R. 4. OBJECT AND SCOPE.—This rule gives the court ample powers to make appropriate order in the interests of justice. 30 C. L. J. 417 = 24 C. W. N. 110. Scope of, see 100 I. C. 346 = 1927 All. 311. Object of this rule enunciated in 20 I. C. 952 = 25 M. L. J. 248. One plaintiff may appeal for the benefit of other plaintiffs only if the co-plaintiffs are made parties to appeal. 106 I. C. 113 = 1928 Lah. 43 (1923 All. 211; 1924 A. 873; 53 I. C. 543, Rel. on). This rule prevents two contrary decisions in the same suit. 35 I. C. 547 = 1 P. L. J. 143. This rule confines itself to the case of appellants—Relief cannot be given against a person not impleaded as a respondent. 90 I. C. 986 = 30 C. W. N. 45. For the distinction between this rule and R. 33, see 30 I. C. 868 = 22 C. L. J. 61; also 42 Cal. 451 = 19 C. W. N. 233; 24 I. C. 924 = 1 L. W. 376. Appeal by some of the parties—Power of court to grant relief in its entirety. 99 I. C. 1041. See also 1927 Pat. 103 = 98 I. C. 846 = 8 Pat. L. T. 316; 106 I. C. 875 (2). The discretion exercised will not be interfered with in second appeal. 88 I. C. 535 = 1926 All. 64. Under this rule it is enough if the decree proceeds on any ground common to all the parties. Every ground need not be common. 42 Cal. 451 = 19 C. W. N. 233; 63 I. C. 973 = 13 Bur. L. T. 163. This rule applies where the interests of the appealing party are inseparable from those of the non-appealing parties. But where they are separable the case is different and the rule has no application. 44 I. C. 762 = 3 P. L. J. 166. This rule does not apply where there is no common ground of appeal. 40 I. C. 184 = 35 P. W. R. 1917; 8 L. L. J. 132 = 1926 Lah. 303 = 94 I. C. 557 (1). This rule does not apply to parties not appealing and who are made pro forma respondents. They cannot be heard supporting the appeal. 34 I. C. 714 (F. B.). Except under this rule no relief in respect of persons not parties to the appeal can be given. 44 I. C. 430. Under no provision of law can an appellate court interfere with a decree in a suit not appealed from. 53 I. C. 883 = 116 P. R. 1919; 1 L. W. 169 = 23 I. C. 620; 15 I. C. 409; 35 I. C. 547 = 1 P. L. J. 166; 84 I. C. 68 = 1925 Cal. 23. In an appeal by one unsuccessful defendant relief can be given to the non-appealing defendants as well, provided their defence was also the same. 40 Mad. 846 = 41 I. C. 546; 23 C. W. N. 372; 31 I. C. 886; 60 I. C. 460; 31 C. L. J. 75 = 24 C. W. N. 463. This is left to the discretion of court. 36 All. 510 = 24 I. C. 439 = 12 A. L. J. 883. But see contra 2 P. L. R. 1912 = 12 I. C. 605. Even in favour of a non-appealing heir of a deceased defendant. 35 I. C. 743 = 3 O. L. J. 279. Where one of two appellants died before hearing of appeal and the fact was not known to counsel or court, a decree passed in favour of both is valid and the legal representative of the deceased appellant can be brought on record at the time of passing a final decree. 22 L. W. 142 = 48 M. L. J. 601 = 1925 M. 235.

WHERE RELIEF IN FAVOUR OF NON-APPEARING PARTY CANNOT BE GIVEN.—Where one of several joint plaintiffs appeals, the others must be made parties. 45 A. 286 = 21 A. L. J. 91; also 53 I. C. 548. But see contra 23 I. C. 91 = 63 P. R. 1914. Where a person is a necessary party to the suit, he is a necessary party to the appeal as well. Not bringing him as a party to the appeal, will entail a dismissal of the appeal. 3 P. L. T. 456 = 66 I. C. 780. When relief against non-appealing defendants have been granted in the first appeal, they form necessary parties to the second appeal. 22 I. C. 90 = 18 C. L. J. 621. Not bringing on record the legal representatives of deceased co-defendant, during pendency of appeal, only abates the appeal so far as the deceased alone is concerned and does not affect the appeal as a whole. 90 I. C. 986 = 30 C. W. N. 45; 10 I. C. 27; 26 I. C. 486 = 88 P. R. 1914. But see 70 I. C. 168 = 16 L. W. 330 = 1923 Mad. 58. Where in a suit against two defendants one of whom remained ex parte and a joint decree against both was passed, and the contesting defendant alone appealed, the whole suit cannot be dismissed even as against the ex parte non-appealing defendant. 24 I. C. 924 = 1 L. W. 376. But relief against non-appealing defendants as well cannot be given when the appeal is not on the entire decree, but only so far as it affects the appealing defendant. 63 I. C. 95. Where relief is claimed alternatively against A and B and decreed against B, in the appeal by B, cross-objections against A need not be raised. The rights can be settled by the Court. 42 I. C. 548.

O. 41, R. 5.—The policy underlying the rule, see 38 Cal. 754 = 15 C. W. N. 475.

SCOPE OF.—See 37 I. C. 752; 99 I. C. 763 (1.. The Registrar of Patna High Court has power to receive and dispose of applications for stay of execution proceedings. 59 I. C. 883 = 2 Pat. L. T. 70. In cases where the C. P. Code does not apply, the High Court has inherent jurisdiction as a Court of appeal to stay proceedings in a lower Court. 4 Pat. L. J. 371 = 52 I. C. 185. The High Court can suspend imprisonment under Sec. 43 of the Prov. Insl. Act, till the disposal of the appeal from the sentence. 44 Bom. 673 = 22 Bom. L. R. 322. Interim order if stay of execution by Appellate Court—Receipt of order by lower Court—Anything done in contravention of the order cannot become good by reason of the order of stay being ultimately vacated. 99 I. C. 989 = 1927 Mad. 450. But

(2) Where an application is made for stay of execution of an appealable decree before the expiration of the time allowed for appealing therefrom, the Court which passed the decree may on sufficient cause being shown order the execution to be stayed.

(3) No order for stay of execution shall be made under sub-rule (1) or sub-rule (2) unless the Court making it is satisfied—

(a) that substantial loss may result to the party applying for stay of execution unless the order is made;

(b) that the application has been made without unreasonable delay; and

(c) that security has been given by the applicant for the due performance of such decree or order as may ultimately be binding upon him.

it is best to stay all further proceedings in suit until disposal of appeal from preliminary decree. 107 I. C. 486.

Proviso (c).—What is required is a mortgage bond, which, if property mortgaged exceeds Rs. 100 in value, must be registered. 84 I. C. 302=1925 Rang. 5. Proviso (c) does not contemplate a decree or order in a separate proceeding in future by the decree-holder. 22 M.L.J. 190=12 I. C. 692. Mere presentation of appeal or presentation followed by dismissal does not in any way affect the operation of the original decree. 46 Cal. 770=36 M. L. J. 557=23 C. W. N. 721=50 I. C. 444 (P. C.); also 63 I. C. 799.

POWERS OF TRIAL COURT.—An appeal having been filed the trial Court cannot oust the decree-holder who has been put in possession in execution and put the judgment-debtor in possession. 35 All. 119=17 I. C. 728. An appellant can before filing an appeal obtain an order for stay from the trial Court. 33 I. C. 685=23 C. L. J. 310.

FORUM.—An application for stay should be made in the executing Court though an appeal be pending. 11 I. C. 22. When stay of a decree on the original side pending an intended appeal is to be applied for in the original side, it should be made to the Judge who decided the case. 25 C. W. N. 928=48 C. 796. It is left to the discretion of the appellate Court to stay execution. An order passed by an appellate Court should not ordinarily be disturbed, unless it was passed without jurisdiction or with material irregularity or would occasion substantial loss. 1922 Lah. 185.

WHEN STAY CAN BE ORDERED.—Stay ought to be granted in appeal when the decree-holders have sufficient security in the property itself remaining under attachment. 75 I. C. 791=1923 Lah. 445 (2). Stay can be granted only on furnishing security. But no security is necessary, when the decree itself is secured on the property. 2 Lah. L. J. 330. Stay should be granted when the appellant could not recover properties sold in the event of his succeeding in the appeal. 15 I. C. 876=94 P. W. R. 1912. When execution is being taken for costs fixed, but the respondent is insolvent, the proper order is to grant stay on payment of costs to the respondent's pleaders on the latter's undertaking to return it if the appellant succeeds in the appeal. 16 L. W. 975=70 I. C. 784=1923 M. 229 (2). See also 4 P. L. J. 642=54 I. C. 222 (stay in case of directions given to receiver by lower Court). What constitutes 'substantial loss' within the meaning of O. 41, R. 5, cl. (3), see 1927 Lah. 169=99 I. C. 767.

WHEN STAY CANNOT BE GRANTED.—With out an appeal on the decree on file a stay order is ultra vires and a nullity. 43 All. 513=19 A.L. J. 462: 43 All. 198=18 A. L. J. 1121. Stay cannot be granted by lower Court when no execution application is pending. 63 I. C. 897=58 I. C. 302. Stay of execution to be granted in an appeal from a pre-emption decree. 9 Lah. L. J. 130=1927 Lah. 169=99 I. C. 767. A bare statement that the appellant will suffer substantial loss is not a sufficient ground for granting stay. 61 I. C. 77=2 Lah. 61. Stay cannot be granted on the ground that a claim by a prior mortgagee is pending. Only amount sufficient to satisfy claim should be retained out of the sale proceeds. 60 I. C. 378=57 P.W.R. 1920. On a mere vague speculation stay cannot be granted; failing to furnish security required, cannot give benefit of stay; stay after execution of decree cannot be granted. 58 I. C. 442. A decree for possession should not be stayed unless the three conditions of sub-rule (3) are satisfied. The crucial test is whether substantial loss will result if stay is not granted. 61 I. C. 827. Annoyance of feelings is not a sufficient ground for granting stay. 17 I. C. 219=23 M.L. J. 316. Stay of proceedings for taking accounts will not be allowed, unless irreparable injury will otherwise be caused. 61 I. C. 9. When an appeal against an order refusing to set aside an ex parte decree is pending the appellate Court has no power to stay execution, though the lower Court may. 33 I. C. 443. Sufficiency of security must be enquired into by the executing Court when High Court allowed execution on furnishing security. 44 I. C. 156=22 C. W. N. 657. Where after a decree for redemption the mortgagor deposited the decree amount and prayed for possession in execution, the deposit is a sufficient security for mesne profits in case the decree is reversed on appeal, and no additional security need be furnished. 11 M. L. T. 248=15 I. C. 383.

WHEN STAY ORDER TAKES EFFECT.—Stay order takes effect only after communication. So an attachment order by lower Court after passing of the stay order by the appellate Court, but before the communication is received, is valid. 33 M.L.J. 515=41 M. 151 (F.B.). But see 96 I. C. 137=1926 All. 457. But knowledge of the fact of stay order passed by appellate Court is sufficient to stop execution by lower Court, though the

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-rule (3), the Court may make an ex parte order for stay of execution pending the hearing of the application.

6. [S. 546.] (1) Where an order is made for the execution of a decree from which an appeal is pending, the Court which passed the decree shall, on sufficient cause being shown by the appellant, require security to be taken for the restitution of any property which may be or has been taken in execution of the decree or for the payment of the value of such property and for the due performance of the decree or order of the Appellate Court, or the Appellate Court may for like cause direct the Court which passed the decree to take such security.

Security in case of order for execution of decree appealed from.

(2) Where an order has been made for the sale of immoveable property in execution of a decree, and an appeal is pending from such decree, the sale shall, on the application of the judgment-debtor to the Court which made the order, be stayed on such terms as to giving security or otherwise as the Court thinks fit until the appeal is disposed of.

7. [S. 547.] No such security as is mentioned in rules 5 and 6 shall be required from the Secretary of State for India in Council or, where the Government has undertaken the defence of the suit, from any public officer sued in respect of an act alleged to be done by him in his official capacity.

No security to be required from the Government or a public officer in certain cases.

8. The powers conferred by rules 5 and 6 shall be exercisable where an appeal may be or has been preferred not from the decree but from an order made in execution of such decree.

Exercise of powers in appeal from order made in execution of decree.

Procedure on admission of appeal.

9. [S. 548.] (1) Where a memorandum of appeal is admitted, the Appellate Court or the proper officer of that Court shall endorse thereon the date of presentation, and shall register the appeal in a book to be kept for the purpose.

official communication had not been received. 38 Mad. 766=26 M. L. J. 275. An ad interim stay order operates from the time of its pronouncement and not when it is communicated. 41 I. C. 752=53 P. W. R. 1917; 96 I. C. 137=1926 All. 457.

SALE IN CONTRAVENTION OF STAY ORDER.—A sale held between the time when an ex parte order for stay was passed and the time when the order was set aside, is not void. 43 I. C. 656 (1)=16 A. L. J. 46. Interim stay of sale ordered by appellate court—Sale held in ignorance of order—Sale not a nullity. 1927 All. 401=102 I. C. 665=25 A. L. J. 530 (F. B.)=50 A. 41.

REALISATION OF SECURITY.—When immoveable property is given as security, it can be realised by execution and no need for a separate suit for its realisation. 41 Mad. 327=34 M. L. J. 84.

APPEAL.—No appeal lies from an interlocutory order for furnishing security. 75 I. C. 793=1923 Lah. 446; or from order accepting security as sufficient. 3 Rang. 255=1925 Rang. 225.

O. 41, R. 6. SCOPE.—The inherent powers given to Appellate Courts under R. 5 regarding stay of execution are not restricted or cut down by the special and emergent powers given to executing Courts under sub-rule (2). 41 Mad. 813=34 M. L. J. 470 (dissenting from 17 I. C. 763=23 M. L. J. 677).

Sub-rule (3). OBLIGATORY.—When an appeal is pending the executing Court to stay the sale, though the Court can make it a condition of the order that the decree amount should be deposited in cash. 9 I. C. 323=15 C. W. N. 432. But such an order is against the spirit of the rule. 1925 Lah. 69.

APPLICABILITY.—This rule applies only to cases where the appeal is against the decree which is to be executed. So it has no application in case where an appeal is preferred on a decree in claim suit. In this case the remedy is an injunction under O. 39. 4 Lah. L. J. 188=1922 Lah. 58. Where after a decree in High Court in appeal, there was an appeal to the Privy Council, the proper Court which could demand security from the decree-holder who had taken possession is not the trial Court under this rule, but the High Court has to be moved under R. 13. 3 Rang. 158=4 Bur. L. J. 50. A surety under this rule is not discharged on the death of the judgment-debtor. 32 I. C. 807. No arrangement between the decree-holder and surety can bind the judgment-debtor's interest on reversal of decree. 32 I. C. 807. An order under O. 41, R. 6 directing stay of sale of immoveable property does not bar the decree-holder from proceeding against the moveables of the judgment-debtor. 93 I. C. 897 (2)=1926 Lah. 463.

REVISION.—An order for security to stay sale pending appeal passed without enquiry as to value can be set aside in revision. 6 Lah. L. J. 510=1925 Lah. 256.

APPEAL.—Order under O. 41 is appealable—S. 47, C. P. C., applies. 102 I. C. 25=9 Lah. L. J. 189=28 Punj. L. R. 617.

(2) Such book shall be called the Register of Appeals.

[Madras.] Substitute the following for O. XLI, R. 9 (2):—

Registers in accordance with Forms Nos. 22, 23, 24 and 25 in Appendix H are prescribed for use in all Civil Courts having jurisdiction over the classes of suits specified therein.

10. [S. 549.] (1) The Appellate Court may in its discretion, either before the respondent is called upon to appear and answer or afterwards on the application of the respondent, demand from the appellant security for the costs of the appeal, or of the original suit, or of both :

Appellate Court may require appellant to furnish security for costs.

Provided that the Court shall demand such security in all cases in which the appellant is residing out of British India, and is not possessed of any sufficient immoveable property within

Where appellant resides out of British India.

British India other than the property (if any) to which the appeal relates.

[Allahabad.] Add this as a proviso to Order XLI, Rule 10 (1):—“ Provided also that in case of every appeal from any decree or order passed in appeal by any Court subordinate to the High Court confirming the decree or order of the Court below or modifying it only in favour of the appellant or in respect of costs, the appellant shall, with the memorandum of appeal, or within such time as the Court may for special reasons allow, deposit in the appellate Court security for the costs of the appeal and for all costs ordered by the Courts below to be paid by him, which remain unpaid.”

(2) Where such security is not furnished within such time as the Court orders, the Court shall reject the appeal.

11. [S. 551.] (1) The Appellate Court, after sending for the record if it thinks fit so to do, and after fixing a day for hearing the appellant or his pleader and hearing him accordingly if he appears on that day, may dismiss the appeal without sending notice to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred and without serving notice on the respondent or his pleader.

O. 41, R. 10. SCOPE.—The rule applies to Letters Patent Appeal. The provision regarding rejection is mandatory. 48 Cal. 481=48 I.A. 70=40 M.L.J. 308 (P.C.). Also 25 Bom. L.R. 468=73 I.C. 474; 68 I.C. 306=2 Lah. L. J. 391. O. 41, R. 10, C. P. C. is concerned with costs incurred up to and in the Appellate Court and has no bearing whatever in costs which may be dependent upon something occurring in the Privy Council. 101 I.C. 551=1927 All. 522 (2). This rule applies to appeals from the Original Side of the High Court 21 L.W. 662=1925 Mad. 1132. The rule applies to appeals from an order of the High Court in its insolvency jurisdiction. 43 Cal. 243=20 C.W.N. 140. This rule does not apply to pauper appeals, and security cannot be demanded of a pauper appellant. 42 Bom. 5=19 Bom. L.R. 771; 48 I.C. 971; 3 Lah. 30=67 I.C. 256. But see contra 43 Mad. 902=58 I.C. 794. Security for costs of guardian ad litem of a minor respondent can be demanded under this rule. 47 I.C. 928. Applications for security for costs should be made promptly without delay. 20 P. L. R. 1918=44 I.C. 23. Application for correcting clerical error in security bond filed, should be allowed. 86 I. C. 752=1925 Oudh 402.

SECURITY FOR COSTS OF APPEAL.—Security bond not properly executed—Dismissal of appeal forthwith—Propriety. 47 C. L. J. 328=107 I.C. 349 (2) (P.C.).

WHEN TO BE ORDERED.—The power to demand security must be exercised according to well-known principles for which see 25 Bom. L.

R. 468=73 I.C. 474. The Court has a discretion in demanding security—Poverty of the appellant is not sufficient—Each case stands on its own facts—In many cases at least security for costs of appeal alone, may be justly ordered. 25 Bom. L.R. 195=1923 Bom. 264; 17 L.W. 26=70 I.C. 586; 1 P. L. T. 114=55 I. C. 835. If appeal is not vexatious, poverty of appellant and existence of relations who can pay is not a sufficient ground. 28 I. C. 598=19 C. W. N. 446. Even though the appellant is a public servant who is defended by Government security from the Secretary of State can be ordered when the amount of costs is very high. 13 I.C. 335=16 C. W. N. 119. No extension of time can be granted after the dismissal of the appeal. 67 I.C. 883=1923 Cal. 317. But see 42 All. 626=18 A.L.J. 838.

REVISION.—A rejected appeal under sub-rule (2) can be restored and further time for furnishing security may be given in revision though there is no explicit provision to that effect. 42 All. 626=18 A.L.J. 838; 3 Lah. 30; 40 I.C. 234=28 O.L.J. 163. Notice to the respondent is necessary when re-admitting a rejected appeal. 40 I.C. 234. No appeal lies from an order under this rule. 62 I.C. 751; 3 Lah. 30. No appeal or revision lies from an order setting aside an order rejecting an appeal under sub-rule (2). 42 All. 626=18 A.L.J. 838. Sureties are discharged when the appeal is allowed and cannot again be made liable, when the appellate order is reversed. 38 C.L.J. 190=76 I.C. 510.

O. 41, R. 11. SCOPE.—A dismissal of an appeal under this rule is not equivalent to con-

(2) If on the day fixed or any other day to which the hearing may be adjourned the appellant does not appear when the appeal is called on for hearing, the Court may make an order that the appeal be dismissed.

Day for hearing appeal.

12. [S. 552.] (1) Unless the Appellate Court dismisses the appeal under rule 11, it shall fix a day for hearing the appeal.

(2) Such day shall be fixed with reference to the current business of the Court, the place of residence of the respondent, and the time necessary for the service of the notice of appeal, so as to allow the respondent sufficient time to appear and answer the appeal on such day.

Appellate Court to give notice to Court whose decree appealed from.

13. [S. 550.] (1) Where the appeal is not dismissed under rule 11, the Appellate Court shall send notice of the appeal to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred.

Transmission of papers to Appellate Court.

(2) Where the appeal is from the decree of a Court, the records of which are not deposited in the Appellate Court, the Court receiving such notice shall send with all practicable despatch all material papers in the suit, or such papers as may be specially called for by the Appellate Court.

Copies of exhibits in Court whose decree appealed from.

(3) Either party may apply in writing to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, specifying any of the papers in such Court of which he requires copies to be made; and copies of such papers shall be made at the expense of, and given to, the applicant.

14. [S. 553.] (1) Notice of the day fixed under rule 12 shall be affixed in the Publication of service of notice of day for hearing appeal.

Appellate Court-house, and a like notice shall be sent by the Appellate Court to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, and shall be served on the respondent or on his pleader in the Appellate Court in the manner provided for the service on a defendant of a summons to appear and answer; and all the provisions applicable to such summons, and to proceedings with reference to the service thereof, shall apply to the service of such notice.

firmation of decree under Rule 32. When the appeal is against a mortgage decree the dismissal of appeal under this rule does not extend time for payment fixed in the decree. 47 Bom. 950 = 25 Bom. L.R. 990. See also 24 C.L.J. 517 = 21 C.W.N. 430.

JUDGMENT NECESSARY.—The Court must write a formal judgment in dismissing the appeal. 37 Bom. 610 = 15 Bom. L. R. 765 (Overruling 36 Bom. 116 = 12 I. C. 564 = 13 Bom. L. R. 1002); 27 C. W. N. 501 = 1923 Cal. 558. Appellate Court dismissing appeal should record reasons and must write judgment according to O. 41, R. 31. 4 R. 66 = 6 Bur. L.J. 82 = 1927 Rang. 208 = 103 I.C. 766; 4 Rang. 18 = 95 I.C. 521 = 1926 Rang. 129 (67 I.C. 479, approved). See also 1926 Cal. 992 = 96 I.C. 136 = 43 C.L.J. 499. The dismissal of an appeal under O. 41, R. 11 is a decree and the expression of opinion dismissing the appeal is a judgment. 30 C. W. N. 334 = 1926 Cal. 638 = 93 I.C. 909 (2). The discretion given by this rule is not an arbitrary discretion but a judicial discretion. 33 I.C. 666. When the appeal is against a condition fixing period of payment, and the period elapsed during pendency of appeal, the appeal ought not to be dismissed on the ground that the payment was not made within the period fixed. 17 I.C. 868 = 10 A.L.J. 421.

RE-ADMISSION.—Any order restricting grounds of appeal to be heard, at the time of re-admission, is ultra vires. 15 C.W.N. 921 = 14 C.L.J. 146. No review when a second appeal is dismissed under this rule. Discovery of new evidence is not a sufficient ground for review. 50 I.C. 431; 27 C. W. N. 918. When once admitted on review without notice to respondents, succeeding Judge cannot question the order subsequently. 50 I.C. 431.

APPEAL AND REVISION.—An order under sub-rule (1) is a "decree" and therefore appealable. But if no decree is drawn up, the appeal may be treated as an application for revision, 191 P.L.R. 1014 = 23 I.C. 90.

O. 41, R. 14.—A Judge cannot decide an appeal ex parte when notice of appeal does not specify the date of hearing of appeal. 31 I.C. 624. The duty of furnishing correct address of respondent lies on the appellant, and not on the respondent. When notice has not been duly served, presumption of knowledge of date of hearing could not be raised. 41 I.C. 889 = 136 P.L.R. 1917. Where a minor is represented by a guardian ad litem notice need not be served on the minor himself. 1926 Cal. 1106 = 30 C.W.N. 949 = 97 I.C. 614.

(2) Instead of sending the notice to the Court from whose decree the appeal

Appellate Court may itself is preferred, the Appellate Court may itself cause the notice to be served on the respondent or his pleader under the provisions above referred to.

[Allahabad.]—(3) Notwithstanding anything in sub rule (1) it shall not be necessary to serve notice of any proceeding incidental to an appeal on any respondent, other than a person impleaded for the first time in the Appellate Court, unless he has appeared and filed an address for service either in the trial Court or in the case of a second appeal, in the lower appellate court or has appeared in the appeal."

[Oudh.] (3) " Provided that in a case where a respondent has not appeared either during the hearing of the case in the Court from whose decree or order the appeal is preferred or at any proceeding subsequent to that decree, it shall only be necessary for the Court to make one attempt to effect personal service on such respondent or, if such respondent is dead, on his legal representative; and, thereafter service may be effected by affixing a notice in some conspicuous place in the Court-house of the District Judge within whose jurisdiction the suit or proceeding was instituted along with one or other of the following methods, namely, publishing the notice in a newspaper or affixing to the wall or door of the chaupal of the village where the respondent last resided or any other method as the Court may direct."

[Patna.] Add the following as Rule 14-A in Order XLI:—

14-A. The Appellate Court may, in its discretion, dispense with the service of notice hereinbefore required on a respondent, or on the legal representative of a deceased respondent, in a case where such respondent did not appear, either at any stage of the proceedings in the Court whose decree is appealed from or in any proceedings subsequent to the decree of that Court and no relief is claimed against such opposite party or respondent or his legal representative either in the original case or appeal.

15. [S. 554.] The notice to the respondent shall declare that, if he does not appear in the Appellate Court on the day so fixed, the appeal will be heard ex parte.

Procedure on hearing.

16. [S. 555.] (1) On the day fixed, or on any other day to which the hearing may be adjourned, the appellant shall be heard in support of the appeal.

Right to begin.

(2) The Court shall then, if it does not dismiss the appeal at once, hear the respondent against the appeal, and in such case the appellant shall be entitled to reply.

17. [S. 556.] (1) Where on the day fixed, or on any other day to which the hearing may be adjourned, the appellant does not appear when the appeal is called on for hearing, the Court may make an order that the appeal be dismissed.

Dismissal of appeal for appellant's default.

O. 41, R. 16.—Counsel for one party could not be heard after the case had been closed and in the absence of the Counsel for the other party, and a judgment based on such hearing is not valid. 63 I.C. 945. Right of respondent to put in appearance on date of hearing. See 96 I. C. 326 = 1926 Bom. 424 = 28 Bom. L. R. 738.

O 41, R. 17. SCOPE.—O. 41, Rr 17 and 19 are exhaustive in respect of cases where the appellant makes default in appearance in the appeal. 23 Punj. L.R. 554 = 103 I.C. 425 = A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 622. The cross-objections cannot be adjudicated upon when the appeal is dismissed under this rule. 25 I.C. 916 = 1 O. L. J. 485. If the discretion to dismiss is not exercised, the appeal must be adjourned and cannot be disposed of on merits. 1925 Rang. 96. An order dismissing an appeal for default is not a decree, and the lower Court's decree is not superseded. Therefore the first Court can set aside ex parte decree. 39 All. 393 = 15 A. L. J. 289.

DEFAULT—WHAT IS ?—Where materials essential for progress of suit or wanting owing to appellant's default, an appeal may be dismissed, for default. 47 I.C. 691. When the appellant is present in Court and states that his pleader is engaged elsewhere the mere presence of the appellant is not an appearance within this rule. 5 Pat. L.J. 17 = 54 I.C. 715. Appearance by pleader who is instructed only to apply for adjournment is no appearance. 62 I.C. 57. Appearance of appellant at Court to ask time to get pleader is not an appearance within the meaning of the Code. 30 I. C 878 = 22 C.L.J. 72; 51 M.L.J. 654. When appellant was not present, and the pleader asked for adjournment and when it was refused reported no instructions, this amounts to default, and the appeal should not have been disposed of on the merits, but dismissed for default. 28 O. C. 166 = 1925 Oudh 549; 43 M.L.J. 317 = 45 Mad. 882; 74 I.C. 947; 51 I.C. 46. See contra 83 I. C. 257 = 1925 Nag. 236 (1) Remand for further enquiry and report on a fixed date—Appellant absenting on date fixed for enquiry—Appeal cannot be dismissed for default before date fixed for report. 96 I.C. 308 = 1926 Lah 574.

DEFAULT—WHAT IS NOT.—When the appellant alone is present without the pleader and could not argue the appeal, the appeal should be decided on the merits considering the grounds of appeal. 35 All. 105 = 11 A. L. J. 18. There is no default when the pleader is present but is pre-Hearing appeal ex parte.

18. [S. 557.] Where on the day fixed, or on any other day to which the hearing may be adjourned, it is found that the notice to the respondent has not been served in consequence of the failure of the appellant to deposit, within the period fixed, the sum required to defray the cost of serving the notice, the Court may make an order that the appeal be dismissed :

Provided that no such order shall be made although the notice has not been served upon the respondent, if on any such day the respondent appears when the appeal is called on for hearing.

[Madras.] In O. XLI, rule 18, after the words " cost of serving the notice " insert the words " or if the notice is returned unserved, to deposit within any subsequent period fixed the sum required to defray the cost of any further attempt to serve the notice. "

19. [S. 558.] Where an appeal is dismissed under rule 17, sub-rule (2), or rule 17, or rule 18, the appellant may apply to the Appellate Court for the re-admission of the appeal ; and, where it is proved that he was prevented by any sufficient cause vented from physical disability from arguing. 9 I. C. 857.

RESTORATION.—The Court has an inherent power of restoration of an appeal dismissed for default. 47 Mad. 171 = 45 M.L.J. 813. Non appearance, because no date of hearing was fixed is not default; a dismissal for default is without jurisdiction. 69 I. C. 618 = 1924 Lah. 279. There is sufficient cause for restoration when due to want of notice of the fact of transfer of appeal from one Sub-Court to another, the appellant was not present at the latter Court. 46 I.C. 881. When within a month from date of dismissal for default, both parties apply for restoration and file a petition of compromise, it ought to be restored and the compromise decree passed. 68 I. C. 448 = 1923 Cal. 319. An appeal dismissed for default when the appellant was present to ask time to get his pleader should generally be restored. 30 I. C. 878 = 22 C. L. J. 72. Appeal may be restored when the appellant himself has shown all possible diligence towards causing appearance to be made, but there was default due to negligence of pleader 14 I. C. 823 = 22 M.L.J. 284. Restoration should be refused when the vakil's conduct amounts to gross negligence. 35 I. C. 429 = 1 Pat. L. J. 65. Summary rejection of application for restoration of appeal dismissed for default is invalid. 104 I. C. 347 (2) = 1927 Cal. 888.

APPEAL AND REVISION.—Against an order of dismissal for default, when it should have been disposed of on merits no appeal lies but it is revisable. 83 I. C. 257 = 1925 Nag. 236 (1); 28 O. C. 166 = 1925 Oudh 549. See also 53 Cal. 827 = 1927 Cal. 98 = 99 I. C. 124.

O. 41, R. 18.—Applicability. 52 I. C. 179 = 169 P. R. 1919. The appeal cannot be dismissed, because the appellant failed to provide a person to identify the respondent. 65 I. C. 49 = 3 Pat. L. T. 498. A dismissal under this rule is wrong, when the Talabnama has been deposited but notice to the respondent for the issue of process has not been filed. 15 C.L.J. 683 = 13 I. C. 694 = 16 C.W. N. 498. No appeal lies from an order under this rule. 52 I.C. 179 = 169 P.R. 1919.

O. 41, R. 19. SCOPE.—The rule is not exhaustive of the power of Appellate Court in the matter of restoration. 20 Bom. L.R. 110 = 45 Bom. 648.

But see 103 I. C. 425 = 1927 Lah. 622. The rule does not take away other remedies of the appellant if any. 2 Pat. 739 = 4 Pat L. T. 405. Dismissal of appeal in the absence of appellant permits only restoration. 1925 Rang. 96. Dismissal of appeal for not depositing printing charges—remedy 4. P. 704.

WRONG DISMISSAL.—It is wrong to dismiss an appeal when the appellants have not been served and though the pleaders are present, they have no instructions. 30 I.C. 199 = 2 O.L.J. 198. Notice of the date fixed for hearing should be sent to the next friend of minor appellants. Otherwise dismissal for default could not be sustained. 53 I.C. 333.

SUFFICIENT CAUSE.—Applicant should be given an opportunity to prove sufficient cause for default. 57 I.C. 762; 52 I. C. 920 = 69 P. L. R. 1919; 1925 Cal. 269. There is sufficient cause for restoration when the order of postponement of the appeal was not communicated to the parties, resulting in non-appearance of appellant. 32 I.C. 936. Proof that appellant had no knowledge of the date fixed for hearing of the appeal is sufficient cause under O. 41, R. 19, C.P.C. 101 I.C. 203 = 1927 Lah. 365; 97 I. C. 687 = 1926 Mad. 1210. There is good cause for non-appearance when no notice of transfer of case from one Court to another was given. 3 Pat. L. J. 218 = 43 I. C. 925 (F. B.); 1925 Cal. 500. Laches of an advocate or careless mistake of his clerk is not a sufficient cause. 3 Rang. 488; 1926 Rang. 50. Pleader's mistake in noting a wrong date though not a sufficient cause, yet being a bona fide and unintentional error, appeal may be restored. 51 I. C. 607 = 53 P. R. 1919. Absence of pleader for an hour, because five appeals above his could not be expected to be disposed of in an hour is a sufficient cause. 89 I. C. 795 = 1925 Lah. 617; 4 Rang. 18 = 95 I. C. 521 = 1926 Rang. 109. Non appearance of pleader due to engagement in another Court is not sufficient cause. 24 I. C. 826; 68 I. C. 785 = 1923 Lah. 97 (1); 1925 Oudh 234; 96 I. C. 377 (1) = 1926 Cal. 1152; 1926 Cal. 1231 = 07 I. C. 573. Whether restoration may be ordered when pleader's absence was unintentional, See 5 Lah. L. J. 80. Want of notice to the appellant counsel when the case is put down lower in the list is not sufficient cause. No notice from appearing when the appeal was called on for hearing or from depositing the sum so required, the Court shall re-admit the appeal on such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit.

[Madras.] Re-number rule 19 in O. 41 as R. 19 (1) and add the following as (2) :—The provisions of section 5, Limitation Act, 1908, shall apply to applications under sub-rule (1).

20. [S. 559.] Where it appears to the Court at the hearing that any person who was a party to the suit in the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, but who has not been made a party to the appeal, is interested in the result of the appeal, the Court may adjourn the hearing to a future day to be fixed by the Court and direct that such person be made a respondent.

21. [S. 560.] Where an appeal is heard ex parte and judgment is pronounced against the respondent, he may apply to the Appellate Court to re-hear the appeal; and, if he satisfies the Court that the notice was not duly served or that he was prevented by sufficient cause from appearing when the appeal was called on for hearing, the Court shall re-hear the appeal on such terms as to costs or otherwise as it thinks fit to impose upon him.

Notice before restoration must issue when default in not making good the stamp in sufficient time; the opposite party has the right to a hearing even in second appeal. 63 I. C. 99=1921 Pat. 337.

O. 41, R. 20. SCOPE.—O. 41, R. 20, C. P. C., is not intended to override the provisions of O. 22, 5 P. 755=1927 Pat. 23; 105 I. C. 569=28 Punj. L. R. 468. It is left to the discretion of the Court to add a party as respondent even after appeal time has expired. But an application to enforce judgment within the meaning of Art. 183 of Lim. The appellate Court can even add parties who were struck off in the suit before decree. 27 I. C. 423. Under this rule an unnecessary party cannot be added and cross objections raised against him. 11 M. L. T. 157=13 I. C. 906; 53 Cal. 270=91 I. C. 649=1926 Cal. 533. The assignee of a decree is not a necessary party who will be bound by the decree in appeal by the judgment-debtor. 38 Mad. 36=23 M. L. J. 513.

APPLICATION OF THE RULE.—The Court can add the defendants whose names were omitted by mistake in the appeal. 63 I. C. 352. See also 8 Lah. L. J. 473=97 I. C. 223=1926 Lah. 689 (2); 104 I. Under certain circumstances the Court may well refuse to add representatives of a deceased respondent, when the appellant has not done so in time, which he might have. 90 I. C. 986=30 C. W. N. 45; 24 C. W. N. 44=30 C. L. J. 217. The power to add parties will not be exercised in cases of extreme negligence. 79 P. R. 1914=25 I. C. 549. A third party cannot appeal on behalf of co-sharers who are interested in the appeal against a co-sharer. If they are not made parties in time, the appeal will be dismissed. 75 I. C. 90=1923 Lah. 503. If the plaintiff in second appeal failed to implead necessary respondent, the power to add him could not be exercised. The case being on a joint footing against all respondents the appeal abated in toto. 57 I. C. 259=2 Lah. L. J. 5. A respondent can make another a co-respondent and proceed against him by way of cross-objections. 56 I. C. 612=11 J. W. 602. O. 41, R. 21. SCOPE.—A second appeal by a co-respondent dismissed under R. 11 does not take away the jurisdiction of the first appellate Court, when it had been moved by an absent respondent under this rule. 14 C. L. J. 42=15 C. W. N. 798; 43 I. C. 902=14 N. L. R. 30. What is sufficient cause must depend on the facts of each case. 63 I. C. 737=19 A. L. J. 54. A principal will be bound by his agent's default. Agent's negligence is not sufficient cause. 15 A. L. J. 413=39 I. C. 636=39 All. 388. On this rule, see also 26 Punj. L. R. 314 (withdrawal of application by guardian).

22. [S. 561.] (1) Any respondent, though he may not have appealed from any part of the decree, may not only support the decree on any of the grounds decided against him in the Court below, but take any cross-objection to the decree which he could have taken by way of appeal, provided he has filed such

Upon hearing respondent may object to decree as if he had preferred separate appeal.

O. 41, R. 22.—(O. 41, R. 22 apply to appeals from the original side of the High Court and in such appeals it is competent for a respondent to file a memo of objections. 49 Mad. 291=93 I.C. 293=50 M. L. J. 190 (F.B.). The object of the rule is to allow a respondent content with a decree in his favour an opportunity of contesting findings against him in case his opponent appeals. 5 P.L.J. 328=56 I.C. 262. The word 'Decree' in O. 41, R. 22 means the decision by the Court below. 50 Mad. 866=53 M. L. J. 189=104 I.C. 472=1927 Mad. 801. As to meaning of the word 'Respondent', see 107 I.C. 569.

SCOPE.—This rule does not control R. 33. 62 I. C. 623. A respondent is entitled to support a decree under the provisions of this rule. 41 C.L.J. 31=86 I. C. 6. Objection not put as cross-objection cannot be taken if it is not in support of the decree. 84 I. C. 124=1925 Cal. 94. Trial Court's decree in favour of the appellant should not be interfered with under rule 33 in the absence of cross-objections by the respondent. 45 I. C. 142=22 C. W. N. 526; 57 I. C. 555=23 O. C. 110. Where only one plaintiff respondent claims a particular relief in his memo. of objections, the relief could be granted to all the respondents when the basis of the claim is common to all of them. 15 I.C. 409. The rule does not apply to Letters Patent Appeals. 1922 All. 55; L. R. 3 A. 198; 32 C. L. J. 48=24 C.W.N. 1016.

RIGHT TO SUPPORT DECREE.—A decree can be supported without filing cross-objections by traversing any ground which that Court may have found against him. 41 C. L. J. 31=86 I.C. 62; 4 I.C. 68; 45 I.C. 232=125 P.L.R. 1918; 103 P.L.R. 1917=40 I.C. 237; 39 I.C. 153=4 O.L.J. 101; 50 M. 866=26 L.W. 125=53 M. L. J. 189; 51 I. C. 981=1919 Pat. 393; 12 I.C. 20=4 Bur. L. T. 209. Where a suit is dismissed on one finding it cannot be reversed in appeal without considering the defendant's objections to other findings. 11 I.C. 41=202 P. L. R. 1911. A decree cannot be supported on an entirely new ground, not decided against respondent, not in issue and not made subject of adjudication. 5 Pat. L. J. 239=55 I. C. 214; 38 I. C. 536=21 C. W. N. 423. But see contra in 31 I.C. 740=45 P.R. 1916.

CROSS-OBJECTION—WHEN CAN BE RAISED.—Petition to support decree on other grounds does not amount to cross-objections. 68 I.C. 861=44 A. 577. Time expired appeal may be treated as memorandum of objections. 67 I. C. 478=1922 Lah. 423; 1925 Lah. 57. A defendant who has been placed ex parte can impugn the decree in appeal by way of cross-objections on the ground that he was wrongly made ex parte, provided he has not moved the trial Court under O. 9, R. 13. 45 M. L. J. 805=1924 Mad. 107. Cross-objections could be entertained only against a party to the appeal. 54 I. C. 971. See also 39 I. C. 662=2 P. L. J. 162; 53 Cal. 270=91 I. C. 649=1926 Cal. 533. As to whether an exonerated defendant can be made a party to the memo. of objections when not a party to the appeal see 31 I. C. 978. A memo. of objections may be filed against the whole or any part of a decree, even though that part may not be the subject-matter of the appeal. 35 M. L. J. 83=48 I. C. 1003. See contra 39 Mad. 365=28 M. L. J. 285. Cross-objection must relate to decree appealed against and not any other although arising out of the single decree of the trial court. 96 I. C. 67=1926 All. 582. Pro forma respondent's right to prefer cross objection. See 107 I. C. 569.

WHEN CANNOT BE RAISED.—Respondents in revision petition cannot file cross-objections. 14 I. C. 562=160 P. L. R. 1912. Respondent having appealed cannot file cross-objections. 1925 Lah. 2. Cross-objections as to costs in the Courts below cannot be considered on second appeal. 5 Lah. L. J. 108. Cross-objections regarding want of jurisdiction to attach in executing Court, cannot be taken when the appeal is against an order refusing to set aside a prohibitory order. 75 I. C. 419=1923 Lah. 514. Cross-objection which tends to obtain a distinct relief which could have been granted by the lower Court if asked for, or by the appellate Court if a claim was raised in appeal, should not be allowed. 34 I.C. 916=24 P. R. 1916. It should not be allowed where the question raised thereby is entirely distinct from and in no way related to the question in controversy in appeal. 48 I.C. 78=28 C. L. J. 123. Cross objections cannot be filed after withdrawal of appeal. Pendency of appeal is a condition precedent to the filing of cross-objections. 39 I.C. 947. New grounds not set forth in objections cannot be raised at the time of hearing. 19 I. C. 98=15 Bom. L. R. 130.

CROSS-OBJECTIONS AGAINST CO-RESPONDENT—WHEN ALLOWED.—A cross-objection can be entertained at the discretion of the Court by one respondent against co-respondents. 16 A. L. J. 587=40 All. 536; 12 A. L. J. 892=36 All. 505; 15 C.L.J. 61=16 C.W.N. 612; 5 Lah. L. J. 92=69 I. C. 330; 38 Mad. 705=27 I. C. 223=27 M. L. J. 740 (F. B.). Only in exceptional cases could cross-objections against a co-respondent be raised. 25 O. C. 280=70 I. C. 70=1923 Oudh 108; 37 Bom. 511=15 Bom. L. R. 781; 23 C. L. J. 26=20 C. W. N. 370=43 Cal. 790. Also 29 I. C. 610=(1915) 2 U. B. R. 58. Where the appeal of some of the parties opens out questions which cannot be disposed of completely without matters being allowed to be opened as between co-respondents, is an exceptional case, which may be allowed under special circumstances. 56 I. C. 469=2 Lah. L. J. 747; 5 Pat. L. J. 328=50 I. C. 252. It can be allowed when the Court cannot do complete justice between the parties without opening the whole case. 53 I. C. 659=6 O.L.J. 495. Plaintiff-respondent can raise cross-objections against a defendant who is not an appellant. 38 I. C. 641. It can be raised in a case where the interest of the objector was really adverse to that of the appellant and other co-respondents and though the appellant took the same objections

Form of objection and provisions applicable thereto.

(2) Such cross-objection shall be in the form of a memorandum, and the provisions of rule 1, so far as they relate to the form and contents of the memorandum of appeal, shall apply thereto.

(3) Unless the respondent files with the objection a written acknowledgment from the party who may be affected by such objection or his pleader of having received a copy thereof, the Appellate Court shall cause a copy to be served, as soon as may be after the filing of the objection, on such party or his pleader at the expense of the respondent.

(4) Where, in any case in which any respondent has under this rule filed a memorandum of objection, the original appeal is withdrawn or is dismissed for default, the objection so filed may nevertheless be heard and determined after such notice to the other parties as the Court thinks fit.

(5) The provisions relating to pauper appeals shall, so far as they can be made applicable, apply to an objection under this rule.

23. [S. 562.] Where the Court from whose decree an appeal is preferred has disposed of the suit upon a preliminary point and the decree is reversed in appeal, the Appellate Court may, if it thinks fit, by order remand the case, and may further direct what

WHEN NOT TO BE ALLOWED.—Cross-objections by one correspondent against another should not be permitted when they could be raised by an appeal. 37 Bom. 511=15 Bom. L. R. 781. It should not be allowed when he has allowed the period of appealing to elapse. 66 I. C. 642=8 O. L. J. 358. But see 5 Pat. L. J. 328=56 I. C. 253. LIMIT OF ONE MONTH.—The principle of calculation of a month is that it shall be taken to extend up to and including the day before the corresponding date of the next month, and there is no authority for any special rule as regards February—March. 30 I. C. 832 (1)=29 M. L. J. 182. He can claim 30 days from the date of serving of notice for hearing. The 30 days is not 30 days from the date of serving of notice of appearance. 22 L. W. 792. It is not necessary that further time ought to have been granted before objections are actually filed. 39 I. C. 125. Hearing of appeal ought not to be advanced so as to deprive respondent the benefit of filing objections in a month. 38 I. C. 522=1917 Pat. 103.

But see contra 50 I. C. 729=4 Pat. L. J. 164. Rejection of appeal as insufficiently stamped is not a dismissal for default, and cross-objections cannot be heard when the appeal is rejected. 59 I. C. 795=46 P. W. R. 1921. See also 10 I. C. 207=11 P. Except under this rule no case shall be remanded for a second decision which can be disposed of finally by the first appellate Court. 36 I. C. 241=12 N. L. R. 126.

WHAT IS DISPOSAL ON A PRELIMINARY POINT.—39 All. 165=37 I. C. 383=15 A. L. J. 30. Where in a redemption suit, defendant pleaded that in foreclosure proceedings there was a sale in his favour, a disposal on this contention is a disposal on a preliminary point. 57 P. L. R. 1916=30 I. C. 817. Where certain evidence was considered irrelevant by trial Court, and the appellate Court considered, the excluded evidence as relevant, held the reversal was on a preliminary point. Also as to instances of preliminary point see 43 M. L. J. 354=45 Mad. 900 (F. B.). Where Court goes into evidence and records findings on all issues but dismisses the suit as not maintainable, the disposal is on a preliminary point. 4 P. L. J. 645=52 I. C. 125.

WHAT IS NOT DISPOSAL ON A PRELIMINARY POINT.—'The decision on a preliminary point' means a determination not affecting the merits of the case. A reversal of a judgment with a direction to admit evidence said to have been excluded is not a disposal on a preliminary point. 37 M. L. J. 536=53 I. C. 417=10 L. W. 359. Disposal on an important issue relative to the merits of the case is not a disposal on a preliminary point. 9 M. L. T. 373=9 I. C. 790. When the appellate Court decides the main point and remands for disposal of the remaining issues the decision is not on a preliminary point. 60 I. C. 609=12 L. W. 667. An order setting aside the rejection of the plaintiff and remanding for trial on merits is not an order under this rule. 133 P. L. R. 1915=26 I. C. 519. An order of remand for re-hearing after amending the plaint is not an order under this rule. 73 I. C. 915=1924 Lah. 245. Dismissal for default is not a disposal on a preliminary point. 14 A. L. J. 347=38 All. 357. Where the appellate Court decides some issues and leaves the others to be determined by the trial Court, a remand order is not under this rule but under R. 25. 40 I. C. 58. See also 9 I. C. 224=15 C. W. N. 575. Appellate Court framing additional issue and remanding the case reversing the decree instead of calling for a finding retaining the case on its file. Order of remand is not appealable either under O. 43, R. 1 (a) or under S. 100 as it is not a decree within C. P. C., S. 2. See also 103 I. C. 119=55 Cal. 219; 103 I. C. 864=1927 Cal. 850 (1925) Cal. 1256, Dist.).

WHERE REMAND SHOULD NOT BE ORDERED—SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE ON RECORD.—The appellate Court should dispose of the case if there is sufficient evidence and should not put the parties to unnecessary expense. 37 Bom. 289=14 Bom. L. R. 1154; 41 I. C. 735. It is unusual to remand a case after argument in appeal, which ought prima facie be decided upon materials on record. 34 M. L. J. 545=22 C. W. N. 697=45 Cal. 748=45 I. A. 94 (P. C.). Remand for findings on fresh additional issues cannot be made when they were covered by the issues determined. 43 I. C. 815. A case can be decided on the evidence on record after excluding irrelevant and unsatisfactory portions, without a remand. 50 I. C. 301. An order of remand cannot be made under O. 41, R. 23, C.P.C., where the decision of the trial Court is not based in any sense on a preliminary point. 1927 Bom. 111=100 I. C. 578=29 Bom. L. R. 56; 96 I. C. 44. No remand can be made when materials on record are sufficient to decide the case. 180 P. L. R. 1912=16 I. C. 847. See also 45 Mad. 449=42 M. L. J. 372. Nor where the appellate Court comes to a different conclusion on some portion. 20 A. L. J. 258=66 I. C. 866=1922 A. 102.

COMPLETE EVIDENCE ON RECORD.—When the lower Court has decided all the issues it is not proper to remand for trial on merits. 35 I. C. 239; 27 C. W. N. 1025=1924 Cal. 148; 50 I. C. 984. When the appellate Court comes to a different conclusion on the merits and on the evidence on record, no remand could be ordered on the ground that the evidence was not properly directed. 70 I. C. 655=1923 M. 113. Because there was a finding on evidence recorded, but without an issue raised, a remand cannot be made. 46 I. C. 659=137 P. W. R. 1918. No remand in second appeal for rehearing upon an issue raised and determined by Courts below. 67 I. C. 494=1922 P. 575. When full trial has taken place though the case has been disposed of on a preliminary point a remand ought not to be ordered. 66 I. C. 922=1923 Cal. 323; 29 C. W. N. 614=52 Cal. 783.

INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE.—A case cannot be remanded for fresh evidence. 2 Pat. L. J. 61=38 I. C. 797. A case should not be remanded for local investigation, when it had not been asked for in the first Court. 43 I. C. 815. Case should not be remanded for additional evidence on the ground that evidence adduced by defendant was not satisfactory and sufficient. 39 I. C. 886=25 C. L. J. 473; 46 I. C. 659=137 P. W. R. 1918. Case cannot be remanded because necessary evidence was not let in by oversight. 53 I. C. 562. A remand in order to enable plaintiff-appellant to ascertain whether or not a demand was made within three years of the institution of the suit which would save limitation, was refused. 1923 Lah. 645. Remand of the case could not be ordered because the appellate Court considered the appointment of an experienced Commissioner essential to value the property. 46 I.C. 750. An appeal against an ex parte order without seeking to set it aside should be disposed of on merits and there should be no remand for re-trial. 24 P. L. R. 1917=39 I. C. 749. See contra 26 O. C. 10=73 I. C. 591 (foll.); 30 Mad. 64 (F. B.). See also 56 I. C. 255=(1919) 3 U. B. R. 198.

CASE OF EXCLUSION OF EVIDENCE.—When evidence which ought to have been taken was refused to be recorded the suit cannot be remanded for trial ab initio but additional evidence can be directed to be recorded. 45 I. C. 832=5 O. L. J. 139. The case need not be remanded because the lower Court based its decision on inadmissible evidence, when there is sufficient evidence on record to support the decision. 71 I. C. 300=1924 Cal. 370; but see 41 I. C. 71. Remand should not be made when necessities of the case are specifically provided for by the Code. 1925 Cal. 274.

WHEN IT SHOULD BE UNDER R. 25.—When all evidence was taken but certain issues were not decided, the proper order is to call for findings under R. 25. 38 All. 520=14 A. L. J. 754; 7 Lah. L. J. 351=1925 Lah. 480; 1925 Mad. 171; 100 I. C. 578=1927 Bom. 111; 1927 Lah. 618=103 I. C. 537. In a suit for possession and damages where the appellate Court differed from the trial Court, the whole suit cannot be remanded but only so far as the issue on damages was concerned. 45 A. 565=21 A.L. J. 538. Where the lower appellate Court reversed the decree of the Court below, modified one of the issues, and remanded the case for a de novo trial on the modified issue, held the procedure was wrong. 35 C. L. J. 345=70 I. C. 547. Where the appellate court thinks that the investigation is wrong, and that further investigation and evidence is necessary, such may be ordered retaining the appeal on file and remand ought not to be ordered. 24 C. W. N. 708=31 C. L. J. 300. In case of defective pleadings and a finding on evidence which was sufficient, and which the appellant had not the opportunity of meeting, the proper course would be to remit an issue on the point. 15 I. C. 3. When an important issue was not raised, the case should be remanded only for a finding on that issue and the decree could not be set aside entirely and the whole case remanded for re-trial. 38 I. C. 641; 23 A.L.J. 880=1926 All. 65; 1925 Mad. 169.

NEW PLEA—NO REMAND—Only in exceptional cases and on good cause shown should a case be remanded for re-hearing on a new plea not raised in pleadings nor even suggested. 43 Cal. 1104=43 I. A. 172=31 M.L.J. 745 (P. C.). Where a remand would involve taking of fresh evidence on a point not raised before, it would not be granted. 11 I. C. 84; 2 P. L. J. 8=38 I. C. 509. When a claim for a right of way was originally based on immemorial usage, he cannot obtain a remand for re-trial on issues of implied grant or easement of necessity. 55 I. C. 435. A remand ought not to be ordered permitting plaintiff to supplement his case, when at the time he came to Court he was unequipped. 71 I. C. 28=1914 Cal. 396. A party is not entitled to remand on a new case set up in appeal when he failed to establish the case he set up on trial. 54 I. C. 645.

WHEN REMAND COULD BE ORDERED.—Powers of remand are much wider in the new Code than in the old. Remand can be ordered though the case had not been disposed of on a preliminary point. Want of proper trial, disallowance of important questions, not giving opportunity to parties to adduce proper evidence are sufficient reasons for remand. 12 I. C. 684=15 C. L. J. 258; 36 Mad. 492=24 M. L. J. 512. An appellate Court adding a new party can remand for re-trial. 31 I. C. 263=2 L. W. 1034. When the plaint is amended in appeal under O. 6, Rr. 17 and 18 and a defendant desires to traverse the facts stated in the amendment, the case can be remanded. 32 I. C. 906; 43 Cal. 938=32 I. C. 791=20 C. W. N. 547; 1927 Mad. 859=103 I. C. 670; 48 M. 713; 1927 Lah. 196=100 I. C. 49. Where inadmissible evidence was admitted, the case should not be remanded, for a fresh adjudication excluding that evidence. 55 I. C. 922=1 P. L. T. 224. An order of remand can be made when the ground on which the appellate Court declares a document inadmissible, has arisen subsequent to the disposal of the suit by the lower court. 10 I. C. 675=9 M. L. T. 317. Where an appeal was decided on the basis of an inadmissible document, the appeal can be remanded in second appeal. 57 I. C. 561=5 Pat. L. J. 410. A case could be remanded when decision was based on a report of a commissioner who was superseded, and whose report therefore could not be admitted in evidence. 39 I. C. 951.

FRESH EVIDENCE.—Where the decision is on pleadings and not on evidence, there ought to be a remand for taking evidence. 67 I. C. 710=1923 P. 174. Case can be remanded when the trial court refused to grant time for production of certified copies of material documents and decided with materials on record only. 43 I. C. 57. Remand could be ordered where the appellate court is satisfied that but for some grave error on the part of the pleader, necessary evidence could have been adduced in the lower court. 39 Bom. 352=17 Bom. L. R. 187. A case is to be remanded where tenancy rights were pleaded as bar to a suit for possession and was not adjudicated upon. 42 I. C. 550. Where an important issue was not raised by the trial court, the case can be remanded with the issue raised. 51 I. C. 712=64 P. R. 1919; 223 P. L. R. 1911=12 I. C. 53. When a case was decided on a piece of evidence not placed on record, it could be remanded for taking of such evidence. 36 Mad. 492=24 M. L. J. 512. Where the first appellate court decides only on technical grounds, the second appellate court can remand it for disposal on merits. 32 I. C. 380=2 O. L. J. 562. Where a book was used by the lower court to establish certain facts which a party had no opportunity of meeting and which he desired to rebut, the admission of the book in the appellate court, might involve a remand. 66 I. C. 287=34 C. L. J. 205. Appellate court can remand for determination of question of title, tions to re-admit the suit under its original number in the register of civil suits, and when the tenant had pleaded title of a third person, in a rent suit. 11 I. C. 183=15 C.L.J. 6.

ERROR OF JUDGMENT.—In an appeal from an order of remand, findings of fact cannot be examined by the second appellate court. But it could remand the case to the lower appellate court for rehearing when there has been a misappreciation of the true controversy between the parties. 73 I. C. 756=1923 Lah. 206; 87 I. C. 950=1925 Oudh 692. An appellant is entitled to have the opinion of the appellate court on an issue of fact, and if such court fails to determine the point, the High Court will remand the case for a re-decision of the appeal. 55 I. C. 233. A case can be remanded where the lower court overlooked a provision of law. 35 All. 533=35 I. C. 41=14 A. L. J. 734. Where the effect of an admission by a pleader was not realised, the appeal might be remanded to the lower appellate court for a fresh hearing on the footing that the admission was in fact made. 44 I. C. 18. If a case is decided on a wrong view of burden of proof, it should be remanded as a case of wrong disposal on a preliminary point. 57 I. C. 525=22 Bom. L.R. 771; cf. 40 Mad. 654=30 M. L. J. 514. But see contra 34 All. 612=10 A. L. J. 190; 58 I. C. 982=1 Lah. 429.

EFFECT OF ORDER.—The policy of legislature is in favour of finality of orders of remand. A remand order made on second appeal is, unless a review of it be obtained, a conclusive determination of the points of law involved in it and cannot be questioned in a subsequent second appeal. 72 I. C. 588=1923 Cal. 385; also 4 P.L.J. 645=52 I. C. 125. Where the High Court in second appeal differs from the lower court on an issue of law and remands the case to the court below, the order is binding upon that court and cannot be questioned in an appeal from the final decree after remand. 4 P. L. T. 35=1923 P. 226. Jurisdiction to try a remanded case depends on the order of the appellate court. 44 M. L. J. 238=1923 Mad. 351. A remand order to find whether a person has title includes enquiry as to whether he has lost it or is barred from relying upon it. 31 I. C. 987=20 C. W. N. 149. In the absence of any limitation put by the High Court, the whole case on remand is open for decision of the lower appellate court and is bound to hear the appeal upon the judgment of the court of first instance. 32 I. C. 240=20 C. W. N. 584. When in an appeal by some defendants who did not join in a reference to arbitration, the case was remanded on the ground that the award did not bind them, the whole case is re-opened, even in respect of those who did not appeal. 52 I. C. 569=37 M. L. J. 100. A court can come to a different and contrary conclusion after remand. 56 I. C. 1001; 13 I. C. 813=14 O. C. 321. The lower appellate court after remand cannot consider arguments abandoned or not raised in second appeal or come to fresh findings on points decided by the order of remand. 61 I. C. 575; 35 I. C. 571. As to validity of proceedings taken under a remand order, when the remand order is held to be wrong, see 44 A. 211=20 A. L. J. 44. Another Judge or Bench differently constituted may consider the propriety of the issues framed by its predecessor and remitted to the lower court, and if of different opinion may ignore the findings. 43 All. 377=19 A. L. J. 139.

FINALITY OF ORDER.—An order of remand is interlocutory; it can be final if it decides some cardinal point in the suit. But an order of remand which merely decides that the suit is maintainable in the form in which it is brought is not final. 60 I. C. 522=2 I. ah. 106. An adjudication by a remanding judge would bind him and his successor at the final hearing, when it amounts to a preliminary decree, until it is duly set aside or amended. 32 I. C. 866=20 C. W. N. 43; 53 I. C. 677=(1919) M. W. N. 662; 1 P. 246=65 I. C. 175. Issues decided by order of remand cannot be re-opened at any subsequent stage of the litigation. 25 O. C. 245=70 I. C. 983.

REMAND TO ANOTHER COURT.—A case can be remanded to another court; only when the appellate court has power to transfer a case from one court to another. 66 I. C. 113=1922 Lah. 239; 158 P. W. R. 1913=20 I. C. 788. A case may be remanded to another court for hearing, when the appellate court illegally received document very late without assigning any reasons. 35 I. C. 698=24 C. L. J. 457. Where the chief court remanded a case to lower appellate court for further enquiry, it does not mean that the lower appellate court cannot direct the trial court for recording any additional evidence if necessary. 44 I. C. 907=147 P.L.R. 1917.

COSTS.—Respondent must be paid the costs of appeal when the appeal and remand were consequent on the appellants not setting forth his case properly. 18 M.L.T. 247=30 I.C. 785.

NOTICE.—No notice of remand is given in C. P. 1925 Nag. 31.

WHEN APPEAL LIES.—An appeal lies against an order under this rule. 44 All. 176=19 A. L. J. 971; 20 A. L. J. 321=44 A. 492; 24 C. W. N. 708=56 I. C. 516=31 C. L. J. 360; 42 C. L. J. 22=30 C. W. N. 41; 51 Bom. 43=100 I. C. 1004 (2)=1927 Bom. 129=29 Bom. L. R. 97 (32 B. 440, F.). The right of appeal is determined by what the court purports to do and not by what the court should have done—Where a court purports to pass a remand order under O. 41, R. 23 though really the remand is under S. 151, the order of remand is appealable. 107 I.C. 284 (1). Order of remand by appellate court without stating provision of law—The remand should be deemed to have been under O. 41, R. 23 and not under S. 151, C. P. C. 106 I. C. 842=9 Lah. L. J. 543. An appeal can be filed and heard even if remand order is carried out by first court. 15 I. C. 191=15 O. C. 43. An appeal lies against an order ordering re-trial on merits because it was held that the suit was not barred by reason of res judicata. 21 L. W. 318=48 M. L. J. 100. An appeal lies on all orders of remand even though the suit has not been disposed of on a preliminary point. 1922 Cal. 279. See contra 4 Bur. L. J. 159=3 Rang. 490=1925 Rang. 320.

WHEN NO APPEAL LIES.—When the order of remand is not under this rule no appeal lies. 1927 M. 335=52 M.L.J. 90; 48 M. 713=47 M. L. J. 552; 3 Pat. L. J. 253=43 I. C. 959; 37 M. L. J. 536=53 I. Pat. 514 ; 96 I. C. 440 (1) = 1926 Pat. 516 ; 31 C. W. N. 878 = 1927 Cal. 642 = 104 I. C. 422 ; (1928, M. W. N. 164 ; 26 I. C. 519 = 85 P. W. R. 1915 ; 60 I. C. 609 = 12 L. W. 667 ; 15 I. C. 367 = 22 M. L. J. 409. There can be no appeal from an order of remand where the question involved is one of custom. 5 Lah. L. J. 392 = 73 I. C. 650. No appeal lies against an order of remand passed by the first appellate court in a suit of a nature cognizable by a court of Small Causes. 36 I. C. 396. Under the Agra Tenancy Act an order of remand under this rule is not appealable. 14 I. C. 176 ; 35 I. C. 105.

REVISION.—An order of remand not appealable is not open to revision either. 13 I. C. 855 = 140 P. L. R. 1912. A remand order passed by an appellate court which it was not competent to pass can be set aside in revision. 1925 Mad. 171. See also 52 M. L. J. 90.

O. 41, R. 24.—When it is not a question of "resettling" issues but framing new issues requiring additional evidence, the court should act under the next rule and not under the present one. 40 I. C. 411 = 25 C. L. J. 527. Absence of specific issue does not debar decision and disposal on a point raised in pleadings, provided it does not prejudice the other side. 6 Bur. L. T. 174 = 20 I. C. 674. When an alternative case is pleaded in the appellate court, it will not act under this rule, unless the case arises on the facts stated in the plaint and the defendant is not taken by surprise. 36 I. C. 890 = 20 C. W. N. 773. Where a plaint was returned for presentation to the proper court and an appeal was filed against the order returning the plaint, it was held that the appellate court has no power to decide the case on the merits. 102 I. C. 467 = 1927 Oudh 218. The appellate court can on evidence on record decide any issue left undetermined by the lower court. 10 I. C. 225. High Court in second appeal has jurisdiction to record its finding on a question of fact left undetermined though it arises from admitted facts. 36 Bom. 183 = 13 Bom. L. R. 1183. When judgment is reversed in second appeal on a point of law, the High Court is competent to decide the case on the merits. 108 P. W. R. 1914 = 25 I. C. 144.

O. 41, R. 25. SCOPE.—Rule does not contemplate an order for trial of issues already tried and decided upon. 48 I. C. 959 ; 22 I. C. 128. Unless issue is material, remand should not be ordered. 1925 Oudh 97.

TRANSFER OF APPEAL.—An appeal cannot be transferred by the District Judge from one to his subordinate, after a remand order, but before receipt of findings. 15 I. C. 862 = 10 A. L. J. 89.

EFFECT OF ORDER OF REMAND.—An order under this rule is not a final order. The court before which the case ultimately comes up can disregard the remand order and the findings under it. The responsibility for the final decree rests mainly with the court which passes it. 74 I. C. 1014 = 1923 A. 384 ; cf. 37 C. L. J. 122 = 74 I. C. 392 = 1923 Cal. 521. The appellate court is not bound to reconsider any opinion definitely expressed before remand, neither is he bound by the opinion expressed before or in remand order. 15 I. C. 39 = 17 C. W. N. 462 ; 46 I. C. 922 ; 25 O. C. 41 = 68 I. C. 242. When only one of the defendants appealed and the appellate court remanded the case for fresh disposal as regards the appellant, the decree against the non-appealing defendants is not affected. 22 P. L. R. 1918 = 44 I. C. 135 = 4 P. W. R. 1918.

POWER AND DUTY OF APPELLATE COURT.—Even after the return of the findings, the entire appeal is open for consideration at the final hearing. 24 C. W. N. 145 = 30 C. L. J. 428 ; 21 I. C. 760 = 18 C. L. J. 181. Findings on issues sent to trial court, ought to be scrutinized by the appellate court, before deciding the appeal, even though objections have not been preferred on those findings by the party affected. 71 I. C. 444 = 1923 A. 417 (1) ; 37 C. L. J. 122 = 74 I. C. 392 ; 21 I. C. 79 = 18 C. L. J. 354 ; 28 I. C. 597. Appellate court finding certain additional issue necessary—Proper course is to frame the issue and refer it for trial to lower court. 95 I. C. 123 (2) = 1926 Cal. 954 ; 44 C. L. J. 101 = 95 I. C. 203 = 1926 Cal. 976 ; 95 I. C. 170 (1) = 1926 Cal. 912.

POWER OF SECOND APPELLATE COURT.—High court in second appeal cannot interfere with findings of fact by the lower appellate court. 40 I. C. 128 ; 85 I. C. 92. Finding of the lower appellate court on a question of fact not put in issue can be contested even in second appeal. 5 Lah. L. J. 49. The High Court can frame necessary issues and remit them for trial, when the lower appellate court has failed to do so. 38 M. L. J. 476 = 43 Mad. 567 = 47 I. A. 76 (P. C.). High Court can remand even on a point not taken in grounds of appeal. 5 Lah. L. J. 49.

REMAND.—New issue when can be raised by High Court. 1926 Bom. 577 = 95 I. C. 297 ; refer the same for trial to the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred, and in such case shall direct such Court to take the additional evidence required ; and such Court shall proceed to try such issues, and shall return the evidence to the Appellate Court together with its findings thereon and the reasons therefor.

Findings and evidence to be put on record. Objections to finding.

26. [S. 567.] (1) Such evidence and findings shall form part of the record in the suit ; and either party may, within a time to be fixed by the Appellate Court, present a memorandum of objections to any finding.

(2) After the expiration of the period so fixed for presenting such memorandum the Appellate Court shall proceed to determine the appeal.

Determination of appeal.

Production of additional evidence in Appellate Court.

APPLICATION OF THE RULE—ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE.—When a case is remanded it is discretionary with the appellate court not to direct the lower court to take further evidence. 15 I. C. 670. To assume that the order of remand does not contemplate taking additional evidence is not wrong. When there are sufficient materials on record, it would be wrong to take more evidence. 20 I. C. 35. An appellate court cannot define the particular kind of evidence required for the determination of a remanded issue. 22 I. C. 128. Opportunity must, in a proper case, be given to both parties for adducing evidence on a remanded issue. 19 A. L. J. 79=62 I. C. 447. A second appeal cannot be remanded for hearing in order that record of right published after the decision of the first court may be taken into consideration. 43 I. C. 750=2 P. L. J. 564. An appellate court should not ordinarily frame an issue not raised in the pleadings or even suggested in the trial court. It ought to be done only in exceptional cases after good cause shown and on payment of costs. 66 I. C. 640=34 C. L. J. 319 ; 28 Bom. L. R. 1090. Fresh opportunity cannot be given to prove one's case by an order of remand. 50 I. C. 933=29 Bom. L. R. 147=100 I. C. 993(2)=1927 B. 125. Where a definite case was set up in pleadings but no issue was raised or evidence taken, appellate court should frame the issue and decide it before disposal of appeal, when it is material. 49 I. C. 475. Case can be remanded for findings on issues framed on points though not raised in the pleadings, yet had governed the case from the first. 10 I. C. 922=4 Bur. L. T. 118. New issues can be raised and the case remanded for trial, when the parties failed to grasp the essential questions arising in the case and to adduce proper evidence. 66 I. C. 833.

DELEGATION OF POWER.—When certain issues were remanded to lower appellate court for trial, they cannot be sent to the trial court for taking evidence. Delegation of duties is wrong. 71 I. C. 896=1924 Lah. 354 ; 102 I. C. 273 (1) ; 19 I. C. 970=105 P. R. 1913. But see 32 I. C. 634=9 S. L. R. 148 (It may be sent to trial court for recording evidence, but the finding must be by first appellate court).

APPEAL.—No appeal against an order under this rule. 76 I. C. 816=1924 Rang. 131. See also 34 C. L. J. 319 ; 35 C. L. J. 345. Order calling for a finding, if appealable under cl. 13 of Letters Patent. 25 L. W. 95.

REVISION.—Powers of revision should be exercised only in exceptional cases on orders under this rule. 67 I. C. 269=2 Lah. L. J. 662.

O. 41, R. 26.—The Court can go behind findings even though no objections are filed. 28 I. C. 597 ; 40 I. C. 405. Omission to fix a time for filing of objections is a mere irregularity and may be ignored if no party is affected. 26 I. C. 736=1 O. L. J. 681. Where no objections to a finding are filed, the Court may refuse to hear them at the time of hearing. 67 I. C. 846=3 Lah. L. J. 230. A memorandum of objections under O. 41, R. 26 does not require any Court-fee 105 I. C. 108.

O. 41, R. 27. ADMISSION OF EVIDENCE—DISCRETIONARY.—Admission of evidence in appeal is a matter of discretion within certain limits prescribed by this rule. 75 I. C. 331=26 O. C. 66 ; 38 I. C. 669=15 A. L. J. 21 ; 85 I. C. 459=1925 Pat. 504 ; 98 I. C. 129=1927 Cal. 140. It is not a matter of right. 8 A. L. J. 175=33 All. 379 ; 1923 Cal. 285. The appellate court should sparingly use the discretion. 50 C. 276=36 C. L. J. 345=102 I. C. 27. Additional evidence can be admitted not only when the court finds a lacuna but also on the application of parties. 89 I. C. 721 ; 89 I. C. 997 (1) ; 20 L. W. 840=85 I. C. 385=1925 Mad. 181=48 M. L. J. 32. A court of second appeal should not interfere with discretion exercised by the lower appellate court. 75 I. C. 331=26 O. C. 66 ; 27 I. C. 827 ; 1923 Lah. 30 ; 42 Mad. 737=37 M. L. J. 125 ; 20 L. W. 840=48 M. L. J. 32. Unless it were improperly exercised. 129 P. R. 1916=36 I. C. 282.

OBJECT OF RULE.—The rule is intended to supply defect in existing evidence and not to give an opportunity to prove a case over again. 13 I. C. 131=9 A. L. J. 59. Rule not intended to enable an appellate court to re-examine before it witnesses already examined and cross-examined in the Court of first instance. 38 All. 191=14 A. L. J. 121. The rule is not to be used with a view to supply defects and loop-holes that a vigilant litigant is required to guard against. 49 I. C. 868. Procedure prescribed in this rule must be strictly followed, especially that in the cl. (2) regarding record of reasons. 31 I. C. 873. The provisions of this rule are mandatory. 47 I. C. 12=150 P. W. R. 1918. See contra 64 I. C.

(a) the Court from whose decree the appeal is preferred has refused to admit evidence which ought to have been admitted, or 238 A preliminary application to admit fresh evidence before the appeal is heard is not warranted by this rule. 42 Cal. 675 = 19 C. W. N. 401. Oral evidence to prove documents should be allowed when the latter are admitted. 20 I. C. 542.

PROCEDURE.—When additional evidence is admitted, sufficient opportunity must be given to tender rebutting evidence. 36 I. C. 955; 1923 Cal. 300; 25 P. L. R. 1915 = 28 I. C. 14; 43 I. C. 320 = 1917 Pat. 269; 20 L. W. 840 = 48 M. L. J. 32; 41 C. L. J. 191 = 1925 Cal. 671; 98 I. C. 129 = 1927 Cal. 140. When appellant raises a new plea, not pressed in courts below, the other side should be allowed to meet it by additional evidence. 72 I. C. 239 = 2 Pat. 607. When documents are admitted opportunity must be given for objections to its admissibility. 1924 Cal. 403. Additional evidence which impeaches the testimony of a witness examined in the court below, should not be allowed, at least without that witness being called and given an opportunity to contradict the additional evidence. 36 All. 93 = 41 I. A. 76 = 26 M. L. J. 153 = 18 C. W. N. 521 (P. C.).

RECORD OF REASONS.—Reason for admitting additional evidence should be recorded. 38 Bom. 665 = 16 Bom. L. R. 641; 68 I. C. 719; 19 I. C. 572; 50 I. C. 805; 15 I. C. 250 = 15 O. C. 253; 41 C. L. J. 194 = 86 I. C. 646 = 1925 Cal. 671. Omission to record reasons renders the order without jurisdiction and the consent of the parties cannot validate such an order. 49 I. C. 510 See contra 51 I. C. 50; 64 I. C. 38; 90 I. C. 756. Admission without recording reasons is illegal. 32 I. C. 826 = 3 L. W. 163; 71 I. C. 289 = 1924 A. 303. Reasons for admission could be recorded in the judgment. 85 I. C. 676 (2) = 1925 All 752. When the reasons are apparent in the judgment, they need not be separately recorded. 22 M. L. J. 14 = 12 I. C. 673. Non-record of reasons is an irregularity and a fresh trial may be ordered in certain circumstances. 1922 Cal. 148 = 77 I. C. 556. But see 98 I. C. 137 = 1927 Cal. 126. No reasons given—Objections not raised—Effect. 90 I. C. 756 = 1926 Cal. 369. When the appellate court issued a commission and on the report of the Commissioner gave a finding, without recording reasons for admitting additional evidence, the finding is not binding being based on the report of the commission which is inadmissible without record of reasons. 1923 A. 413; 1 L. W. 771 = 28 I. C. 11. 1927 A. 175. See contra 48 I. C. 137 = 111 P. W. R. 1918. 'The peculiar circumstances of the case' is no reason. 19 J. C. 572.

SUBSTANTIAL CAUSE—WHAT IS.—Additional evidence may be taken on substantial causes, other than those particularly specified and necessary to meet ends of justice. 2 Pat. 676 = 50 I. A. 186 = 45 M. L. J. 578 (P. C.); 1923 Lah. 584; 30 I. C. 402 = 38 Mad. 414; 22 M. L. J. 14 = 12 I. C. 673; 14 I. C. 140 = 36 Mad. 477. What is substantial cause will depend on the facts of each case. 32 I. C. 908. Discovery of fresh evidence and inability to produce it through no fault or negligence of the party is substantial cause. 28 I. C. 694 = 28 M. L. J. 334; 47 All. 412 = 23 A. L. J.

193. See contra 86 I. C. 505 = 1925 Nag. 284. Discovery of fresh evidence under such circumstances as would warrant an application for review under O. 47, R. 1 may be brought under "any other substantial cause." 88 I. C. 586 = 1925 All. 808. See contra 84 I. C. 74 (2) = 1924 Bom. 227. Additional evidence can be allowed when there has been a wrongful refusal to grant an adjournment by the lower court. 23 Bom. L. R. 769 = 46 Bom. 184. An appellate court can examine any parties if for the sake of doing justice and for the purpose of making sure of facts, it is considered necessary. 42 All. 48 = 17 A. L. J. 945. Further evidence can be advanced in appeal when a party has been prevented by the action of the trial court from adducing all the evidence he could. 37 Mad. 455 = 22 M. L. J. 217; 90 I. C. 630. Additional evidence can be allowed if there has been failure of justice by reason of absence of proof on a technical aspect of the case. 21 L. W. 210 = 86 I. C. 576 = 1925 Mad. 444.

SUBSTANTIAL CAUSE—WHAT IS NOT.—That evidence already adduced is unsatisfactory and insufficient, is not a substantial cause. 39 I. C. 886 = 25 C. L. J. 473. Nor the mere fact that a litigant was not aware of the existence of documentary evidence at the time of trial. 68 I. C. 334. There is no sufficient cause to admit additional evidence when a point is sufficiently covered by an issue and the parties had every opportunity of producing evidence on it. 49 I. C. 115 = 5 O. L. J. 768; 102 I. C. 27.

TIME OF ADMISSION.—The legitimate occasion for admitting additional evidence is when on examining records there is an inherent defect. 40 Cal. 402 = 17 C. W. N. 615; 10 I. C. 332; 31 Bom. 381 (P. C.); 66 I. C. 370; 31 Mad. 114; 42 Cal. 675 = 19 C. W. N. 401; 4 Pat. L. T. 418 = 71 I. C. 881; 53 I. C. 567; 55 I. C. 226. An appellate court cannot admit documents after arguments are closed without recording reasons therefor. 63 I. C. 423 = 19 A. L. J. 402; 1924 Cal. 403; 35 I. C. 698 = 24 C. L. J. 457.

WHEN ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE COULD BE ADMITTED—ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—Admitting fresh evidence is not confined to cases where the court suo motu desires to call for fresh evidence. 12 I. C. 332 = 14 O. C. 327. Whether additional evidence should be admitted should be decided when appeal is actually heard. 98 I. C. 129 = 1927 Cal. 140. Additional evidence can be admitted when party through no fault of his was unable to produce it at the trial. 12 I. C. 332 = 14 O. C. 327. An appellate court can issue a commission for examining accounts and remedying mistakes and omissions made by the previous Commissioner. 3 Lah. 382 = 1923 Lah. 115. An appellate court can refer to statements not on record but referred to by trial court and contained in the record of a connected case. 32 I. C. 312 = 193 P. L. R. 1915. Admission is not to be with a view to enable the Court to pass judgment in favour of one party, but it is to be only when the original one is defective. 57 I. C. 843; 47 I. C. 141. Fresh evidence on question of fact not admissible. 95 I. C. 300 (2) = 1926 Cal. 941.

O. 41, R. 31. SCOPE.—An appellate court must conform strictly to the provisions of this rule. 31 I. C. 896=9 Bur. L. T. 59; 95 I. C. 925=1927 Oudh 95=1 Luck. 458. The provisions of this rule are mandatory. 9 I. C. 804; 21 A. L. J. 567=1924 A. 100. But see 59 I. C. 673=14 S. L. R. 132. A suit contesting an alienation ought not to be dismissed on the ground that it referred to a small plot of useless land. 87 P. L. R. 1917=42 J. C. 244.

CONTENTS OF JUDGMENT.—A judgment in appeal must set out the evidence on which it is based. 63 I. C. 436. Appealable judgments must contain findings on all important points. 1925 Cal. 316. The matters in dispute between the parties must be fully set forth with the findings in the judgment. 35 I. C. 237; 65 I. C. 479; 11 I. C. 915=4 Bur. L. T. 201. Judgment must state reasons for decision on all the points for determination, and on independent consideration, and must show that the judge did not rely en-bloc on the reasoning of the trial court. 46 I. C. 161=20 Bom. L. R. 461; 28 I. C. 354; 1923 Lah. 658. An appellate judgment should contain a statement of the case as would show that the Court has understood the real issues, tried them and considered the evidence. 25 I. C. 596=1 O. L. J. 334. All points raised in first Court and not abandoned in second Court must be considered. 36 Bom. 379=14 Bom. L. R. 418; 42 I. C. 838=3 P. L. J. 701. In a suit for confirmation of possession and declaration of title, the appellate Court's finding merely that title was not proved, is a partial view of the case. 46 I. C. 328. A cursory judgment, not showing that the evidence on record has been fully weighed is liable to be set aside. 27 I. C. 561=36 P. L. R. 1915. But see L. R. 3 A. 454. A judgment based on an indefinite conclusion "there is much force in the contention" is not in accordance with law. 54 I. C. 672=1 P. L. T. 27. Lower appellate Court's judgment containing no points nor decision thereon and no reasons—It is not a valid judgment. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 16.

CONTENTS OF AFFIRMING JUDGMENT.—An affirming judgment must show that the mind of the appellate court has been brought to bear sufficiently upon the aspects of the case requiring his decision. 49 I. C. 504=1919 Pat. 88. Where the lower Court's judgment is well written and exhaustive, an appellate Court may simply express concurrence, but there should be enough to show that the Court of appeal has considered it fully and formed its own opinion. 13 I. C. 194; 97 I. C. 760=1927 Cal. 323. Full reasons must be given when affirming lower Court's decree. 84 I. C. 946=1925 Lah. 246. Where the judgment of the first Court was full, and the appellate Court appreciated the main facts but has dismissed the appeal in a short judgment, it is not irregular. 1923 C. 113, 91 I. C. 478=1926 Cal. 545. A general statement that the records were carefully considered, and no reason was found to interfere with trial Court's conclusion is not a judgment. 46 I. C. 56=21 O. C. 309; 51 I. C. 46; 38 I. C. 509=2 P. L. J. 8; 95 I. C. 925. Where the judgment stated that the findings of the lower Court were accepted but without dealing with or stating certain objections against the findings, held it is not a judgment. 16 I. C. 354 and 382; 6 Bur. L. J. 82.

CONTENTS OF REVERSING JUDGMENT.—Law imposes on the Court of appeal an imperative duty and obligation of giving an adequate and satisfactory judgment when reversing a judgment. 43 I. C. 973. Full reasons for reversing a judgment should be given. 56 I. C. 816; 1926 Nag. 435. The aggrieved party can demand a consideration of the points on which the lower Court relied, when a judgment is one of reversal. 34 I. C. 185.

CONSIDERATION OF EVIDENCE ON RECORD.—It is the duty of the appellate Court to consider the evidence on record. 51 I. C. 751. The judgment must show that the evidence on record and the grounds of appeal have been considered. 108 P. L. R. 1916=36 I. C. 6; 38 I. C. 814=1 P. L. W. 193. Failure to weigh all evidence before the appellate Court, vitiates its judgment. 51 I. C. 11; 17 I. C. 895=5 Bur. L. T. 269. Omission to consider an important piece of evidence, vitiates the judgment. 49 I. C. 832. Non-mention of an obviously important document in judgment of an appellate Court is proof that it was not considered. 22 O. C. 312=54 I. C. 353. A judge should not quote the judgment of another Court as his own, but should show his own appreciation of the evidence on record giving reasons for his findings. 37 I. C. 435=3 O. L. J. 620; 49 I. C. 733.

OBJECT OF RULE.—The object of this rule is, speaking generally to enable the appellate Court where its decision interferes with, modifies or extends the decision of the lower Court to give effect to that decision by interfering, if necessary, even with the rights and liabilities of those who are not in fact appealing from the decision of the trial Court. 4 Pat. 37 = A.I.R. 1925 Pat. 285 ; 97 I.C. 65 ; 1928 A. 77. APPLICABILITY.—It is applicable to all cases where an appeal is heard under the Act. 34 A. 32 ; 40 M. 846 ; 34 M. L. J. 361. Rule applies to all classes of suits including a suit for partition. 49 C. 379 = 69 I. C. 981. The provision of this rule should be cautiously applied and only to cases where but for recourse to it the ends of justice would be defeated. 89 I. C. 24. See also 34 A. 32. Appellate Court can in appeal against portion of decree set aside whole decree in absence of cross-appeal or objections by respondents due to sufficient reasons. 85 I. C. 312 = 1925 Mad. 266.

COURT'S POWER.—The Court may make any order to meet ends of justice. 38 C. 721. Even in the absence of a respondent an appellate Court has the power to vary the decree in his favour. 101 I.C. 255 = 1926 Nag. 196 ; 94 I. C. 315 = 1926 All. 425.

POWER OF COURT.—This rule gives the Court power to pass a decree in favour of a person who is not a party before it, but was a party in the lower court. 12 O.L.J. 571. See also 8 M. L. T. 377 ; 8 I.C. 377 ; 25 I.C. 273 ; 91 I.C. 533. O. 43, R. 1.—Orders appealable under O. 43, R. 1 are not decrees, though coming under S. 47 or the definition of decree in S. 2. 17 I. C. 884=8 N. L. R. 177. REFERENCE.

1. [S. 617.] Where, before or on the hearing of a suit or on appeal in which the decree is not subject to appeal, or where, in the execution of any such decree, any question of law or usage having the force of law arises, on which the Court trying the suit or appeal, or executing the decree, entertains reasonable doubt, the Court may, either of its own motion or on the application of any of the parties, draw up a statement of the facts of the case and the point on which doubt is entertained, and refer such statement with its own opinion on the point for the decision of the High Court.

2. [S. 618.] The Court may either stay the proceedings or proceed in the case notwithstanding such reference, and may pass a decree or make an order contingent upon the decision of the High Court on the point referred;

Power to refer to High Court questions as to jurisdiction in small causes.

Power to District Court to submit for revision proceedings had under mistake as to jurisdiction in small causes

(2) On receiving the record and statement the High Court may make such order in the case as it thinks fit.

(3) With respect to any proceedings subsequent to decree in any case submitted to the High Court under this rule, the High Court may make such order as in the circumstances appears to it to be just and proper.

(4) A Court subordinate to a District Court shall comply with any requisition which the District Court may make for any record or information for the purposes of this rule.

REVIEW.

Application for review of judgment.

1. [S. 623.] (1) Any person considering himself aggrieved—

O. 46, R. 5.—When a High Court hears a reference, it acts like Court of Appeal quite as much as it undoubtedly does when it hears an application for revision. 25 C. W. N. 81 = 32 C. L. J. 433. But a power of reference is not a modified form of appellate jurisdiction. A Court to whom a reference can be made is not necessarily authorised to hear appeals from the Court making a reference. 47 A. 513 = 23 A. L. J. 385 = 1925 All. 380 (F. B.).

O. 46 Rr. 6 and 7.—See 21 C. W. N. 724 = 27

C. L. J. 96.

O. 47.—APPLICABILITY.—The provisions of O. 47 are applicable to an insolvency Court. 1927 M. 175 = 1926 M. W. N. 256 = 94 I. C. 351 = 23 L. W. 644 = 51 M. L. J. 60. The provisions of O. 47 would apply to review applications in appeals preferred under the Letters Patent. 29 Bom. L. R. 371 = 101 I. C. 766 = 1927 Bom. 232; (40 M. 651 F.).

O. 47, R. 1.—GROUNDS FOR REVIEW.—Under O. 47, R. 1 a party has a right to apply for a review of judgment to the Court that has decided the case before an appeal has been preferred. The grounds on which such an application may be made are specifically set forth in R. 1. 2 Pat. 676=50 I. A. 183=45 M. L. J. 578 (P. C.) Where an appeal against a decree has been dismissed for default and that order of dismissal has become final, the appellant cannot thereafter apply for review of the judgment. 21 A. L. J. 416=74 I. C. 528; 101 I. C. 766=1927 Bom. 232=29 Bom. L. R. 371. A Commissioner in order to take accounts may in his discretion and on proper grounds re-open the enquiry into anyone or more of the items before his report is made. Until then he decides nothing that is final and conclusive. 47 Bom. 593=25 Bom. L. R. 280. Where an order under S. 41, Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, was made by the Registrar in Insolvency, an application for review of his order must be made to the Registrar and not to the Court. 27 C. W. N. 916=1924 Cal. 83. Fraud practised upon a party in connection with a petition of compromise upon which a decree was made, is a good ground for review. A remedy by suit is an alternative and a more appropriate remedy. (13 C. W. N. 1197; 10 C. W. N. 286, Ref.) 64 I. C. 259. Power of making interlocutory orders is not a suitable subject for review. 5 I. A. 131=54 M. L. J. 423=1928 P. C. 49 (P. C.). If the party to the appeal presents his case to the Court of Appeal by way of cross-objections or otherwise, it is manifest that an application for review by him is incompetent. 35 I. C. 529. An applicant in a review application must confine himself to the grounds on which the application is admitted. 73 P. R. 1911=11 I. C. 427. The ground for review must be something which existed at the date of the decree. 43 M. L. J. 33=70 I. C. 741=1922 Mad. 227. See also 73 I. C. 4=1923 Nag. 70; 1926 Nag. 10 (1). Point not raised at trial cannot be raised in review. 47 A. 881. Where the lower Court had decided a case following the decision of the High Court in a connected case which was subsequently reversed on appeal by the Privy Council the reversal of the High Court's judgment is not a ground for review of the lower Court's judgment. [24 M. 1 (P. C.); 4 M. L. T. 86, foll.; 13 B. 330=33 A. 566; 31 B. 128; 13 M. L. T. 225; 3 Pat. L. J. 372, Ref.] 43 M. L. J. 33=70 I. C. 741=1922 Mad. 227. See also 73 I. C. 4=1923 Nag. 70. R. 1927 Rang. 189. But see 104 I. C. 136=31 C. W. N. 822. Plaintiff can apply for review when his suit has been dismissed for default under O. 9, R. 8 and he has not applied under O. 9, R. 9 to set the order aside. [26 C. 598=16 C. W. N. 43, foll.; 1 Pat. L. J. 547, not foll.] 50 I. C. 327=37 M. L. J. 59. An inferior Court has no power of review unless such power is granted by statute. 34 I. C. 503. It is not a sufficient reason for granting a review that if another opportunity is given to the applicant he would satisfy the Court that its previous order was wrong. 57 I. C. 145. Where the question decided is one of right between the parties and when the matter is one of general importance review is justified, 1926 Mad. 764=50 M. L. J. 493. A wrong decision on a question of law, is not a sufficient ground for review. 24 O. C. 154=63 I. C. 344. It is not a sufficient ground to order a review that the decision of the Court was based on a view of the law which had been overruled by a Full Bench decision. 3 Pat. 134=5 Pat. L. T. 52. Exposition of law by a Superior Court contrary to that applied after the judgment is no ground for review. 19 S. L. R. 30=1925 Sind. 53. The mere omission to raise a point of law which had it been raised, might and probably would have brought about a different result is not necessarily a "mistake or error apparent on the face of the record" for which a review can be claimed. 13 Cal. 62; 20 C. W. N. 1099; 1 P. L. J. 625=57 I. C. 111. Wrongly applying law is no ground for review. 102 I. C. 6=1927 Nag. 252. Judge failing to consider a decision—No review is permissible. 1927 Mad. 998 (1921 M. 98; 1925 Cal. 304, Dist. 1922 P. C. 112, Ref. on.) A Court can review an order as to costs if the order is not a proper one. 6 Pat. L. J. 284=3 P. L. T. 67. The production of an authority which was not brought to the notice of the Judge at the first hearing and which lays down a view of the law contrary to that taken by the Judge is not a sufficient ground for granting a review. 57 I. C. 147=1 P. L. T. 561=1921 Pat. 152. A Court has jurisdiction to review its own order erroneously made directing delivery of possession and the High Court has no power to interfere in revision. 3 P. L. J. 571=48 I. C. 129. New case not to be set up on review. 38 I. C. 196. Point not raised at the hearing, cannot be raised subsequently in an application for review. 100 I. C. 429=135 L. J. 507. The mere fact that another judge is inclined to take a different view of the case is no ground for review. 4 L. B. R. (1921) 27=4 I. C. 895.

(a) by a decree or order from which an appeal is allowed, but from which no appeal has been preferred,

MISTAKE OR ERROR.—A decree can be reviewed on such grounds only as, if tenable, would justify an alteration or cancellation of the decree. 36 All. 277=12 A. L. J. 382. Where the High Court gave two inconsistent judgments in the same case one before and another after remand, and the error was apparent on the face of it, a review lies. 13 I. C. 646. An application for review of a decree based on an award, on the ground of an evident mistake in the award, is maintainable. 52 I. C. 666. A mere mistake of law is not in itself a sufficient mistake or error apparent on the face of the record so as to form a ground for review of judgment. 44 I. C. 161. Where the mistake arises from the negligent conduct of the applicant for review, the mistake cannot even be pleaded. 44 I. C. 161. As to want of jurisdiction see 21 C. W. N. 1109=27 C. L. J. 594. An order under O. 45 rejecting an application to grant leave to appeal may be reviewed by the Court which made the order. 39 Cal. 1037=16 C. W. N. 1089. Erroneous view as to cognizability of a suit by a Court is a sufficient cause for review. 11 I. C. 15=195 P. L. R. 1911. Where a Court passes a personal decree where it ought not to have done so, and the same is found out by the party aggrieved only when it is sought to be executed his remedy is not by way of amendment but by way of review. 18 L. W. 876 = 76 I. C. 786 = 1924 M. 225. The mere fact that an application to set aside the decree is headed as made under S. 151 (which is clearly inapplicable to the case) does not preclude the Court from dealing with the application as one for review. 43 M. L. J. 290 = 70 I. C. 425 = 1922 Mad. 446. The Court has jurisdiction to review its judgment on the ground that the previous finding was wrong. 9 I. C. 273 = 9 M. L. T. 361; 36 I. C. 83 = 3 O. L. J. 267; 1 P. L. T. 561 = 57 I. C. 147. Where there is no mistake in computing the period of notice but only an error in law, there is no sufficient ground for review. 1922 P. 308. Error of law apparent on the face of judgment—Review lies. 105 I. C. 710 = 5 R. 610.

NEW EVIDENCE.—The High Court cannot, in a second appeal, entertain review based on the ground that since the disposal of the appeal new documentary evidence has been discovered. 45 A. 458 = 21 A. L. J. 377. The applicant praying for review of judgment on the ground of discovery of new evidence must prove his inability to produce it during trial in spite of due diligence. 38 A. 280 = 14 A. L. J. 204. Review on the sole allegation that new evidence had been discovered which was not within the applicant's knowledge cannot be granted without strict proof of such allegation. 9 I. C. 26. The High Court will not accept a review of a judgment in a second appeal dismissed under O. 41, R. 11 on the ground that new evidence to prove a fact has been discovered. (41 C. 809, foll.) 36 C. L. J. 76 = 27 C.W.N. 918. The new important matter alleged to have been discovered must have existed at the date of the decree. (24 M. L. J. 50 I. C. 119, foll.; 51 I. C. 625, dist.) 64 I. C. 324. The greatest care ought to be exercised in granting a review when it is asked for on the ground of discovery of fresh evidence after judgment. 45 Cal. 60 = 21 C. W. N. 1076 = 42 I. C. 474 = 26 C. L. J. 187; 64 I. C. 324; 47 Cal. 568 = 31 C. L. J. 134; 50 I. C. 119 = 23 C.W. N. 242; 26 I. C. 281 = 41 C. 809. The new evidence must be such as would entitle the Court to modify or cancel the decree. 38 I. C. 142. An application to receive fresh evidence discovered out of Court by the parties to an appeal comes under O. 47, R. 1 and not under O. 47, R. 27. 19 C.W.N. 401 = 42 C. 675. Discovery of a document after judgment containing an admission of liability by defendant is a good ground for review. 140 P. W. R. 1911 = 11 I. C. 15 = 195 P.L. R. 1911; 135 P. L. R. 1916 = 35 I. C. 342. Though the case of a pardanashin lady is neglected by her agents, she cannot apply for re-hearing of the case in review. 42 I. C. 970; 40 I. C. 79. Review—Duty whether confined to the evidence on the basis of which review was granted. 53 Cal. 856 = 31 C. W. N. 1035 = 1927 Cal. 21 = 97 I. C. 731.

OTHER SUFFICIENT REASON.—Rule 1 must be read as defining the limits within which review is under the new Code, permitted, and reference to practise under former and different statutes is misleading. 43 M. L. J. 332 = 3 Lah. 127 = 49 I.A. 144 = 1922 P.C. 112 (P.C.). So construing, the words, "any other sufficient reason," are to be interpreted as meaning a reason sufficient on grounds at least analogous to those specified immediately previously. (Ibid.); 49 B. 839 = 4 R. 266 = 1927 Rang. 20; 96 I.C. 832 = 1926 L.Ah. 665; 92 I.C. 1013; 5 Rang. 675; 100 I.C. 30; 104 I.C. 136 = 31 C.W.N. 822. The "discovery of new and important evidence" in O. 47, R. 1 would refer only to a discovery made since the order sought to be reviewed was passed. 66 I. C. 558 = 1922 All. 366. Review is not to be granted on the ground that if the Court allowed the applicants another opportunity of producing evidence they might persuade the Judge that the view taken by him on the previous occasion was erroneous. 37 All. 440 = 13 A. L. J. 673; 57 I. C. 145; 14 I. C. 837. Where a judgment is based on the decision of the Revenue Court, the reversing of the Revenue Court's decision in appeal is a good ground for granting a review of the judgment. 33 All. 566 = 8 A.L.J. 584; 19 I.C. 679. The omission of the Court and the pleaders to notice certain provisions of the Code which apply to a case is a sufficient reason within O. 47, R. 1, for granting a review. 52 I.C. 29 = 30 C.L.J. 250. The expression "where the ground of such appeal is common to the applicant and the appellant" refers to a case where the grounds of appeal and review are the same and does not refer to a comparison between the actual appeal by a party and a possible appeal by the applicant for review. 24 C. L. J. 517 = 21 C.W.N. 430. An application for restoration of an appeal rejected under O. 41, R. 10 (2) may be treated as an application for review of the order rejecting appeal. 32 I.C. 86. The discovery of the ruling of the High Court contrary to another ruling of equal authority of the same High Court on which the Court has passed an order is not a sufficient cause for review. 18 I.C. 275 = 17 C. L. J. 416. 1927 M. 998; 1926 Mad. 764 = 50 M.L.J. 493. An application for review of judgment can be granted in part. 11 I. C. 102 = 15 C.L.J. 339. A Court can review its order, which was passed on the alleged consent of both parties on an application by one of the parties that he never consented to it. 15 C. L. J. 408 = 17 C.W. N. 631. A review of the decree, which was right when it was made on the ground of the happening of some subsequent event is not justified. 48 I. C. 157 = 111 P. W. R. 1918. 104 I. C. 136 = 31 C.W.N. 822. A review cannot be granted on ground other than those enumerated in O. 47. 22 I. C. 785 = 197 P. L. R. 1914. A Court can entertain review of an order of dismissal for default even in cases where no application for restoration of the suit is made within time. (15 P. R. 189, D.st.) 109 P. R. 1913 = 19 I. C. 481; 4 Pat. 704 (dismissal for non-payment of printing fees). Default of appearance is not a reason contemplated by O. 47, R. 1, C. P. C. nor is it analogous to any such reason. 25 L. (2) A party who is not appealing from a decree or order may apply for a review of judgment notwithstanding the pendency of an appeal by some other party except where the ground of such appeal is common to the applicant and the appellant, or when, being respondent, he can present to the Appellate Court the case on which he applies for the review.

Order of rejection not appealable. Objections to order granting application.

Such objection may be taken at once by an appeal from the order granting the application or in any appeal from the final decree or order passed or made in the suit.

THE SECOND SCHEDULE.

ARBITRATION.

Arbitration in Suits.

1. (1) [S. 506.] Where in any suit all the parties interested agree that any matter in difference between them shall be referred to arbitration, they may, at any time before judgment is pronounced, apply to the Court for an order of reference.

Parties to suit may apply for order of reference.

Para. 1. SCOPE OF THE SCHEDULE. See 29 C. 167=29 I. A. 51. Provisions should be strictly complied with. 49 I. C. 262=A. I. R. 1923 A. 65. See also 49 M. L. J. 812 (P.C.) A party to an agreement after the arbitrator proceeds to evidence, cannot withdraw from the arbitration. The Court cannot compel a private arbitrator to arbitrate against his will. 43 All. 101=18 A. L. J. 952.

FORM OF REFERENCE.—All parties interested must join in the application. See 47 C. 555; 27 C. L. J. 339; 42 M. 632=36 M. L. J. 538; 44 M. L. J. 359. A reference is bad if one interested party does not join. 17 M. L. J. 394; 29 A. 423; 64 I. C. 221; 79 I. C. 48. It is open to the parties to refer to arbitration only some of the disputes in a pending suit and the expression all the parties interested can only refer to the parties interested in the subject matter of the arbitration and not on the subject matter of the whole suit where the two are not identical. 104 I. C. 342=1927 Sind 239. (14 S. L. R. 156 Diss; A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 33; A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 502 Appr.). That one of the parties did not sign the petition of reference is not conclusive that he was not a party and the award will not be invalid by reason of such omission. 38 I. C. 226. Cl. (2) requiring application to be in writing is directory and not mandatory. 105 I. C. 105. A verbal submission to arbitration is valid even though there is a likelihood of a question of title to immoveable property being affected. 11 I. C. 481=14 C. L. J. 188; 34 I. C. 741=3 L. W. 375; 46 A. 208; 78 I. C. 378. When a reference to arbitration in a suit is a general one of the whole case the power of dealing with costs rests with the arbitrator. (91 P. R. 1888 Rel. on) 46 I. C. 182. The parties could ratify a reference to arbitration though the procedure laid down has not been strictly followed by appearing before the arbitrator and giving evidence. (30 A. 32; 27 C. 61 Ref.) 9 I. C. 412. A person having an option to avoid an award is deemed to have consented to it if he voluntarily submits to the proceedings before arbitrators. 19 I. C. 374=6 S. L. R. 146; 9 I. C. 522. A court executing a decree cannot refer a matter in the execution proceedings. 52 C. 559=87 I. C. 633.

INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGS.—A Court cannot refer to arbitrators a proceeding in insolvency (88 P. R. 1887 referred to.) 50 P. R. 1916=34 I. C. 549.

OMISSION TO SIGN THE PETITION.—Sch. II, Para. 1 does not require an application in writing for an order of reference to arbitration should necessarily be signed by the parties to the suit agreeing to the reference. 43 Cal. 290=43 I. A. 1=20 C. W. N. 137=30 M. L. J. 67 (P. C.); 48 All. 237=24 A. L. J. 235=1916 All. 238.

MINOR PARTIES.—Where one of the parties to a suit being an infant, the agreement to refer was signed by the adult parties and by the guardian ad litem of the infant and all the parties, including the guardian, appeared before the Judge and he thereupon, made an order of reference, the order was proper and the award thereon was not vitiated. 43 C. 290=43 I. A. 1=30 M. L. J. 67 (P.C.). A natural guardian can, on behalf of a minor, enter into an arbitration so as to be binding on minor if it is proper, reasonable and for the benefit of minor. 44 Bom. 202=22 Bom. L. R. 266; 11 I. C. 481=14 C. L. J. 188; 56 I. C. 593; 29 I. C. 800=8 Bur. L. T. 122. A minor is bound by an agreement of arbitration entered into by his predecessor in title. 50 I. C. 879=23 C. W. N. 293; 11 I. C. 481=14 C. L. J. 188. Where a minor, party to a reference, is not properly represented and his guardian fails in his duty to protect his interests, the award is not binding on the minors. 56 I. C. 593. Where some of the parties to a reference to arbitration are minors, it is the duty of the Court to ascertain if the reference is for the benefit of the minors. 15 S. L. R. 165=64 I. C. 50.

AUTHORITY OF PLEADERS.—Pleader must be expressly authorised to refer a matter. 29 A. 492. Unless he is authorised his signature will not bind his client. 29 A. 423. See 104 I. C. 202=1927 Lah. 362. One pleader appearing for another pleader cannot make a valid reference. 96 I. C. 277=1926 Lah. 563. The authority need not be in writing of the parties consenting to the reference. 23 B. 629. If a party knows about it and acquiesces in it, he cannot afterwards raise objection. 29 A. 429.

PARTIES-EFFECT OF NON-JOINDER OF SOME PARTIES.—When some of the depts. to a suit do not join in a reference to arbitration, the court should examine the facts of each case before coming to the conclusion that the arbitration is invalid. 39 All. 489=15 A. L. J. 427; 11 C. 37. Objections to the award on the ground of invalidity from any cause whatever should be decided by the Court which has made the order of reference to arbitration and by no other Court. 39 A. 489.

UNNECESSARY PARTIES.—A Hindu widow in possession of property in lieu of maintenance is not a necessary party to a suit for partition, and her not joining in a reference to arbitration in such a suit does not vitiate the award. 35 All. 107=11 A. L. J. 66.

DEATH OF A PARTY.—The death of one of the parties to an arbitration does not necessarily revoke the authority of the arbitrator. 33 All. 645=8 A. L. J. 678; 14 C. L. J. 188=11 I. C. 481.

A person who is not a necessary party is not a person interested within para. 1. 42 M. 632=36 M. L. J. 538. A Court has no jurisdiction to make an order of reference without the consent of all the parties, and an award made on such reference is illegal, 55 I. C. 747=47 Cal. 555=31 C. L. J. 150; 43 I. An award is not invalid because certain defendants having no interest in the suit or only nominally on the record do not join in the reference to arbitration by the other parties. 36 Mad. 353=21 M. A person having a limited interest in the land cannot by a reference to arbitration confer on him an authority to alienate a more extensive interest than he himself has. 25 I. C. 949.

PRIVATE REFERENCE.—Parties can refer disputes to private arbitration though a suit between them is pending. They need not apply to the Court for the purpose. 33 I. C. 67=19 M. L. T. 228. 23 M. L. J. 290=16 I. C. 478. See also 27 All. 53; But see 30 Cal. 218; 37 Cal. 63; 29 Cal. 167. But the same arbitration cannot relate to matters within and without jurisdiction between parties and non-parties and partly under agreement and partly under order of reference. 53 Cal. 258=53 I. A. 1=43 C. L. J. 14=92 I. C. 633=A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 293 (P. C.) Though some of the parties have not joined in the reference of the dispute to arbitration, the award does not become invalid or ineffectual as between the persons making the reference. The award is binding on them especially when it has been acted upon. 71 I. C. 860.

REFERENCE TO COURT.—When a suit is not maintainable under the law an agreement by a party to abide by the decision of the Court cannot be binding. 21 I. C. 958=19 C. W. N. 1141. The parties may appoint court as arbitrator and if the judge accepts his award is final and is not open to appeal, 26 M. 76; 23 B. 752; 37 M. L. J. 100. Though the Government orders prohibits such acceptance. 44 M. L. J. 258; 43 A. 266. See also 42 M. 625; 38 C. 421. In case of reference to Chamber of Commerce Rules of the Chamber are binding on the parties. See 30 I. C. 681=42 Cal. 1140=19 C. W. N. 820=21 C. L. J. 584.

SUBJECT OF REFERENCE.—A portion of the claim under reference to an arbitration cannot be withdrawn without the consent of the other party 46 I. C. 477=28 C. L. J. 275. The jurisdiction of Courts to refer to arbitration is confined to matters in difference in the suit itself. 14 L. W. 666=65 I. C. 92. An award under an invalid reference being itself invalid gives no rights either as an award or as a compromise. (Ibid.) Where parties apply to the Court to refer to the arbitration of a particular person the words used in the application should not be interpreted in a narrow sense but should be taken to mean that the parties are desirous of having the whole dispute settled by the arbitrator and therefore he could award damages. 15 I. C. 321.

VALIDITY OF REFERENCE.—Validity of reference—Pending reference to High Court—jurisdiction—Separate suit, if lies. 19 A. L. J. 876=44 A. 91. The provisions of para. 1 of Sch. II must be strictly complied with, in order that there might be a valid reference. 25 C. W. N. 832. See also 60 I. C. 195=24 C. W. N. 775. Where a pleader signed a reference on behalf of a party but his vakalatnama did not contain a power to refer to arbitration, held, the reference was not valid so far as that party is concerned. 25 C. W. N. 832. Successive disputes as they arise may be referred, and successive awards passed. 60 I. C. 195=24 C. W. N. 775. The arbitration is not revoked by the death of one of the parties if there is an agreement among the parties to bind themselves and their representatives-in-interest by the arbitration. (11 I. C. 481 Rel. on.) 15 C. L. J. 360=13 I. C. 161. To constitute a valid reference to arbitration it is enough if all the parties to suit interested in the subject-matter agree to the reference. (42 M. 632=47 Cal. 555 Foll.) 44 M. L. J. 359=17 L. W. 424=1923 Mad. 502. The High Court will not interfere in revision with an award on the ground that certain exonerated defendants were not parties to the reference when no such objection had been taken to the award in the Court below. 44 M. L. J. 359 supra. Absence of one of the arbitrators at one of the meetings at which, it is shown, that nothing material was done, does not make the award invalid. 12 L. W. 505=60 I. C. 181. It is within Court's jurisdiction on equitable grounds to restrain the defendant from proceeding to arbitration when an action brought impeaches the instrument containing the agreement for reference. 70 I. Para. 3. MATTER IN DIFFERENCE.—When the order states that "all matters in difference in the suit are referred," the arbitrators should ascertain upon what points the parties are at issue. 2 N. W. P. 150. The decision of arbitrators upon a matter not in difference between the parties, not referred to them, is null and void. 15 W. R. 172. The arbitrators have no implied power to deal with the question of costs 7 B. 82. The Court will not confirm an order made by the arbitrators making payment of their fees a condition precedent to hearing the reference. 6 C. 809.

MAKING OF THE AWARD.—The word "making" has been substituted for the word "delivery" to give effect to the decisions in 22 M. 22 ; 26 A. 105. See also 13 B. 119.

Para. 3, Cl. (2).—Cl. (2) has the effect to rigidly restricting the Courts to the exact procedure laid down in this schedule. 10 B. 381.

PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE.—It is the duty of the Court to appoint a date within which to make the award. 46 I. C. 324=5 O. L. J. 205. See also 13 All. 300 ; 18 Mad. 22. Where the Court had fixed no time for making the award but had fixed one for filing it, held, that the award filed before the latter date is not invalid. 20 I. C. 773=16 O. C. 233. See also 46 I. The law gives the parties the right to have the matter submitted to arbitration at any time before the judgment is pronounced. 24 I. C. 610. A party cannot resile from a reference to arbitration at his sweet will and pleasure. 17 O. C. 386=27 I. C. 424. The appropriate time for entertaining charges of misconduct against an arbitrator is when the award has been filed. 27 C. W. N. 420=1923 Cal. 410.

Para. 4.—An award is not invalid in case the order of reference does not provide for a difference of opinion between the arbitrators, when there is no difference of opinion among them. 17 W. R. 30. That there is no provision made for the appointment of an umpire in case of difference of opinion among arbitrators, does not make the submission bad on that account. 13 I. C. 161=15 C. L. J. 360. Award of umpire without consultation with arbitrators is good. 55 P. R. 1915=30 I. C. 87. In case where arbitrators are empowered to appoint an umpire from seven persons named in the order of reference, they cannot appoint a person not named. 7 M. H. C. R. 72. A majority award is not bad even in the absence of a specific provision to that effect in the reference. 40 I. C. 646=21 C. W. N. 895. But see next case. Where a dispute is referred to several arbitrators and the deed of reference does not provide for the prevalence of the views of the majority in the case of the decision not being unanimous, a majority award cannot be maintained. 49 I. C. 522. Where parties have entered into an agreement to be bound by the opinion of the majority of arbitrators, the omission of the Court to record that fact in the order of reference does not vitiate the arbitration. 23 I. C. 842. In the absence of a clause providing for an award made by less than all being valid, each of them must act personally as if he were the sole arbitrator. For as the office is joint if one refuse or omit to act, the others can make no valid award. 17 I. C. 320=16 O. C. 94. In case no provision is made that the decision of the majority of arbitrators should be binding, and two out of five arbitrators withdraw, a decision by the majority is invalid. 7 M. 174 ; 4 M. 311 ; 17 B. 129.

Para. 4, Cl. (2).—The Court can extend the time allowed. 4 M. 311.

Para. 5. SCOPE.—The section applies to cases where the arbitrator accepts and afterwards refuses to act. 6 M. 414 ; 48 C. 324 (327). A reference to arbitration stands on the same footing as all other lawful agreements and cannot be revoked by a party except on good cause. 22 I. C. 548=(1914) M. W. N. 52. See also 64 I. C.

Para. 11. SCOPE.—1925 Bom. 22. Award may be made in the form of a special case. 52 C. 100=1925 Cal. 599. The arbitrators cannot apply to the Court for confirmation of an order passed by them making payment of their fees a condition precedent to the hearing of the reference. 6 C. 899.

Para. 12.—Where one portion of the award related to matters referred, and another portion went beyond the strict terms of the reference, but the two portions are clearly separable, the whole award is not invalid. 29 C. 854 (P. C.). If some

Modifications and corrections of the award by the Court must be confined to para. 12 and if a Court goes beyond that and make substantial modifications because it takes a different view from that held by the arbitrator as to what was just and fair, it acts without jurisdiction. 78 P. 14. [S. 520.] The Court may remit the award or any matter referred to arbitration to the reconsideration of the same arbitrator or umpire, upon such terms as it thinks fit,—

- (a) where the award has left undetermined any of the matters referred to arbitration, or where it determines any matter not referred to arbitration, unless such matter can be separated without affecting the determination of the matters referred ; province of arbitrators but an award is not bad merely because of their inclusion. 27 I. C. 526 = 8 S. L. R. 136

- (c) where an objection to the legality of the award is apparent upon the face of it.

Para. 14. SCOPE.—This section does not apply to arbitrations under the Arbitration Act of 1899 (IX of 1899). 29 C. 793 ; nor to awards on private references. 14 I. C. 978 ; 24 I. C. 132 ; 34 I. C. 355. An award should not be remitted for reconsideration in the light of legal opinion obtained by one of the parties. 2 A. 181. See also 16 Cal. 806. A portion only of the award cannot be remitted. 24 A. L. J. 705 = 96 I. C. 531 = 1926 All. 567. An award is not invalid if it refers the parties to a regular suit concerning certain matters. 15 M. 348. The legality of an order remitting an award for the reconsideration of the arbitrators may be challenged on appeal against the decree ultimately passed. 22 M. 202. See also 3 A. 636. A document although headed as an award and signed by the arbitrators, which merely recommended a solution of the matters referred, will not be treated as an award. 11 C. 356. In case the arbitrators refuse to reconsider an award remitted to them, Court may set aside the award under S. 15. If it does so it should decide the case itself. 16 C. 806.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—Evidence taken by some only of the arbitrators—Award is invalid. 45 I. C. 34 = 16 A. L. J. 307. Court could set aside an award if there was an error of law patent on the face of it as misconstruction of documents. 44 Bom. 780 = 21 Bom. L. R. 1037. Acting on evidence adduced by one party behind the back of the other vitiates the award. 64 I. C. 363 = 22 P. L. R. 1922. Where parties agree to refer their dispute to an arbitrator they ought not to be allowed to resile from the position which they took at the time of the reference. 15 I. C. 321. Merely technical objections should not be allowed to disturb an award, which is fairly made. (Ibid.) Parties representing whole property to be theirs—Third persons interested in the property—Party to reference cannot challenge the award on that ground. 4 P. 670 = 1925 Pat. 810. An obvious slip on the part of the arbitrator, see 52 I. C. 100 = 1925 Cal. 599. Where a portion of the award is in excess of the reference, it is open to the Court to pass a decree and enforce the award so far as it relates to the dispute between the parties. 1 Bur. L. J. 265 = 72 I. C. 193 = 1923 Rang. 130.

Cl. (a).—Where the parties to arbitration withdraw certain questions they cannot be allowed to say that they are not decided. 38 All. 380 = A. L. J. 481. Arbitrators have jurisdiction to decide whether they should award interest and an award of interest does not invalidate the award. 46 Cal. 534 = 23 C. W. N. 704. An award must conform both in form and substance to the submission. 31 I. C. 33 = 22 C. L. J. 237.

An award is bad if it goes beyond the scope of the reference. 26 I. C. 73. Mistake of law on a legal point referred to an arbitrator does not vitiate his award. 26 I. C. 697 = 19 C. W. N. 476. A Court may remit an award on ground of some matters being left out. 23 I. C. 862. An arbitrator is not bound by the rules of practice adopted in Courts but he cannot go beyond the questions submitted to him. 15 C. L. J. 110 = 16 C. W. N. 256. When an award deals with a matter extraneous to the reference which matter can be separated therefrom the Court may modify the award or may remit it to the arbitrators for correction. 76 I. C. 1007 = 1923 Lah. 411 ; 66 P. R. 1915 = 31 I. C. 80. An arbitrator appointed to decide whether a sale should be set aside is competent to set aside if the vendor repays the purchase-money. 15 I. C. 573 = (1912) M. W. N. 901. When the valid part of an award is separable from the invalid part the award should be declared valid to that extent but where misconduct is proved, the whole award is invalid. 14 I. C. 978 = 5 Bur. L. T. 55. A refusal of a Court to remit an award is unappealable. 15 I. C. 573 = (1912) M. W. N. 901. When arbitrators have to decide disputes between firms they must inquire who the partners are, to discover whether they have jurisdiction, whom they must serve with notices and the scope of their inquiries. 9 I. C. 712 = 4 S. L. R. 196. The fact that the arbitrators have taken evidence on matters outside their jurisdiction will not necessarily invalidate the award or make the proceedings improper, if the award is within jurisdiction. 9 I. C. 712 = 4 S. L. R. 196.

Cl. (b).—An award against a firm is not bad and is governed by the provisions relating to the execution of a decree against a firm. 56 I. C. 325 = 47 Cal. 29. Where the arbitrators give rules for calculation without giving the actual result, it can be considered as sufficiently certain if the actual result may be worked out. 13 I. C. 161 = 15 C. L. J. 360. An award should be a final decision on all matters referred to the arbitrator. Where it leaves undecided one of the cardinal points in controversy the award is bad. 10 I. C. 450 = 13 C. L. J. 399 ; 92 P. R. 1913. It should be signed by all the arbitrators at the same time and place. 92 P. R. 1913 = 22 I. C. 811. But see 45 I. C. 154. Cl. (c).—The error of law must be apparent on the face of the award or from any document or paper connected with or forming part of the award. See 49 C. 646 ; 52 C. 100 ; 24 A. L. J. 480 ; 78 I. C. 230 ; 78 I. C.

Objection on the very merits of the question adjudicated upon by the arbitrators is beyond the scope of this section. 7 Bom. L. R. at p. 797. No objection can be raised as to the form of proceedings anterior to the reference or to the form of issues. 43 A. 395=19 A. L. J. 33.

Award should not be set aside on account of technical error. 91 I. C. 659 (2)=A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 383. APPEAL AND REVISION.—An appeal will lie from a decree passed in accordance with an award if such decree has been passed without allowing to the parties the time prescribed for filing objections. 29 A. 584. Where an award is made according to law no appeal lies. 29 B. 285; see also 14 I. C. 455=9 A. L. J. 258. There must be strict conformity with the provisions of clause (1) of this para. 49 A. 178=98 I. C. 993=24 A. L. J. 1036=1927 A. 120. Matters outside the arbitration proceedings are open to appeal. 39 M. 853=32 I. C. 881=30 M. L. J. 465. C. 400=3 O. L. J. 583. A second appeal is maintainable when the Court of first instance sets aside the award and passes a decree on the merits and the Lower Appellate Court sets aside that decree and passes a decree in accordance with the award. 4 O. But where the Court had granted frequent adjournments on the ground that the dispute had been referred to an arbitrator, such orders amount in substance, to a reference by the Court and no appeal will lie. 39 A. 401=15 A. L. J. 452. An order refusing to file an award is a decree and is appealable. 27 M. 255. Where the validity of the award is in question an appeal lies. 11 C. 37 (41); 49 I. C. 262. Also when the award is shown to be illegal and void ab initio. 24 C. 469 (472); 1903 A. W. N. 159. See also 17 P. R. 1911=9 I. C. 195. 40 I. C. 38=4 O. L. J. 131. Where there is no matter of difference between the parties there can be no reference. 30 C. 831; 21 B. 335 (342); 2 A. L. J. 493; 11 C. W. N. 1152. No reference in anticipation of future differences. 12 I. C. 639=5 S. L. R. 92.

ESSENTIALS OF A VALID AGREEMENT TO REFER.—The agreement to refer must clearly define the powers of the arbitrators. 16 C. 482; 11 C. 232. Para. 17 does not require that arbitrators should necessarily be named, in the agreement. 35 P. R. 1911=9 I. C. 655. Arbitrators who are left for future election cannot be said to be "named" in the agreement. 20 B. 232 (236). The application need not now be made by the parties in person or by their respective pleaders specially authorized in writing in this behalf. See 24 C. 459. The application is not a suit though it has to be registered as a suit. 61 I. C. 390=6 P. L. J. 287.

ALL THE PARTIES INTERESTED.—The parties who are materially interested in the suit should join in the application. 10 W. R. 171; 17 C. 37; 4 C. L. R. 65; 24 A. 229. An award on a reference not agreed to by all the parties interested is invalid in law. 9 C. W. N. 873; See also 17 M. L. J. 394. But see 33 C. 899 and 11 C. W. N. 1152. The agreement for reference must be executed by all the parties. 38 I. C. 577=9 Bur. L. T. 253. (3) On such application being made, the Court shall direct notice thereof to be given to all the parties to the agreement, other than the applicants, requiring such parties to show cause, within the time specified in the notice, why the agreement should not be filed.

(4) Where no sufficient cause is shown, the Court shall order the agreement to be filed, and shall make an order of reference to the arbitrator appointed in accordance with the provisions of the agreement or, if there is no such provision and the parties cannot agree, the Court may appoint an arbitrator.

18. Where any party to any agreement to refer to arbitration, or any person claiming under him, institutes any suit against any other party to the agreement, or any person claiming under him, in respect of any matter agreed to be referred, any party to such suit may, at the earliest possible opportunity and

REFERENCE TO ARBITRATION AFTER SUIT—PROCEDURE. 45 B. 245=59 I. C. 53=22 Bom. L. R. 1048.

Clause (4).—The conduct of the parties, coupled with the long and unexplained delay of six years amounted to a cancellation of the agreement to refer their disputes to arbitration and the agreement could not be filed. 54 I. C. 126. The Court has no discretion to refuse to make the reference to the arbitrators nominated by the parties. 61 I. C. 390=6 P. L. J. 287. The Court has no jurisdiction to make the order of reference except to all the specified arbitrators. An agreement to refer becomes void if any one of the arbitrators die or refuse to act. 42 I. C. 911 (1)=11 Bur. L. T. 160; 44 I. C. 866=71 P. R. 1918; But see 40 I. C. 38=4 O. L. J. 131 (Court can substitute another in his place.) The Court will refuse to file an agreement in case the arbitrators named in it decline to act. 12 B. L. R. Ap. 13. But where there is a distinct provision by which a party is authorised to appoint another in the place of the one refusing to act, the agreement to refer would still hold good. 155 P. R. 1919=51 I. C. 636. Also the Court cannot give a direction that in case of difference of opinion, the opinion of the majority must prevail. 24 L. W. 384=97 I. C. 824=1926 Mad. 1183=51 M. L. J. 440. A Court acts with material irregularity if it does not strictly comply with the terms of the agreement to refer to arbitration. 35 P. R. 1911=9 I. C. 655.

REVOCATION OF AGREEMENT.—A party to a reference can only revoke his submission on good grounds. 17 C. 200; See also 20 A. 145; 27 M. at p. 115. Consent to reference being obtained by misrepresentation is ground for revocation. 50 I. C. 637. A reference once made cannot be arbitrarily revoked. 29 A. 49; 20 A. 145; 27 M. at p. 115. See also 39 I. C. 349=12 P. R. 1917. As to what is good cause for revocation, see 10 B. 381; 17 C. 200; 29 C. 278. Parties prosecuting case before arbitrators cannot afterwards challenge the award on ground of jurisdiction. 42 A. 661=18 A. L. J. 644. After reference is made the suit cannot be withdrawn. 9 A. 168. A Judge can act as arbitrator by consent of the parties. 26 M. 76; 23 B. 752. When he so acts, no appeal will lie from his decree. 10 C. W. N. 835; 4 A. L. J. 89.

UMPIRE.—As to the power of the Court to appoint an umpire, see 8 A. 64.

APPEAL.—A decision passed under this section is a decree, and an appeal lies therefrom. 22 M. 229. An order refusing to file an agreement is not appealable. 5 A. 333 (F. B.) But see 9 M. L. J. 10. Where an agreement to refer to arbitration was filed but on the arbitrators failing to act, the Court revoked the order of reference and dismissed the suit, held the order of revocation was not appealable. 48 A. 27=23 A. COURT-FEE.—The Court-fee on a memorandum of appeal is an ad valorem fee computed on the value of the subject-matter in dispute. 5 A. 333.

Para. 18. SUIT IN CONTRAVENTION OF AGREEMENT.—Court can stay such suit. 61 I. C. 322; 66 I. C. 43=2 Lah. 335=1922 Lah. 353; 2 Lah. 19=60 I. C. 776; 39 I. C. 508=62 P. R. 1917; 68 I. C. 235=25 O. C. 63=1922 Oudh 158. The power vested in a Court to stay a suit is purely discretionary and can be exercised only on an application made for that purpose by one of the parties to the suit at or before the settlement of issues. 22 I. C. 811=92 P. R. 1913; 68 I. C. 235=25 O. C. 63. (41 Mad. 115; 12 A. L. J. 75 Ref.) The existence of the award is a complete bar to the suit until the award is set aside by a Court of competent jurisdiction. 57 I. C. 894=3 U. B. R. (1920) 210. An award extinguishes all claims embraced in the submission and afterwards furnishes the only basis on which the rights of the parties can be determined, and constitutes a bar to any action on the original demand. 25 I.

19. [S. 524.] The foregoing provisions, so far as they are consistent with any agreement filed under paragraph 17, shall be applicable to all proceedings under the order of reference made by the Court under that paragraph, and to the award and to

As a submission only refers to the arbitrator, questions between the parties, the moment he touches the interest of strangers, he exceeds his authority and his award is void. If such grounds are established the Court must refuse to file the award, 21 C. L. J. 248=19 I. C. 941. A Court has no power to direct the filing of an award which is open to attack in part. 15 C. L. THE THIRD SCHEDULE.

EXECUTION OF DECREES BY COLLECTORS.

1. [S. 321.] Where the execution of a decree has been transferred to the Collector under section 68, he may—

(a) proceed as the Court would proceed when the sale of immoveable property is postponed in order to enable the judgment-debtor to raise the amount of the decree ; or

(b) raise the amount of the decree by letting in perpetuity, or for a term, on payment of a premium, or by mortgaging, the whole or any part of the property ordered to be sold ; or

(c) sell the property ordered to be sold or so much thereof as may be necessary.

2. [S. 322.] Where the execution of a decree, not being a decree ordering the sale of immoveable property in pursuance of a contract specifically affecting the same, but being a decree for the payment of money in satisfaction of which the Court has ordered the sale of immoveable property has been so transferred, the Collector, if, after such inquiry as he thinks necessary, he has reason to believe that all the liabilities of the judgment-debtor can be discharged without a sale of the whole of his available immoveable property, may proceed as hereinafter provided.

3. [S. 322-A.] (1) In any such case as is referred to in paragraph 2, the Collector shall publish a notice, allowing a period of sixty days from the date of its publication for compliance and calling upon—

(a) every person holding a decree for the payment of money against the judgment-debtor capable of execution by sale of his immoveable property and which

J. 259 (P.C.). For good reasons the Court which passed the decree can also send back the papers to the Collector without fresh application for execution. In this case the Court enforces what it has already ordered. Ibid. After a Civil Court passes a decree for joint possession of a revenue paying estate the Collector not only has to make allotment but to complete the partition by delivery of possession and he fails to exercise a jurisdiction vested in him by law if he refers the parties to the Civil Court for this purpose. 56 I.C. 806.

such decree-holder desires to have so executed, and every holder of a decree for the payment of money in execution of which proceedings for the sale of such property are pending, to produce before the Collector a copy of the decree, and a certificate from the Court which passed or is executing the same, declaring the amount recoverable thereunder ;

(b) every person having any claim on the said property to submit to the Collector a statement of such claim, and to produce the documents (if any) by which it is evidenced.

(2) Such notice shall be published by being affixed on a conspicuous part of the court-house of the Court which made the original order for sale, and in such other places (if any) as the Collector thinks fit ; and where the address of any such decree-holder or claimant is known, a copy of the notice shall be sent to him by post or otherwise.

4. [S. 322-B] (1) Upon the expiration of the said period, the Collector shall appoint a day for hearing any representations which the judgment-debtor and the decree-holders or claimants (if any) may desire to make, and for holding such inquiry as he may deem necessary for informing himself as to the nature and extent of such decrees and claims and of the judgment-debtor's immoveable property, and may, from time to time, adjourn such hearing and inquiry.

(2) Where there is no dispute as to the fact or extent of the liability of the judgment-debtor to any of the decrees or claims of which the Collector is informed, or as to the relative priorities of such decrees or claims, or as to the liability of any such property for the satisfaction of such decrees or claims, the Collector shall draw up a statement, specifying the amount to be recovered for the discharge of such decrees, the order in which such decrees and claims are to be satisfied, and the immoveable property available for that purpose.

(3) Where any such dispute arises, the Collector shall refer the same, with a statement thereof and his own opinion thereon, to the Court which made the original order for sale, and shall, pending the reference, stay proceedings relating to the subject thereof. The Court shall dispose of the dispute if the matter thereof is within its jurisdiction, or transmit the case to a competent Court for disposal, and the final decision shall be communicated to the Collector, who shall then draw up a statement as above provided in accordance with such decision.

5. [S. 322-C.] The Collector may, instead of himself issuing the notices and holding the inquiry required by paragraphs 3 and 4, draw up a statement specifying the circumstances of the judgment-debtor and of his immoveable property so far as they are known to the Collector or appear in the records of his office, and forward such statement to the District Court ; and such Court shall thereupon issue the notices, hold the enquiry and draw up the statement required by paragraphs 3 and 4 and transmit such statement to the Collector.

Scheme for liquidation of decrees for payment of money.

7. [S. 323.] (1) Where the amount to be recovered and the property available have been determined as provided in paragraph 4 or paragraph 5, the Collector may,—

(a) if it appears that the amount cannot be recovered without the sale of the whole of the property available, proceed to sell such property ; or,

Para. 4.—The Collector cannot adjudicate upon questions of title.—11 A. 94 on this section. See also 18 All. 315. An appeal from the decision by which is disputed claim is settled under this section is cognizable as a miscellaneous appeal. 4 M. 420. But see 7 A. 565.

(b) if it appears that the amount with interest (if any) in accordance with the decree, and, when not decreed, with interest (if any) at such rate as he thinks reasonable, may be recovered without such sale, raise such amount and interest (notwithstanding the original order for sale)—

(i) by letting in perpetuity or for a term, on payment of a premium, the whole or any part of the said property ; or

(ii) by mortgaging the whole or any part of such property ; or

(iii) by selling part of such property ; or

(iv) by letting on farm, or managing by himself or another, the whole or any part of such property for any term not exceeding twenty years from the date of the order of sale ; or

(v) partly by one of such modes, and partly by another or others of such modes.

(2) For the purpose of managing the whole or any part of such property the Collector may exercise all the powers of its owner.

(3) For the purpose of improving the saleable value of the property available or any part thereof, or rendering it more suitable for letting or managing or for preserving the property from sale in satisfaction of an incumbrance, the Collector may discharge the claim of any incumbrancer which has become payable or compound the claim of any incumbrancer whether it has become payable or not, and, for the purpose of providing funds to effect such discharge or composition, may mortgage, let or sell any portion of the property which he deems sufficient. If any dispute arises as to the amount due on any incumbrance with which the Collector proposes to deal under this clause, he may institute a suit in the proper Court, either in his own name or the name of the judgment-debtor, to have an account taken, or he may agree to refer such dispute to the decision of two arbitrators, one to be chosen by each party, or of an umpire to be named by such arbitrators.

(4) In proceeding under this paragraph the Collector shall be subject to such rules consistent with this Act as may, from time to time, be made in this behalf by the Local Government.

8. [S. 324.] Where, on the expiration of the letting or management under paragraph 7, the amount to be recovered has not been realized, the Collector shall notify the fact in writing to the judgment-debtor or his representative in interest, stating at the same time that, if the balance necessary to make up the said amount is not paid to the Collector within six weeks from the date of such notice, he will proceed to sell the whole or a sufficient part of the said property ; and, if on the expiration of the said six weeks the said balance is not so paid, the Collector shall sell such property or part accordingly.

which made the original order for sale an account of all moneys which come to his hands and of all charges incurred by him in the exercise and performance of the powers and duties conferred and imposed on him under the provisions of this schedule, and shall hold the balance at the disposal of the Court.

(2) Such charges shall include all debts and liabilities from time to time due to the Government in respect of the property or any part thereof, the rent (if any) from time to time due to a superior holder in respect of such property or part, and, if the Collector so directs, the expenses of any witnesses summoned by him.

(3) The balance shall be applied by the Court—

(a) in providing for the maintenance of such members of the judgment-debtor's family (if any) as are entitled to be maintained out of the income of the property, to such amount in the case of each member as the Court thinks fit; and

(b) where the Collector has proceeded under paragraph 1, in satisfaction of the original decree in execution of which the Court ordered the sale of immoveable property, or otherwise as the Court may under section 73 direct; or

(c) where the Collector has proceeded under paragraph 2—

(i) in keeping down the interest on incumbrances on the property;

(ii) where the judgment-debtor has no other sufficient means of subsistence, in providing for his subsistence to such amount as the Court thinks fit; and

(iii) in discharging rateably the claims of the original decree-holder and any other decree-holders who have complied with the said notice, and whose claims were included in the amount ordered to be recovered.

(4) No other holder of a decree for the payment of money shall be entitled to be paid out of such property or balance until the decree-holders who have obtained such order have been satisfied, and the residue (if any) shall be paid to the judgment-debtor or such other person as the Court directs.

10. [S. 325.] Where the Collector sells any property under this schedule, he

(a) fix a reasonable reserved price for each lot;

(b) adjourn the sale for a reasonable time whenever, for reasons to be recorded, he deems the adjournment necessary for the purpose of obtaining a fair price for the property;

(c) buy in the property offered for sale, and re-sell the same by public auction or private contract, as he thinks fit.

of the judgment-debtor's immoveable property, or any part thereof, any of the powers or duties conferred or imposed on him by paragraphs 1 to 10, the judgment-debtor or his representative in interest shall be incompetent to mortgage, charge, lease or alienate such property or part except with the written permission of the Collector, nor shall any Civil Court issue any process against such property or part in execution of a decree for the payment of money.

(2) During the same period no Civil Court shall issue any process of execution either against the judgment-debtor or his property in respect of any decree for the satisfaction whereof provision has been made by the Collector under paragraph 7.

incompetency created by this section does not extend to the lessee from the Collector. 53 I. C. 776. [14 N. L. R. 181 (P. C.) An order by a Court executing a money decree against the judgment-debtor directing the Collector to pay surplus sale proceeds if any to the money decree-holder and not to judgment-debtor, does not amount to issuing a process and is not illegal. 102 I. C. 94=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 216. The permission of the Collector for a mortgage by the judgment-debtor need not take the form of a certificate under O. 21, R. 83, C. P. Code. It is enough if the Collector knows of the mortgage and gives sanction to it in writing. Ibid.

(3) The same period shall be excluded in calculating the period of limitation applicable to the execution of any decree affected by the provisions of this paragraph in respect of any remedy of which the decree-holder has been temporarily deprived.

12. [S. 325-B.] Where the property of which the sale has been ordered is situate in more districts than one, the powers and duties conferred and imposed on the Collector by paragraphs 1 to 10 shall be exercised and performed by such one of the Collectors of the said district as the Local Government may by general rule or special order direct.

13. [S. 325-C.] In exercising the powers conferred on him by paragraphs 1 to 10 the Collector shall have the powers of Civil Court to compel the attendance of parties and witnesses and the production of documents.

ENACTMENTS REPEALED.

[Repealed by Sch. II of Act XVII of 1914].

THE INDIAN COINAGE ACT (III OF 1906).

PREFATORY NOTE.—The currency of British India is regulated by two modern Acts which supersede all prior legislation on the subject. The first, The Indian Paper Currency Act, 1905 (III

Para. 11 (3).—The words "period of limitation" in Para. 11 (3) apply to the restrictions placed upon the right of a decree-holder to take out execution of his decree both by the Lim. Act and S. 48, C. P. Code. 17 A. L. J. 1140=42 All. 118.

The Collector's powers under Para. 11 do not come to an end as soon as the property is sold by auction and fetches more than the decretal amount. They exist, at least till the confirma-of 1905) deals with the issue, legal tender, and payment of currency notes. The second, the India Coinage Act, 1906 (III of 1906) provides for the coining of silver (rupees) nickel (one anna pieces) and bronze (pice). The standard coin of India is the silver Government rupee. Other forms of rupee, such as the Portuguese rupee and Hyderabad or sicca rupees are, however, in circulation. Gold coin of London Mint or the branch Mints which has not been declared is legal tender at a fixed sum of rupees for one sovereign. Provision is made as to the amount of Indian coin which is legal tender. Provision is also made for the currency of certain coin made under former Acts, and the Indian Government is authorized to mint other coin for issue by the Government of territories beyond British India. (S. 23.)

The coinage of Ceylon (1892) Mauritius (1876) and East Africa and Uganda (1905) is based on the silver rupee as a standard; but in these possessions and protectorates the subsidiary pieces are the rupee-cents, and not annas and pies as in India.

In Hong-kong the standard coin is the Mexican silver dollar (1895) but British dollars and Hong-kong dollars are treated as equivalent to the Mexican dollar.

In the Straits Settlements (1903) and Labuan (1905) the standard coin is the Straits Settlements dollar.

In British South Africa the standard is British sterling money.

The Currency of the Dominion of Canada is regulated by legislation of the Dominion Parliament. (Ency. of Laws of England, 2nd Ed., Vol. III, Title "coins" p. 142.)

The following from the Statements of Objects and Reasons may also be noted (see Fort St. Geo. Gaz., Part III, p. 129):—

The object of this Bill is to consolidate the Acts relating to the coinage. The law, as originally formulated in the Indian Coinage Act, 1870 (XXIII of 1870) has been materially modified by two Acts namely the Indian Coinage and Paper Currency Act, 1893 (VIII of 1893) which abolished obligatory free coinage, and the Indian Coinage and Paper Currency Act, 1899 (XXII of 1899) which made gold coins a legal tender. The present Bill proposes to repeal both these Acts as well as the main Act of 1870, to reproduce their provisions, so far as they are still required, in a consolidated form, and to provide for the introduction of a nickel one-anna and of a bronze coinage."

16. (1) When the Proctor desires to show cause against making absolute a decree nisi he shall enter an appearance in the suit in which such decree nisi has been pronounced and shall within a time to be fixed by the Court file his plea setting forth the grounds upon which he desires to show cause as aforesaid, and a certified copy of his plea shall be served upon the petitioner or person in whose favour such decree has been pronounced or his advocate. THE INDIAN COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913).

PREFATORY NOTE.—"Company" is an association of a number of individuals for the purpose of carrying on a legitimate business, a number of persons united for the same purpose, or in a joint concern, as a company of merchants. The word is applicable to private partnerships, or incorporated bodies of men; hence it may signify a firm, house or partnership; or a corporation. Association is included within the meaning of the term; in fact "Company" and "Association" are frequently considered as synonymous. The Companies Act is intended to regulate the incorporation and the running of the business of companies. James, L. J., said with reference to the English Companies Act of 1862, "The Act was intended to prevent the mischief arising from large trading undertakings being carried on by large fluctuating bodies, so that persons dealing with them did not know with whom they were contracting, and were put to great difficulty and expense, which was a public mischief to be repressed." (Smith v. Anderson, 15 Ch. D. 273). The same remarks will hold good in the case of the Indian Companies Act also. The law on the subject of Joint Stock Companies in India was contained in the Indian Companies Act, 1882, which was modelled closely on the English law in force in 1877. The object of the new Companies Act is to revise and consolidate the Indian Law on the subject of Joint Stock Companies on the lines of recent English legislation. Since 1882 the Indian law has been added to by four amending Acts, namely, the Indian Companies (Amendment) Act, 1887; the Indian Companies (Memorandum of Association) Act, 1895; the Indian Companies (Branch Registers) Act, 1900; and the Indian Companies (Amendment) Act, 1910. The substantial additions, however, which have been made to the English law by the long series of Acts passed between 1879 and 1908 have not with the exception of the matters dealt with in the four small amending Acts abovementioned, been adopted in the Indian law. The more important of the later English Acts are the Companies Act, 1879; the Companies Act, 1880; the Companies (Winding up) Act, 1890; the Directors Liability Act, 1890; the Companies Act, 1900; the Companies Act, 1907; and the Companies (Consolidation) Act, 1908. The English Companies Consolidation Act, 1908, consolidated the English law into a convenient Code and this Code had been taken as the model for the present Bill. The present Bill follows the English Act not merely in its general principles but in its detailed arrangement and expression, wherever possible, as it is considered a matter of the first importance to have the Indian law as uniform as possible with the English law except where local circumstances demand a modification in substance. Among the new and important provisions introduced into the Indian Company law by the Companies Bill are those relating to (a) the preparation of a statutory report by a company limited by shares before the first general meeting (cl. 81); (b) the appointment and advertisement of directors (cls. 88 and 89); (c) the prospectus and statement in lieu of prospectus (cls. 96 to 104); (d) restrictions on proceeding to allotment (cls. 105 to 106); (e) restriction on commencing business (cl. 107); (f) the appointment, remuneration and duties of auditors (cls. 142 and 143); (g) the registering of information regarding certain kinds of mortgages and charges (cls. 113 to 128); and (h) the registering of information regarding companies situated outside British India but operating therein (cl. 310).

It has been considered necessary to depart from English law on the subject of the winding up of Companies by order of the Court, and in place of the provisions introduced into English law by the Companies (Winding up) Act, 1890, the procedure of existing Indian law has been in the main retained. The procedure leaves the discretion in the matter of winding up in the hands of the Court, whereas in the English law important functions are exercised by the Board of Trade, by Official Receivers, and by Committees of Inspection. On the subject of the annual balance-sheet the provisions of the existing Indian law have been retained where these appeared more complete than the provisions of the English law, and the prescribed form of balance-sheet has also been retained. In order to make inspection in the interest of share holders without difficulty where a case for such inspection has been made out, the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies has been empowered to demand from any company an explanation of anything that is not clear in its balance-sheet or other returns submitted to him, and the Company will be liable, to a penalty if it fails to provide a full and true statement to the Registrar, when called upon. A report from the Registrar will form a ground on which the local Government may order an inspection of the affairs of a company. In regard to the qualifications of auditors, a matter on which the English law imposes no restriction, a provision has been inserted authorizing local Governments to issue certificates for the auditing of company's accounts to approved persons in accordance with rules to be framed for the purpose and restricting the audit of companies' accounts to persons holding such certificates. It has not been thought necessary to include the provision of the English Act (S. 40) whereby a company is empowered to return accumulated profits in reduction of paid-up share capital. (2) No company, association or partnership consisting of more than twenty persons shall be formed for the purpose of carrying on any other business that has for its object the acquisition of gain by the company, association or partnership, or by the individual members thereof, unless it is registered as a company under this Act, or is formed in pursuance of an Act of Parliament or some other Act of the Governor-General in Council or of Royal Charter or Letters Patent.

Memorandum of Association.

5. Any seven or more persons (or, where the company to be formed will be a private company, any two or more persons) associated for any lawful purpose may, by subscribing their names to a memorandum of association and otherwise complying with the requirements of this Act in respect of registration, form an incorporated company with or without limited liability (that is to say), either—

Mode of forming incorporated company.

(i) a company having the liability of its members limited by the memorandum to the amount, if any, unpaid on the shares respectively held by them (in this Act termed a company limited by shares); or

(ii) a company having the liability of its members limited by the memorandum to such amount as the members may respectively thereby undertake to contribute to the assets of the company in the event of its being wound up (in this Act termed a company limited by guarantee); or

Memorandum of company limited by shares.

6. In the case of a company limited by shares—

Sec. 4.—A company of more than twenty members, if unregistered under S. 4 of the Act is an association prohibited by law and is therefore illegal. 50 Mad. 175=99 I. C. 640=A.I.R. 1927 Mad. 123; 64 I.C. 447=19 A.L.J. 836; 48 All. 735. As to number of shareholders, see 84 I.C. 118=1925 Mad. 233 (2). A partnership consisting of more than 20 persons is invalid in law and a suit by one such partner against the rest for partition of assets in such an illegal transaction cannot be maintained in a Court of law. [24 A.L.J. 777, Foll.; (1926) Ch. D. 657, Dist.] 49 All. 319=100 I.C. 50=25 A.L.J. 146=A.I.R. 1927 All. 487. The word "partner" or "partnership" in an agreement between several persons jointly advancing money does not necessarily show that there was a partnership between them. 65 I.C. 368=1922 Nag. 67. The parties may call themselves partners, but if one party is to do nothing more than advance money to the other and is to be repaid by a share of the profits they must be treated as debtor and creditor. 65 I.C. 368=1922 Nag. 67. (4 All. 74 F.) An association of several firms consisting of more than twenty persons formed with the object of acquiring gain is essentially within the purview of S. 4 and requires registration. 26 I.C. 613=10 N.L.R. 98. Unregistered companies, if units for purpose of section 4. 50 Mad. 175=A.I.R. 1927 Mad. 123. The word 'persons' in S. 4 denotes individuals and does not include bodies of individuals whether corporate or not, since any such extended definition would be repugnant to the subject and context of the section. 26 I.C. 613=10 N.L.R. 98. See also 50 Mad. 175=A.I.R. 1927 Mad. 123; 24 L. W. 752=51 M. L. J. 667; 24 A.L.J. 777=97 I.C. 90=A.I.R. 1926 All. 591. To constitute an association, it is necessary that there should be more than twenty persons so associated as to create a legal relation giving rise to joint and mutual rights and obligations. 50 I.C. 513=11 Bur. L.T. 255. A chit fund creates no legal relation between the subscribers inter se but only as between the manager and the subscriber. (Ibid.) It is not an association within S. 4 and the manager can sue and be sued though the chit fund is not registered under the Companies Act.

"BUSINESS"—Test of 50 Mad. 175=A.I.R. 1927 Mad. 123.

Sec. 5.—It is not opposed to public policy for the proprietors of zemindari, who were numerous and whose interests were minute, to form themselves into a company if the means adopted for the management of property are beneficial. 13 I. C. 673=16 C. W. N. 297.

Sec. 6.—Memorandum of association can be altered only by special resolution. 1 I. C. 803=33 Mad. 36=5 M. L. T. 290.

- (i) the name of the company, with " Limited " as the last word in its name ;

11. Sec. 10.—Alteration of memorandum of association—Revocation of appointment of managing agent—Confirmation by Court. 18 L.W. 304 = 74 I.C. 966 = 1924 Mad. 126. The only power that the court has to confirm resolutions of a company in regard to an alteration of the memorandum of association is in respect of matters covered by section 12, (Ibid.)

(2) If a company, through inadvertence or otherwise, is, without such consent as aforesaid, registered by a name identical with that by which a company in existence is previously registered, or so nearly resembling it as to be calculated to deceive, the first-mentioned company may, with the sanction of the registrar, change its name.

(6) The change of name shall not affect any rights or obligations of the company, or render defective any legal proceedings by or against the company ; and any legal proceedings that might have been continued or commenced against it by its former name may be continued or commenced against it by its new name.

12. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, a company may, by special resolution, alter the provisions of its memorandum so as to change the place of the registered office from one province to another, or with respect to the objects of the company, so far as may be required to enable it—

(b) that, with respect to every creditor who in the opinion of the Court is entitled to object, and who signifies his objection in manner directed by the Court, either his consent to the alteration has been obtained or his debt or claim has been discharged or has determined, or has been secured to the satisfaction of the Court :

14. The Court shall, in exercising its discretion under sections 12 and 13, have regard to the rights and interests of the members of the company or of any class of them, as well as to the rights and interest of the creditors, and may, if it thinks fit, adjourn the proceedings in order that an arrangement may be made to the satisfaction of the Court for the purchase of the interests of dissentient members; and may give such directions and make such orders as it may think expedient for facilitating or carrying into effect any such arrangement:

Provided that no part of the capital of the company may be expended in any such purchase.

15. (1) A certified copy of the order confirming the alteration, together with a printed copy of the memorandum as altered, shall, within three months from the date of the order, be filed by the company with the registrar, and he shall register the same, and shall certify the registration under his hand, and the certificate shall be conclusive evidence that all the requirements of this Act with respect to the alteration and the confirmation thereof have been complied with, and thenceforth the memorandum so altered shall be the memorandum of the company.

(2) Where the alteration involves a transfer of the registered office from one province to another, a certified copy of the order confirming such change shall be filed by the company with the registrar in each of such provinces, and each of such registrars shall register the same, and shall certify under his hand the registration thereof, and the registrar for the province from which such office is transferred shall send to the registrar for the other province all documents relating to the company registered or filed in his office.

(3) If a company makes default in complying with the requirements of this section, it shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for every day during which the default continues.

42. (1) A British register shall be deemed to be part of the company's Regulations as to British register of members (in this section called the principal register).

(2) It shall be kept in the same manner in which the principal register is by this Act required to be kept, except that the advertisement before closing the register shall be inserted in some newspaper circulating in the locality wherein the British register is kept.

(3) The company shall transmit to its registered office in India a copy of every entry in its British register as soon as may be after the entry is made; and shall cause to be kept at such office, duly entered up from time to time, a duplicate of its British register, and the duplicate shall, for all the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be part of the principal register.

(4) Subject to the provisions of this section with respect to the duplicate register, the shares registered in a British register shall be distinguished from the shares registered in the principal register, and no transaction with respect to any shares registered in a British register shall, during the continuance of that registration, be registered in any other register.

(5) The company may discontinue to keep any British register, and thereupon all entries in that register shall be transferred to the principal register.

47. (1) On the issue of a share-warrant, the company shall strike out of its register of members the name of the member then entered therein as holding the shares or stock specified in the warrant as if he had ceased to be a member, and shall enter in the register the following particulars, namely :—

- (i) the fact of the issue of the warrant ;
 - (ii) a statement of the shares or stock included in the warrant, distinguishing each share by its number ; and
 - (iii) the date of the issue of the warrant.
- (2) If a company makes default in complying with the requirements of this section it shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for every day during which the default continues, and every officer of the company who knowingly and wilfully continues or permits the default shall be liable to the like penalty.

share capital, then on and from the presentation of the petition for confirming the reduction, the company shall add to its name, until such date as the Court may fix, the words "and reduced" as the last words in its name, and those words shall, until that date, be deemed to be part of the name of the company:

Provided that, where the reduction does not involve either the diminution of any liability in respect of unpaid share capital or the payment to any share-holder of any paid-up share capital the Court may, if it thinks expedient, dispense altogether with the addition of the words "and reduced".

58. (1) Where the proposed reduction of share capital involves either diminution of liability in respect of unpaid share capital, or the payment to any share-holder of any paid-up share capital, and in any other case if the Court so directs, every creditor of the company who at the date fixed by the Court is entitled to any debt or claim which, if that date were the commencement of the winding up of the company, would be admissible in proof against the company, shall be entitled to object to the reduction.

(2) The Court shall settle a list of creditors so entitled to object, and for that purpose shall ascertain, as far as possible without requiring an application from any creditor, the names of those creditors and the nature and amount of their debts or claims, and may publish notices fixing a day or days within which creditors not entered on the list are to claim to be so entered or are to be excluded from the right of objecting to the reduction.

59. Where a creditor entered on the list of creditors whose debt or claim is not discharged or determined does not consent to the reduction, the Court may, if it thinks fit, dispense with the consent of that creditor, on the company securing payment of his debt or claim by appropriating, as the Court may direct, the following amount (that is to say),—

(i) if the company admits the full amount of his debt or claim, or, though not admitting it, is willing to provide for it, then the full amount of the debt or claim ;

(ii) If the company does not admit or is not willing to provide for the full amount of the debt or claim, or if the amount is contingent or not ascertained, then an amount fixed by the Court after the like inquiry and adjudication as if the company were being wound up by the Court.

60. The Court, if satisfied, with respect to every creditor of the company who under this Act is entitled to object to the reduction, that either his consent to the reduction has been obtained or his debt or claim has been discharged or has determined or has been secured, may make an order confirming the reduction on such terms and conditions as it thinks fit.

61. (1) The registrar on production to him of an order of the Court confirming the reduction of the share capital of a company, and on the filing with him of a certified copy of the order and of a minute (approved by the Court) showing with respect to the share capital of the company as altered by the order, the amount of the share capital, the number of shares into which it is to be divided and the amount of each share, and the amount (if any) at the date of the registration deemed to be paid up on each share, shall register the order and minute.

(2) On the registration, and not before, the resolution for reducing share capital as confirmed by the order so registered shall take effect.

(3) Notice of the registration shall be published in such manner as the Court may direct.

(4) the registrar shall certify under his hand the registration of the order and minute, and his certificate shall be conclusive evidence that all the requirements of this Act with respect to reduction of share capital have been complied with, and that the share capital of the company is such as is stated in the minute.

62. (1) The minute when registered shall be deemed to be substituted for the corresponding part of the memorandum of the company, and shall be valid and alterable as if it had been originally contained therein, and shall be embodied in every copy of the memorandum issued after its registration.

(2) If a company makes default in complying with the requirements of this section, it shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees for each copy in respect of which default is made, and every officer of the company who knowingly and wilfully authorises or permits the default shall be liable to the like penalty.

63. (1) A member of the company, past or present, shall not be liable in respect of any share to any call or contribution exceeding in amount the difference (if any) between the amount paid (or as the case may be) the reduced amount, if any, which is to be deemed to have been paid, on the share and the amount of the share as fixed by the minute :

Provided that, if any creditor, entitled in respect of any debt or claim to object to the reduction of share capital, is, by reason of his ignorance of the proceedings for reduction, or of their nature and effect with respect to his claim not entered on the list of creditors, and, after the reduction, the company is unable, within the meaning of the provisions of this Act with respect to winding up by the Court, to pay the amount of his debt or claim, then—

(i) every person who was a member of the company at the date of the registration of the order for reduction and minute, shall be liable to contribute for the payment of that debt, or claim an amount not exceeding the amount which he would have been liable to contribute if the company had commenced to be wound up on the day before that registration ; and

(ii) if the company is wound up the Court, on the application of any such creditor and proof of his ignorance as aforesaid, may, if it thinks fit, settle accordingly a list of persons so liable to contribute, and make and enforce calls and orders on the contributories settled on the list as if they were ordinary contributories in a winding up.

(2) Nothing in this section shall affect the rights of contributories among themselves.

64. If any officer of the company wilfully conceals the name of any creditor entitled to object to the reduction, or wilfully misrepresents the nature or amount of the debt or claim of any creditor, or if any officer of the company abets any such concealment or misrepresentation as aforesaid, every such officer shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to one year, or with fine, or with both.

65. In any case of reduction of share capital, the Court may require the company to publish as the Court directs the reasons for reduction, or such other information in regard thereto as the Court may think expedient with a view to give proper information to the public, and, if the Court thinks fit, the causes which led to the reduction.

66. A company limited by guarantee and registered after the commencement of this Act may, if it has a share capital and is so authorised by its articles, increase or reduce its share capital in the same manner and subject to the same conditions in and subject to which a company limited by shares may increase or reduce its share capital under the provisions of this Act.

67. (1) Subject to the provisions of this section, any company registered as unlimited may register under this Act as limited or any company already registered as a limited company may re-register under this Act, but the registration of an unlimited company as a limited company shall not affect any debts, liabilities, obligations or contracts incurred or entered into by, to, with or on behalf of, the company before the registration, and those debts, liabilities, obligations and contracts may be enforced in manner provided by Part VIII of this Act in the case of a company registered in pursuance of that Part.

(2) On registration in pursuance of this section, the registrar shall close the former registration of the company, and may dispense with the delivery to him of copies of any documents with copies of which he was furnished on the occasion of the original registration of the company; but save as aforesaid, the registration shall take place in the same manner and shall have effect as if it were the first registration of the company under this Act.

68. An unlimited company having a share capital may, by its resolution for registration as a limited company in pursuance of this Act, do either or both of the following things, namely:—

(3) If any director or proposer makes default in adding such a statement, or if any promoter or officer of the company makes default in giving such a notice, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one thousand rupees and shall also be liable for any damage which the person so elected or appointed may sustain from the default, but the liability of the person elected or appointed shall not be affected by the default.

71. (1) A limited company, if so authorised by its articles, may, by special resolution, alter its memorandum so as to render unlimited the liability of its directors or of any director.

(2) Upon the confirmation of any such special resolution, the provisions thereof shall be as valid as if they had been originally contained in the memorandum, and a copy thereof shall be embodied in or annexed to every copy of the memorandum issued after the confirmation of the resolution.

(3) If a company makes default in complying with the requirements of this section, it shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees for each copy in respect of which default is made; and every officer of the company, who knowingly and wilfully authorises or permits the default, shall be liable to the like penalty.

DEBENTURES AND FLOATING CHARGES.

126. A condition contained in any debentures or in any deed for securing any debentures, whether issued or executed before or after the passing of this Act, shall not be invalid by reason only that thereby the debentures are made irredeemable or redeemable only on the happening of a contingency, however remote, or on the expiration of a period however long.

(4) The re-issue of a debenture or the issue of another debenture in its place under the power by this section given to, or deemed to have been possessed by, a company, whether the re-issue or issue was made before or after the commencement of this Act, shall be treated as the issue of a new debenture for the purposes of stamp-duty, but it shall not be so treated for the purposes of any provision limiting the amount or number of debentures to be issued :

(2) The Court in making such an order may, in the case of an unlimited company, allow to the contributory by way of set-off any money due to him or to the estate which he represents from the company on any independent dealing or contract with the company, but not any money due to him as a member of the company in respect of any dividend or profit; and may in the case of a limited company, make to any director whose liability is unlimited or to his estate the like allowance:

Provided that in the case of any company, whether limited or unlimited when all the creditors are paid in full, any money due on any account whatever to a contributory from the company may be allowed to him by way of set-off against any subsequent call.

187. (1) The Court may, at any time after making a winding up order, and either before or after it has ascertained the sufficiency of the assets of the company, make calls on and order payment thereof by all or any of the contributories for the time being settled on the list of the contributories to the extent of their liability, for payment of any money which the Court considers necessary to satisfy the debts and liabilities of the company, and the costs, charges and expenses of winding up, and for the adjustment of the rights of the contributories among themselves.

(2) In making the call the Court may take into consideration the probability that some of the contributories may partly or wholly fail to pay the call.

The Court may order any contributory, purchaser or other person from whom money is due to the company to pay the same into the Bank of Bengal, the Bank of Madras, or the Bank of Bombay, as the case may be, or any branch thereof, respectively, to the account of the official liquidator instead of to the official liquidator, and any such order may be enforced in the same manner as if it had directed payment to the official liquidator.

189. All moneys, bills, hundis, notes and other securities paid and delivered into the Bank of Bengal, the Bank of Madras or the Bank of Bombay, or any branch thereof, respectively, in the event of a company being wound up by the Court, shall be subject in all respects to the orders of the Court.

Debt due on a pro-note by contributory comes under this section. (Ibid.) The jurisdiction under the Act is permissive and ought not to be refused in the absence of cogent reasons, when a fit case is made out for its exercise. (Ibid.) A contributory can be required not only to meet calls made on him, but also to pay debts owing by him to the company, for recovery of which the court is not bound to proceed under section, but may direct the liquidator to sue for it. 59 P. R. 1915=31 I. C. 54. The section does not create new liabilities or confer new rights. It merely provides a summary procedure for enforcing existing legal liabilities. 4 Lah. 109=74 I. C. 600. The words "at any time" can only mean at any time in the courts of liquidation proceedings commencing from the date of the winding up order. The section creates a new machinery for bringing in debts due by a contributory to the company and nothing more. 190. (1) An order made by the Court on a contributory shall (subject to any right of appeal) be conclusive evidence that the money, if any, thereby appearing to be due or ordered to be paid is due.

Order on contributory conclusive evidence.

(2) All other pertinent matters stated in the order shall be taken to be truly stated as against all persons, and in all proceedings whatsoever.

191. The Court may fix a time or times within which creditors are to prove their debts or claims, or to be excluded from the benefit of any distribution made before those debts are proved.

Power to exclude creditors not proving in time.

192. The Court shall adjust the rights of the contributories among themselves, and distribute any surplus among the persons entitled thereto.

Adjustment of rights of contributories.

193. The Court may, in the event of the assets being insufficient to satisfy the liabilities, make an order as to the payment out of the assets of the costs, charges and expenses incurred in the winding up in such order of priority as the Court thinks just.

Power to order costs.

194. (1) When the affairs of a company have been completely wound up, the Court shall make an order that the company be dissolved from the date of the order, and the Company shall be dissolved accordingly.

Dissolution of company.

(2) The order shall be reported within fifteen days of the making thereof by the official liquidator to the registrar, who shall make in his books a minute of the dissolution of the company.

(3) If the official liquidator makes default in complying with the requirements of this section, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for every day during which he is in default.

Sec. 193—(1882) S. 158.—A charge in equity was created where a lease provided for payment of arrears of rent with interest from buildings erected on land. Although not amounting to a transfer or a mortgage the charge gave a priority right to the landlord over the company's unsecured creditors. 27 I. C. 34 = 16 Bom. L. R. 643.

Sec. 194—(1882) S. 159.—The final dissolution of the company does not preclude the assignee of a payment order from the liquidation Court, from seeking relief from that Court nor does it render necessary for him to bring an action for the recovery of the money. 3 Lah. L.J. 382. See also 28 I. C. 286 = 40 P. R. 1915. When a company has been dissolved it ceases to exist for all purposes and its officers are functus officio; a liquidator is also an officer of the company and

Sec. 195.—An order for the discovery and inspection of books, etc., and for the examination of its Directors will be made only if it is likely to lead to some benefit to the creditors. It is in the discretion of the court, but the discretion should be exercised judicially. 28 I. C. 286 = 40 P. R. 1915. An appeal lies against an order if the appellant can show that the order impugned is vexatious or oppressive so far as he is concerned and that it is not just or beneficial for the purpose of the winding up. (Ibid.) The examination under S. 195 is a private one and petitioning creditor should not be allowed to attend the same, particularly when the creditor who seeks to attend is engaged in litigation with the company in liquidation. 1 Rang. 382 = 1924 Rang. 24 = 83 I. C. 3.

(3) The Court may require him to produce any documents in his custody or power relating to the company ; but, where he claims any lien on documents produced by him, the production shall be without prejudice to that lien, and the Court shall have jurisdiction in the winding up to determine all questions relating to that lien.

(4) If any person so summoned, after being tendered a reasonable sum for his expenses, refuses to come before the Court at the time appointed, not having a lawful impediment (made known to the Court at the time of its sitting, and allowed by it) the Court may cause him to be apprehended and brought before the Court for examination.

and the official liquidator has applied to the Court stating that in his opinion a fraud has been committed by any person in the promotion or formation of the company or by any director or other officer of the company in relation to the Company since its formation, the Court may, after consideration of the application, direct that any person who has taken any part in the promotion or formation of the company, or has been a director, manager or other officer of the company, shall attend before the Court on a day appointed by the Court for that purpose, and be publicly examined as to the promotion or formation or the conduct of the business of the company, or as to its conduct and dealings as director, manager or other officer thereof.

(2) The official liquidator shall take part in the examination, and for that purpose may, if specially authorized by the Court in that behalf, employ such legal assistance as may be sanctioned by the Court.

(3) Any creditor or contributory may also take part in the examination either personally or by any person entitled to appear before the Court.

(4) The Court may put such questions to the person examined as the Court thinks fit.

(5) The person examined shall be examined on oath, and shall answer all such questions as the Court may put or allow to be put to him.

(6) A person ordered to be examined under this section may at his own cost employ any person entitled to appear before the Court, who shall be at liberty to put to him such questions as the Court may deem just for the purpose of enabling him to explain or qualify any answers given by him : Provided that if he is, in the opinion of the Court, exculpated from any charges made or suggested against him, the Court may allow him such costs as in its discretion it may think fit.

(7) Notes of the examination shall be taken down in writing, and shall be read over to or by, and signed by, the person examined, and may thereafter be used in evidence against him in civil proceedings, and shall be open to the inspection of any creditor or contributory at all reasonable times.

(8) The Court may, if it thinks fit, adjourn the examination from time to time.

(9) An examination under this section may, if the Court so directs, and subject to any rules in this behalf, be held before any District Judge or before any officer of the High Court, being an official referee, master, registrar or deputy registrar, and the powers of the Court under this section as to the conduct of the examination, but not as to costs, may be exercised by the person before whom the examination, is held.

198. Any powers by this Act conferred on the Court shall be in addition to, and not in restriction of, any existing powers of instituting proceedings against any contributory or debtor of the company, or the estate of any contributory or debtor, for the recovery of any call or other sums.

Enforcement of and Appeal from Orders.

199. All orders made by a Court under this Act may be enforced in the same manner in which decrees of such Court made in any suit pending therein may be enforced.

200. Any order made by a Court for or in the course of the winding up of a company shall be enforced in any place in British India other than that in which such Court is situate, by the Court that would have had jurisdiction in respect of such company if the registered office of the company had been situate at such other place, and in the same manner in all respects as if such order had been made by the Court that is hereby required to enforce the same.

201. Where any order made by one Court is to be enforced by another Court, a certified copy of the order so made shall be produced to the proper officer of the Court required to enforce the same, and the production of such certified copy shall be sufficient evidence of such order having been made; and thereupon the last-mentioned Court shall take the requisite steps in the matter for enforcing the order, in the same manner as if it were the order of the Court enforcing the same.

202. Re-hearings of, and appeals from, any order or decision made or given in the matter of the winding up of a company by the Court may be had in the same manner and subject to the same conditions in and subject to which appeals may be had from any order or decision of the same Court in cases within its ordinary jurisdiction.

A right of appeal under S. 169 (Old Act) is equal and similar to that under C. P. C. 38 All. 537=14 A. L. J. 722. Appeals on the winding up of a company are governed by the same conditions in which appeals may be had from the decision or order of District Judge in cases within his ordinary original jurisdiction, the condition being that there is only one appeal. 34 P. R. 1913=22 I. C. 250. Where the liquidation of a limited company has begun before the Companies Act of 1913 came into force, all the proceedings in the winding up including the course of appeal are governed by the old law as provided for by

The sending of a memorandum of appeal to a respondent is not a proper notice, not being one given in the manner prescribed by the Civil Procedure Code; a right of objection to such a notice is not affected by the respondent filing cross-objections. 11 I. C. 562=13 Bom. L. R. 558. Section 169 in no way derogates from the provision in clause 15 of the Letters Patent, but it merely directs that an appeal from an order made in the matter of a winding up of a company, shall not be heard unless notice is given in a certain manner. (Ibid.) S. 169 is not applicable to an order of the Liquidating Judge reducing the remuneration of an employee of the Official Liquidators sanctioned by the predecessor of the Judge. No appeal from such an order can be entertained. 1 Lah. 73=55 I. C. 928=90 P. L. R. 1920. (iii) on the appointment of a liquidator all the powers of the directors shall cease, except so far as the company in general meeting, or the liquidator, sanctions the continuance thereof ;

(iv) the liquidator may, without the sanction of the Court, exercise all powers by this Act given to the official liquidator in a winding up by the Court ;

(v) the liquidator may exercise the powers of the Court under this Act of settling a list of contributories, and of making calls, and shall pay the debts of the company, and adjust the rights of the contributories among themselves ;

(vi) the list of contributories shall be prima facie evidence of the liability of the persons named therein to be contributories ;

209. (1) Every liquidator appointed by a company in a voluntary winding up

shall, within seven days from his appointment, send notice by post to all persons who appear to him to be creditors of the company that a meeting of the creditors of the company will be held on a date, not being less than twenty-one days nor more than one month after his appointment, and at a place and hour, to be specified in the notice, and shall also advertise notice of the meeting once in the local official Gazette and once at least in some newspapers (if any) circulating in the district where the registered office or principal place of business of the company was situate.

(2) At the meeting to be held in pursuance of the foregoing provisions of this section the creditors shall determine whether an application shall be made to the Court for the appointment of any person as liquidator in the place of, or jointly with, the liquidator appointed by the company, and, if the creditors so resolve, an application may be made accordingly to the Court at any time not later than fourteen days after the date of the meeting, by any creditor appointed for the purpose at the meeting :

Provided that the Court may, by order at any time, extend the time for making an application under this sub-section for such period as the Court thinks proper.

Sec. 208.—When a person is appointed liquidator of a company, however imperfect he may consider his appointment to be, if he is nominally a liquidator and acts as such, he must carry out the duties or exercise the rights of a liquidator, and included in those duties is making a return of his appointment. 39 I.C. 478=15 A.L.J. 346=18 Cr. must give notice of it according to law ; if he does not do so, then, unless there is some bona fide excuse he will be liable to a penalty. The penalty in the case was reduced to one anna. (Ibid.)

(3) On any such application the Court may make an order either for the removal of the liquidator appointed by the company and for the appointment of some other person as liquidator or for the appointment of some other person to act as liquidator jointly with the liquidator appointed by the company, or such other order as, having regard to the interests of the creditors and contributories of the company, may seem just.

(4) The Court shall make such order as to the costs of the application as it may think fit, and, if it is of opinion that, having regard to the interests of the creditors in the liquidation, there were reasonable grounds for the application, may order the costs of the application to be paid out of the assets of the company, notwithstanding that the application is dismissed or otherwise disposed of adversely to the applicant.

210. (1) If a vacancy occurs by death, resignation or otherwise in the office of liquidator appointed by the company in a voluntary winding up, the company in general meeting may, subject to any arrangement with its creditors, fill the vacancy.

(2) For that purpose a general meeting may be called by any contributory or, if there were more liquidators than one, by the continuing liquidators.

(3) The meeting shall be held in manner prescribed by the articles, or in such manner as may, on application by any contributory or by the continuing liquidators be determined by the Court.

211. (1) A company about to be, or in course of being, wound up voluntarily may, by extraordinary resolution, delegate to its creditors, or to any committee of them, the power of appointing liquidators or any of them, and of supplying vacancies among the liquidators, or enter into any arrangement with respect to the powers to be exercised by the liquidators, and the manner in which they are to be exercised.

Delegation of authority to appoint liquidators.

(2) Any Act done by creditors in pursuance of any such delegated power shall have the same effect as if it had been done by the company.

212. (1) Any arrangement entered into between a company about to be, or in the course of being, wound up voluntarily and its creditors shall, subject to any right of appeal under this section, be binding on the company if sanctioned by an extraordinary resolution, and on the creditors if acceded to by three-fourths in number and value of the creditors.

Arrangement when binding on creditors.

(2) Any creditor or contributory may, within three weeks from the completion of the arrangement, appeal to the Court against it, and the court may thereupon, as it thinks just, amend, vary or confirm the arrangement.

213. (1) Where a company is proposed to be, or is in course of being, wound up altogether voluntarily, and the whole or part of its business or property is proposed to be transferred or sold to another company (in this section called the transferee company) the liquidator of the first mentioned company (in this section called the transferor company), may, with the sanction of a special resolution of that company conferring either a general authority on the liquidator or on authority in respect of any particular arrangement, receive, in compensation or part compensation for the transfer or sale, shares, policies or other like interests in the transferee company, for distribution among the members of the transferor company, or may enter into any other arrangement whereby the members of the transferor company may, in lieu of receiving cash, shares, policies or other like interests, or in addition thereto, participate in the profits of, or receive any other benefit from, the transferee company.

Power for liquidators to accept shares, etc., as a consideration for sale of property of company.

(2) Any sale or arrangement in pursuance of this section shall be binding on the members of the transferor company.

(3) If any member of the transferor company who did not vote in favour of the special resolution at either of the meetings held for passing and confirming the same expresses his dissent therefrom in writing addressed to the liquidator, and left at the registered office of the company within seven days after the confirmation of the special resolution, he may require the liquidator either to abstain from carrying the resolution into effect, or to purchase his interest at a price to be determined by agreement or by arbitration in manner hereinafter provided.

(4) If the liquidator elects to purchase the member's interest, the purchase-money must be paid before the company is dissolved, and be raised by the liquidator in such manner as may be determined by special resolution.

(5) A special resolution shall not be invalid for the purposes of this section by reason that it is passed before or concurrently with a resolution for winding up the company, or for appointing liquidators; but if an order is made within a year for winding up the company by or subject to the supervision of the Court, the special resolution shall not be valid unless sanctioned by the Court.

214. (1) The price to be paid for the purchase of the interest of any dissentient

Mode of determining price	member may be determined by agreement. If the parties dispute about the same, such dispute shall be settled by arbitration.

(2) The provisions of the Indian Arbitration Act, 1899, other than those restricting the application of the Act in respect of the subject-matter of the arbitration, shall apply to all arbitrations in pursuance of this section.

215. (1) Where a company is being wound up voluntarily, the liquidator or any

--------------------------	--

(2) The Court, if satisfied that the determination of the question or the required exercise of power will be just and beneficial, may accede wholly or partially to the application on such terms and conditions as the Court thinks fit, or may make such other order on the application as the Court thinks just.

216. (1) Where a company is being wound up voluntarily, the liquidator may,

Power of liquidator to call general meeting.	from time to time, summon general meetings of the company for the purpose of obtaining the sanction of the company by special or extraordinary resolution, or for any other purposes he may think fit.

(2) In the event of the winding up continuing for more than one year, the liquidator shall summon a general meeting of the company at the end of the first year from the commencement of the winding up, and of each succeeding year, or as soon thereafter as may be convenient, and shall lay before the meeting a statement in the prescribed form containing the prescribed particulars with respect to the proceedings in and the position of the liquidation.

Sec. 215.—A voluntary liquidator is entitled to ask the court, under S. 215, to make an order for the public examination of Directors, etc., which the court may make on the application of an Official Liquidator under S. 190. 55 I. C. 831=44 Bom. 659=22 Bom. L. R. 219. The fact that a resolution for voluntary winding-up is passed does not like an order of winding up, by or under supervision of the Court, stay or invalidate any proceeding, execution, etc., or prevent actions being brought or continued against the company without the leave of the court. On application, however, the court can stay any action on such terms as it thinks fit. 30 I. C. 657=182 P. L. R. 1915=124 P. W. R. 1915; 92 I. C. 144=A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 483. see also 19 P. L. P. W. R. 1915. A liquidator may obtain a supervision order to protect him against actions which are threatened and so save the expense of applying for the stay or restraint of proceedings against the company. (Ibid.) There is no reason why a person who has a claim which he has long ago put in the form of a proof of debt against a company and which the liquidators are willing to admit should not be allowed the benefit of the company's winding up proceedings. In those circumstances it is for the person disputing the debt to go to the court under S. 215 and have the decision set aside. 31 C. W. N. 894=103 I. C. 659=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 689. 217. (1) In the case of every voluntary winding up, as soon as the affairs of the company are fully wound up, the liquidator shall make up an account of the winding up, showing how the winding up has been conducted and the property of the company has been disposed of; and thereupon shall call a general meeting of the company for the purpose of laying before it the account, and giving any explanation thereof.

(2) The meeting shall be called by advertisement, specifying the time, place and object thereof, and published one month at least before the meeting in the manner specified in section 206.

(3) Within one week after the meeting, the liquidator shall file with the registrar a return of the holding of the meeting, and of its date, and in default of so doing shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for every day during which the default continues.

(4) The registrar on the filing of the return shall forthwith register it, and, on the expiration of three months from the registration of return, the company shall be deemed to be dissolved:

Provided that the Court may, on the application of the liquidator or of any other person who appears to the Court to be interested, make an order deferring the date at which the dissolution of the company is to take effect for such time as the Court thinks fit.

(5) It shall be the duty of the person on whose application an order of the Court under sub-section (4) is made, within twenty-one days after the making of the order, to file with the registrar a certified copy of the order, and if that person fails so to do, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for every day during which the default continues.

218. All costs, charges and expenses properly incurred in the voluntary winding up of a company including the remuneration of the liquidator, shall be payable out of the assets of the company in priority to all other claims at the date of the winding up.

219. The voluntary winding up of a company shall not bar the right of any creditor or contributory to have it wound up by the Court, if the Court is of opinion, in the case of an application by a creditor that the rights of the creditor or, in the case of an application by a contributory, that the rights of the contributories will be prejudiced by a voluntary winding up.

Power of Court to adopt proceedings of voluntary winding up.

220. Where a company is being wound up voluntarily, and an order is made for winding up by the Court, the Court may, if it thinks fit, by the same or any subsequent order, provide for the adoption of all or any of the proceedings in the voluntary winding up.

Winding up subject to supervision of Court.

221. When a company has by special or extraordinary resolution resolved to wind up voluntarily, the Court may make an order that the voluntary winding up shall continue, but subject to such supervision of the Court, and with such liberty for creditors, contributories or others to apply to the Court, and generally on such terms and conditions as the Court thinks just.

The Courts will interfere only if the rights of the share holders are infringed or if a case of fraud or ultra vires is made out. 47 Bom. 915=25 Bom. L. R. 1083=1924 B. 102.

Courts do not generally interfere with internal management of a company at the instance of member unless there is something illegal, oppressive, fraudulent, or ultra vires on the part of the company. 46 P. 222. A petition for the continuance of a voluntary winding up subject to the supervision of the Court shall, for the purpose of giving jurisdiction to the Court over suits, be deemed to be a petition for winding up by the Court.

223. The Court may, in deciding between a winding up by the Court and a winding up subject to supervision, in the appointment of liquidators, and in all other matters relating to the winding up subject to supervision, have regard to the wishes of the creditors or contributories as proved to it by any sufficient evidence.

Court may have regard to wishes of creditors and contributories.

Power for Court to appoint or remove liquidators.

224. (1) Where an order is made for a winding up subject to supervision, the Court may by the same or any subsequent order appoint any additional liquidator.

(2) A liquidator appointed by the Court under this section shall have the same powers, be subject to the same obligations, and in all respects stand in the same position as if he had been appointed by the company.

(3) The Court may remove any liquidator so appointed by the Court or any liquidator continued under the supervision order, and fill any vacancy occasioned by the removal, or by death or resignation.

225. (1) Where an order is made for a winding up subject to supervision, the liquidator may, subject to any restrictions imposed by the Court, exercise all his powers, without the sanction or intervention of the Court, in the same manner as if the company were being wound up altogether voluntarily.

(2) Except as provided in sub-section (1), and save for the purposes of section 196, any order made by the Court for a winding up subject to the supervision of the Court shall for all purposes, including the staying of suits and other proceedings, be deemed to be an order of the Court for winding up the company by the Court, and shall confer full authority on the Court to make calls, or to enforce calls made by the liquidators, and to exercise all other powers which it might have exercised if an order had been made for winding up the company altogether by the Court.

(3) In the construction of the provisions whereby the Court is empowered to direct any act or thing to be done to or in favour of the official liquidator, the expression "official liquidator" shall be deemed to mean the liquidator conducting the winding up subject to the supervision of the Court.

226. Where an order has been made for the winding up of a company subject to supervision, and an order is afterwards made for winding up by the Court, the Court may, by the last-mentioned order or by any subsequent order appoint the voluntary liquidators or any of them, either provisionally or permanently, and either with or without the addition of any other person, to be official liquidator in the winding up by the Court.

(d) if it is otherwise proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the company is unable to pay its debts.

(2) Nothing in this Part shall affect the operation of any enactment which provides for any partnership, association or company being wound up, or being wound up as a company or as an unregistered company, under any enactment repealed by this Act, except that references in any such first-mentioned enactment to any such repealed enactment shall be read as references to the corresponding provision (if any) of this Act.

When proceedings in winding up were commenced Act VIII of 1913 came into force. S. 284 lays down that for all purposes connected with the winding up, the old Act should be regarded as in force. 68 I.C. 792=1923 Lah. 98. An appeal against the order of District Judge must be filed and notice served in such a case within 3 weeks of the order as laid down in S. 169 of the old Act. 68 I.C. 792=1923 Lah. 98. The plain and rational meaning of S. 284 is that the new Act operates on proceedings arising out of the windings up which commenced after its enforcement (i. e., April 1, 1914) and that no part of the Act applies to pending liquidations. 20 P.R. 1915=29 I.C. 272 See also 28 I.C. 90=40 P.L.R. 1915. 290. (1) The enactments mentioned in the Fourth Schedule are hereby repealed to the extent specified in the fourth column thereof :

Provided that the repeal shall not affect—

(2) All fees directed, resolutions passed and other things duly done under any enactment hereby repealed, shall be deemed to have been directed, passed or done under this Act.

(3) The mention of particular matters in this section or in any other section of this Act shall not prejudice the general application of section 6 of the General Clauses Act, 1897, with regard to the effect of repeals.

SCHEDULES.

THE FIRST SCHEDULE.

TABLE A.

REGULATIONS FOR MANAGEMENT OF A COMPANY, LIMITED BY SHARES.

Preliminary.

1. In these regulations, unless the context otherwise requires, expressions defined in the Indian Companies Act, 1913, or any statutory modification thereof in force at the date at which these regulations become binding on the company, shall have the meaning so defined ; and words importing the singular shall include the plural, and vice versa, and words importing the masculine gender shall include females, and words importing persons shall include bodies corporate.

Business.

2. The directors shall have regard to the restrictions on the commencement of business imposed by section 103 of the Indian Companies Act, 1913, if, and so far, as those restrictions are binding upon the company.

Shares.

3. Subject to the provisions, if any, in that behalf of the memorandum of association of the company, and without prejudice to any special rights previously conferred on the holders of existing shares in the company, any share in the company may be issued with such preferred, deferred or other special rights, or such restrictions, whether in regard to dividend, voting, return of share capital, or otherwise, as the company may from time to time by special resolution determine.

4. If at any time the share capital is divided into different classes of shares the rights attached to any class (unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of the shares of that class) may be varied with the consent in writing of the holders of three-fourths of the issued shares of that class, or with the sanction of an extraordinary resolution passed at a separate general meeting of the holders of the shares of the class. To every such separate general meeting the provisions of these regulations relating to general meetings shall mutatis mutandis apply, but so that the necessary quorum shall be two persons at least holding or representing by proxy one third of the issued shares of the class.

5. No share shall be offered to the public for subscription except upon the terms that the amount payable on application shall be at least five per cent. of the nominal amount of the share ; and the directors shall, as regards any allotment of shares, duly comply with such of the provisions of sections 101 and 104 of the Indian Companies Act, 1913, as may be applicable thereto.

6. Every person whose name is entered as a member in the register of members shall, without payment, be entitled to a certificate under the common seal of the company specifying the share or shares held by him and the amount paid up thereon : Provided that, in respect of a share or shares held jointly by several persons the company shall not be bound to issue more than one certificate, and delivery of a certificate for a share to one of several joint holders shall be sufficient delivery to all.

7. If a share certificate is defaced, lost or destroyed, it may be renewed on payment of such fee, if any, not exceeding eight annas, and on such terms, if any, as to evidence and indemnity as the directors think fit.

8. No part of the funds of the company shall be employed in the purchase of, or in loans upon the security of, the company's shares.

Lien.

9. The company shall have a lien on every share (not being a fully-paid share) for all moneys (whether presently payable or not) called or payable at a fixed time in respect of that share, and the company shall also have a lien on all shares (other than fully-paid shares) standing registered in the name of a single person, for all moneys presently payable by him or his estate to the company; but the directors may at any time declare any share to be wholly or in part exempt from the provisions of this clause. The company's lien, if any, on a share shall extend to all dividends payable thereon.

10. The company may sell, in such manner as the director thinks fit, any share on which the company has lien, but no sale shall be made unless some sum in respect of which the lien exists is presently payable, nor until the expiration of fourteen days after a notice in writing, stating and demanding payment of such part of amount in respect of which the lien exists as is presently payable has been given to the registered holder for the time being of the share, or the person entitled by reason of his death or insolvency to the share.

11. The proceeds of the sale shall be applied in payment of such part of the amount in respect of which the lien exists as is presently payable, and the residue shall (subject to a like lien for sums not presently payable as existed upon the shares prior to the sale) be paid to the person entitled to the shares, at the date of the sale. The purchaser shall be registered as the holder of the shares, and he shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase-money, nor shall his title to the shares be affected by any irregularity or invalidity in the proceedings in reference to the sale.

Calls on shares.

12. The directors may, from time to time make calls upon the members in respect of any moneys unpaid on their shares, provided that no call shall exceed one-fourth of the nominal amount of the share, or be payable at less than one month from the last call; and each member shall (subject to receiving at least fourteen days' notice specifying the time or times of payments) pay to the company at the time or the times so specified the amount called on his shares.

13. The joint-holders of a share shall be jointly and severally liable to pay all calls in respect thereof.

14. If a sum called in respect of a share is not paid before or on the day appointed for payment thereof, the person from whom the sum is due shall pay interest upon the sum at the rate of five per cent. per annum from the day appointed for the payment thereof to the time of the actual payment, but the directors shall be at liberty to waive payment of that interest wholly or in part.

15. The provisions of these regulations as to payment of interest shall apply in the case of non-payment of any sum which, by the terms of issue of a share, becomes payable at a fixed time, whether on account of the amount of the share, or by way of premium, as if the same had become payable by virtue of a call duly made and notified.

16. The directors may make arrangements on the issue of shares for a difference between the holders in the amount of calls to be paid and in the times of payment.

17. The directors may, if they think fit, receive from any member willing to advance the same, all or any part of the moneys uncalled and unpaid upon any shares held by him; and upon all or any of the moneys so advanced may until the same would, but for such advance, become presently payable, pay interest at such rate (not exceeding, without the sanction of the company in general meeting, six per cent.) as may be agreed upon between the member paying the sum in advance and the directors.

Transfer and transmission of shares.

18. The instrument of transfer of any share in the company shall be executed both by the transferor and transferee, and the transferor shall be deemed to remain holder of the share until the name of the transferee is entered in the register of members in respect thereof.

19. Shares in the company shall be transferred in the following form, or in any usual or common form which directors shall approve.

I, A B of _____, in consideration of the sum of rupees _____ paid to me by C D of _____ (hereinafter called "the said transferee"), do hereby transfer to the said transferee the share [or shares] numbered _____ in the undertaking called the _____ Company, Limited, to hold unto the said transferee, his executors, administrators and assigns, subject to the several conditions on which I held the same at the time of the execution thereof, and I, the said transferee, do hereby agree to take the said share [or shares] subject to the conditions aforesaid. As witness our hands the day of _____ Witness to the signatures of, etc.

20. The director may decline to register any transfer of shares, not being fully paid shares, to a person of whom they do not approve, and may also decline to register any transfer of shares on which the company has a lien. The directors may also suspend the registration of transfers during the fourteen days immediately preceding the ordinary general meeting in each year. The directors may decline to recognize any instrument of transfer unless—

(a) a fee not exceeding two rupees is paid to company in respect thereof; and

(b) the instrument of transfer is accompanied by the certificate of the shares to which it relates, and such other evidence as the directors may reasonably require to show the right of the transferor to make the transfer.

21. The executors or administrators of a deceased sole holder of a share shall be the only persons recognized by the company as having any title to the share. In the case of a share registered in the names of two or more holders, the survivors or survivor, or the executors or administrators of the deceased survivor, shall be the only persons recognized by the company as having any title to the share.

22. Any person becoming entitled to a share in consequence of the death or insolvency of a member shall, upon such evidence being produced as may from time to time be required by the directors, have the right, either to be registered as a member in respect of the share or, instead of being registered himself, to make such transfer of the share as the deceased or insolvent person could have made; but the directors shall, in either case, have the same right to decline or suspend registration as they would have had in the case of a transfer of the share by the deceased or insolvent person before the death or insolvency.

23. A person becoming entitled to a share by reason of the death or insolvency of the holder shall be entitled to the same dividends and other advantages to which he would be entitled if he were the registered holder of the share, except that he shall not, before being registered as a member in respect of the share, be entitled in respect of it to exercise any right conferred by membership in relation to meetings of the company.

Forfeiture of shares.

24. If a member fails to pay any call or instalment of a call on the day appointed for payment thereof, the directors may, at any time thereafter during such time as any part of such call or instalment remains unpaid, serve a notice on him requiring payment of so much of the call or instalment as is unpaid, together with any interest which may have accrued.

25. The notice shall name a further day (not earlier than the expiration of fourteen days from the date of the notice) on or before which the payment required by the notice is to be made and shall state that, in the event of non-payment at or before the time appointed, the shares in respect of which the call was made will be liable to be forfeited.

26. If the requirements of any such notice as aforesaid are not complied with, any share in respect of which the notice has been given may at any time thereafter, before the payment required by the notice has been made, be forfeited by a resolution of the directors to that effect.

27. A forfeited share may be sold or otherwise disposed of on such terms and in such manner as the directors think fit, and at any time before a sale or disposition the forfeiture may be cancelled on such terms as the directors think fit.

28. A person whose shares have been forfeited shall cease to be a member in respect of the forfeited shares, but shall, notwithstanding, remain liable to pay to the company all moneys which, at the date of forfeiture, were presently payable by him to the company in respect of the shares, but his liability shall cease if and when the company received payment in full of the nominal amount of the shares.

29. A duly verified declaration in writing that the declarant is a director of the company, and that a share in the company has been duly forfeited on a date stated in the declaration, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated as against all persons claiming to be entitled to the share, and that declaration, and the receipt of the company for the consideration, if any given for the share on the sale or disposition thereof, shall constitute a good title to the share, and the person to whom the share is sold or disposed of shall be registered as the holder of the share and shall not be bound to see to the application of the purchase-money (if any), nor shall his title to the share be affected by any irregularity or invalidity in the proceedings in reference to the forfeiture, sale or disposal of the share.

30. The provisions of these regulations as to forfeiture shall apply in the case of non-payment of any sum which, by the terms of issue of a share, becomes payable at a fixed time, whether on account of the amount of the share, or by way of premium, as if the same had been payable by virtue of a call duly made and notified.

Conversion of shares into stock.

31. The directors may, with the sanction of the company previously given in general meeting, convert any paid-up shares into stock, and may with the like sanction re-convert any stock into paid-up shares of any denomination.

32. The holders of stock may transfer the same, or any part thereof in the same manner, and subject to the same regulations, as, and subject to which the shares from which the stock arose might previously to conversion have been transferred, or as near thereto as circumstances admit; but the directors may from time to time fix the minimum amount of stock transferable, and restrict or forbid the transfer of fractions of that minimum, but the minimum shall not exceed the nominal amount of the shares from which the stock arose.

33. The holders of stock shall, according to the amount of the stock held by them have the same rights, privileges and advantages as regards dividends, voting at meetings of the company, and other matters, as if they held the shares from which the stock arose, but no such privilege or advantage (except participation in the dividends and profits of the company) shall be conferred by any such aliquot part of stock as would not, if existing in shares, have conferred that privileges or advantage.

34. Such of the regulations of the company (other than those relating to share-warrants), as are applicable to paid-up shares shall apply to stock, and the words "share" and "shareholder" therein shall include "stock" and "stockholder."

Share-warrants.

35. The Company may issue share-warrants, and accordingly the directors may in their discretion, with respect to any share which is fully paid up, on application in writing signed by the person registered as holder of the share, and authenticated by such evidence (if any) as the directors may from time to time require as to the identity of the person signing the request, and on receiving the certificate (if any) of the share, and the amount of the stamp duty on the warrant and such fee as the directors may from time to time require, issue under the company's seal a warrant, duly stamped, stating that the bearer of the warrant is entitled to the shares therein specified, and may provide by coupons or otherwise for the payment of dividends, or other moneys on the shares included in the warrant.

36. A share-warrant shall entitle the bearer to the shares included in it and the share shall be transferred by the delivery of the share-warrant, and the provisions of the regulations of the company with respect to transfer and transmission of shares shall not apply thereto.

37. The bearer of a share-warrant shall, on surrender of the warrant to the company for cancellation, and on payment of such sum as the directors may from time to time prescribe, be entitled to have his name entered as a member in the register of members in respect of the shares included in the warrant.

38. The bearer of a share warrant may at any time deposit the warrant at the office of the company, and so long as the warrant remains so deposited, the depositor shall have the same right of signing a requisition for calling a meeting of the company, and of attending and voting and exercising the other privileges of a member at any meeting held after the expiration of two clear days from the time of deposit, as if his name were inserted in the register of members as the holder of the shares included in the deposited warrant. Not more than one person shall be recognized as depositor of the share-warrant. The company shall, on two days' written notice, return the deposited share-warrant to the depositor.

39. Subject as herein otherwise expressly provided, no person shall, as bearer of a share-warrant, sign a requisition for calling a meeting of the company or attend, or vote or exercise any other privilege of a member at a meeting of the company, or be entitled to receive any notices from the company; but the bearer of a share-warrant shall be entitled in all other respects to the same privileges and advantages as if he were named in the register of members as the holder of the shares included in the warrant, and he shall be a member of the company.

40. The directors may from time to time make rules as to the terms on which (if they shall think fit) a new share warrant or coupon may be issued by way of renewal in case of defacement, loss or destruction.

Alteration of Capital.

41. The directors may, with the sanction of an extraordinary resolution of the company increase the share capital by such sum, to be divided into shares of such amount, as the resolution shall prescribe.

42. Subject to any direction to the contrary that may be given by the resolution sanctioning the increase of share capital, all new shares shall, before issue be offered to such persons as at the date of the offer are entitled to receive notices from the company of general meetings in proportion, as nearly as the circumstances admit, to the amount of the existing shares to which they are entitled. The offer shall be made by notice specifying the number of shares offered, and limiting a time within which the offer, if not accepted, will be deemed to be declined, and after the expiration of that time, or on the receipt of an intimation from the person to whom the offer is made that he declines to accept the shares offered, the directors may dispose of the same in such manner as they think most beneficial to the company. The directors may likewise so dispose of any new shares which by reason of the ratio which the new shares bear to shares held by persons entitled to an offer of new shares, cannot, in the opinion of the directors, be conveniently offered under this article.

43. The new shares shall be subject to the same provisions with reference to the payment of calls, lien, transfer, transmission, forfeiture and otherwise as the shares in the original share capital.

44. The company may, by special resolution,—

(a) consolidate and divide its share capital into shares of larger amount than its existing shares;

(b) by sub-division of its existing shares or any of them, divide the whole or any part of its share capital into shares of smaller amount than is fixed by the memorandum of association, subject, nevertheless, to the provisions of paragraph (d) of sub-section (1) of section 50 of the Indian Companies Act, 1913;

(c) cancel any shares which, at the date of the passing of the resolution have not been taken or agreed to be taken by any person;

(d) reduce its share capital in any manner and with, and subject to, any incident authorized, and consent required by law.

General Meetings.

45. The statutory general meeting of the Company shall be held within the period required by section 77 of the Indian Companies Act, 1913.

46. A general meeting shall be held once in every year at such time (not being more than fifteen months after the holding of the last preceding general meeting) and place as may be prescribed by the company in general meeting, or, in default, at such time in the month following that in which the anniversary of the company's incorporation occurs, and at such place as the directors shall appoint. In default of a general meeting being so held, a general meeting shall be held in the month next following, and may be called by any two members in the same manner as nearly as possible as that in which meetings are to be called by the directors.

47. The above mentioned general meetings shall be called ordinary meetings; all other general meetings shall be called extraordinary.

48. The directors may, whenever they think fit, call an extraordinary general meeting, and extraordinary general meetings shall also be called on such requisition, or in default, may be called by such requisitionists, as provided by section 78 of the Indian Companies Act, 1913. If at any time there are not within British India sufficient directors capable of acting to form a quorum, any director or any two members of the company may call an extraordinary general meeting in the same manner as nearly as possible as that in which meetings may be called by the directors.

Proceedings at General Meeting.

49. Fourteen days' notice at the least (exclusive of the day on which the notice is served or deemed to be served, but inclusive of the day for which notice is given) specifying the place, the day and the hour of meeting and, in case of special business, the general nature of that business, shall be given in manner hereinafter mentioned, or in such other manner, if any, as may be prescribed by the company in general meeting, to such persons as are, under the regulations of the company, entitled to receive such notices from the company; but the non-receipt of the notice by any member shall not invalidate the proceedings at any general meeting.

50. All business shall be deemed special that is transacted at an extraordinary meeting, and all that is transacted at an ordinary meeting with the exception of sanctioning a dividend, the consideration of the accounts, balance-sheets and the ordinary report of the directors, and auditors, the election of directors and other officers in the place of those retiring by rotation and the fixing of the remuneration of the auditors.

51. No business shall be transacted at any general meeting unless a quorum of members is present at the time when the meeting proceeds to business; save as herein otherwise provided, three members personally present shall be a quorum.

52. If within half an hour from the time appointed for the meeting a quorum is not present, the meeting if called upon the requisition of members, shall be dissolved; in any other case, it shall stand adjourned to the same day in the next week at the same time and place, and, if at the adjourned meeting a quorum is not present within half an hour from the time appointed for the meeting, the members present shall be a quorum.

53. The chairman, if any, of the board of directors shall preside as chairman at every general meeting of the company.

54. If there is no such chairman or if at any meeting he is not present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for holding the meeting, or is unwilling to act as chairman, the members present shall choose some one of their number to be chairman.

55. The chairman may, with the consent of any meeting at which a quorum is present (and shall if so directed by the meeting), adjourn the meeting from time to time and from place to place, but no business shall be transacted at any adjourned meeting other than the business left unfinished at the meeting from which the adjournment took place. When a meeting is adjourned for ten days or more, notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given as in the case of an original meeting. Save as aforesaid, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of an adjournment or of the business to be transacted at an adjourned meeting.

56. At any general meeting a resolution put to the vote of the meeting shall be decided on a show of hands, unless a poll is (before or on the declaration of the result of the show of hands) demanded by at least three members, and unless a poll is so demanded, a declaration by the chairman that a resolution has, on a show of hands been carried, or carried unanimously, or by a particular majority or lost, and an entry to that effect in the book of the proceedings of the company shall be conclusive evidence of the fact, without proof of the number or proportion of the votes recorded in favour of, or against, that resolution.

57. If a poll is duly demanded, it shall be taken in such manner as the chairman directs, and the result of the poll shall be deemed to be the resolution of the meeting at which the poll was demanded.

58. In the case of an equality of votes, whether on a show of hands or on a poll, the chairman of the meeting at which the show of hands takes place or at which the poll is demanded, shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

59. A poll demanded on the election of a chairman or on a question of adjournment shall be taken forthwith. A poll demanded on any other question shall be taken at such time as the chairman of the meeting directs.

Votes of Members.

60. On a show of hands every member present in person shall have one vote. On a poll every member shall have one vote for each share of which he is the holder.

61. In the case of joint-holders, the vote of the senior who tenders a vote, whether in person or by proxy, shall be accepted to the exclusion of the votes of the other joint-holders; and for this purpose seniority shall be determined by the order in which the names stand in the register of members.

62. A member of unsound mind, or in respect of whom an order has been made by any Court having jurisdiction in lunacy, may vote, whether on a show of hands or on a poll, by his committee or other legal guardian and any such committee or guardian may, on a poll, vote by proxy.

63. No member shall be entitled to vote at any general meeting unless all calls or other sums presently payable by him in respect of shares in the company have been paid.

64. On a poll votes may be given either personally or by proxy: Provided that no company shall vote by proxy as long as a resolution of its directors in accordance with the provisions of section 80 of the Indian Companies Act, 1913, is in force.

65. The instrument appointing a proxy shall be in writing under the hand of the appointor or of his attorney duly authorized in writing, or, if the appointor is a corporation, either under the common seal, or under the hand of an officer or attorney so authorized. No person shall act as a proxy unless either he is entitled on his own behalf to be present and vote at the meeting at which he acts as proxy, or he has been appointed to act at that meeting as proxy for a corporation.

66. The instrument appointing a proxy and the power-of-attorney or other authority (if any), under which it is signed or a notarially certified copy of that power or authority shall be deposited at the registered office of the company not less than seventy-two hours before the time for holding the meeting at which the person named in the instrument purposes to vote, and in default the instrument of proxy shall not be treated as valid.

67. An instrument appointing a proxy may be in the following form or in any other form which the directors shall approve :—

" I of in the district of , being a member of the

84. Any casual vacancy occurring on the board of directors may be filled up by the directors, but the person so chosen shall be subject to retirement at the same time as if he had become a director on the day on which the director in whose place he is appointed was last elected a director.

85. The directors shall have power at any time, and from time to time, to appoint a person as an additional director who shall retire from office at the next following ordinary general meeting, but shall be eligible for election by the company at that meeting as an additional director.

86. The company may by extraordinary resolution remove any director before the expiration of his period of office, and may by ordinary resolution appoint another person in his stead; the person so appointed shall be subject to retirement at the same time as if he had become a director on the day on which the director in whose place he is appointed was last elected a director.

90. The directors may elect a chairman of their meetings and determine the period for which he is to hold office; but if no such chairman is elected, or if at any meeting the chairman is not present within five minutes after the time appointed for holding the same the directors present may choose one of their number to be chairman of the meeting.

96. The directors may from time to time pay to the members such interim dividends as appear to the directors to be justified by the profits of the company.

97. No dividends shall be paid otherwise than out of profits.

98. Subject to the rights of persons (if any) entitled to shares with special rights as to dividends, all dividends shall be declared and paid according to the amounts paid on the shares, but if and so long as nothing is paid up on any of the shares in the company, dividends may be declared and paid according to the amounts of the shares. No amount paid on a share in advance of calls shall while carrying interest, be treated for the purposes of this article as paid on the share.

99. The directors may, before recommending any dividend, set aside out of the profits of the company such sums as they think proper as a reserve or reserves which shall, at the discretion of the directors, be applicable for meeting contingencies, or for equalizing dividends, or for any other purpose to which the profits of the company may be properly applied, and pending such applications may, at the like discretion, either be employed in the business of the company or be invested in such investments (other than shares of the company) as the directors may from time to time think fit.

107. The profit and loss account shall show, arranged under the most convenient heads, the amount of gross income, distinguishing the several sources from which it has been derived, and the amount of gross expenditure distinguishing the expenses of the establishment, salaries and other like matters. Every item of expenditure fairly chargeable against the year's income shall be brought into account, so that a just balance of profit and loss may be laid before the meeting, and, in cases where any item of expenditure which may in fairness be distributed over several years has been incurred in one year, the whole amount of such item shall be stated, with the addition of the reasons why only a portion of such expenditure is charged against the income of the year.

(2) Where a notice is sent by post, service of the notice shall be deemed to be effected by properly addressing, prepaying and posting a letter containing the notice and, unless the contrary is proved, to have been effected at the time at which the letter would be delivered in the ordinary course of post.

THE COMPANIES (FOREIGN INTERESTS) ACT (XX OF 1918).

PREFATORY NOTE.—The following is the Statement of Objects and Reasons appended to the Bill (see Fort St. George Gazette, Part III, 15th October 1918, p. 589).

"It is considered desirable that companies which, during the war, have been reconstituted in India on lines approved by the Government of India and that new companies, whose business is of importance to the security of India and of the British Empire as a whole, should be restrained from altering their articles of association, in such a way as to bring them under the control of foreign interests. It is therefore proposed that the provisions in the articles of association of such companies, which are designed to restrict the shares or interests to be held or the powers to be exercised by persons other than British subjects, should not be altered without the consent of the Governor-General in Council. Similar legislation in the United Kingdom has resulted in the Companies (Foreign Interests) Act, (7 and 8 Geo. 5, Ch. 18), which prohibits the alteration of restrictive articles of this nature without the permission of the Board of Trade. Clauses 3 and 4 (1) of the Bill are designed to give effect to this proposal, and the remaining sub-clauses of clause 4 have been inserted to prevent evasion of this provision by voluntary liquidation on the part of the companies concerned."

THE COMPANIES (FOREIGN INTERESTS) ACT (XX OF 1918).

[25th September, 1918.

An Act to take power to prohibit the alteration, except with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, of articles of association which restrict foreign interests in certain Companies, and to provide for other purposes connected therewith.

WHEREAS it is expedient to take power to prohibit the alteration, except with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, of articles of association which restrict foreign interests in certain companies, and to provide for other purposes connected therewith ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called THE INDIAN COMPANIES (FOREIGN INTERESTS) ACT, 1918.

Definitions. 2. (1) In this Act—

(a) the expression " British subject " has the same meaning as in section 27 of the British Nationality and Status of Aliens Act, 1914, but shall include any person who holds a certificate of naturalization as a British subject granted under any Act of the Governor-General in Council for the time being in force, and any association incorporated in any part of His Majesty's Dominions : Provided that the said expression shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to apply to any subject of a State in India ;

(b) the expression " restrictive provision " means any provision in the articles of association of a company which, in the opinion of the Governor-General in Council, is designed to restrict or limit or has the effect of restricting or limiting the share or shares or interests which may be held, or the rights, powers or authority which may be conferred upon or exercised by or on behalf of persons other than British subjects in the company, or in respect of the control, management or direction of the affairs thereof.

(2) All words and expressions used in this Act and defined in the Indian Companies Act, 1913, shall be deemed to have the meanings respectively attributed to them by that Act.

3. This Act shall apply to such companies as the Governor-General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare to be companies with restrictive provisions, and any such notification shall specify the restrictive provisions.

Alterations in restrictive provisions and winding up. 4. So long as a notification issued under section 3 is in force in respect of any company, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any other Act—

(1) no alteration of the articles of association of the company affecting either directly or indirectly any restrictive provision shall be of any effect until it has received the consent in writing of the Governor-General in Council ;

(2) a resolution for the voluntary winding up of the company shall be of no effect unless the Governor-General in Council authorizes or ratifies it by a written consent ;

(3) any Court which has jurisdiction to wind up the company may, in its discretion, refuse to make a winding up order. In the exercise of its discretion the Court shall be guided by the consideration whether the winding up is bona fide with a view to the discontinuance of the undertaking, or is with a view to continuing the undertaking freed either wholly or in part from any restrictive provision ;

(4) The Governor-General in Council in giving consent, or the Court in making a winding up order, as the case may be, may impose such terms or conditions for giving effect to the purposes of this Act as he or it thinks fit.

THE CONTEMPT OF COURTS ACT (XII OF 1926).

PREFATORY NOTE.—The following is the Statement of Objects and Reasons, annexed to the Bill :—

"The several High Courts of Judicature established by Letters Patent are superior courts of record, and as such they have power to attach and commit for acts amounting to contempt of their own proceedings as contempt of court, and without reference to whether the acts alleged constitute an offence under the Indian Penal Code. Different views, have, however, been held by the various High courts in regard to their power to punish for such contempts committed in regard to proceedings in courts which are subordinate to them. The Madras High Court in the case of In re Venkata Rao (21 M. L. J. 832) and the Bombay High Court in the case of King Emperor v. P. G. Kulkarni, (24 B. L. R. 16) have held that they possess this power to protect their subordinate courts against such contempts. The Calcutta High Court, on the other hand, in the case of King Emperor v. Girindra Mohan Das and others (17 Cal. W. N. 1285) and the Legal Remembrancer v. Moti Lal Ghose (I. L. R. 4 Cal. 173) has taken a contrary view. In cases in which it is held that the power to attach and commit exists the powers of the courts are as unrestricted as are the powers of superior courts of record in England. It has not been decided whether the Court of Judicial Commissioners of the Central Provinces, Oudh and Sindh have these general powers either in regard to contempt of their own proceedings or of the proceedings of courts subordinate to them. In England, in addition to the powers of the superior courts of record to attach and commit for contempt of court, contempts of courts are also indictable misdemeanors at common law. In India, on the other hand, though the Indian Penal Code makes certain acts which would be punishable as contempts of court in England specific offences, it does not provide generally for the punishment of contempts of the authority of judicial officers not committed in their presence.

2. The condition of the law in India as summarised above has long been regarded as unsatisfactory, and in 1914 a Bill was introduced in the Indian Legislative Council which would have increased the classes of cases of contempts of court punishable as offences under the Indian Penal Code, but it was not proceeded with owing to the war. The present Bill proposes to declare and amend the law on other lines. Instead of increasing the classes of cases punishable as contempts of court after trial by Magistrates, the Bill restricts the power to protect subordinate courts against contempts which are not already provided for in the Indian Penal Code to the High Courts themselves. The Bill resolves any doubts as to the powers of the High Courts of Judicature in regard to the protection of their subordinate courts from such contempts. It will show clearly that the Courts of the Judicial Commissioners of the Central Provinces, Oudh and Sindh, will have the same powers of punishing for contempts committed in regard to their own proceedings or of the proceedings of courts subordinate to them. In lieu of the existing unrestricted powers of the High Courts of Judicature it will define the nature of the offence of contempt of court and the extent of the punishment which may be awarded. Finally it bars the inherent powers of the High Courts to deal with such offences."

Fort St. George Gazette, 1925, Part III, March 3rd, 1925, pp. 52-53.

[8th March, 1926.]

An Act to define and limit the powers of certain Courts in punishing contempts of courts.

WHEREAS doubts have arisen as to the powers of a High Court of Judicature to punish contempts of subordinate Courts ;

AND WHEREAS it is expedient to resolve these doubts and to define and limit the powers exercisable by High Courts and Chief Courts in punishing contempts of court ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called THE CONTEMPT OF COURTS ACT, 1926.

(2) It shall extend to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Governor-General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, appoint.

Sec. 1.—The publication of comments on a case which is pending trial in a court amounts to a contempt of court if the comments are such as are likely to prejudice the administration of justice in the case. In the absence of an express provision allowing him to do so, no person can contract out of a responsibility imposed upon him by law in the case of a contempt of court for publication of prejudicial comments on a case pending trial and a printer as well as a publisher cannot escape responsibility for matter printed and published. 6 R. 39 = A. I. R 1928 R. 115

(3) No High Court shall take cognizance of a contempt alleged to have been committed in respect of a Court subordinate to it where such contempt is an offence punishable under the Indian Penal Code.

3. Save as otherwise expressly provided by any law for the time being in force, a Limit of punishment for contempt of court may be punished with simple imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine, which may extend to two thousand rupees, or with both :

Provided that the accused may be discharged or the punishment awarded may be remitted on apology being made to the satisfaction of the Court.

THE INDIAN CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872).

PREFATORY NOTE.—A contract may be defined as an arrangement between competent parties, supported by a legal consideration, and in the form, if any, prescribed by law, creating an obligation on the part of one or both to do or refrain from doing some lawful thing.

The Bill which afterwards became the Contract Act was drawn in 1866 in England by the Indian Law Commissioners. In the following year it was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General during the absence of Mr. (afterwards Sir Henry) Maine by the Right Hon. W. N. Massey, referred to a Select Committee, and published and circulated to the Local Governments. Thereupon, a controversy arose between the Secretary of State and the Commissioners on the one side, the Home and the Indian authorities on the other, as to Commissioner's proposals that all penalties should be treated as liquidated damages, and that the ownership of goods may be acquired by buying them from any person who is in possession of them, if the buyer acts in good faith, and under circumstances which do not raise a presumption that the possessor has no right to sell them ; in other words, that every place in India should become a market overt. The result was that the Secretary of State permitted the Government of India to take their own course as to altering the Bill ; the Commissioners resigned and the Bill (whose early enactment was directed by the Secretary of State) was carried through the Council with some important amendment, by Mr. (afterwards Sir Fitzjames) Stephen. Whiteley Stokes' Anglo Indian Codes, Vol. I, p. 534.

"The first draft of a law of Contract for India was prepared in England by the Indian Law Commissioners. Some points in the original Bill gave rise to prolonged discussion, and portions of the measure were re-cast in this country. It consists almost exclusively of the rules which govern the English Courts, thrown into the form of legal enactment. Whenever these rules have been departed from, it has been on account of some difference between the circumstances of the two countries which rendered it unsafe, in the opinion of those upon whom the responsibility of passing the measure ultimately devolved, to enact the English Law without modification. Some special and subsidiary chapters of the law of Contract, such, for instance, as the law of Master and Servant. Consignor and Carrier, the law regulating Promissory Notes and Bills of Exchange, were intentionally omitted, inasmuch as, when the Act was passed, they had not received that elaborate consideration which their importance deserved, and because in the case of some matters of principle had to be decided, the discussion of which was still unripe. The last of these subjects has been subsequently provided for in the Negotiable Instruments Act of 1881. The law of Contracts specially affecting land sales, mortgages, leases and other forms of alienations of immovable property, was also left aside, as being of so special and technical a character and so diverse in its aspects in different parts of the Empire as to render it unsafe to deal with it in a general enactment. It has now been dealt with in the Transfer of Property Act of 1882, without however any modification of the general principles laid down in the present Act as applicable to all contracts. The subject of specific performance was also omitted, no doubt because intimate as is its connection with the Law of Contracts, it lies somewhat beyond the pale of contract in its strict sense and involves the consideration of other topics than those with which the law of Contract is, strictly speaking, concerned. For this, too, special provision has been made in Act I of 1877." See Introduction to Shepard and Cunningham's Contract Act.

The drafting of this Code has been the subject of strong adverse criticism by several very eminent judges and jurists.

"Not only the work of different hands, but work done from quite different points of view has been pieced together with an incongruous effect... Another source of unequal workmanship, and sometimes of positive error, is that the framers of the Indian Codes, and of the Contract Act, in particular, were tempted to borrow a section here and a section there from the draft Civil Code of New York, an infliction which the sounder lawyers of that State have been happily successful so far in averting from its citizens. This Code is, in our opinion, and we believe in that of most competent lawyers who have examined it, about the worst piece of codification ever produced. It is constantly defective and inaccurate, both in the apprehending the rules of law which it purports to define and in expressing the draftsman's more or less not satisfactory understanding of them. The clauses on fraud and misrepresentation in contracts—which are rather worse, if anything than the average badness of the whole—were most unfortunately adopted in the Indian Contract Act. Whenever this Act is revised everything taken from Mr. Dundley Field's Code should be struck out, and the sections carefully recast after independent examination of the best authorities." In fact, the Contract Act passed through not less than three distinct stages. First, there was the draft prepared in England by the Indian Law Commission uniform in style and possessing great merit as an elementary statement of the combined effect of the common law and equity doctrine as understood about forty years ago. Next this was revised and in parts elaborated by the Legislative Department in India. The borrowing from the New York draft Code seems to belong to this phase. Lastly, Sir James Stephen made or supervised the final revision and added the introductory definitions, which are in a wholly different style and not altogether in harmony with the body of the work. Evidently this process could not satisfy the conditions of a model Code. It is much to the credit of the workman that the result after allowing for all drawbacks, was a generally sound and useful one. See Preface to the first edition of Pollock's Contract Act.

Mr. Whiteley Stokes wrote as early as 1887 as follows:—Unfortunately it (the Contract Act Bill) had been sent out to India in a very crude form: it never underwent the patient, penetrating revision by a skilled draftsman necessary in the case of such a measure: and though the Indian Judges have loyally endeavoured to give effect to its provisions, these are so incomplete and sometimes so inaccurately worded that the time seems to have come for repealing the Act, and re-enacting it with the amendments in arrangement, wording and substance suggested by the cases decided upon it during the last fourteen years. Should this be done it would be well to incorporate the existing laws relating to negotiable instruments, to exchanges and to sales and mortgages and leases of immovable property and to add chapters on Carriers and Insurance." Whiteley Stokes' Anglo Indian Codes, Vol. I, p. 534.

V. B.—The several criticisms on this Act offered by Sir Frederick Pollock and Sir William Anson in their books on the law of Contracts are also to the same effect.

The Indian Contract Act, 1872, endeavours to codify—that is to say—arrange clearly and systematically the chief rules relating to the formation, ratification and discharge of all agreements enforceable by law, made between two or more persons by which rights are acquired by one or more of them to acts or forbearances on the part of the other or others. It also deals specially with the following classes of those agreements, viz., Sale of Goods: Indemnity and Guarantee: Bailment including Pledge: Warranty: Agency and Private Partnership (Public Partnerships are dealt with by the Indian Companies Act, 1882). It deals, lastly, with the quasi-contracts implied when A pays something which B ought to pay, or B receives something which A ought to receive. The obligation arising from breach of contract is partly dealt with by the section of the Contract Act relating to compensation. The law relating to the Specific Performance and Rescission of Contracts was substantially codified by the Specific Relief Act, 1877, chapters II and IV. Then came the codification of the law of Negotiable Instruments (Act XXVI of 1881) which deals with the most important branch of the law relating to the assignment of contractual rights. The rules relating to the assignment by operation of law of obligations on the transfer of land to Sale, Mortgage and Lease of Immoveables: to Exchange and Gift of every kind of property, and to the assignment of contractual rights not comprised in Act XXVI of 1881, were codified by the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, chapters III, IV, V and VI.

Special contracts of Carriage, Master and Servant and Insurance have also been subsequently dealt with by the Indian Legislature. (Whiteley Stokes' Anglo-Indian Codes, Vol. I, p. 491.

CONTRACT ACT.—Act is not retrospective. 5 M.I.A. 109 ; 12 Bom. L.R. 451 (458, 472). It is an amending as well as a consolidating Act. 40 B. 630 (P.C.)=31 M. L. J. 541. Act is not exhaustive. It does not purport to be a complete Code dealing with the law relating to contracts, but defines and amends certain parts of that law. 40 I.C. 194=19 Bom. L.R. 370 ; 35 M. 728=21 M.L.J. 600. S. 1 saves from its operation all Statutes, Acts and Regulations not expressly repealed by this Act, and also special usages and trade customs. 18 Cal. 620=18 I.A. 121 (P.C.). This Act does not affect the following usages and custom:—Pre-emption. 18 Cal. 620 ; Arbitrator's lien ; Attorney's lien (6 Cal. 1) ; Mercantile custom as to Hundis, Common Carriers and Maritime Law, etc. 18 Cal. 620 (P.C.) ; 98 I. C. 759= A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 89. The Contract Act is not exhaustive so far as the law relating to common carriers is concerned. 9 I. C. 966=32 P. W. R. 1911 (30 C. 530 ; 18 Cal. 623, Ref.). Although the Contract Act purports to deal only with certain parts of the law relating to contracts, yet it should be regarded as exhaustive and binding on the Courts in India when it treats a subject in a way at variance with the English Law. 38 I. C. 915=12 N. L. R. 177. Applicability of Act to contracts regarding land. See 19 S. L. R. 337 ; Principle of the Act applicable to all transfers. 25 A. L. J. 708=103 I. C. 370=A. I. R. 1927 All. 693. A mercantile custom in contravention of the written terms of a contract can be of no avail in a suit under the contract, but evidence of custom not consistent with the contract can be admitted. 41 Bom. 518=18 Bom. L. R. 532. Where there is reliance on custom there is necessarily a variation from the written contract, but the variation need not be in contradiction of or repugnant to it. 41 Bom. 518=18 Bom. L. R. 532. English common law principles can be applied so far as they apply to Indian circumstances and are not inconsistent with this Act. See 4 I. A. 23.

Sec. 2. GENERAL.—There is no universal rule that a stranger to a contract can in no circumstance claim a benefit thereunder. 77 Ind. Cas.

(a) When one person signifies to another his willingness to do or to abstain from doing anything, with a view to obtaining the assent of that other to such act or abstinence, he is said to make a proposal :

(b) When the person to whom the proposal is made signifies his assent thereto, the proposal is said to be accepted. A proposal, when accepted¹ becomes a promise :

(c) The person making the proposal is called the "promisor," and the person accepting the proposal is called the 'promisee' ;

(d) When, at the desire of the promisor, the promisee or any other person has done or abstained from doing, or does or abstains from doing, or promises to do or to

Sec. 2 (a).—An offer must be distinguished from an invitation for an offer. 65 I.C. 282 = 1922 Lah. 100. Catalogue of goods is not offer, but only invitation for offer. 12 O.C. 17 ; so also statement of lowest price in answer to enquiry. 8 I.C. 601. A letter from a prospective buyer asking for quotations from a merchant is an invitation for an offer. 65 I.C. 282 = 1922 Lah. 100. If the merchant sent his quotations and the buyer accepts them and orders goods that constitutes the proposal which the seller may or may not accept. (Ibid.) A quotation submitted by a trader as the basis of a possible order from customers is distinct from an offer to sell which if accepted creates a contract for the breach of which damages may be recovered. 37 M.L.J. 712 = 54 I.C. 550. But see also 7 Bur. L.T. 136 = 23 Ind. Cas. 322. A bid at an auction is nothing more than an offer and can be withdrawn like all other offers before it is accepted by the fall of the hammer. 43 M.L.J. 132 = 45 M. 799 = 70 I.C. 977 = 1922 M. 485 ; 19 I.C. 904 = 18 C. Where there was a completed contract, reduction to writing is merely incidental to the completion of the contract. 21 M. L. J. 182 = 9 I. C. 104 = (1911) 1 M. W. N. 17. Letter of request for a loan is only a proposal. 71 I. C. 968. See also 13 Bom. 669 ; 16 Mad. 283. It cannot be sued on as a promissory note. 71 I. C. 968. Boy running away from home.—Boy's father advertising reward to any one tracing him and bringing him home.—Taking boy to Police Station, making report and sending telegram to boy's father are substantial performance of condition, for which reward may be claimed. See 23 A. L. J. 655 = 88 I. C. 908 = 1925 All. 539.

Reward, offered for the search of a missing boy, for whose search a servant was already sent, cannot be claimed by the servant though he found the boy out ; the servant did not undertake the search after the offer nor on its strength and hence the finding out by him does not amount to acceptance by conduct. 19 I. C. 576 = 11 A. L. J. 489.

Sec. 2 (d).—"Consideration" as defined in this section is wider than the meaning of the term in English law. See 41 Cal. 137. Consideration may move from a third party. 6 Mad. 351. Thus broker's undertaking to pay the premium is good consideration in marine insurance contract. 27 Bom. L.R. 1310 = 91 I.C. 419 = 1926 Bom. 82. See also 89 I.C. 819 (Benefit to one co promisor is enough. A compromise is an agreement to put an end to disputes and to terminate or avoid litigation. Whether an agreement by a landlord to accept rent at a lower rate is unenforceable for want of consideration is doubtful. 32 I. C. 185 = 20 C.W.N. 680. abstain from doing, something, such act or abstinence or promise is called a consideration for the promise ;

(e) Every promise and every set of promises, forming the consideration for each other, is an agreement ;

(f) Promises which form the consideration or part of the consideration for each other are called reciprocal promises ;

(g) An agreement not enforceable by law is said to be void ;

(h) An agreement enforceable by law is a contract ;

(i) An agreement which is enforceable by law at the option of one or more of the parties thereto, but not at the option of the other or others, is a voidable contract ;

(j) A contract which ceases to be enforceable by law becomes void when it ceases to be enforceable.

CHAPTER I.

OF THE COMMUNICATION, ACCEPTANCE AND REVOCATION OF PROPOSALS.

3. The communication of proposals, the acceptance of proposals, and the revocation of proposals and acceptances, respectively, are deemed to be made by any act or omission of the party proposing, accepting or revoking by which he intends to communicate such proposal, acceptance or revocation, or which has the effect of communicating it.

sum of money to the community as a whole, and he promised to do so. Held, that the promise was for consideration and was enforceable. 44 M. L. J. 240 ; 72 I. C. 95=1923 Mad. 434. A forbearance to sue a debtor on his prom-note is a good consideration for the latter executing a security bond for payment of the debt. An agreement for forbearance need not be for any definite or particular time. It is enough if an implied request for forbearance be inferred. 51 I. C. 963 =36 M.L.J. 618. See also 23 A.L.J. 561=88 I.C. 768=47 All. 637=1925 All. 503. Any detriment suffered by defendant on the faith of the promise of the plaintiff will be sufficient consideration to make the plaintiff's promise enforceable. 44 I. C. 479=(1918) M.W.N. 173 (14 Cal. 64 and 36 All. 268, Foll.). Consideration may consist in abstention from taking legal proceedings. 32 I. C. 416 ; 65 I. C. 52=1922 Lah. 269. See also 17 Bom. 457. The release of a claim by one person is a consideration for guarantee of payment by another only when that claim is given up and not when there is a mere promise. (1916) 2 M. W. N. 264=29 I. C. 422=4 L. W. 553. An agreement not to appeal, the consideration for which is the mutual consent of the parties to refer the matter in dispute to the Court itself is binding on the parties. 26 I. C. 355. A consideration in law must be 'good' and 'valuable'. 16 M.L.T. 194=27 M. L. J. 249=25 I. C. 726 (1 A. 309, Foll.). A consideration paid to one joint promisor is legally sufficient to support a promise made by others. 38 M. 680=22 I. C. 1=26 M. L. J. 113 ; 26 M. L. J. 127=23 I. C. 951=38 M. 753. See also (1912) M.W.N. 930. An agreement in pursuance of which a member of a Hindu family declines to take share in the family property at a partition on the consideration that the others shall maintain their sister forms a good consideration for the sister to enforce her rights of maintenance against her brothers. 14 I.C. 517 ; 36 M. 157=13 I.C. 458=22 M. L. J. 231 (4 M. 137, rel. on). As to when a third party can sue upon a contract, see 32 C.W.N. 634=47 C.L.J. 587. A mere Ruzu Khata unsupported by oral agreement or consideration does not form a fresh contract. 58 I.C. 30. Forbearance to continue an appeal against a person on that person's brother agreeing to pay the amount claimed is a good consideration. 17 I.C. 466=15 O.C. 314 ; 74 I.C. 316 =26 O.C. 204. Creditor's forbearance to sue the debtor was sufficient consideration for promise by third party. 11 I.C. 773 ; 4 Bur. L.T. 156. Promise by agent without consideration is not enforceable either against agent or principal. 105 I.C. 214.

EVIDENCE.—Recitals as to consideration in documents is prima facie evidence thereof as between the parties. 27 All. 71 ; 23 Cal. 950 (P.C.) ; but can be rebutted by other evidence, oral or documentary. 5 Mad. 6 ; 8 All. 641 ; 27 I.A. 93. Evidence Act, S. 92 is no bar. (Ibid.)

Sec. 2 (e).—See 86 I. C. 509=1925 Mad. 943.

Sec. 2 (g).—Where a contract is illegal only in part, if such part is separable from the rest, the illegal portion alone is void ; but, if it is not so separable, the whole is void. 9 Bom. 176.

Sec. 2 (h).—A representation of fact is a contract and the party misrepresenting is bound to make good the representation. 31 I. C. 708=17 Bom. L. R. 783.

Sec. 3.—Offer must be intended to create legal relations. 23 Bom. 420. Thus mere invitation to dinner is no offer. (Ibid.) A promise to keep an offer open for a certain time is binding if supported by consideration. 2 M. L. J. 52. Acceptance must be absolute and correspond with the offer. 24 Bom. 510. Else it is only a contra offer. (Ibid.). (See also notes under S. 7). Though a contract implies two parties, a contract in writing does not require the signature of both parties. 22 C. L. J. 311=20 C. W. N. 408. A bond executed and delivered by one party which is accepted by another is a contract in writing. (Ibid.) Revocation of contract requires concurrence of both parties. A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 232 (P. C.). Evidence of completion of contract. See 16 I.C. 75 (P. C.).

Communication when complete.

4. The communication of a proposal is complete when it comes to the knowledge of the person to whom it is made.

The communication of an acceptance is complete,— as against the proposer, when it is put in a course of transmission to him, so as to be out of the power of the acceptor ;

as against the acceptor, when it comes to the knowledge of the proposer.

The communication of a revocation is complete,— as against the person who makes it, when it is put into a course of transmission to the person to whom it is made, so as to be out of the power of the person who makes it ;

as against the person to whom it is made, when it comes to his knowledge.

Illustrations.

(a) A proposes, by letter, to sell a house to B at a certain price.

The communication of the proposal is complete when B receives the letter.

(b) B accepts A's proposal by a letter sent by post.

The communication of the acceptance is complete,— as against A, when the letter is posted ;

as against B, when the letter is received by A.

(c) A revokes his proposal by telegram.

The revocation is complete as against A when the telegram is despatched. It is complete as against B when B receives it.

B revokes his acceptance by telegram. B's revocation is complete as against B when the telegram is despatched, and as against A when it reaches him.

Revocation of proposals and acceptances.

5. A proposal may be revoked at any time before the communication of its acceptance is complete as against the proposer, but not afterwards.

An acceptance may be revoked at any time before the communication of the acceptance is complete as against the acceptor, but not afterwards.

Illustrations.

A proposes, by a letter sent by post, to sell his house to B.

B accepts the proposal by a letter sent by post.

A may revoke his proposal at any time before or at the moment when B posts his letter of acceptance, but not afterwards.

B may revoke his acceptance at any time before or at the moment when the letter communicating it reaches A, but not afterwards.

Revocation how made.

6. A proposal is revoked—

(1) by the communication of notice of revocation by the proposer to the other party ;

(2) by the lapse of the time prescribed in such proposal for its acceptance, or, if no time is so prescribed, by the lapse of a reasonable time, without communication of the acceptance ;

(3) by the failure of the acceptor to fulfil a condition precedent to acceptance ; or

(4) by the death or insanity of the proposer, if the fact of his death or insanity comes to the knowledge of the acceptor before acceptance.

Acceptance must be absolute.

7. In order to convert a proposal into a promise, the acceptance must—

Sec. 5.—Where there is no unqualified acceptance before revocation which does not reach the person owing to his own misrepresentation about his address, the offeror must be deemed to have validly revoked his proposal. 51 I. C. 860.

Secs. 7-9.—To convert a proposal into a promise the acceptance must be unqualified and without condition. A.I.R. 1922 P. 24. When once a proposal is practically refused it does not hold good and no acceptance after the refusal could convert the proposal into a promise so as to create a contract. 1922 P. 24. The acceptance of a proposal must be unqualified and proposer cannot impose on the party to whom it is addressed the obligation to refuse it under the penalty of imputed assent or attach to his silence the legal result that he must be deemed to have accepted it. 54 I. C. 437=18 A. L. J. 73. See also 37 I. C. 792=5 L. W. 149=(1917) M.W.N. 91; 18 A. L. J. 73; 24

(1) be absolute and unqualified ;
 (2) be expressed in some usual and reasonable manner, unless the proposal prescribes the manner in which it is to be accepted. If the proposal prescribes a manner in which it is to be accepted, and the acceptance is not made in such manner, the proposer may, within a reasonable time after the acceptance is communicated to him, insist that his proposal shall be accepted in the prescribed manner, and not otherwise ; but if he fails to do so, he accepts the acceptance.

Acceptance by performing conditions, or receiving consideration.

8. Performance of the conditions of a proposal, or the acceptance of any consideration for a reciprocal promise which may be offered with a proposal, is an acceptance of the proposal.

9. In so far as the proposal or acceptance of any promise is made in words, the promise is said to be express. In so far as such proposal or acceptance is made otherwise than in words, the promise is said to be implied.

Promises, express and implied.

OF CONTRACTS, VOIDABLE CONTRACTS AND VOID AGREEMENTS.

10. All agreements are contracts¹ if they are made by the free consent of parties competent to contract, for a lawful consideration² and with a lawful object, and are not hereby expressly declared to be void.

What agreements are contracts.

Bom. 510. Acceptance of a proposal may be made without express communication, by conduct of the acceptor. 54 I. C. 437=18 A. L. J. 73. See also 92 P.R. 1913=22 Ind. Cas. 811 ; 49 All. 674=100 I. C. 1023=25 A. L. J. 372=A. I. R. 1927 All. 407 (English and Indian law compared and discussed). (Ibid.) A written offer to take goods accompanied by a sum of money representing the price is acceptance, if the purchaser credits the money received to his account. 54 I. C. 437=18 A. L. J. 73. Acceptance of an offer with a variation is no acceptance at all ; it is simply a counter-proposal which should be accepted by the original promisor before a contract can be made and such an acceptance need not be in writing. 92 P. R. 1913=22 I. C. 811. See also 1922 P. 24. Acceptance is not conditional, merely by an immaterial addition, or by the mere fact that some other terms are discussed in subsequent letters. 5 Bom. L. R. 9=36 Bom. 110. A qualified acceptance of a proposal is but a counter-proposal, omission to reply to which would not be an acceptance of it. 5 L. W. 149=37 I. C. 792=(1917) M. W. N. 91. See also 18 A. L. J. 73 ; 45 Bom. 8=57 I. C. 971=22 Bom. L. R. 872.

Secs. 7 and 8.—A contract is concluded as soon as all the essential terms are settled though the formal documents have yet to be executed., 54 I. C. 550=37 M. L. J. 712 ; 21 M. L. J. 182. Mistake of telegraph officials in transmitting terms of proposal will prevent the proposal from maturing into a contract. (1910) M. W. N. 513. If a contract has to be made out from the correspondence between the parties, the whole of the correspondence is to be seen in order to determine whether there was a completed contract. 54 I. C. 550=37 M. L. J. 712. [(1916) 2 Ch. 187, Ref ; (1879) L. R. 4 A. C. 311, Dist.]. When the proposal and acceptance are made by means of letters the contract must be deemed to have been made at the place where the letter of acceptance is posted. 73 I. C. 205=1923 Lah. 427. See also 39 Mad. 509 (P. C.).

Sec. 8.—Prospectus of Company in case of insurance policy, railway receipts, etc., are deemed part of the contract. 25 Mad. 183 ; 21 Mad. 172. Acceptance may be implied from conduct. 49 All. 674=A. I. R. 1927 All. 407.

AUCTION SALES.—In the absence of any restriction to the contrary in the conditions of sale, a person may bid as benamidar for another and the fact that the bidder did not disclose his character of benamidar does not entitle the principal to revoke the auction sale. 29 I. C. 12=28 M. L. J. 617. When an amin holding an auction sale accepts the highest bid on behalf of his principal subject to the principal's giving his assent to it, there is a valid and enforceable contract when that assent has been given. (Ibid.)

Sec. 9.—Implied contracts are as much binding as express contracts on the parties. 16 I. C. 609 ; 31 I. C. 783=29 M. L. J. 749 ; 49 All. 674=A. I. R. 1927 All. 407. CONSTRUCTION OF CONTRACT.—Each contract must be construed with reference to its own terms, and not by reference to any other contract. 19 C. W. N. 623. Evidence of what took place after the contract is not good evidence as to construction of contract. 36 Bom. 387 (P.C.). In case of conflict between printed portion of a contract and the written portion, the written portion prevails. 19 Bom. L.R. 845. But see 30 Bom. 1.

CONTRACT BY MINOR.—A minor is not estopped from pleading his minority at the time of a contract and the minor is not liable on the contract. 21 C. W. N. 257 = 19 Bom. L. R. 157 = 39 I. C. 401 = 43 I. Minority at the time of contract must be proved beyond reasonable doubt by the party pleading the same. 89 I. C. 108 = 1925 Oudh 487. A mortgage made by a minor is wholly void and the mortgagee is not entitled to enforce his security created under the mortgage. 162 P. R. 1919 = 54 I. C. 876. A promissory note executed by a person for whom a guardian of person has been appointed by the Court before he attained eighteen years is a void contract if it was executed by him before he attained twenty-one years. 57 I. C. 678 = 11 L. W. 596 (38 Mad. 1071, Foll.). Where a person under the Court of Wards borrows money, debt comes into existence though the person is not liable and a subsequent bond by his son for that debt is not merely ratification of a former void contract but is a fresh contract. 46 I. C. 974 = 142 P. W. R. 1918. A judgment-debtor to whom Sch. III, para. 11, C. P. Code, applies is a person disqualified within the meaning of S. 11 to the extent stated in the paragraph and any transaction entered with him in contravention thereof is a mere nullity incapable of subsequent ratification or of enforcement in equity. 42 I. C. 200 = 13 N.L.R. 130 (F.B.).

MINOR BENEFICIARY.—A person competent to contract may validly create a trust by purchasing property in the name of a minor. If a minor is not a contracting party himself but is the beneficiary under a sale, the transaction will be upheld. 18 I. C. 963 = 24 M.L.J. 352. When a contract by the minor is not a necessary condition for upholding the rights of the minor in the property, his rights should be maintained; when it is a necessary condition preliminary to the transaction or contractual obligations flow from the transaction, the transaction is void. 18 I. C. 963 = 24 M.L.J. 352.

MINOR COPARCENER.—Minor member of a joint Hindu family of whose person a guardian is appointed cannot contract. 57 I. C. 678 = 11 L. W. 596.

MINOR PARTNER.—A minor coparcener cannot sue as partner for dissolution of a partnership. 38 I. C. 111. A minor in India cannot become a partner in his own rights, as he is incapable of contracting under S. 11. 38 I. C. 111.

MINOR PROMISEE.—A contract of sale negotiated by a minor who settled the terms, paid consideration and got a sale-deed executed in his name is altogether void ab initio and no title passes thereby to the minor. 27 I. C. 733 = 13 A. L. J. 185; 10 I. C. 906. See also 32 I. C. 636. There is a fundamental difference between a contract of sale and a completed conveyance. 27 I. C. 733 = 13 A. L. J. 185; 10 I. - 12. A person is said to be of sound mind for the purpose of making a contract if, at the time when he makes it, he is capable of understanding it and of forming a rational judgment as to its effect upon his interests.

What is a sound mind for the purposes of contracting.

A person who is usually of unsound mind, but occasionally of sound mind, may make a contract when he is of sound mind.

A person who is usually of sound mind, but occasionally of unsound mind, may not make a contract when he is of unsound mind.

Illustrations.

(a) A patient in a lunatic asylum, who is at intervals of sound mind, may contract during those intervals.

(b) A same man, who is delirious from fever or who is so drunk that he cannot understand the terms of a contract or form a rational judgment as to its effect on his interests, cannot contract whilst such delirium or drunkenness lasts.

MUTUALITY.—It is not within the competence of the guardian of a minor or the manager of his estate, to bind the minor or his estate by a contract for the purchase of immoveable property. If the guardian or manager of the minor's estate enters into such a contract for the minor, there is no mutuality in the contract as the minor is not bound by it; and the minor cannot, on attaining majority, obtain specific performance of the contract. 39 Cal. 232=39 I. ESTOPPEL.—A deed executed by a minor is a nullity and incapable of founding a plea of estoppel. 47 C. L. J. 628=A. I. R. 1928 P. C. 152 (P. C.).

RATIFICATION.—A contract by a minor is void and cannot be ratified by him after attaining majority. 46 I. C. 765; 53 I. C. 123; 8 Lah. L. J. 539=99 I. C. 318=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 24. Consent is said to be so caused when it would not have been given but for the existence of such coercion, undue influence, fraud, misrepresentation or mistake.

15. "Coercion" is the committing, or threatening to commit, any act forbidden by the Indian Penal Code, or the unlawful detaining, or threatening to detain, any property to the prejudice of any person whatever, with the intention of causing any person to enter into an agreement.

Explanation.—It is immaterial whether the Indian Penal Code is or is not in force in the place where the coercion is employed.

Illustrations.

A, on board an English ship on the high seas, causes B to enter into an agreement by an act amounting to criminal intimidation under the Indian Penal Code.

A afterwards sues B for breach of contract at Calcutta.

A has employed coercion, although his act is not an offence by the law of England, and although S. 506 of the Indian Penal Code was not in force at the time when or place where the act was done.

16. (1) A contract is said to be induced by "undue influence" where the relations subsisting between the parties are such that one of the parties is in a position to dominate the will of the other and uses that position to obtain an unfair advantage over the other.

"Undue influence" defined.

In dealing with a case of 'coercion' as invalidating a contract, the court should decide whether the alleged act of coercion amounts to an offence under the I. P. C. 34 I. C. 578 = 3 L. W. 490. A threat to commit suicide to induce a document to be executed by a person is a threat to commit an act forbidden by the Indian Penal Code and amounts to 'coercion' and the document executed in pursuance of that threat is invalid and inoperative though suicide itself is not punishable though its attempt is. 41 Mad. 33 = 32 M. L. J. 494 (F. B.). Per Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J. (Oldfield, J., dissenting).—The 'coercion' need not proceed from a party to the contract or be immediately directed against the party whom, it is intended to coerce, to enter into the contract or specifically prejudice him or his property. 3 L. W. 490 = 34 I. C. 578 = (1916) 1 M. W. N. 368. A threat even from a third person amounts to coercion. 16 I. C. 344 = 15 O. C. 192. The law of Duress of English Common Law is not applicable in India, as the law laid down in S. 15 is other than that contained in English Law texts. 16 I. C. 344 = 15 O. C. 192. In order to establish coercion, a person must prove (1) the utterance of threat, (2) of an act forbidden by law, (3) with the intention of compelling the plaintiff to make the agreement complained of. (Ibid.) (1927) M. W. N. 761. Mere threat of bringing a criminal charge does not amount to coercion as defined in the Act, as it is not per se forbidden by Penal Code. But the case is different when the threat is bringing false charge. (Ibid.) Coercion may consist in the unlawful detaining or threatening to detain property. 55 I. C. 741 = 12 Bur. L. T. 195; (1927) M. W. N. 761. Release deed executed by principal to agent under coercion is not valid. 39 M. L. T. 240 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 852 = 53 M. L. J. 606.

Sec. 16.—¹ This section was substituted for the original S. 16 by the Indian Contract Act Amendment Act (VI of 1899), S. 2. Section whether exhaustive. See 29 A. 303 (307); 32 B. 208 (211 & 212).

ESSENTIALS OF OFFENCE.—To establish a plea of undue influence it must be shown that plaintiff (mortgagee) was in a position to dominate the will of the defendants (mortgagors) and secondly that he used that position to obtain an unfair advantage. If the terms of the contract appear on the face of them to be unconscionable or are shown to be so, the second point may be presumed. 38 M. L. J. 349 = 18 A. L. J. 344 = 43 Mad. 546 = 47 I. A. 1 (P. C.); 48 A. 666 = 96 I. C. 684 = 24 A. L. J. 822 (3 Pat. 279 = 51 I. A. 101, foll.). In the category of cases of undue influence might be covered cases where the party to a transaction exercised that influence in conspiracy with or through the agency of others. 38 M. L. J. 349 (P. C.). To avoid contract for undue influence the promisee must have used his dominating position to obtain an unfair advantage. 24 I. C. 67 = 7 Bur. L. T. 90. See also 32 Bom. 37; 11 O. HARD TERMS.—[See also Notes under S. 74, infra.] Court's power to give relief from hard terms as to interest and compound interest when money-lender is not shown to have taken undue advantage of his position. 101 P. It is difficult for a Court of Justice to give relief on grounds of simple hardship in the absence of any evidence to show that the money-lender had unduly taken advantage of his position even when the transaction appeared to be undoubtedly improvident. (Ibid.) In a case of a mortgage bond the Court should not infer undue influence from the mere fact that the rate of interest stipulated for is heavy and there is a provision in the bond for capitalizing the interest in arrears. 47 I. C. 11; 10 I. C. 249; 54 I. C. 785; 54 I. C. 558. In the case of an agreement reduced to writing, a Court cannot, in the absence of fraud or undue influence, refuse to enforce its terms however unreasonable they may be. Under such circumstances, the Court has no discretion. 15 I. C. 377 = (1912) M. W. N. 416; see also 10 I. C. 249; 54 I. C. 985 (28 A. 570, Ref.) See now the Usurious Loans Act, 1918. The fact that the borrower failed to realise what the rate of compound interest would work out in a few years would not entitle him to relief from a court of justice on the ground of hardship. 54 I. C. 558. There is nothing inherently wrong or oppressive in an agreement to pay compound interest. 4 Lah. 76 = 72 I. C. 765 = 1924 Lah. 21; 1923 Lah. 634; 56 I. C. 74 = 2 Lah. L. J. 393; 130 P. L. Inequitable and unconscionable conditions such as one providing for oppressive rate of interest, should not be enforced against the mortgagor or his successor in title. 128 P. L. R. 1911 = 11 I. C. 519. See also 73 P. L. R. 1914 = 22 I. C. 528. Where a contract provides for a high rate of interest, courts cannot interfere to cut down the same unless there is satisfactory evidence of the exercise of undue influence. 22 I. C. 769 = 36 Mad. 533. Neither prior indebtedness nor a high rate of interest would by itself be sufficient to prove undue influence by the mortgagee on the mortgagor. 77 I. C. 383 = 1924 Oudh 118 (2). It is not a universal proposition of law that wherever there is a security for the debt a rate of interest over ten per cent. per annum is penal. 9 O. L. J. 612 = 74 I. But the court disallowed costs on the ground that the interest decreed was high. 69 I. C. 657 = 9 O. L. J. 442 = 1923 Oudh 8 (1). The rate of interest, however exorbitant, cannot be abrogated unless the agreement was tainted by undue influence, fraud or misrepresentation such as are mentioned in the Contract Act. 2 Pat. 488 = 4 Pat. L. T. 707 = 74 I. C. 695. See also 2 P. L. J. 212 = 39 I. C. 352; 2 O. W. N. 248 = 95 I. C. 1019 = 1926 Oudh 273. A high rate of interest cannot always be regarded objectionable as a penalty within S. 74. But when the contract provides a special condition for a change in the rate of mode of calculation of interest as a punishment for some default, that special condition is a penalty. 1 P. L. W. 300 = 39 I. C. 352 = 2 P. L. J. 212. But 2 per cent. compound interest was held unconscionable 1925 All. 31.

LONG INDEBTEDNESS.—The mere fact that one of the parties to a contract was antecedently indebted to the other is not by itself sufficient proof of undue influence. 68 I. C. 597 = 1922 Nag. 219. But see 11 I. C. 198 = 213 P. L. R. 1911; 48 P. L. R. 1914 = 22 I. C. 406 = 87 P. W. R. 1914; 20 I. C. 47 = 20 C. L. J. 424. See also 83 I. C. 1019 = 27 O. C. 374 = 1924 Oudh 423; 2 O. L. MENTAL DISTRESS.—It is not enough to prove undue influence that a vendor of property was in a distressed state of mind and anxious to dispose of his property at the time of sale. 72 I. C. 1032=1924 Lah. 337. As to mental distress, see also 22 All. 224 ; 28 Bom. 639 ; 10 All. 535 ; 11 Bom. 566 ; 13 Mad. 214.

OLD AGE.—Mere loss of vigour and infirmity on account of old age is not sufficient to invalidate a contract. 104 I. C. 527=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 889 ; nor that an old man did not make provision in his settlement for his wife's maintenance. 38 M. L. T. (H. C.) 1=25 L. W. 550=99 I. C. 571=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 255=52 M. L. J. 20.

UNCONSCIONABLE BARGAIN—BURDEN OF PROOF.—Where an ignorant, illiterate and a poor young man, on whom a right to the inheritance of his deceased relation had devolved and who is a fool, executes a sale-deed in favour of persons offering their help to recover the inheritance for him as volunteers and making the bargain with him which is entirely on their side, and wholly unconscionable, the conclusion is that the vendees were in a position to dominate the will of the vendor and exercised undue influence. 1 Luck. 144=13 O. L. J. 42=95 I. C. 995=3 O. W. N. 260. Once this is established, subsection (3) of this section will apply and the burden of proving that the contract was not induced by undue influence lies upon the person who was in a position to dominate the will of the other person (Ibid) 38 M. L. J. 349=18 A. L. J. 344=43 Mad. 546=47 I. A. 1 (P. C.) ; 104 I. C. 527=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 889 ; 100 I. C. 679=A. I. R. 1927 All. 315 ; A. I. R. 1927 All. 44 ; see also 11 O. C. 295. If such person does not discharge the onus, the sale must be set aside subject to payment of compensation to the vendee. 1 Luck. 144=13 O. L. J. 42=1927 Oudh 92 ; 35 M. L. J. 614=23 C. W. N. 233=124 P. R. 1918=48 I. C. 1=21 Bom. L. R. 558 (P. C.). See also 65 I. C. 380=8 O. L. J. 681 (43 Mad. 546 ; 18 Cal. 545, Ref.) ; 83 I. C. 239=1925 Nag. 211 ; 90 I. C. 463=29 C. W. N. 1029 ; A. I. R. 1927 All. 44. Question of undue influence depends on circumstances. 85 I. C. 169=1925 Lah. 196. When the contract is prima facie unconscionable, the party seeking to enforce it must prove that the contract was not induced by undue influence. 2 Pat. L. J. 663=41 I. C. 337=1917 Pat. 342 ; 1 Pat. L. J. 604=38 I. C. 235=2 Pat. L. W. 415. The Courts have ample power under the amended Contract Act to go behind hard and unconscionable bargains on the ground that where there is ample security, the exaction of excessive and usurious interests in itself raises a presumption of undue influence which it requires very little evidence to substantiate. Where there is no security, no rate of interest can be considered excessive. 42 Cal. 690=19 C. W. N. 809. See also 45 I. C. 778=8 A. L. J. 407. There can be no standard rate on personal loans. (Ibid) Where the parties are reasonably on terms of equality, a judge cannot do better than adopt what they themselves have agreed upon. (Ibid) The Dicta of English Judges under the English Money Lenders Act can safely be accepted in India since the Indians lean more in favour of the debtors. (Ibid.) Extortionate and inequitable agreement not enforceable. 56 I. C. 272=1 Lah. 124. Compound interest at 24 per cent. with half-yearly rests enforced in absence of undue influence. 50 Mad. 614=25 L. W. 699=38 M. L. T. (H. C.) 323=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 620=52 M. L. J. 612. The actual value of the land in dispute at the time of agreement, determines if it is extortionate and inequitable. 56 I. C. 272=1 Lah. 124. A Court of Justice is not a blind and humble instrument of the creditor to plunder the debtor. 25 I. C. 719=149 P. L. R. 1914. A creditor who got securities at a very high rate of interest (30 per cent.) from an expectant heir, who was a very inefficient clerk in a Court, is guilty of undue influence. (Ibid.) Champertous bargains not having been held in the country contrary to public policy stand on the same footing as any other contract. 65 I. C. 129=24 O. C. 313. Apart from the Usurious Loans Act, the mere fact that a bargain is unconscionable in the sense that the rate of interest charged is excessive, is not in itself a sufficient ground for interference. 48 I. C. 17=5 O. L. J. 579 ; 22 I. C. 132=16 O. C. 267.

URGENCY AND INADEQUACY OF CONSIDERATION.—Urgent need of money on the part of the borrower does not of itself place the lender in a position to dominate his will within S. 16. 29 C. L. J. 488=49 I. C. 794=23 C. W. N. 609 ; 29 O. C. 253=96 I. C. 413=1926 Oudh 408. See also 26 M. L. J. 315=1 L. W. 276 ; 1922 Oudh 268 ; 42 Cal. 652=21 C. L. J. 79 ; 18 I. C. 965=17 C. L. J. 221. The mere fact of the existence of an urgent necessity on the part of the borrower is not sufficient to raise the presumption that undue influence was exercised. Nor does the existence of urgent need accompanied by a high rate of interest establish such a presumption. In ordinary circumstances, the more pressing the necessity, the higher the rate of interest is likely to be, for the borrowers have no time to make such inquiries as will ensure that they are borrowing at the cheapest rate obtainable. 66 I. C. 687=8 O. L. J. 418 (34 C. 150 ; 8 O. C. 193, Rel.) ; 9 O. L. J. 439=69 I. C. 667 ; 48 I. C. 32=5 O. L. J. 572 ; 26 I. C. 26=1 O. L. J. 518 ; 69 I. C. 697=1 P. 263. Where the creditors are in a position to take advantage of the embarrassment of their debtors the bargain is unconscionable. 42 Cal. 652=21 C. L. J. 79. The mere fact that one party is in a position to dominate the will of another is not enough to avoid a contract between them in the absence of proof that the transaction is also unconscionable. 18 I. C. 965=17 C. L. J. 221. A transaction may be unconscionable in many ways and a Court should see in each case whether according to its sense of justice it is really so. (Ibid.) Excess of interest and charges may, if unexplained, of itself be evidence of a harsh and unconscionable bargain. (Ibid.) Inadequate consideration may lead to inference of fraud or undue influence. 96 I. C. 468=1926 Pat. 539. But the inadequacy of consideration must be apparent and must not be left to be spelled out by dexterous arguments as to value. 96 I. C. 468=1926 Patna 539. The mere fact that properties had to be parted for

(b) where he makes a contract with a person whose mental capacity is temporarily or permanently affected by reason of age, illness, or mental or bodily distress.

(3) Where a person who is in a position to dominate the will of another, enters into a contract with him, and the transaction appears, on the face of it or on the evidence adduced, to be unconscionable, the burden of proving that such contract was an unduly low price owing to pressure of necessity will not indicate undue influence. 26 M.L.J. 315=23 I. C. 72=1 L. W. 276. Where the bargain is fair and reasonable the plea of undue influence collapses. 24 I. C. 67=7 Bur. L.T. 90.

PARDANASHIN WOMAN AND YOUNG PERSONS.—Where a deed of gift by a pardanashin lady is impeached on the ground of undue influence, the questions that arise are (1) was the transaction a righteous transaction? (2) was it an improvident act? (3) was it a matter requiring advice? (4) did the intention of making the act originate with the donor? 65 I. C. 380=8 O. L. J. 681. If a family settlement or the award of panchayat is impeached by a pardanashin lady on the ground that her consent was obtained by fraud, practised by her kinsmen, whose interests conflicted with hers and who, therefore, misled her and the woman is shown to be illiterate and lacking in business capacity, the Court has to consider not whether she knew what she was doing, had done or proposed to do, but how her intention to act was produced. Fraud cannot be condoned unless there is full knowledge of the facts and the rights arising therefrom and the parties are at arm's length. 35 M. L. J. 362=20 C. W. N. 957=34 I. C. 37=14 A. L. J. 1236 (P. C.). See also 35 I. C. 395; 23 I. C. 401=18 C. W. N. 133. The donee a priest, worked on the religious feelings of a lady when she was in mental distress and illness. The lady was not rich but made a substantial gift to the priest. Held, the transaction should be set aside. 39 Cal. 933=16 C. W. N. 649. When a deed is executed by a pardanashin lady or a boy of tender years, mere reading over is not sufficient. The language should be thoroughly explained especially when it is vague and ambiguous. 38 I. C. 454=3 O. L. J. 746; 10 O. L. J. 86=74 I. C. 547. See also 29 Cal. 749 (P. C.); 24 Cal. 664; 31 Bom. 165; 13 I. A. 215; 39 I. A. 156; 18 I. A. 545; 3 Cal. 324; 28 Cal. 546; 16 Bom. L. R. 147 (P. C.); 36 All. 81; 4 Bom. L. R. 146; 7 Cal. 245; 5 Bom. 450; 11 Bom. 636; 33 Cal. 773. The principles of law applicable to a pardanashin woman will not be extended to a person said to be old and not in robust health. 10 O. L. J. 86=74 I. C. 517=1923 Oudh 254. A knowledge of letters and of figures and a capacity of dealing at first hand to some extent with her tenants will not convert a pardanashin lady into a woman of the world so as to rebut the presumption. The burden of proving bona fides of the transaction lies on the party affirming it. 35 I. C. 395.

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.—Even in a case where an agent was the object of the bounty of his principal there is nothing to prevent this and if an agent can clearly show that a gift was made in his favour by a donor who was in a position to exercise a free and unfettered judgment with full knowledge of what he was doing, the gift will be upheld. 10 O. L. J. 86=74 I. C. 517. See also 1923 Lah. 634; 20 I. C. 812=195 P. W.

POSITION OF PARTIES.—The fact that one party to a contract stands in the relation of a debtor to the other is not by itself sufficient to prove undue influence. 68 I. C. 597=1922 Nag. 219; 42 All. 230=18 A. L. J. 100; 102 I. C. 707=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 536. A creditor can ask his debtor to execute documents in a particular form and where a creditor writes to his debtor's servant to get his master's signature to such a form, no inference that undue influence was used can arise. 42 All. 230=18 A. L. J. 100. A Karinda who is a servant of very minor status cannot be presumed without very distinct evidence to be in a position to dominate the will of his employer. 48 I. C. 17=5 O. L. J. 579. When a Buddhist lady made a gift to her nephew who was also acting as her agent, held, that the relationship was not such a fiduciary one as would lead the Court to infer undue influence. 46 I. C. 738. Undue influence might proceed from a third person. 23 I. C. 401=18 C. W. N. 1133. There is no presumption of undue influence in India as well as in England in the case of a gift to a son, grandson or son-in-law during the donor's last illness. 26 I. C. 39=8 Bur. L. T. 75; 68 I. C. 372=4 Pat. L. T. 17 (33 C. 733, Foll.). As to presumption in cases of dealing with pardanashin woman, see 39 I. A. 156; 29 Cal. 749; 13 I. A. 215; 31 Bom. 165; 36 All. 81; 18 I. A. 545; 33 Cal. 773; 23 All. 137.

PLEADINGS—WHO CAN PLEAD UNDUE INFLUENCE.—A man of mature age and of some intelligence and activity managing his affairs previous to a transaction, cannot resort to the plea of undue influence. 42 All. 422=24 C. W. N. 529=47 I. A. 116 (P. C.). See also 26 I. C. 67=7 Bur. L. T. 90 (petition writer). A speculator who purchases the equity of redemption on the chance of getting redemption on easy terms cannot be allowed to set up the plea, as his vendor might have done, that the bargain was brought about by the exercise of undue influence. 305 P. L. R. 1913=20 I. C. 812. See also 1923 Lah. 634. Nor contest by aggrieved party disentitles other defendants to any relief. 84 I. C. 124=1925 Cal. 94.

PROOF.—A deed cannot be treated as void for undue influence merely because it is unreasonable or its terms are prejudicial to the donor. 44 I. C. 483=7 L. W. 339; 1 Luck. 144=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 92; 102 I. C. 707=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 536; A. I. R. 1927 All. 44. Undue influence is not a matter always capable of direct proof, and must depend in its very nature on the circumstances in which the transaction had its origin. 44 I. C. 483=7 L. W. 339. To establish undue influence it must appear that there was something unconscionable either in the original dealing or in the subsequent stages of the transaction. 52 I. C. 335.

not induced by undue influence shall lie upon the person in a position to dominate the will of the other.

Nothing in this sub-section shall affect the provisions of section 111 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872.

(a) A having advanced money to his son, B, during his minority, upon B's coming of age obtains, by misuse of parental influence, a bond from B for a greater amount than the sum due in respect of the advance. A employs undue influence.

(b) A, a man enfeebled by disease or age, is induced, by B's influence over him as his medical attendant, to agree to pay B an unreasonable sum for his professional services. B employs undue influence.

(c) A, being in debt to B, the money-lender of his village, contracts a fresh loan on terms which appear to be unconscionable. It lies on B to prove that the contract was not induced by undue influence.

(d) A applies to a banker for a loan at a time when there is stringency in the money market. The banker declines to make the loan except at an unusually high rate of interest. A accepts the loan on these terms. This is a transaction in the ordinary course of business, and the contract is not induced by undue influence.

17. "Fraud" means and includes any of the following acts committed by a party to a contract, or with his connivance, or by his agent,¹

"Fraud" defined. with intent to deceive another party thereto or his agent, or to induce him to enter into the contract :—

(1) the suggestion, as to a fact, of that which is not true by one who does not believe it to be true ;

(2) the active concealment of a fact by one having knowledge or belief of the fact ;

(3) a promise made without any intention of performing it ;

(4) any other act fitted to deceive.

(5) any such act or omission as the law specially declares to be fraudulent.

Explanation.—Mere silence as to facts likely to affect the willingness of a person to enter into a contract is not fraud, unless the circumstances of the case are such that, regard being had to them, it is the duty of the person keeping silence to speak,² or unless his silence is in itself, equivalent to speech.

Sec. 17.—¹ Compare S. 238, infra.

To prove a case of fraud, it must be proved that representations were made which were false to the knowledge of the party making them. 45 A. 624 = 21 A. L. J. 571 = 1924 A. 17. If a contract is obtained by fraud or cheating, it is voidable at the instance of the person defrauded or cheated. But where a performance has been obtained by fraud or cheating, the contract cannot be avoided. 23 Bom. L. R. 1144 = 46 Bom. 489. In order to avoid a contract fraud must be in the making of the contract and not in its performance. 15 Bom. L. R. 92 = 37 Bom. 158 ; and the fraud must be committed by party to contract or his agent or with his connivance. 28 Bom. 639. A party cannot set up his own fraud to avoid the contract. 15 W. R. 273 ; 31 Bom. 495. A plea of fraud is not sustainable where there is no misleading on any question of fact or law. 20 I. C. 47 = 20 C. L. J. 424 ; 31 P. R. 1918 = 45 I. C. 101. Fraud in contract of service—Concealment of contract forbidding service elsewhere. 66 I. C. 441.

Where a person orders and obtains possession of goods with the deliberate intention of not paying for them, he commits fraud. He must then be considered to be the agent of the vendor and his possession as that of the vendor. If vendee tries to dispose of the goods before payment by transfer of the invoices to a third party's name, the third party gets no title to the goods. 14 P. L. R. 1917

= 39 I. C. 169. Seller selling property already sold by him to a third person is fraud, and the buyer can recover back the price, in spite of agreement that seller could not be responsible for defect of title. 25 A. L. J. 708 = 103 I. C. 310 = A. I. R. 1927 All. 693. Such conduct on the part of seller would amount to active concealment of a material fact. (Ibid.) Mere failure to fulfil a promise is not fraud unless from the outset the promisee did not intend to fulfil it. 42 I. C. 113 (L. B.). The making of promises without the intention of keeping them is fraud under the section, though under the English rule such a thing is not fraud. 33 I. C. 396 = 18 Bom. L. R. 134. A plaintiff who relies upon fraud must both plead and prove it, and must give the particulars of the alleged fraud and can succeed upon proof of the fraud as alleged and not of any other kind of fraud. 10 I. C. 922 = 4 Bur. L. T. 18. That a party misreads a document (the acceptance memo.) and believed it to be something different from what it was, would not vitiate the contract. 1923 Sind 25. A Court should not declare a decree a nullity on the ground of fraud unless it can define in clear terms the fraudulent acts by which the decree was obtained. But it will not take fraud in the narrow sense of S. 17. 25 I. C. 789 = 8 S. L. R. 3. On this section. see also 1925 Cal. 555.

Illustrations.

(a) A sells, by auction, to B, a horse which A knows to be unsound. A says nothing to B about the horse's unsoundness. This is not fraud in A.

(b) B is A's daughter and has just come of age. Here, the relation between the parties would make it A's duty to tell B if the horse is unsound.

(c) B says to A—"If you do not deny it, I shall assume that the horse is sound." A says nothing. Here, A's silence is equivalent to speech.

(d) A and B, being traders, enter upon a contract. A has private information of a change in prices which would affect B's willingness to proceed with the contract. A is not bound to inform B.

"Misrepresentation" defined.

18. "Misrepresentation" means and includes—

(1) the positive assertion, in a manner not warranted by the information of the person making it, of that which is not true, though he believes it to be true ;

(2) any breach of duty which, without an intent to deceive, gains an advantage to the person committing it, or any one claiming under him, by misleading another to his prejudice or to the prejudice of any one claiming under him ;

(3) causing, however innocently, a party to an agreement to make a mistake as to the substance of the thing which is the subject of the agreement.

19. When consent to an agreement is caused by coercion, [* * * * *],¹ fraud or misrepresentation, the agreement is a contract voidable at the option of the party whose consent was so caused.

Voidability of agreements without free consent.

Sec. 18.—As to what amounts to misrepresentation, see 4 C. W. N. 369 = 29 Bom. L. R. 1535. Fraud and misrepresentation distinguished. See 3 Bom. 242. Misrepresentation as to part may make the whole contract voidable. 17 Cal. 296 (P.C.). Silence will in equity, in some cases, be equivalent to misrepresentation. 24 I. C. 193 = 42 Cal. 28 (40 Eng. Rep. 108, Rel. on). Failure to make such inquiries as an ordinary prudent man would make, may under certain circumstances be evidence that the person to whom misrepresentation was made was not actually deceived. 71 I. C. 161 = 16 S. L. R. 112 = 1923 Sind 5 (F. B.).

Sec. 18 (2).—There is no misrepresentation, if there are means of discovering truth with ordinary diligence. 112 P. L. R. 1916 = 36 I. C. 34 ; 46 I. C. 21 = 42 P. R. 1918 ; 38 I. C. 500. As to misrepresentation by agent, see 6 Bom. 309 ; 14 Bom. 241. Document signed by blind man—Contents of document misrepresented—Rights of bona fide purchaser for value. See 1925 Pat. 140.

Sec. 19.—¹ The words "undue influence" were repealed by the Indian Contract Act (Amendment Act) (VI of 1899), S. 3.

The right to avoid a transfer or a conveyance executed under undue influence or fraud is not a mere personal right but can be exercised by the heirs or legal representatives of the person unduly influenced or defrauded unless the person has indicated his election to stand by the transaction. 43 Bom. 173 = 20 Bom. L. R. 911. Though 'undue influence' and 'fraud' are separately dealt with in Contract Act, 'undue influence' is a kind of 'fraud' in equity and invites the same relief as fraud. 33 I. C. 576 = 18 Bom. L. R. 27. A misrepresentation should in fact materially induce the contract in order to give a right of avoidance. 55 I. C. 817 = 31 C. L. J. 158 ; 29 Bom. L. R. 1535. If a transaction which is voidable is admitted by the person who is entitled to avoid it, it cannot be questioned by a third party. 34 I. C. 956 = 23 C. L. J. 122. See also 43 Bom. 173 ; 36 Bom. 37 ; 28 Bom. 639. The section does not apply where the object of the agreement was illegal to the knowledge of both parties at the time it was made and both parties are in pari delicto. 9 I. C. 161 = 15 C. W. N. 408. A person is not liable on an acknowledgment, where the money has been paid and his signature to the acknowledgment had been obtained by intimidation. 59 I. C. 781 = 24 P. W. R. 1921. A contract voidable on the ground of fraud or misrepresentation can be ratified by the person at whose option it is voidable. 46 I. C. 21 = 42 P. R. 1918 ; 38 I. C. 500 = 43 P. W. Secs. 19 and 19-A. RIGHT OF SUIT.—A right to have a contract set aside on the ground of fraud or undue influence does not cease on the death of the contracting party who was deceived, but passes on to his representatives. 51 Bom. 133 = 29 Bom. L. R. 115 = 100 I. C. 932 = A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 384.

Secs. 19 and 23.—The Civil Court is not prevented from enforcing a contract inter partes, which is in itself in no way illegal or fraudulent qua those parties merely because a third person may have a right to refuse to give effect to that contract. 48 P. A finding on the question whether a misrepresentation induced the consent of the party who relied on it is one of the fact and the High Court will not interfere with it in second appeal, though the finding may not be quite satisfactory. (Ibid.) Where one of the parties to a contract says : "I am well known to the National Bank in your city." It is not a statement of fact but only his own opinion, as to the state of his credit though it may be false. Such a statement

A party to a contract, whose consent was caused by fraud or misrepresentation, may, if he thinks fit, insist that the contract shall be performed, and that he shall be put in the position in which he would have been if the representations made had been true.

Exception.—If such consent was caused by misrepresentation or by silence, fraudulent within the meaning of section 17, the contract, nevertheless, is not voidable, if the party whose consent was so caused had the means of discovering the truth with ordinary diligence.

Explanation.—A fraud or misrepresentation which did not cause the consent to a contract of the party on whom such fraud was practised, or to whom such misrepresentation was made, does not render a contract voidable.

(a) A, intending to deceive B, falsely represents that five hundred maunds of indigo are made annually at A's factory, and thereby induces B to buy the factory. The contract is voidable at the option of B.

(b) A, by a misrepresentation, leads B erroneously to believe that five hundred maunds of indigo are made annually at A's factory. B examines the accounts of the factory, which shows that only four hundred maunds of indigo have been made. After this B buys the factory. The contract is not voidable on account of A's misrepresentation.

(c) A fraudulently informs B that A's estate is free from incumbrance. B thereupon buys the estate. The estate is subject to a mortgage. B may either avoid the contract, or may insist on its being carried out and the mortgage-debt redeemed.

(d) B, having discovered a vein of ore on the estate of A, adopts means to conceal, and does conceal, the existence of the ore from A. Through A's ignorance B is enabled to buy the estate at an under-value. The contract is voidable at the option of A.

(e) A is entitled to succeed to an estate at the death of B; B dies. C, having received intelligence of B's death, prevents the intelligence reaching A, and thus induces A to sell him his interest in the estate. The sale is voidable at the option of A.

(b) A, a money-lender, advances Rs. 100 to B, an agriculturist, and, by undue influence, induces B to execute a bond for Rs. 200 with interest at 6 per cent. per month. The Court may set the bond aside, ordering B to repay the Rs. 100 with such interest as may seem just.]

Explanation 1.—Nothing in this section shall affect the validity, as between the donor and donee, of any gift actually made.

Explanation 2.—An agreement to which the consent of the promisor is freely given is not void merely because the consideration is inadequate ; but the inadequacy of the consideration may be taken into account by the Court in determining the question whether the consent of the promisor was freely given.

- (a) A promises, for no consideration, to give to B Rs. 1,000. This is a void agreement.
- (b) A, for natural love and affection, promises to give his son, B, Rs. 1,000. A puts his promise to B into writing and registers it. This is a contract.
- (c) A finds B's purse and gives it to him. B promises to give A Rs. 50. This is a contract.
- (d) A supports B's infant son. B promises to pay A's expenses in so doing. This is a contract.
- (e) A owes B Rs. 1,000, but the debt is barred by the Limitation Act. A signs a written promise to pay B Rs. 500 on account of the debt. This is a contract.
- (f) A agrees to sell a horse worth Rs. 1,000 for Rs. 10. A's consent to the agreement was freely given. The agreement is a contract notwithstanding the inadequacy of the consideration
- (g) A agrees to sell a horse worth Rs. 1,000 for Rs. 10. A denies that his consent to the agreement was freely given.

The inadequacy of the consideration is a fact which the Court should take into account in considering whether or not A's consent was freely given.

(c) A, who is a dealer in cocoanut-oil only, agrees to sell to B "one hundred tons of oil." The nature of A's trade affords an indication of the meaning of the words, and A has entered into a contract for the sale of one hundred tons of cocoanut-oil.

CHAPTER IV.

OF THE PERFORMANCE OF CONTRACTS.

Contracts which must be performed.

37. The parties to a contract must either perform, or offer to perform, their respective promises, unless such performance is dispensed with or excused under the provisions of this Act, or of any other law.

Promises bind the representatives of the promisors in case of the death of such promisors before performance, unless a contrary intention appears from the contract.

Illustrations.

(a) A promises to deliver goods to B on a certain day on payment of Rs. 1,000. A dies before that day. A's representatives are bound to deliver the goods to B, and B is bound to pay the Rs. 1,000 to A's representatives.

(b) A promises to paint a picture for B by a certain day at a certain price. A dies before the day. The contract cannot be enforced either by A's representatives or by B.

38. Where a promisor has made an offer of performance to the promisee, and the offer has not been accepted, the promisor is not responsible for non-performance, nor does he thereby lose his rights under the contract.

Effect of refusal to accept offer of performance.

Sec. 37.—Where there is a contract to deliver goods in instalments spread over a number of months, the sellers cannot postpone the delivery of the whole until the last month as the buyers have the right to demand delivery in instalments. 43 Cal. 305=23 C. L. J. 62=20 C. W. N. 240. If person reaps the benefit of a contract without being party to it he must pay the money due under it. The doctrine that no stranger can enforce a contract though made for his benefit does not universally apply in India. 41 Mad. 488=34 M. L. J. 193=43 I. C. 625. A tender of performance must satisfy all the requirements of the contract. 45 I. C. 497=11 Bur. L. T. 9. Vendor is not bound to see that purchaser takes delivery within time. Where it is necessary for vendee to take samples before delivery, the vendor is bound to deliver goods some time before the specified date so as to give him time to satisfy himself. 32 I. C. 720=9 S. Where a bond recited that if three instalments fall in arrears the whole principal becomes payable, a tender by the debtor of principal only without interest on over due instalments when the latter is stipulated expressly in the bond, is not a proper tender and interest on overdue instalments is recoverable. 31 I. A mere offer by postal letter is not a legal tender. 26 I. C. 121=27 M. L. J. 482. The mere expression by a registered posted letter of a willingness to execute a release deed without having a document ready to be delivered is not valid tender. 38 Mad. 959=26 M. L. J. 331=23 I. Tender of money locked up in a box or of goods enclosed in a case, which the other party is not allowed to open is not sufficient tender, and the tender as a plea in an action is incomplete unless accompanied by a tender in Court. Ibid. Contract of sale with condition of re-purchase—Actual production of cash only is strict compliance, but conduct of vendee may dispense with strict compliance. 2 O. Every such offer must fulfil the following conditions :—

(1) it must be unconditional ;
 (2) It must be made at a proper time and place, and under such circumstances that the person to whom it is made may have a reasonable opportunity of ascertaining that the person by whom it is made is able and willing there and then to do the whole of what he is bound by his promise to do ;

(3) if the offer is an offer to deliver anything to the promisee, the promisee must have a reasonable opportunity of seeing that the thing offered is the thing which the promisor is bound by his promise to deliver.

An offer to one of several joint promisees has the same legal consequences as an offer to all of them.

Illustration.

A contracts to deliver to B at his warehouse, on the 1st March, 1873, 100 bales of cotton of a particular quality. In order to make an offer of a performance with the effect stated in this section, A must bring the cotton to B's warehouse, on the appointed day, under such circumstances that B may have a reasonable opportunity of satisfying himself that the thing offered is cotton of the quality contracted for, and that there are 100 bales.

39. When a party to a contract has refused to perform, or disabled himself from performing, his promise in its entirety, the promisee may put an end to the contract, unless he has signified, by words or conduct, his acquiescence in its continuance.

Effect of refusal of party to perform promise wholly.

Sec. see also 48 M. L. J. 522 = 90 I. C. 206 = 1925 Mad. 888. The section seems to treat each joint promisee as a partner or agent of the other joint promisee to accept tender and payment. The section does not deal with the legal consequences of an accepted tender. Ibid. A valid tender must be an unconditional offer to pay a specific and ascertained sum. An offer to pay the amount found due on a settlement of accounts if the payee undertook to execute an indemnity bond, is not valid tender. 12 I. C. 502 = 34 Mad. 320 ; 35 Mad. 685 = 21 M. L. By whom Contracts must be performed.

40. If it appears from the nature of the case that it was the intention of the parties to any contract that any promise contained in it should be performed by the promisor himself, such promise must be performed by the promisor. In other cases, the promisor or his representatives may employ a competent person to perform it.

Effect of accepting performance from third person.

APPLICABILITY OF SECTION.—Section applies to all joint promisors (as) partners, co-heirs, etc. 10 Bom. 32; See also 17 Bom. 6; 17 Bom. 29; 21 Bom. 12; as also joint family members carrying on partnership business. 6 Cal. 815; 7 Bom. 217; 18 Mad. 33; 18 Cal. 86; 33 All. 382 (P. C.). It is doubtful whether S. 45 applies to a claim for possession of land. Where, however, the suit is really for specific performance of a contract, the defendant may plead, S. 45 as a bar. 57 P. R. 1911=12 I. C. 850.

EFFECT OF SECTION is to extend English law as to trading partnership to all partnership cases 9 All. 480.

SPECIAL CASES—CO-HEIRS.—One debt creates a single and indivisible liability which gives rise to one single cause of action. One of several heirs of a deceased obligee cannot sue for his share in the money due under the bond. 33 All. 327=9 I. C. 127 (7 A. 313 F.) Payment to one of the co-heirs of a promisee under a bond would not discharge the promisor from his liability. So also are payments made to a junior member of a Hindu family during the lifetime of its manager in whose favour bond was executed. 41 Mad. 637=34 M. L. J. 315=45 I. C. 419; 29 I. C. 586; see also 30 I. C. 371.

CO-MORTGAGEES.—Where property is mortgaged to two persons as tenants in common and there is no covenant to repay each separately a moiety of the amount, the right of either mortgagor, who desires to realize failing the consent of his co-mortgagee, is to sue making co-mortgagee a defendant. 46 I. A. 272=37 M. L. J. 483=24 C. W. N. 297 (P. C.). See also 31 C. W. N. 374. As to whether one of several joint promisees can sue for his share of the debt only see A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 84; 105 I. C. 544 (suit by one broker for his share of brokerage fees. A mortgagor who paid the whole to one of the mortgagees in disregard of a notice by the other not to pay and who is compelled to pay again, the share of the other cannot claim a refund from the mortgagee whom he has paid in full. 24 I. C. 88. One of several co-mortgagees cannot maintain a suit for sale of the entire mortgaged property to recover his share of the debt only. 24 I. C. 88 [20 I. C. 151; A. W. N. (1896) 153 Dist. A. W. N. (1892) 246 F.] So also one of the joint promisees cannot sue for his share of the debt. 51 M. L. J. 648. Co-mortgagees are presumed in equity to be tenants-in-common of the mortgage debt and their interests are severable or partible among themselves. Each of them can sue joining the unwilling co-obligors as defendants. 27 C. L. J. 453=45 I. C. 986; 46 I. A. 272=37 M. L. J. 483=24 C. W. N. 297=53 I. C. 131 (P. C.). Similarly if some of the co-mortgagees are estopped from suing, the Court can sever the debt and give decree to the others for their share. 27 C. L. J. 453=22 C. W. N. 641. A payment of the mortgage debt by the mortgagor to one of the several mortgagees is not a valid payment as against the other mortgagees, 29 I. C. 956=21 C. L. J. 570; 29 I. C. 139; 4 Lah. L. J. 23; 1922 Lah. 64; 3 Lah. L. J. 502; 63 I. C. 744. But it operates as a valid discharge of the entire mortgage if the person to whom payment is made was the manager and the agent of all the mortgagees. 105 I. C. 751. Co-mortgagees—Suit by one for his share on allegation that others had received their shares is maintainable. 25 I. C. 440=19 C. L. J. 327. Co-mortgagees—Payment to one if discharge of debt. 5 Pat. L. CO-PARCENER.—The manager of a joint Hindu family can enforce a contract made with the family, and the junior members are not necessary parties. 33 All. 272=38 I. A. 45=15 C. W. N. 321=21 M. L. CO-SHARER.—A co-sharer in whose sole name the title-deed stands is not entitled to object to the tenants paying to his co-sharers their shares. He is not bound by payments beyond their share them, with them during their joint lives, and, after the death of any of them, with the representative of such deceased person jointly with the survivor or survivors, and after the death of the last survivor, with the representatives of all jointly.

Illustration.

A, in consideration of 5,000 rupees lent to him by B and C, promises B and C jointly to repay them that sum with interest on a day specified. B dies. The right to claim performance rests with B's representative jointly with C during C's life, and after the death of C with the representatives of B and C jointly.

Time and Place for Performance.

Time for performance of promise where no application is to be made and no time is specified.

46. Where, by the contract, a promisor is to perform his promise without application by the promisee, and no time for performance is specified, the engagement must be performed within a reasonable time.

Explanation.—The question "what is a reasonable time" is, in each particular case, a question of fact.

Time and place for performance of promise where time is specified and no application to be made.

47. When a promise is to be performed on a certain day, and the promisor has undertaken to perform it without application by the promisee, the promisor may perform it at any time during the usual hours of business on such day and at the place at which the promise ought to be performed.

Illustration.

Application for performance on a certain day to be at proper time and place.

FIRM.—O. 30, R. 4, C. P. C., contains a modification of S. 45 of the Contract Act and a suit by firm could continue without the legal representative of a deceased partner being brought on record as co-plaintiff. 21 I. C. 509 = 17 C. L. J. 648 (9 C. L. J. 331 Rel. on). The rule of Law is firmly established that debt due to trading partnerships stand on a different footing from debts due under ordinary contracts and that when one of the partners in a firm dies the surviving partners can sue for the recovery of the debts due to the firm without making the legal representatives of the deceased partner parties to the suit. 4 Lah. 122 = 71 I. C. 951 = 1923 Lah. 197 (9 A. 486; 17 C. L. J. 648; 20 A. 365; 32 A. 638 referred to; 18 C. 86 dissented). 7 Bur. L. T. 261 = 24 I. C. 268. All partners living at the time of the institution of the suit must join as co-plaintiffs. 91 I. C. 573 = 1926 Sind 81. A payment to one of two partners constituting a firm operates as discharge of liability. 54 I. C. 273 = 210 P. W. R. 1920. Sec. 45 does not prohibit the action where a partner of a dissolved firm collects his share of debt impleading the other partners as defendants. It is open to the latter to sue again for their share of the debt. 53 I. C. 416 = 128 P. R. 1919. See also 90 I. C. 111. One partner cannot sue alone to recover a partnership debt. EXPLANATION.—To determine what is reasonable time, usage of the business is also to be considered. 24 Bom. 97; 23 Mad. 441. Explanation.—The question “what is a proper time and place” is, in each particular case, a question of fact.

Place for performance of promise where no application to be made and no place fixed for performance.

49. When a promise is to be performed without application by the promisee, and no place is fixed for the performance of it, it is the duty of the promisor to apply to the promisee to appoint a reasonable place for the performance of the promise and to perform it at such place.

Illustration.

A undertakes to deliver a thousand maunds of jute to B on a fixed day. A must apply to B to appoint a reasonable place for the purpose of receiving it, and must deliver it to him at such place.

Performance in manner or at time prescribed or sanctioned by promisee.

50. The performance of any promise may be made in any manner, or at any time which the promisee prescribes or sanctions.

(a) B owes A 2,000 rupees. A desires B to pay the amount to A's account with C, a banker, B, who also banks with C, orders the amount to be transferred from his account to A's credit, and this is done by C. Afterwards, and before A knows of the transfer, C fails. There has been a good payment by B.

(b) A and B are mutually indebted. A and B settle an account by setting off one item against another, and B pays A the balance found to be due from him upon such settlement. This amounts to a payment by A and B, respectively, of the sums which they owed to each other.

(c) A owes B 2,000 rupees. B accepts some of A's goods in reduction of the debt. The delivery of the goods operates as a part payment.

(d) A desires B, who owes him Rs. 100, to send him a note for Rs. 100 by post. The debt is discharged as soon as B puts into the post a letter containing the note duly addressed to A.

Performance of Reciprocal Promises.

Promisor not bound to perform, unless reciprocal promisee ready and willing to perform.

51. When a contract consists of reciprocal promises to be simultaneously performed, no promisor need perform his promise unless the promisee is ready and willing to perform his reciprocal promise.

Sec. 49.—Section does not apply where the money is payable on demand and not without application by the promisee. 15 I. C. 885=16 C. L. J. 279 (31 M. 223 (228), Foll.). S. 49 has no application to a case where, by manifest implication or necessary import, a place is fixed by the contract for the performance of the obligation. The rule in S. 49 accordingly does not apply where there is an obligation to pay the creditor, and an inference can legitimately be drawn, either from the terms of the contract itself or from the necessities of the case, that there is a further obligation on the debtor of finding the creditor so as to pay him. Quære:—Whether the English Common Law rule that, if no place is named, it is the duty of the debtor to make the payment where the creditor is, has been superseded by S. 49. SALE OF LAND.—S. 55 does not lay down any principle which differs from the law of England as to contracts for sale of land. In such cases, equity looks at the substance and not at the letter of the agreement in order to ascertain whether the properties notwithstanding that they named a specific time within which the sale was to be completed, really and in substance intended more than that it should take place within a reasonable time. Prima facie equity treats the importance of such time-limits as being subordinate to the main purpose of the parties. 40 Bom. 289=43 I. A. 26=30 M. L. J. 186=20 C. W. N. 744 (P. C.) (38 Bom. 77, Reversed); 69 I. C. 13=1922 Bom. 14; 38 I. C. 123; 97 I. C. 269=19 S. L. R. 41. Specific performance of a contract to sell land will be granted, although there has been a failure to keep the dates assigned to it, if justice can be done between the parties and if nothing in the express stipulations of the parties; the nature of the property or the surrounding circumstances, make it inequitable to grant relief. 40 Bom. 289. An intention to make time of the essence of the contract must be expressed in unmistakable language; it may be inferred from what passed between the parties before but not after the contract is made. formed, becomes voidable at the option of the promisee, if the intention of the parties was that time should be of the essence of the contract.

If it was not the intention of the parties that time should be of the essence of the contract, the contract does not become voidable by the failure to do such thing at or before the specified time ; but the promisee is entitled to compensation from the promisor for any loss occasioned to him by such failure.

If, in case of a contract voidable on account of the promisor's failure to perform his promise at the time agreed, the promisee accepts performance of such promise at any time other than that agreed, the promisee cannot claim compensation for any loss occasioned by the non-performance of the promise at the time agreed, unless, at the time of such acceptance, he gives notice to the promisor of his intention to do so.

Sec. 58. SCOPE OF SECTION.—See 105 I. C. 319. The question whether compensation is payable or not depends not merely on (i) whether it can, in an abstract manner, be said that the act agreed to be done is impossible in itself or unlawful, but upon (ii) the knowledge as to the act being impossible or unlawful, as well as the promisor using reasonable diligence in obtaining that knowledge ; but this knowledge, or absence of diligence must be coupled with ; (iii) the want of knowledge on the part of the promisee, and finally it depends also upon (iv) whether the promisor could have prevented that event which renders the act unlawful. 105 I. Contract to do act afterwards becoming impossible or unlawful.

Compensation for loss through non-performance of act known to be impossible or unlawful.

A contract to do an act which, after the contract is made, becomes impossible, or, by reason of some event which the promisor could not prevent, unlawful, becomes void when the act becomes impossible or unlawful.¹

Where one person has promised to do something which he knew, or with reasonable diligence, might have known, and which the promisee did not know to be impossible or unlawful, such promisor must make compensation to such promisee for any loss which such promisee sustains through the non-performance of the promise.

(a) A agrees with B to discover treasure by magic. The agreement is void

(b) A and B contract to marry each other. Before the time fixed for the marriage, A goes mad. The contract becomes void.

(c) A contracts to marry B, being already married to C, and being forbidden by the law to which he is subject to practice polygamy. A must make compensation to B for the loss caused to her by the non-performance of his promise.

(d) A contracts to take in cargo for B at a foreign port. A's Government afterwards declares war against the country in which the port is situated. The contract becomes void when war is declared.

(e) A contracts to act at a theatre for six months in consideration of a sum paid in advance by B. On several occasions A is too ill to act. The contract to act on those occasions become void.

Reciprocal promise to do things legal, and also other things illegal.

57. Where persons reciprocally promise, firstly, to do certain things which are legal, and, secondly, under specified circumstances, to do certain other things which are illegal, the first set of promises is a contract, but the second is a void agreement.

Illustration.

A and B agree that A shall sell B a house for 10,000 rupees, but that, if B uses it as a gambling house, he shall pay A 50,000 rupees for it.

The first set of reciprocal promises, namely, to sell the house and to pay 10,000 rupees for it, is a contract.

The second set is for an unlawful object, namely, that B may use the house as a gambling house, and is a void agreement.

Alternative promise, one branch being illegal.

58. In the case of an alternative promise, one branch of which is legal and the other illegal, the legal branch alone can be enforced.

Illustration.

A and B agree that A shall pay B 1,000 rupees for which B shall afterwards deliver to A either rice or smuggled opium.

This is a valid contract to deliver rice, and a void agreement as to the opium.

(a) A owes money to B under a contract. It is agreed between A, B and C that B shall thenceforth accept C as his debtor, instead of A. The old debt of A to B is at an end, and a new debt from C to B has been contracted.

(b) A owes B 10,000 rupees. A enters into an arrangement with B, and gives B a mortgage of his (A's) estate for 5,000 rupees in place of the debt of 10,000 rupees. This is a new contract and extinguishes the old.

(c) A owes B 1,000 rupees under a contract. B owes C 1,000 rupees. B orders A to credit C with 1,000 rupees in his books, but C does not assent to the arrangement. B still owes C 1,000 rupees, and no new contract has been entered to.

(a) A promises to paint a picture for B. B afterwards forbids him to do so. A is no longer bound to perform the promise.

(b) A owes B 5,000 rupees. A pays to B, and B accepts, in satisfaction of the whole debt, 2,000 rupees paid at the time and place at which the 5,000 rupees were payable. The whole debt is discharged.

(c) A owes B 5,000 rupees. C pays to B 1,000 rupees, and B accepts them in satisfaction of his claim on A. This payment is a discharge of the whole claim.²

(d) A owes B, under a contract, a sum of money, the amount of which has not been ascertained. A without ascertaining the amount gives to B, and B, in satisfaction thereof, accepts, the sum of 2,000 rupees. This is a discharge of the whole debt, whatever may be its amount.

(e) A owes B 2,000 rupees, and is also indebted to other creditors. A makes an arrangement with his creditors including B, to pay them a [composition]³ of eight annas in the rupee upon their respective demands. Payment to B of 1,000 rupees is a discharge of B's demand.

SCOPE OF SECTION.—This section goes beyond the corresponding English Law, 33 Cal. 377. The section though wide, will enable the Court to do substantial justice. 42 Bom. 556 = 19 Bom. L.R. 650. (38 C. 1 Rel. on). See also 1925 Pat. 201; 90 I. C. 337 = 1925 Mad. 571; 1925 Nag. 19; 21 L.W. 336 = 47 M.L.J. 622. Person paying money due to some property from sale, believing the property to be his can recover the same from the rightful owner. 99 I. C. 845 = A.I.R. 1927 Mad. 459. See also 29 C.W.N. 1052 = 43 C.L.J. 83 = 1925 Cal. 1097. Payment of land revenue is a necessity and can be recovered. 84 I. C. 580 = 1925 Nag. 33. Compensation for use and occupation which is described sometimes as fair rent or occupation rent which in English Law is looked upon as based on implied contract cannot be so viewed in India inasmuch as the Contract Act does not speak of it in Ch. V. 30 M.L.J. 492 = 34 I. C. 6. It is not necessary under the section that the defendant must have an option before the benefit is conferred of accepting or declining it. 38 Mad. 235 = 25 M.L.J. 433. (33 M. 15 diss. 16 C.L.J. 156 app.) But see 28 I. C. 697; 25 I. C. 783 = 16 M.L.T. 375. S. 70 applies to all cases of benefit bona fide conferred by one person upon another and which benefit is enjoyed by the other person. 38 M. 235 = 25 M.L.J. 433. In construing the section, Courts in India should be guided more by justice, equity and good conscience than by English precedents. Even though plaintiff might have an interest in paying the money, yet it might none the less be for defendant. (Ibid.) S. 70 applies only in the absence of express contracts. 32 I. C. 511. On this sec. see also 1927 M. W. N. 872.

ENJOYING BENEFIT.—Plaintiff is not entitled to compensation under S. 70 where payment was not made by him for defendant's benefit or with his knowledge or consent. 40 Bom. 646 = 35 I. C. 794; 75 I. C. 624 = 1923 A. 404 (2); 62 I. C. 615 = 25 C. W. N. 813; 53 I. C. 90 = 30 C. L. J. 34. Purchaser of the share of one co-sharer is a person benefited by payment of the amount of the decree for arrears of rent the obtained against all the co-sharers, though the rent sued for relate to a period prior to the purchase. 30 C. W. N. 366 = 94 I. C. 159 = A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 657. The liabilities of joint tenants for rent is joint and several under S. 43 and if one of them pays the whole rent, he can sue the others for contribution. 27 I. C. 334 = 20 C. L. J. 492; 21 C. W. N. 394 = 34 I. C. 341; 61 P. R. 1914 = 25 I. C. 542. Where a person is bound to do an act, or would do an act, whether another consents to it, or not, the former cannot claim contribution even though the latter derives benefit in consequence of the act. 43 M. L. J. 271 = 1923 Mad. 64. (45 I. C. 786; 21 Cal. 496; 33 Mad. 15; 16 M. L. T. 375 foll.) Under S. 70 it is sufficient if the payment is lawful and not intended to be gratuitous, i.e., it should be a bona fide payment. It is not necessary that the payer should be interested in paying the money as in S. 69. 51 I. C. 857 = 9 J. W. 435. The authorities do not sanction recovery under S. 70 when the person primarily liable has no knowledge actual or imputed that expenditure is or probably may be necessary on his behalf. 39 Mad. 965 = 30 M. L. J. 369.

CO-OWNERS.—Irrigation—Contribution. English and Indian Law. 28 M. L. J. 384 = 28 I. C. 309. Suit for contribution for repairing irrigation channel belonging to plaintiff and defendant by plaintiff alone. See A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 122 = 92 I. C. 838. Such suit is not maintainable if repair is done by plaintiff without defendants' consent and under his conclusive supervision and to his substantial benefits. 27 L.W. 406 = A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 320. S. 69 does not authorize a person who made a payment to protect his own interest from recovering from the person on whose behalf he ostensibly paid it, unless the latter was bound in law to pay the money. 3 Pat. L. T. 122 = 64 I. C. 226; 59 I. C. 172 = 17 N. L. R. 8. Where several persons join together in instituting a suit to secure a common benefit, and one of them bears the expenses of the litigation, he is entitled to be reimbursed by his co-plaintiff under S. 70, in the absence of an express agreement between them settling the proportions which each had to bear. 34 I. C. 54 = 2 Pat. L. W. 437.

EXTENT OF BENEFIT.—In order to take advantage of S. 70 the plaintiffs must prove the extent of benefit derived by the other party. 30 I. C. 178 = 29 M. L. J. 597; 60 I. C. 414. Where the contract is to do work for a lump sum nothing could be recovered as quantum meruit for part only of work done. 19 I. C. 48 = 6 Bur. L. T. 53; 16 I. C. 692 = (1912) M. W. N. 956.

GRATUITOUS PAYMENT FOR SERVICE.—Where a pleader works for a client without any contract as to remuneration he will be entitled to a reasonable payment for his services. 20 I. C. 47 (1) = 20 C. L. J. 424. Hindu joint family—Execution of decree against individual member—Payment by him—Suit for refund. 54 I. C. 807 = 11 L. W. 115. S. 70 is not applicable to a case where a person does some act for his own benefit unavoidably. 45 I. C. 786; 54 I. C. 807 = 11 L. W. 115. When it is proved that the plaintiff has really done some work under a contract, which he alleged but failed to prove the alleged contract, reasonable compensation should be given to the plaintiff for the work done. 30 I. C. 223 = 2 O. L. J. 332. Where there has been no express agreement about the fees to be paid to a medical man he is entitled to a reasonable amount to be fixed by the Court. 25 I. C. 777.

"LAWFULLY".—Lawfully—Money left with vendees for payment to mortgagees—Property mortgaged different from property sold—Vendees not entitled to recover amount paid in excess of that directed to be paid by the vendors. 40 All. 555 = 47 I. C. 903. See also 14 C. W. N. 699; 18

COERCION.—In this section is used in its general sense. 5, R. 653.

MISTAKE.—As the section lays down that a person to whom money is paid by mistake or coercion must repay or return it, it implies that the money was not really due to the person to whom it was paid. 43 All. 272=60 I. COERCION.—Where property of one person is wrongfully attached in execution of a decree against another and the real owner pays off the decree amount under protest the owner is entitled to demand repayment from the decree-holder. This is the law both in England and in India. 40 Cal. 598=40 I. A. 56=25 M. L. J. 104=18 I. C. 949 (P. C.) (8 I. A. 93 rel.). Compensation for loss or damage caused by breach of contract.

contract, compensation for any loss or damage caused to him thereby, which naturally arose in the usual course of things from such breach, or which the parties knew, when they made the contract, to be likely to result from the breach of it.

Such compensation is not to be given for any remote and indirect loss or damage sustained by reason of the breach.

Sec. 73. SCOPE.—Section merely prescribes method of assessing damages. It does not take away right of seller to sue for price when property in the goods has passed to buyer. 34 Bom. 192; 36 Cal. 736. The buyer has no right without the consent of the seller to extend the time and claim damages at the rate prevailing on the deferred date. 97 I. C. 269=19 S. L. R. 41. Section applies only when contract has been broken. see 4 Bom. L. R. 874. No difference between moveable and immoveable property. 1927 Sind 49. Law does not regard collateral and consequential damages arising from delay in payment of money. See 35 Cal. 683. When an obligation resembling those created by contract has been incurred and has not been discharged, any person injured by the failure to discharge it is entitled to receive the same compensation from the party in default, as if such person had contracted to discharge it and had broken his contract.

Compensation for failure to discharge obligation resembling those created by contract.

Explanation.—In estimating the loss or damage arising from a breach of contract, the means which existed of remedying the inconvenience caused by the non-performance of the contract must be taken into account.

Illustrations.

(a) A contracts to sell and deliver 50 maunds of saltpetre to B, at a certain price to be paid on delivery. A breaks his promise. B is entitled to receive from A, by way of compensation, the sum, if any, by which the contract price falls short of the price for which B might have obtained 50 maunds of saltpetre of like quality at the time when the saltpetre ought to have been delivered.

(b) A hires B's ship to go to Bombay, and there take on board, on the first of January, a cargo which A is to provide and to bring it to Calcutta, the freight to be paid when earned. B's ship does not go to Bombay, but A has opportunities of procuring suitable conveyance for the cargo upon terms as advantageous as those on which he had chartered the ship. A avails himself of those opportunities, but is put to trouble and expense in doing so. A is entitled to receive compensation from B in respect of such trouble and expense.

(c) A contracts to buy of B, at a stated price 50 maunds of rice, no time being fixed for delivery. A afterwards informs B that he will not accept the rice if tendered to him. B is entitled to receive from A, by way of compensation, the amount, if any, by which the contract price exceeds that which B can obtain for the rice at the time when A informs B that he will not accept it.

(d) A contracts to buy B's ship for 60,000 rupees, but breaks his promise. A must pay to B, by way of compensation, the excess, if any, of the contract price over the price which B can obtain for the ship at the time of the breach of promise.

(e) A, the owner of a boat contracts with B to take a cargo of jute to Mirzapur, for sale at that place, starting on a specified day. The boat, owing to some avoidable cause, does not start at the time appointed, whereby the arrival of the cargo at Mirzapur is delayed beyond the time when it would have arrived if the boat had sailed according to the contract. After that date, and before the arrival of the cargo, the price of jute falls. The measure of the compensation payable to by A is the difference between the price which B could have obtained for the cargo at Mirzapur at the time when it would have arrived if forwarded in due course, and its market price at the time when it actually arrived.

(f) A contracts to repair B's house in a certain manner, and receives payment in advance. A repairs the house, but not according to contract. B is entitled to recover from A the cost of making the repairs conform to the contract.

(g) A contracts to let his ship to B for a year, from the first of January, for a certain price. Freight rises, and, on the first of January, the hire obtainable for the ship is higher than the contract price. A breaks his promise. He must pay to B, by way of compensation, a sum equal to the difference between the contract price and the price for which B could hire a similar ship for a year on and from the first of January.

(h) A contracts to supply B with a certain quantity of iron at a fixed price, being a higher price than that for which A could procure and deliver the iron. B wrongfully refuses to receive the iron. B must pay to A, by way of compensation, the difference between the contract price of the iron and the sum for which A could have obtained and delivered it.

(i) A delivers to B, a common carrier, a machine to be conveyed, without delay, to A's mill informing B that his mill is stopped for want of the machine. B unreasonably delays the delivery of the machine, and A, in consequence, loses a profitable contract with the Government. A is entitled to receive from B, by way of compensation, the average amount of profit which would have been made by the working of the mill during the time that delivery of it was delayed, but not the loss sustained through the loss of the Government contract.

(j) A, having contracted with B to supply B with 1,000 tons of iron at 100 rupees a ton, to be delivered at a stated time, contracts with C for the purchase of 1,000 tons of iron at 80 rupees a ton, telling C that he does so for the purpose of performing his contract with B. C fails to perform his contract with A, who cannot procure other iron, and B, in consequence, rescinds the contract. C must pay to A 20,000 rupees, being the profit which A would have made by the performance of his contract with B.

(k) A contracts with B to make and deliver to B, by a fixed day, for a specified price, a certain piece of machinery. A does not deliver the piece of machinery at the time specified, and, in consequence of this, B is obliged to procure another at a higher price than that which he was to have paid to A, and is prevented from performing a contract which B had made with a third person at the time of his contract with A (but which had not been then communicated to A), and is compelled to make compensation for breach of that contract. A must pay to B, by way of compensation, the difference between the contract price of the piece of machinery and the sum paid by B for another, but not the sum paid by B to the third person by way of compensation.

(l) A, a builder, contracts to erect and finish a house by the first of January, in order that B may give possession of it at that time to C, to whom B has contracted to let it. A is informed of the contract between B and C. A builds the house so badly that, before the first of January, it falls down and has to be re-built by B, who, in consequence, loses the rent which he was to have received from C, and is obliged to make compensation to C for the breach of his contract. A must make compensation to B for the cost of rebuilding the house, for the rent lost, and for the compensation made to C.

(m) A sells certain merchandise to B, warranting it to be of a particular quality, and B, in reliance upon this warranty, sells it to C with a similar warranty. The goods prove to be not according to the warranty, and B becomes liable to pay C a sum of money by way of compensation. B is entitled to be reimbursed this sum by A.

(n) A contracts to pay a sum of money to B on a day specified. A does not pay the money on that day. B in consequence of not receiving the money on that day is unable to pay his debts, and is totally ruined. A is not liable to make good to B anything except the principal sum he contracted to pay, together with interest up to the day of payment.

(o) A contracts to deliver 50 maunds of saltpetre to B on the first of January, at a certain price. B afterwards, before the first of January, contracts to sell the saltpetre to C at a price higher than the market price of the first of January. A breaks his promise. In estimating the compensation payable by A to B, the market price of the first of January, and not the profit which would have arisen to B from the sale to C, is to be taken into account.

(p) A contracts to sell and deliver 500 bales of cotton to B on a fixed day. A knows nothing of B's mode of conducting his business. A breaks his promise, and B, having no cotton, is obliged to close his mill. A is not responsible to B for the loss caused to B by the closing of the mill.

(q) A contracts to sell and deliver to B, on the first of January certain cloth which B intends to manufacture into caps of a particular kind for which there is no demand, except at that season. The cloth is not delivered till after the appointed time, and too late to be used that year in making caps. B is entitled to receive from A, by way of compensation, the difference between the contract price of the cloth and its market price at the time of delivery, but not the profits which he expected to obtain by making caps, nor the expenses which he has been put to in making preparation for the manufacture.

(r) A, a ship-owner, contracts with B to convey him from Calcutta to Sydney in A's ship, sailing on the first of January, and B pays to A, by way of deposit, one-half of his passage-money. The ship does not sail on the first of January, and B after being, in consequence, detained in Calcutta for some time, and thereby put to some expense, proceeds to Sydney in another vessel, and, in consequence, arriving too late in Sydney, loses a sum of money. A is liable to repay to B his deposit, with interest, and the expense to which he is put by his detention in Calcutta and the excess, if any of the passage-money paid for the second ship over that agreed upon for the first, but not the sum of money which B lost by arriving in Sydney too late.

74. 1 [When a contract has been broken, if a sum is named in the contract as the amount to be paid in case of such breach, or if the contract contains any other stipulation by way of penalty, the party complaining of the breach is entitled, whether or not actual damage or loss is proved to have been caused 18ec. 74.—This paragraph and the Explanation were substituted for the first para. of S. 74, by the Indian Contract Act Amendment Act (VI of 1890), S. 4.

SCOPE.—The section as it originally stood was intended to do away with the distinction between penalty and liquidated damages. 9 Cal. 689 (692); 3 Mad. 224; 11 Cal. 545; 5 All. 238; 27 Cal. 421; 3 C. or of a price for ascertained goods, together with payment of the price or delivery of the goods; or with tender, part-payment, earnest or part-delivery; or with an agreement, express or implied, that the payment or delivery or both, shall be postponed.

Where there is a contract for the sale of ascertained goods, the property in the goods sold passes to the buyer when the whole or part of the price or when the earnest is paid or when the whole or part of the goods is delivered.

If the parties agree, expressly or by implication, that the payment or delivery, or both, shall be postponed, the property passes as soon as the proposal for sale is accepted.

Transfer of ownership of thing sold, which has yet to be ascertained, made or finished.

Completion of sale of goods when seller has to do anything thereto in order to ascertain price.

(a) A, the owner of a stack of bark, contracts to sell it to B weigh and deliver it, at 100 rupees per ton. B agrees to take and pay for it on a certain day. Part is weighed and delivered to B; the ownership of the residue is not transferred to B until it has been weighed pursuant to the contract.

(b) A contracts to sell a heap of clay to B at a certain price per ton. B is, by the contract, to load the clay in his own carts and to weigh each load at a certain weighing machine, which his carts must pass on their way from A's ground to B's place of deposit. Here nothing more remains to be done by the seller; the sale is complete, and the ownership of the heap of clay is transferred at once.

Illustration.

A agrees to sell to B 20 tons of oil in A's cisterns. A's cisterns contain more than 20 tons of oil. No portion of the oil has become the property of B.

83. Where the goods are not ascertained at the time of making the agreement for sale but goods answering the description in the agreement are subsequently appropriated by one party for the purpose of the agreement, and that appropriation is assented to by the other, the goods have been ascertained, and the sale is complete.

A having a quantity of sugar in bulk, more than sufficient to fill 20 hogsheads, contracts to sell B 20 hogsheads of it. After the contract, A fills 20 hogsheads with the sugar, and gives notice to B that the hogsheads are ready, and requires him to take them away. B says he will take them as soon as he can. By this appropriation by A, and assent by B, the sugar becomes the property of B.

84. Where the goods are not ascertained at the time of making the contract of sale, and by the terms of the contract the seller is to do an act with reference to the goods which cannot be done until they are appropriated to the buyer, the seller has a right to select any goods answering to the contract, and by his doing so the goods are ascertained.

APPROPRIATION.—The question whether there has been appropriation of goods is one of fact. Any particular mode of appropriation is not required by the law. 9 I. C. 255=21 M. L. J. 413. The commonest form of appropriating goods to a contractor for the sale of unascertained goods is by delivering them to a carrier. 24 Bom. L. R. 1140=70 I. C. 138 (leading case on the subject). Before payment, and while the firewood is on A's premises, it is accidentally destroyed by fire. B must bear the loss.

(b) A bids 1,000 rupees for a picture at a sale by auction. After the bid, it is injured by an accident. If the accident happens before the hammer falls, the loss falls on the seller; if afterwards, on A.

Transfer of ownership of goods agreed to be sold while non-existent.

87. When there is a contract for the sale of goods not yet in existence, the ownership of the goods may be transferred by acts done, after the goods are produced in pursuance of the contract, by the seller, or by the buyer with the seller's assent.

Illustrations.

(a) A contracts to sell to B, for a stated price, all the indigo which shall be produced at A's factory during the ensuing year. A, when the indigo has been manufactured, gives B an acknowledgment that he holds the indigo at his disposal. The ownership of the indigo vests in B from the date of the acknowledgment.

(b) A, for a stated price, contracts that B may take and sell any crops that shall be grown on A's land in succession to the crops then standing. Under this contract B with the assent of A, takes possession of some crops grown in succession to the crops standing at the time of the contract. The ownership of the crops, when taken possession of, vests in B.

(c) A, for a stated price, contracts that B may take and sell any crops that shall be grown on his land in succession to the crop then standing. Under this contract B applies to A for possession of some crops grown in succession to the crops which were standing at the time of the contract. A refuses to give possession. The ownership of the crops has not passed to B, though A may commit a breach of contract in refusing to give possession.

Contract to sell and deliver, at a future day goods not in seller's possession at date of contract.

88. A contract for the sale of goods to be delivered at a future day is binding, though the goods are not in the possession of the seller at the time of making the contract, and though at that time he has no reasonable expectation of acquiring them otherwise than by purchase.

Illustration.

Determination of price not fixed by contract.

Delivery.

90. Delivery of goods sold may be made by doing anything which has the effect of putting them in the possession of the buyer, or of any person authorized to hold them on his behalf.

Delivery how made.

Illustrations.

(a) A sells to B a horse, and causes or permits it to be removed from A's stables to B's. The removal to B's stable is a delivery.

(b) B, in England, orders 100 bales of cotton from A, a merchant of Bombay, and sends his own ship to Bombay for the cotton. The putting the cotton on board the ship is a delivery to B.

(c) A sells to B certain specific goods which are locked up in a godown. A gives B the key of the godown, in order that he may get the goods. This is a delivery.

(d) A sells to B five specific casks of oil. The oil is in the warehouse of A. B sells the five casks to C. A receives warehouse rent for them from C. This amounts to a delivery of the oil to C, as it shows an assent on the part of A to hold the goods as warehouseman of C.

(e) A sells to B 50 maunds of rice in the possession of C, a warehouseman. A gives B an order to C to transfer the C rice to B, and assents to such order, and transfers the rice in his books to B. This is a delivery.

(f) A agrees to sell B five tons of oil at 1,000 rupees per ton to be paid for at the time of delivery. A gives to C, a wharfinger, at whose wharf he had twenty tons of the oil, an order to transfer five of them into the name of B. C makes the transfer in his books, and gives A's clerk a notice of the transfer for B. A's clerk takes the transfer notice to B, and offers to give it him on payment of the price of the oil. B refuses to pay. There has been no delivery to B, as B never assented to make C his agent to hold for him the five tons selected by A.

91. A delivery to a wharfinger or carrier of the goods sold has the same effect as a delivery to the buyer, but does not render the buyer liable for the price of goods which do not reach him, unless the delivery is so made as to enable him to hold the wharfinger or carrier responsible for the safe custody or delivery of the goods.

Effect of delivery to wharfinger or carrier.

Illustration.

B, at Agia, orders of A, who lives at Calcutta, three casks of oil to be sent to him by railway. A takes three casks of oil directed to B to the railway station and leaves them there without conforming to the rules which must be complied with in order to render the Railway Company responsible for their safety. The goods do not reach B. There has not been a sufficient delivery to charge B in a suit for the price.

92. A delivery of part of goods, in progress of the delivery of the whole, has the same effect, for the purpose of passing the property in such goods, as a delivery of the whole; but a delivery of part of the goods, with an intention of severing it from the whole, does not operate as a delivery of the remainder.

Effect of part delivery.

Illustrations.

(a) A ship arrives in a harbour laden with a cargo consigned to A, the buyer of the cargo. The captain begins to discharge it, and delivers over part of the goods to A in progress of the delivery of the whole. This is a delivery of the cargo to A for the purpose of passing the property in the cargo.

(b) A sells to B a stack of firewood to be paid for by B on delivery. After the sale, B applies for and obtains from A leave to take away some of the firewood. This has not the legal effect of delivery of the whole.

Sec. 90.—The handing of a delivery order is not sufficient to give possession; a constructive delivery must have the clear effect of putting the goods in the possession of the person entitled. 22 I. C. 952 = 7 Bur. L. T. 93. On this section see also 38 Cal. 127; 8 Bom. 501.

Sec. 92.—See 15 Cal. 1. Sec. does not apply to money or currency notes as they are not "goods". 33 Mad. 196. In case of mutual contract, whether the Sec. applies, and whether there is need for demand for delivery of goods, see 8 Iah. 501.

(c) A sells 50 maunds of rice to B. The rice remains in A's warehouse. After the sale, B sells to C 10 maunds of the rice, and A, at B's desire, sends the 10 maunds to C. This has not the legal effect of a delivery of the whole.

93. In the absence of any special promise, the seller of goods is not bound to deliver them until the buyer applies for delivery.

94. In the absence of any special promise as to delivery, goods sold are to be delivered at the place at which they are at the time of the sale; and goods contracted to be sold are to be delivered at the place at which they are at the time of the contract for sale, or, if not then in existence, at the place at which they are produced.

Seller's Lien.

95. Unless a contrary intention appears by the contract, a seller has a lien on sold goods as long as they remain in his possession and the price or any part of it remains unpaid.

96. Where, by the contract, the payment is to be made at a future day, but no time is fixed for the delivery of the goods, the seller has no lien, and the buyer is entitled to a present delivery of the goods without payment. But if the buyer becomes insolvent before delivery of the goods, or if the time appointed for payment arrives before the delivery of the goods, the seller may retain the goods for the price.

"Insolvency" defined.

Explanation.—A person is insolvent who has ceased to pay his debts in the usual course of business, or who is incapable of paying them.

Illustration.

A sells to B a quantity of sugar in A's warehouse. It is agreed that three months' credit shall be given. B allows the sugar to remain in A's warehouse. Before the expiry of the three months, B becomes insolvent. A may retain the goods for the price.

Seller's lien where payment to be made at future day, and buyer allows goods to remain in seller's possession.

97. Where, by the contract, the payment is to be made at a future day, and the buyer allows the goods to remain in the possession of the seller until that day and does not then pay for them, the seller may retain the goods for the price.

Seller's lien against subsequent buyer.

98. A seller in possession of goods sold may retain them for the price against any subsequent buyer, unless the seller has recognized the title of the subsequent buyer.

Stoppage in Transit.

Title conveyed by seller of goods to buyer.

105 I. C. 613 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 880. In mercantile contracts time is essence of contract. 1923 Lah. 138. There can be no right of re-sale if the property in the goods has not passed to the buyer. 24 Cal. 124; 25 Cal. 504; 24 Cal. 177; 23 Mad. 18; 39 Cal. 569; 1924 Lah. 319; 8 Lah. 514. Where a right of re-sale is given by the contract between the parties, it is not necessary that the property in the goods should pass to the purchaser to enable the seller to re-sell the goods and claim the difference. 72 I. C. 772 = 1924 Lah. 319. See also A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 81.

REASONABLE TIME.—The right of re-sale can be exercised only after the lapse of a reasonable time and it cannot be exercised before the last date up to which delivery would have been taken by the buyer. 95 I. C. 188 = A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 410. If the goods have been re-sold by the vendor within a reasonable time after the breach of contract by the purchaser, the measure of the damages will be the difference between price agreed to be given and the price realized on the re-sale, with the costs and expenses of the re-sale. 72 I. C. 772 = 1924 Lah. 319. Not only is vendor bound to wait for a reasonable time after giving notice of re-sale, but he is also bound to exercise his right of re-sale within a reasonable time after the date of the breach. 100 I. C. 795 = A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 269. Plea of delay in re-sale, not taken in pleadings whether can be raised in appeal. See 8 Lah. 501. Rights of unpaid seller to re-sell goods at purchaser's risk—Rescission of contract—English and Indian Law. 3 Lah. 296 = 67 I. C. 228. In a suit for damages for breach of contract to buy goods, the plaintiff can only recover the difference between the contract price and the market price at the date of the breach. 56 I. C. 647 = 23 O. C. 67. If the seller exercises his right of re-sale he rescinds the contract sale, the property revests in himself and he sells it as owner. A seller of goods who gives notice of re-sale and makes an invalid re-sale can recover damages for breach of contract from the defaulting buyer. The measure of damages in such a case is the market value on the date of the breach minus the value obtained on re-sale. 9 Bur. L. T. 209 = 36 I. C. 252. The seller can revoke his notice of re-sale. (Ibid.) If the buyer pays the contract price and re-sale expense before re-sale is effected, or within a reasonable time after revocation of the notice the seller must deliver the goods to the buyer. (Ibid.) After the re-sale the defaulting purchaser has no right, under the original contract, and he cannot claim the goods upon payment of the contract price. (Ibid.) (15 B. L. R. 26; 24 Cal. 124; 24 Cal. 172 = 39 Cal. 568, Foll.) The re-sale must be fairly conducted, otherwise the purchaser can recover damages as would put him in the same position as if the re-sale had been properly held and proper price obtained. (Ibid.) Where a seller putting up the property for sale does not advertise such sale in the locality and the price is inadequate in consequence the buyer is not responsible for the difference between the contract price and the inadequate price realised at such sale. 35 I. C. 373 = 10 Bur. L. T. 35. The words of S. 107 are permissive and not compulsory. An unpaid vendor who gives notice of his intention to pursue the course set out in S. 107 is not bound to carry out such intention and can change his mind if he likes. 25 I. C. 799 = 7 L. B. R. 252. In a C. I. F. contract, it is essential for the plaintiff to prove that he has performed his part by delivery or tender of the documents. 100 I. C. 567 = A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 223. The original vendee in such cases is entitled to the benefit of higher prices realized by the vendor in mitigation of the sum payable by him as damages. (Ibid.) Re-selling brokerage and commission for goods not actually re-sold cannot be allowed as they are unreasonable and not justified by S. 74, being imaginary and fictitious. 29 I. C. 933 = 9 S. "Possession" in Excep. 1 to S. 108 does not apply to qualified possession such as that of hire of goods or where the possession is different from mere possession for specific purpose. Exception 2.—If one of several joint-owners of goods has the sole possession of them by the permission of the co-owners, the ownership of the goods is transferred to any person who buys them of such joint-owner in good faith, and under circumstances which are not such as to raise a reasonable presumption that the person in possession of the goods has no right to sell them.

Exception 3.—When a person has obtained possession of goods under a contract voidable at the option of the other party thereto, the ownership of the goods is transferred to a third person who, before the contract is rescinded, buys them in good faith of the person in possession ; unless the circumstances which render the contract voidable amounted to an offence committed by the person in possession or those whom he represents.

C. 598=18 Bom. L. R. 803. When the goods are delivered to the vendees the onus is upon them to prove that they had in fact rejected them as of inferior quality within a reasonable time. 34 I.C.

290=23 C.L.J. 415. Where the goods are sold and delivered to a buyer the buyer can have the goods in his custody for a reasonable time to examine them and see whether they comply with the warranty. At the same time, the buyer loses his right to reject the goods by any act amounting to acceptance. Mere receipt of goods is no acceptance. 65 I. C. 464=1922 Lah. 127 (23 C. L. J. 415). See also 35 All. 370. What is reasonable time is purely a question of fact and has to be decided on the circumstances of each case. A period of 18 days was held not to be a reasonable time in the case of cotton goods. 65 I. C. 464=1922 Lah. 127. Where the purchasers complain that all purchases are not of the stipulated quality, they have no right to ask for sample before taking delivery but they should take delivery and then make their claim. 21 I. In any case the buyer is entitled to compensation from the seller for any loss caused by the breach of warranty ; but, if he accepts the goods and intends to claim compensation, he must give notice of his intention to do so within a reasonable time after discovering the breach of the warranty.

Illustrations.

(a) A agrees to sell and, without application on B's part, deliver to B 200 bales of unascertained cotton by sample. Cotton not in accordance with sample is delivered to B. B may return it if he has not kept it longer than a reasonable time for the purpose of examination.

(b) B agrees to buy of A twenty-five sacks of flour by sample. The flour is delivered to B, who pays the price. B, upon examination, finds it not equal to sample ; B afterwards uses two sacks, and sells one. He cannot now rescind the contract and recover the price, but he is entitled to compensation from A for any loss caused by the breach of warranty.

(c) B makes two pairs of shoes for A by A's order. When the shoes are delivered they do not fit A. A keeps both pairs for a day. He wears one pair for a short time in the house, and takes a long walk out of doors in the other pair. He may refuse to accept the first pair, but not the second. But he may recover compensation for any loss sustained by the defect of the second pair.

Miscellaneous.

119. When the seller sends to the buyer goods not ordered with goods ordered, the buyer may refuse to accept any of the goods so sent, if there is risk or trouble in separating the goods ordered from the goods not ordered.

When buyer may refuse to accept, if goods not ordered are sent with goods ordered.

Effect of wrongful refusal to accept.

120. If a buyer wrongfully refuses to accept the goods sold to him, this amounts to a breach of the contract of sale.

Right of seller as to rescission on failure of buyer to pay price at time fixed.

121. When goods sold have been delivered to the buyer, the seller is not entitled to rescind the contract on the buyer's failing to pay the price at the time fixed unless it was stipulated by the contract that he should be so entitled.

Sale and transfer of lots sold by auction.

122. Where goods are sold by auction, there is a distinct and separate sale of the goods in each lot, by which the ownership thereof is transferred as each lot is knocked down.

Effect of use by seller of pretended biddings to raise price.

123. If, at a sale by auction, the seller makes use of pretended biddings to raise the price, the sale is voidable at the option of the buyer.

CHAPTER VIII.

OF INDEMNITY AND GUARANTEE.

124. A contract by which one party promises to save the other from loss caused to him by the conduct of the promisor himself, or by the conduct of any other person, is called a "contract of indemnity."

"Contract of indemnity" defined.

A contracts to indemnify B against the consequences of any proceedings which C may take against B in respect of a certain sum of 200 rupees. This is a contract of indemnity.

125. The promisee in a contract of indemnity, acting within the scope of his authority, is entitled to recover from the promisor—

(1) all damages which he may be compelled to pay in any suit in respect of any matter to which the promise to indemnify applies ;

(2) all costs which he may be compelled to pay in any such suit if, in bringing or defending it, he did not contravene the orders of the promisor, and acted as it would have been prudent for him to act in the absence of any contract of indemnity, or if the promisor authorized him to bring or defend the suit ;

(3) all sums which he may have paid under the terms of any compromise of any such suit, if the compromise was not contrary to the orders of the promisor, and was one which it would have been prudent for the promisee to make in the absence of any contract of indemnity, or if the promisor authorized him to compromise the suit.

126. A "contract of guarantee" is a contract to perform the promise, or discharge the liability, of a third person in case of his default. The person who gives the guarantee is called the "surety" ; the person in respect of whose default the guarantee is given is called the "principal debtor", and the

When an assignee of a debt whom the assignor had agreed to indemnify against loss sues on the debt and his suit is dismissed after a fair trial, he is entitled to be indemnified. (1917) M. W. N. 868. A stipulation in a contract of sale to discharge an existing encumbrance on the property sold, is in the nature of an indemnity. 38 I. C. 188=5 L. W. 228. Suretyship and indemnity—Distinction. 3 Pat. L. J. 396=46 I. C. 27.

Sec. 125.—Suit for damages lies for breach of contract of indemnity for loss of possession when the title is impaired and not necessarily when possession is actually lost. 31 M. L. J. 556=35 I. C. 789. Suit by surety on a contract of indemnity before he has paid the money is premature. 50 I. C. 611=15 N. L. R. 78. "Payment" means payment in money or its equivalent and not by the execution of a fresh bond. (Ibid.) Where on a sale of land a portion of the purchase-money is left with the vendee to pay certain debts of the vendor and the vendee also agreed to compensate the vendor in case of his default in paying the Sec. 126.—S. 126 makes no difference between an oral and written guarantee, the former being as equally binding as the latter. 42 All. 70=52 I. C. 684. Where a surety has paid off the whole debt, he is entitled to stand in the place of the creditor who has been so paid off and is entitled to the benefit of every security which the creditor had against the debtor at the time when the suretyship contract was entered into. (Ibid.) Mere recommendation does not constitute guarantee. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 620.

Secs. 126 and 128.—"Liability" under Ss. 126 and 128 means a liability enforceable at law and if such liability does not exist there cannot be a contract of guarantee. 42 Bom. 444=46 I. C. 122. A payment by principal is not binding on the surety. 44 Cal. 978=21 C. W. N. 482. person to whom the guarantee is given is called the "creditor." A guarantee may be either oral or written.

127. Anything done, or any promise made, for the benefit of the principal debtor may be a sufficient consideration to the surety for giving the guarantee.

Consideration for guarantee.

Illustrations.

(a) B requests A to sell and deliver to him goods on credit. A agrees to do so, provided C will guarantee the payment of the price of the goods. C promises to guarantee the payment in consideration of A's promise to deliver the goods. This is a sufficient consideration for C's promise.

(b) A sells and delivers goods to B. C afterwards requests A to forbear to sue B for the debt for a year, and promises that if he does so, C will pay for them in default of payment by B. A agrees to forbear as requested. This is a sufficient consideration for C's promise.

(c) A sells and delivers goods to B. C afterwards, without consideration, agrees to pay for them in default of B. The agreement is void.

Surety's liability.

128. The liability of the surety is co-extensive with that of the principal debtor, unless it is otherwise provided by the contract.

Illustration.

A guarantees to B the payment of a bill of exchange by C, the acceptor. The bill is dishonoured by C. A is liable not only for the amount of the bill but also for any interest and charges which may have become due on it.

"Continuing guarantee."

129. A guarantee which extends to a series of transactions is called a "continuing guarantee."

Illustrations.

(a) A in consideration that B will employ C in collecting the rent of B's zamindari, promises B to be responsible, to the amount of 5,000 rupees, for the due collection and payment by C of those rents. This is a continuing guarantee.

Sec. 127.—A mere recommendation by one person to another to lend money to a third person does not render the first person, a surety or liable for the loan, if given. 24 M. L. J. 249 = 25 I. C. 726 (20 Bom. 755, foll.; 24 W.R. 445 Dist.). See also 97 I.C. 866. As to what is good consideration for surety for giving guarantee, and as how surety is discharged, see 23 C.W.N. 545 = 50 I.C. 651 (P.C.). Surety's liability can be limited by special contract or made contingent upon some event other than the principal debtor. 95 I. C. 707 (2) = A.I.R. 1926 Nag. 449. A creditor may sue the surety though he does not sue the insolvent principal debtor. In a suit by the creditor against the surety, principal debtor need not be a party. 50 I. C. 312. A suit may be maintained against the surety though the principal has not been sued. 48 I. C. 424 = 91 P. R. 1918. When, on appeal by the principal debtor only, against, a decree both against him and surety, the decree is reversed the surety is not thereby discharged from his liability. 14 P. W. R. 1911 = 9 I. C. 742. (5 Bom. 547 and 12 Cal. 330, foll.) The liability of a surety is co-extensive with that of the principal debtor and the liability ceases when the principal's debt has been extinguished by the merger of the estate of the creditor and the debtor. 44 M. L. J. 171 = 72 I.C. 194 = 1923 M. 340. Where the cause of action is separate, the liability of the surety is also separate with respect to each of the promissory notes, although he became surety for the consolidated amount. 40 I. C. 347 = 5 L.W. 721. A creditor can proceed against the surety and compel him to pay, before exhausting his remedies against the principal debtor. 37 I.C. 401 = 5 L.W. 161. (19 Bom. 578, dist.). Where a surety promised to make good any discrepancies of the principal debtor in his dealings with A to the extent of Rs. 1,000 and wrote a letter subsequently to entrust the principal debtor with further business referring to the guarantee already given his liability does not thereby become unlimited. 21 I. C. 322 = 14 M.L.T. 249. A surety becomes liable only on the contract of suretyship and not by the mere fact of the loan. He is liable for each loan as soon as it is made. 9 I.C. 204 = 21 M.L.J. 457. Where the contract is invalid for want of registration but only the equities arising in favour of the parties out of the subsequent acts of the parties can be enforced under the doctrine of part performance, the liability of the surety under the contract cannot be enforced. 95 I.C. 824 = A.I.R. 1926 Nag. 466. Under this section the death of the principal debtor does not discharge the surety from his obligation. 69 I. C. 557 = 1923 Lah. 145. Surety—Rights and liabilities of. See 27 I. C. 309 = 8 S. L. Sec. 129.—Continuing guarantee must refer to a series of transactions some of which were unknown at the time. 1925 Nag. 7 = 22 N. L. R. 158. License to sell liquor for 3 years granted on the faith of the guarantee—It was not a continuing guarantee. 96 I. C. 248 = 28 Bom. L. R. 662 = A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 465. A security contained the following clause "our heirs and legal representatives shall be bound by the terms of this surety bond in the same way in which we are bound by them". Held, that it amounted to a continuing guarantee. 53 Cal. 154.

(b) A guarantees payment to B, a tea-dealer to the amount of £100, for any tea he may from time to time supply to C. B supplies C, with tea to above the value of £100, and C pays B for it. Afterwards B supplies C with tea to the value of £200. C fails to pay. The guarantee given by A was a continuing guarantee, and he is accordingly liable to B to the extent of £100.

(c) A guarantees payment to B of the price of five sacks of flour to be delivered by B to C and to be paid for in a month. B delivers five sacks to C. C pays for them. Afterwards B delivers four sacks to C, which C does not pay for. The guarantee given by A was not a continuing guarantee, and accordingly he is not liable for the price of the four sacks.

130. A continuing guarantee may at any time be revoked by the surety, as to future transactions, by notice to the creditor.

Illustrations.

(a) A, in consideration of B's discounting, at A's request, bills of exchange for C, guarantees to B, for twelve months, the due payment of all such bills to the extent of 5,000 rupees. B discounts bills for C to the extent of 2,000 rupees. Afterwards, at the end of three months, A revokes the guarantee. This revocation discharges A from all liability to B for any subsequent discount. But A is liable to B for the 2,000 rupees, on default of C.

(b) A guarantees to B, to the extent of 10,000 rupees, that C shall pay all the bills that B shall draw upon him. B draws upon C. C accepts the bill. A gives notice of revocation. C dishonours the bill at maturity. A is liable upon his guarantee.

Revocation of continuing guarantee by surety's death.

131. The death of the surety operates, in the absence of any contract to the contrary, as a revocation of a continuing guarantee, so far as regards future transactions.

132. Where two persons contract with a third person to undertake a certain liability, and also contract with each other that one of them shall be liable only on the default of the other, the third person not being a party to such contract, the liability of each of such two persons to the third person under the first contract is not affected by the existence of the second contract, although such third person may have been aware of its existence.

Illustration.

A and B make a joint and several promissory note to C. A makes it, in fact, as surety for B, and C knows this at the time when the note is made. The fact that A, to the knowledge of C, made the note as surety for B, is no answer to a suit by C against A upon the note.

133. Any variance, made without the surety's consent, in the terms of the contract between the principal [debtor]¹ and the creditors, discharges the surety as to transactions subsequent to the variance.

Discharge of surety by variance in terms of contract.

Sec. 130.—A continuing guarantee enables surety to withdraw as to future transactions but a guarantee covering definite case does not enable a surety to nullify the security by withdrawal by means of a mere notice to creditor. 37 I.C. 919. It is not competent to the surety for a receiver appointed by Court, to discharge himself merely by notice to the decree-holder or other person at whose instance or for whose benefit the receiver was appointed. 30 C. Afterwards, B and C contract, without A's consent, that B's salary shall be raised, and that he shall become liable for one-fourth of the losses on overdrafts. B allows a customer to overdraw, and the bank loses a sum of money. A is discharged from his suretyship by the variance made without his consent, and is not liable to make good this loss.

(b) A guarantees C against the misconduct of B in an office to which B is appointed by C, and of which the duties are defined by an Act of the Legislature. By a subsequent Act, the nature of the office is materially altered. Afterwards, B misconducts himself. A is discharged by the change from future liability under his guarantee, though the misconduct of B is in respect of a duty not affected by the later Act.

Afterwards, without A's knowledge or consent, C and B agree that B should be paid by a commission on the goods sold by him and not by a fixed salary. A is not liable for subsequent misconduct of B.

(d) A gives to C a continuing guarantee to the extent of 3,000 rupees for any oil supplied by C to B on credit. Afterwards B becomes embarrassed, and, without the knowledge of A, B and C contract that C shall continue to supply B with oil for ready money, and that the payments shall be applied to the then existing debts between B and C. A is not liable on his guarantee for any goods supplied after this new arrangement.

CHAPTER IX. OF BAILMENT.

148. A "bailment" is the delivery of goods by one person to another for some purpose, upon a contract that they shall, when the purpose is accomplished, be returned or otherwise disposed of according to the directions of the person delivering them. The person delivering the goods is called the "bailor." The person to whom they are delivered is called the "bailee."

Explanation.—If a person already in possession of the goods of another contracts to hold them as a bailee, he thereby becomes the bailee, and the owner becomes the bailor, of such goods although they may not have been delivered by way of bailment.

149. The delivery to the bailee may be made by doing anything which has the effect of putting the goods in the possession of the intended bailee or of any person authorized to hold them on his behalf.

150. The bailor is bound to disclose to the bailee faults in the goods bailed, of which the bailor is aware, and which materially interfere with the use of them, or expose the bailee to extraordinary risks; and, if he does not make such disclosure, he is responsible for damage arising to the bailee directly from such faults.

If the goods are bailed for hire, the bailor is responsible for such damage, whether he was or was not aware of the existence of such faults in the goods bailed.

Illustrations.

(a) A lends a horse, which he knows to be vicious, to B. He does not disclose the fact that the horse is vicious. The horse runs away. B is thrown and injured. A is responsible to B for damage sustained.

(b) A hires a carriage of B. The carriage is unsafe, though B is not aware of it, and A is injured. B is responsible to A for the injury.

151. In all cases of bailment the bailee is bound to take as much care of the goods bailed to him as a man of ordinary prudence would, under similar circumstances, take of his own goods of the same bulk, quality and value as the goods bailed.²

Sec. 148.—It is the pawnor and not an assignee from him that can give directions to the pawnee as regards the delivery or disposal of the pledged property. The directions must be definite and reasonable in order to be binding on the pledgee. 65 I. C. 65=1922 Nag. 127. Liability of goldsmith. 15 I. C. 431=5 Burr. L. T. 106. But there is an implied warranty that the thing is fit for the purpose for which it is hired and if there is a breach of this warranty, the bailee is not bound to pay the hire and return the article but can give notice of the same to the bailor. 45 Bom. 1017=61 I. C. 570. The owner of a lighter carrying goods are liable for the loss of and damage to goods as bailees under S. 152 as in using the lighter they did not take the amount of care described in S. 151. 42 I. C. 636 on this section, see also 29 Bom. L. R. 1551.

Sec. 153.—See 19 Cal. 332.

155. If the bailee, with the consent of the bailor, mixes the goods of the bailor with his own goods, the bailor and the bailee shall have an interest, in proportion to their respective shares, in the mixture thus produced.

156. If the bailee, without the consent of the bailor, mixes the goods of the bailor with his own goods, and the goods can be separated or divided, the property in the goods remains in the parties respectively; but the bailee is bound to bear the expense of separation or division, and any damage arising from the mixture.

Effect of mixture without bailor's consent, when the goods can be separated.

Illustration.

A bails 100 bales of cotton marked with a particular mark to B. B, without A's consent, mixes the 100 bales with other bales of his own, bearing a different mark: A is entitled to have his 100 bales returned, and B is bound to bear all the expense incurred in the separation of the bales, and any other incidental damage.

157. If the bailee, without the consent of the bailor, mixes the goods of the bailor with his own goods, in such a manner that it is impossible to separate the goods bailed from the other goods and deliver them back, the bailor is entitled to be compensated by the bailee for the loss of the goods.

Effect of mixture without bailor's consent, when the goods cannot be separated.

Illustration.

A bails a barrel of Cape flour worth Rs. 45 to B. B, without A's consent, mixes the flour with country flour of his own worth only Rs. 25 a barrel. B must compensate A for the loss of his flour.

158. Where, by the conditions of the bailment, the goods are to be kept or to be carried, or to have work done upon them by the bailee for the bailor, and the bailee is to receive no remuneration, the bailor shall repay to the bailee the necessary expenses incurred by him for the purpose of the bailment.

Repayment by bailor of necessary expenses.

159. The lender of a thing for use may at any time require its return, if the loan was gratuitous, even though he lent it for a specified time or purpose. But, if, on the faith of such loan made for a specified time or purpose, the borrower has acted in such a manner that the return of the thing lent before the time agreed upon would cause him loss exceeding the benefit actually derived by him from the loan, the lender must, if he compels the return, indemnify the borrower for the amount in which the loss so occasioned exceeds the benefit so derived.

Restoration of goods lent gratuitously.

160. It is the duty of the bailee, to return, or deliver according to the bailor's directions, the goods bailed, without demand, as soon as the time for which they were bailed has expired, or the purpose for which they were bailed has been accomplished.

Return of goods bailed on expiration of time or accomplishment of purpose.

161. If, by the default of the bailee, the goods are not returned, delivered or tendered at the proper time, he is responsible to the bailor for any loss, destruction or deterioration of the goods from that time².

Bailee's responsibility when goods are not duly returned.

Sec. 160.—A bailee who has given up possession of goods bailed with the consent of the bailor cannot thereafter maintain a suit for recovery of the goods bailed. 19 Cr. L. J. 220=43 I. C. 796=4 Pat. ²As to railway contracts, See the Indian Railways Act (IX of 1890) S. 72.

[See also under S. 160.] In the absence of evidence as to the execution of risk note Form A, the railway is liable for delay in delivery. 65 I. C. 771=20 A. L. J. 114. Contract Act is not a complete Code with reference to the law of bailments. Bailments are of two kinds, voluntary and involuntary. Where depository dies and the subject of the deposit passes into the hands of his heir the latter becomes an involuntary bailee. A depository is a bailee within Chapter IX of

162. A gratuitous bailment is terminated by the death either of the bailor or of the bailee.

163. In the absence of any contract to the contrary, the bailee is bound to deliver to the bailor, or according to his directions, any increase or profit which may have accrued from the goods bailed.

Bailor entitled to increase or profit from goods bailed.

Illustration.

A leaves a cow in the custody of B to be taken care of. The cow has a calf. B is bound to deliver the calf as well as the cow to A.

164. The bailor is responsible to the bailee for any loss which the bailee may sustain by reason that the bailor was not entitled to make the bailment, or to receive back the goods or to give directions, respecting them.

Bailor's responsibility to bailee.

165. If several joint owners of goods bail them, the bailee may deliver them back to, or according to the directions of, one joint owner without the consent of all, in the absence of any agreement to the contrary.

Bailment by several joint owners.

166. If the bailor has no title to the goods, and the bailee, in good faith, delivers them back to, or according to the directions of, the bailor, the bailee is not responsible to the owner in respect of such delivery.

Bailee not responsible on re-delivery to bailor without title.

Right of third person claiming goods bailed.

167. If a person, other than the bailor, claims goods bailed, he may apply to the court to stop the delivery of the goods to the bailor, and to decide the title to the goods.

168. The finder of goods has no right to sue the owner for compensation for trouble and expense voluntarily incurred by him to preserve the goods and to find out the owner; but he may retain the goods against the owner until he receives such compensation; and, where the owner has offered a specific reward for the return of goods lost, the finder may sue for such reward, and may retain the goods until he receives it.

Right of finder of goods; may sue for specific reward offered.

169. When a thing which is commonly the subject of sale is lost, if the owner cannot with reasonable diligence be found, or if he refuses, upon demand, to pay the lawful charges of the finder, the finder may sell it—

When finder of thing commonly on sale may sell it.

(1) when the thing is in danger of perishing or of losing the greater part of its value, or,

(2) when the lawful charges of the finder, in respect of the thing found, amount to two-thirds of its value.

170. Where the bailee has, in accordance with the purpose of the bailment, rendered any service involving the exercise of labour or skill in respect of the goods bailed, he has, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, a right to retain such goods until he receives due remuneration for the services he has rendered in respect of them.

171. Bankers, factors, wharfingers, attorneys of a High Court and policy-brokers may, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, retain, as a security for a general balance of account, any goods bailed to them; but no other persons have a right to retain, as a security for such balance, goods bailed to them, unless there is an express contract to that effect.

Bailments of Pledges.

172. The bailment of goods as security for payment of a debt or performance of a promise is called "pledge." The bailor is in this case called the "pawnor." The bailee is called the pawnee defined.

173. The pawnee may retain the goods pledged, not only for payment of the debt or the performance of the promise, but for the interest of the debt, and all necessary expenses incurred by him in respect of the possession or for the preservation of the goods pledged.

174. The pawnee shall not, in the absence of a contract to that effect, retain the goods pledged for any debt or promise other than the debt or promise for which they are pledged, but such contract, in the absence of anything to the contrary, shall be presumed in regard to subsequent advances made by the pawnee.

Sec. 172.—The method provided by S. 172 of the Contract Act for the hypothecation of chattels is not the only method for creating security thereon. They may be hypothecated without transferring their possession. In such cases the only question that arises is whether there was an intention to create a security and if there was intention to create security, equity gives effect to it. 44 I. C. 211 = 22 C. W. N. 758. In a pledge the property should be actually or constructively delivered to the pawnee. Title deeds of property are not goods that may be pledged within the meaning of S. 172. 33 L. C. 891 = 22 C. W. It is not necessary

Pawnee's right as to extraordinary expenses incurred.

175. The pawnee is entitled to receive from the pawnor extraordinary expenses incurred by him for the preservation of the goods pledged.

176. If the pawnor makes default in payment of the debt, or performance, at the stipulated time of the promise, in respect of which the goods were pledged, the pawnee may bring a suit against the pawnor upon the debt or promise, and retain the goods pledged as a collateral security; or he may sell the thing pledged, on giving the pawnor reasonable notice of the sale.

If the proceeds of such sale are less than the amount due in respect of the debt or promise, the pawnor is still liable to pay the balance. If the proceeds of the sale are greater than the amount so due, the pawnee shall pay over the surplus to the pawnor.

177. If a time is stipulated for the payment of the debt, or performance of the promise, for which the pledge is made, and the pawnor makes default in payment of the debt or performance of the promise at the stipulated time, he may redeem the goods pledged at any subsequent time before the actual sale of them¹; but he must, in that case, pay, in addition, any expenses which have arisen from his default.

178. A person who is in possession of any goods, or of any bill of lading, dock-warrant, warehouse-keeper's certificate, wharfinger's certificate, or warrant or order for delivery, or any other document of title to goods, may make a valid pledge of such goods or documents: Provided that the pawnee acts in good faith, and under circumstances which are not such as to raise a reasonable presumption that the pawnor is acting improperly:

181. Whatever is obtained by way of relief or compensation in any such suit shall, as between the bailor and the bailee, be dealt with according to their respective interests.

CHAPTER X.

AGENCY.

Appointment and Authority of Agents.

182. An "agent" is a person employed to do any act for another or to represent another in dealings with third persons: The person for whom such act is done, or who is so represented, is called the "principal".

Sec. 179.—See 42 Bom. 205.

Sec. 180.—Under S. 180 either a bailor or bailee of a chattel may maintain an action in respect of it against a wrong-doer, the latter by virtue of possession, the former by virtue of his property. 43 Cal. 733 = 21 C. W. N. 632.

Sec. 182.—Principal and agent—Relationship of. 63 I. C. 521 = 13 L. W. 537 (P. C.).

TESTS OF AGENCY.—See 12 C. W. N. 28. No consideration is required to support agency. 3 Cal. 300, Benamidar is not agent. 5 B. L. Every act of an agent in the course of his employment on behalf of his principal and within the apparent scope of his authority, binds the principal unless the agent in fact is unauthorized to do that act and the person dealing with him has notice of the same. 24 I. C. 209. See also 43 Cal. 833 = 34 I. C. 807. The use of the word 'agent' in a general way, loosely without specifying the purpose of the agency does not help to determine whether a person is an agent. 21 I. C. 322 = 14 M. L. T. 249. Unless authority to act is conferred and accepted, mere settlement of the terms of remuneration does not constitute a contract of agency. A commission agent is not in law, the agent of all persons and firms, whose business he occasionally transacts. 50 I. C. 146; 12 S. L. R. 93. The agency is only with reference to specific sales or purchases made under the directions of the principal. (Ibid.) In order to entitle a broker to his commission, he must prove either that the transaction has been completed or that, if it is not the non-completion was due to default on the part of the principal. See 24

Bom. L. R. 847 = 1922 B. 433, and cases referred to therein. A broker is the agent of the person for whom he acts. Who may employ agent.

Who may be an agent.

185. No consideration is necessary to create an agency.

Consideration not necessary.

Agent's authority may be expressed or implied.

186. The authority of an agent may be expressed or implied.

187. An authority is said to be express when it is given by words spoken or written. An authority is said to be implied when it is to be inferred from the circumstances of the case; and things spoken or written, or the ordinary course of dealing, may be accounted circumstances of the case.

Sec. 184.—Under S. 184 a minor can act as an agent of a firm and any contracts entered into by such a minor as an agent are binding on the firm. And they are equally binding on the minor if he did not give notice of the repudiation within a reasonable time after attaining majority. 45 I. C. 17=17 P. L. R. 1918. See also 3 Bom. L. R. 627. If an agent endowed with very wide powers and authorized to buy and sell property, to deal with Government and to pay revenue, contracts a loan on behalf of his principal, which the latter did not repudiate when it came to his knowledge, the principal is bound by the debt and must pay it. 39 I. If a married couple live together and the husband acts alone in dealing with joint property, he acts as the wife's agent in respect of her interest as well as his own, but the presumption is rebuttable. 10 I. Sec. 190.—As to appointment of sub-agent. See 1 Bur. L. J. 219 = 1923 R. 84.

"Sub-agent" defined.

Agent's responsibility for sub-agent.

Sub-agent's responsibility.

191. A "sub-agent" is a person employed by, and acting under the control of, the original agent in the business of the agency.

192. Where a sub-agent is properly appointed, the principal is, so far as regards third persons, represented by the sub-agent, and is bound by and responsible for his acts, as if he were an agent originally appointed by the principal.

The agent is responsible to the principal for the acts of the sub-agent.

The sub-agent is responsible for his acts to the agent, but not to the principal, except in case of fraud or wilful wrong.

193. Where an agent, without having authority to do so, has appointed a person to act as a sub-agent, the agent stands towards such person in the relation of a principal to an agent, and is responsible for his acts both to the principal and to third persons; the principal is not represented by or responsible for the acts of the person so employed, nor is that person responsible to the principal.

Agent's responsibility for sub-agent appointed without authority.

194. Where an agent, holding an express or implied authority to name another person to act for the principal in the business of the agency, has named another person accordingly, such person is not a sub-agent, but an agent of the principal for such part of the business of the agency as is entrusted to him.

Relation between principal and person duly appointed by agent to act in business of agency.

Illustrations.

(a) A directs B, his solicitor, to sell his estate by auction, and to employ an auctioneer for the purpose. B names C, an auctioneer, to conduct the sale. C is not a sub-agent, but is A's agent for the conduct of the sale.

(b) A authorizes B, a merchant in Calcutta, to recover moneys due to A from C & Co. B instructs D, a solicitor, to take legal proceedings against C & Co. for the recovery of the money. D is not a sub-agent, but is solicitor for A.

195. In selecting such agent for his principal, an agent is bound to exercise the same amount of discretion as a man of ordinary prudence would exercise in his own case; and if he does this he is not responsible to the principal for the acts or negligence of the agent so selected.

Agent's duty on naming such person

Illustrations.

(a) A instructs B, a merchant, to buy a ship for him. B employs a ship surveyor of good reputation to choose a ship for A. The surveyor makes the choice negligently and the ship turns out to be unseaworthy and is lost. B is not, but the surveyor, is responsible to A.

(b) A consigns goods to B, a merchant, for sale. B, in due course, employs an auctioneer in good credit to sell the goods of A, and allows the auctioneer to receive the proceeds of the sale. The auctioneer afterwards becomes insolvent without having accounted for the proceeds. B is not responsible to A for the proceeds.

Sec. 193.—See 19 Bom. L. R. 948; 17 Bom. 307.

Sec. 194. In spite of the existence of S. 194 of the Contract Act branch banks do not recognise nor carry out instructions given by clients of other branches unless they have been definitely instructed to do so; as an act of courtesy, one branch may try to oblige the client of another branch by making enquiries, etc. For practical purposes and so far as their obligations are concerned the branches do not recognise any liability whatsoever to carry out instructions from the clients of other branches unless these be properly conveyed through the branch bank with which the client deals. This is a universal practice and the court should take cognisance of it. 102 I. C. 788 = A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 562 (2).

Ratification.

Right of person as to acts done for him without his authority. Effect of ratification.

196. Where acts are done by one person on behalf of another, but without his knowledge or authority, he may elect to ratify or disown such acts. If he ratify them, the same effects will follow as if they had been performed by his authority.

Ratification may be expressed or implied.

197. Ratification may be expressed or may be implied in the conduct of the person on whose behalf the acts are done.

Illustrations.

(a) A, without authority, buys goods for B. Afterwards B sells them to C on his own account; B's conduct implies a ratification of the purchase made for him by A.

(b) A, without B's authority, lends B's money to C. Afterwards B accepts interest on the money from C. B's conduct implies a ratification of the loan.

Knowledge requisite for valid ratification.

198. No valid ratification can be made by a person whose knowledge of the facts of the case is materially defective.

Effect of ratifying unauthorized act forming part of a transaction.

199. A person ratifying any unauthorized act done on his behalf ratifies the whole of the transaction of which such act formed a part.

Sec. 196.—The right of a principal to ratify an unauthorized act of his agent under S. 196 is confined to cases where the agent purports to act on the principal's behalf and not where the agent acts on his own behalf without authority, or contrary to principal's directions and on behalf of the principal. 30 M. The question of the gumstah's power to bind his landlord is one which must be decided on the particular facts of each case. 10 I. C. 456 = 15 C. W. N. 953.

Sec. 197.—Ratification implies an intention to ratify on the part of the principal; and any act of his can be relied upon as amounting to ratification, only if done after he had full knowledge of the material facts ratified. Thus what the principal says under a mistaken impression cannot amount to ratification. (1927) M. W. N. 118 = 102 I. C. 561 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 478. Ratification cannot be inferred from a mere omission to repudiate in terms an unauthorized transaction. 52 I. C. 414 = 10 L. W. 33. See also 24 Cal. 469. Where an agent contrary to instructions makes advances against security the principal may realize the security and hold the agent liable for the balance and such intermeddling does not amount to ratification. 200. An act done by one person on behalf of another, without such other person's authority, which, if done with authority, would have the effect of subjecting a third person to damages, or of terminating any right or interest of a third person, cannot, by ratification, be made to have such effect.

Ratification of unauthorized act cannot injure third person.

Illustrations.

(a) A, not being authorized thereto by B, demands, on behalf of B, the delivery of a chattel, the property of B, from C, who is in possession of it. This demand cannot be ratified by B, so as to make C liable for damages for his refusal to deliver.

(b) A holds a lease from B, terminable on three months' notice. C, an unauthorized person gives notice of termination to A. The notice cannot be ratified by B, so as to be binding on A.

Revocation of Authority.

201. An agency is terminated by the principal revoking his authority; or by the agent renouncing the business of the agency; or by the business of the agency being completed; or by either the principal or agent dying or becoming of unsound mind; or by the principal being adjudicated an insolvent under the provisions of any Act for the time being in force for the relief of insolvent debtors.

Termination of agency.

Termination of agency where agent has an interest in subject-matter.

202. Where the agent has himself an interest in the property which forms the subject-matter of the agency, the agency cannot, in the absence of an express contract, be terminated to the prejudice of such interest.

Illustrations.

Agent's Duty to Principal.

211. An agent is bound to conduct the business of his principal according to the directions given by the principal, or, in the absence of any such directions according to the custom which prevails in doing business of the same kind at the place where the agent conducts such business. When the agent acts otherwise, if any loss be sustained, he must make it good to his principal, and, if any profit accrues, he must account for it.

(b) B, a broker, in whose business it is not the custom to sell on credit, sells goods of A on credit to C, whose credit at the time was very high. C, before payment, becomes insolvent. A must make good the loss to A.

212. An agent is bound to conduct the business of the agency with as much skill as is generally possessed by persons engaged in similar business, unless the principal has notice of his want of skill. The agent is always bound to act with reasonable diligence, and to use such skill as he possesses; and to make compensation to his principal in respect of the direct consequences or his own neglect, want of skill or misconduct, but not in respect of loss or damage which are indirectly or remotely caused by such neglect, want of skill or misconduct.

(b) A, an agent for the sale of goods, having authority to sell on credit sells to B on credit, without making the proper and usual enquiries as to the solvency of B. B, at the time of such sale, is insolvent. A must make compensation to his principal in respect of any loss thereby sustained.

The ship arrives safely in England.
